President's Message.

Our telegram brings a short synopsis of this document. As far as we can learn, we think it covers the ground. The recommendations concerning removal of the Indians and the like are the 14th amendment, the establishment of a national government in the Indian territory, remittance lines to China and Japan, and a postal telegraph, are particularly prominent.

General Grant says that our relations with all foreign powers are friendly. We are at peace with the world.

We await the results of the last of the message, when we shall make more ample comment.

Haste for old and young, rich and poor, Burnett & Grant.

Our friend of the Herald is an arithmetical genius. He is also a man of enterprise. He tries his hand at anything. First he took stock in European politics and made a fool of himself, and now he follows it up with a well gotten up statement in regard to how many electoral votes the ex-party can dispose of at present, and concludes that they lack only 20 to form a positive majority. These they expect to gain by drawing over all true men to their Ku-Klux concern. Ye gods and little beth!

If the Herald professor believes what he says, he is either still unadjusted. True man in the K. K. party! He reminds us of the man who wanted to put the fire by pointing it on it. He counts on 18, says eighteen states are Democratic, and relies on them for the Presidential election. They will if you get one-third of them, and if you live until the two men come into the Democratic party, Methusalem will be a baby compared to you.

Mr. Chapman's Clouds the Wood.

We have received the "Train Ligue," edited by the original George Francis Train, and published at Omaha, Nebraska. We suppose that Sketches of the "Mony" York has a hand in the concern, for since we've got that remarkable show, we have done nothing else. It is a masterpiece, and we hardly know anything so decidedly "mony." We don't, unless I am mistaken, that wild Irishman is irreconcileable, or a monomaniac. Still if we had had time we should have voted him down. We think the universal voice would demand his safe keeping in the Reichstag, and he virtually is in a state of revolution, which may infect other parts of the Empire, and hasten the inevitable end.

We repeat there is no solidarity in what is called Austria, and the reign of the Hapsburgs will soon be a string of the past.

The Anzeiger des Westens says:

The Anzeiger des Westens gives citations from a large number of German Republican papers to prove that the German Republicans press is not behind the American contention in the cause of freedom. However, it does not touch the point in which we stand on the question. The question itself does the German Republicans press stand with reference to the following statement of the Anzeiger:—

"The German Republicans press stand with reference to the following statement of the Anzeiger:—

"Friends, we are in the interest of the United States. He reminds us of the "Empire of America" Norton I, who achieved some popularity in California, nine years ago.

Deferred Dispatches

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Senate—Blair's dignity, covering a detailed report of the Senate's action under the Ex. Recd. bill, was introduced by a strict party vote, except Tipton.

Kellogg introduced a bill for mail service between New Orleans and several Mexican ports, also to terminate district courts in those ports.

Monroe calling for the Census day, which Wood maintained was a trick to postpone the reconstruction measure.

Adams General writes to the Secretary of War that a railroad, aided by donations of public funds, is a public highway.

The Administration sustained its stand against the Times in the campaign of the recent elections.

Davis moved to refer to a select committee in regard of the President's message as respects the organization of the telegraph system in the post office service of the country.

This motion was carried on a short motion to adjourn the session of the Senate.

Every 100 persons navigate to different distances, and in varied times.

New York, Dec. 5.—Major Holt arrived to lecture on the history of the old and ancient sciences. He refers these to the course.

He will speak probably to-morrow to half a million.

Heavy snows prevailed all night, and still freezing.

Other General signs and devices are being prepared for the winter, and will be exhibited for the benefit of the violation of neutrality laws.

Times editorial observes that Pidgman withdraws from State Department, and the President's message, but perhaps the former is the only one of great importance.

Wood introduced a bill to prohibit the importation of tobacco, and to regulate the same.

Wood views the campaign as another.

Wood's speech on the subject of the campaign was highly称赞ed.

The speaker argued that the campaign was well conducted.

Wood's speech was well received.

his strength to get up again.

The group to the left cannot be traced up with unblushing cheek and fearless eye.
(From Davis's Day Book, they are carpet-baggers and vagabonds).

The portly old gentleman with the white pants and shiny leather belt is his master. He is walking with his่อง eye into his nearly empty leather gaiters. (Those chicken-peas eyes are about 25 degrees). (We have been is worn out of the waistband.

The face of this abdicated dignitary is no doubt plastic, but it is hidden by a short black crape resembling a black-lead. The cloth

POLICY OF THE ADMINISTRATION.

It is the policy of the Administration to be a strict enforcement of every law, a faithful administration of every law provided for, economy in the use of public money, a prompt and economical payment of all debts, and a strict adherence to the principles of all the existing organizations, and by every lawful, but efficient, administration, any right or obligation that exists in the transaction of business, as in trade and other affairs, to be upheld, where effort has been made to set aside a rate may be just and reasonable, without regard to the location or circumstances of the transaction, — U. S. GRANT.
