

Senator Tower Praises Senate For Energy Stand

WASHINGTON—In a morning press conference in his Capitol Hill office, Senator John Tower (R-Tex) today praised the Senate's resolve not to compromise on the issue of natural gas deregulation, and suggested the conference committee which must now work out differences with the House-passed bill should not be prejudiced by a threatened veto from the White House.

ation back on the road toward sufficient supply, lessening the chances of crippling natural gas shortages in the future. If enacted into law, the amendment provides that new onshore natural gas would be subject to a temporary price ceiling for a two year period, followed by complete deregulation afterwards. For five years new offshore natural gas would be subject to a price ceiling determined by various factors other than cost, but until that price is determined, the ceiling would be the Btu equivalent of upper tier domestic crude oil, or approximately $1.95 per Mcf. At the end of the five year period, there would be complete deregulation. In addition, the amendment provides a new definition of new natural gas, maintains controls on old natural gas which now apply, provides for statutory curtailment priorities for natural gas use, and extends the present Emergency Natural Gas Act for two years.

recorded among the large industrial states and the third largest in the nation, but the state still ranks 26th in personal income.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek proposes a new battleground for the next war.

Dear Editor:

At first, when I read that there are now 970 satellites circling the earth and more on the way, I said they're going to do to space what they've done to cities with traffic, although I guess if man puts his mind to it and gets a big enough appropriation he can produce parking meters for outer space and maybe even stop lights.

But then I read another article saying Russia has perfected a satellite that can shoot down another satellite, and we're working on the same thing too.

This may be the answer mankind has been looking for ever since one group of cavemen got in a war with the cavemen on the other side of the mountain, on down through better organized tribal wars, the fall of Jericho, the 100-years War, the Peloponnesian War, the Roman Wars, the Battle of Bull Run, the Boer War, all the European wars so numerous nobody can name them all, right on down through World War I, World War II, Vietnam, and World War III, whenever it's scheduled.

Clearly, the place to fight the next war is in outer space, and you do it with satellites. We send up say 10,000 satellites, Russia sends up 10,000 (we'll need international referees to see that nobody cheats) and the whole shebang starts shooting at each other. It'll be like playing marbles for keeps, only you don't get to keep your opponent's marble, you shatter it. The side that wins up the most satellites still orbiting wins. If the side that loses is dissatisfied and in the spirit of warring man since time immemorial abandons the rules and sends up additional snarling satellites, the other side retaliates, and the war goes on till one side runs out of money.

Since it seems impossible for man to eliminate war, using outer space for a battleground and unmanned satellites for soldiers appears to be the perfect solution. Nobody get hurt and no buildings are destroyed. Just be sure to duck if you see a piece of falling satellite headed in your direction. The stuff is supposed to burn up in the atmosphere before it reaches the earth but you know how modern industry is, always installing some parts that're faulty.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Rain Halts Harvesting Of Fall Cotton

Rains halted High Plains cotton harvesting Thursday, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of USDA's Cotton Clipping Office in Lubbock.

New crop trading increased the week ending October 7. Growers accepted offers of 350 to 500 points over 1977 loan rates. Small to medium mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and better, staples 30 to 33, mikes 3.0 through 4.9 brought 41.00 to 45.00 cents per pound.

High Plains harvest is well ahead of last year, Dickson said. About 43,300 samples were graded by Lubbock's Clipping Office the week ending October 7. Season's total stands at 69,500. This compares with only nine graded by this date a year ago, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Predominant grades for this week's classings were grade 31, at 54 percent, grade 40 was 15 percent and grade 41 accounted for 15 percent, also.

Staple lengths were mostly staple 30 at 17 percent, staple 31 was 36 percent and staple 32 accounted for 27 percent.

Micronaire was mostly in the desirable 3.5-4.9 range and accounted for 83 percent of the total.

Pressley tests indicated breaking strengths averaged 92,000 pounds per square inch for cotton graded at Lubbock.

Gins paid growers 62 to 70 dollars per ton for cotton seed, mostly 62 to 63 dollars.

LUBBOCK -- Only hunters possessing a 1977 sandhill crane permit issued by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will be allowed to hunt and bag cranes during the upcoming season which starts Nov. 1 in zone A and Dec. 5 in zone B.

The permit will allow the hunter to participate in the hunt in accordance with the provisions of both state and federal regulations governing the hunt. Following the close of the season on Jan. 31, 1978, the permittee will be contacted by mail and asked to report the number of times hunted, the number of cranes bagged, and the number wounded but not retrieved. This information will help the P&WD determine crane harvests in Texas.

Since Texas hunters bagged more sandhill cranes during 1976 season than any other state, this requested information is of paramount importance.

Applicants can obtain permits for more than one individual if the name, address, and county of residence of each individual is requested on a written form to John Roberson, P&WD, 4200 Smith School Road, Austin, TX 78744 or by calling John Roberson at 512/475-4871.

Clayton Offers Tax Advice

House Speaker Bill Clayton advised taxing authorities to abide by a new law permitting open space lands to be taxed on the basis of productivity rather than market value.

The law was passed this year in anticipation that a related constitutional amendment would also be submitted to voters, but the amendment never cleared the legislature. Clayton claims the law will stand on its own and should be recognized by taxing authorities in valuing farm and ranch land after January 1, in spite of anticipated attacks on its constitutionality. The advice apparently conflicts with that of Atty. Gen. John Hill in a July 6 opinion.

Sale Booms Income
A School Land Board lease sale last week added more than $27 million to the Permanent School Fund, which now totals $1.5 billion and is among the world's three top educational endowments.

A total of 443 high bids were awarded oil and gas companies, according to Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong. Bids were the second highest average per acre ($93.66) in 22 years, and a bid from Mobil Oil Corp. for a 1,440 acre Gulf tract was the third largest in history for a single tract.

Personal Income Soaring
Per capita personal income in Texas has jumped 52 percent in the last five years, according to U.S. Commerce Department figures.

The increase (from $4,102 to $6,243) was the largest

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN—Texas has another famous name from the past heading its modern-day State Treasury operations which involve billions of dollars in public fund investments with Texas banks.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Dallas County Treasurer Warren G. Harding, 56, to succeed the late Jesse James as state treasurer following James' death of a heart attack.

Harding, a Democrat, was named for a former Republican president, as James was named for a famous outlaw who became a kind of folk hero.

"I will look into the investment portfolio and assure you all state money will be invested at the best interest," said Harding.

The new treasurer said he is considering appointment of a "money manager" with professional skills in the investment of public funds.

However, he delayed discussion of other possible reforms in the Treasury Department which has been subject to criticism in recent years.

Harding once ran for the office against James—21 years ago—and was defeated 812,603 to 536,746.

He intends to run for the post in 1978—and once more the incumbent, though new on the job, will have the advantage of name identification.

Attorney General Opinions
The state comptroller is not authorized to conduct audits of state agencies when work would parallel duties of the state auditor, Atty. Gen. John Hill said.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: A State Board of Morticians member vacated his office when he went to work for a "chain" funeral home operation, because law permits only one member to be associated with chain establishments.

A county law library fund cannot be used for construction or renovation of county law library facilities.

An electric hair-removal machine is under jurisdiction of the Texas Cosmetology Commission.

Short Snorts
State tax collections in July totaled $622.8 million, bringing the year's total to $6.55 billion. Expenditures for July were $561.9 million.

R. L. Thornton Jr. of Dallas has stepped down from the Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

Former professional football star Walt Garrison is considering a race for Texas agriculture commissioner.

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown warned Texas farmers and ranchers they are "going to have to project and produce just like General Motors for their markets" in order to survive.

A Texas Railroad Commission order reduced the amount of money Lone Star Gas Company can collect from customers to cover back costs of producing natural gas. Dallas, Waco, Irving, Richardson, Garland, Killeen, Abilene, Wellington, Fort Worth and Burkburnett protested an 85 percent pass-through and will receive credits.

Reported and estimated unreported production of Texas crude oil totaled 92,865,244 barrels in July—a decline from 97,998,693 barrels in July 1976.

Trucks
Trucks are very loud,
They always shake a cloud,
They blow a lot of dust,
And they make your car rust,
And when they drive,
You can tell that they are alive.
They scare the daylight out of you,
When they start to drive through,
Well I guess I better go,
Will hear I go, OH NO!

Elderly Nutrition Very Often Abused

This Accent on Health, a presentation of your Texas Department of Health.

At a "Nutrition Throughout The Life Cycle" conference held in Austin recently, thoughts, impressions and observations of some of the nation's leading authorities on nutrition were heard. The nutrition conference was sponsored by the Texas Department of Health, the Texas Public Health Association and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Region VI.

The 400 delegates who attended hear internationally known authorities speak on the nutritional needs at the different stages of life. They also heard Dr. Raymond T. Moore, deputy director of the Texas Department of Health outline the purpose of the conference. Dr. Moore said recommendations made at the meeting are expected to be turned into an integrated nutritional program to benefit Texans of all ages.

Nutrition professor Dr. Betty Alford said that most elderly persons run into nutrition problems not because their needs change, but because they eat too much.

"The elderly need about the same amount of proteins, vitamins, minerals and water as young people do, but the elderly need reduced amounts of energy or calories," said Dr. Alford. "Therefore, the elderly are more likely to develop obesity because they eat at the same levels that they had eaten before," she said.

Dr. Alford said factors related to nutrition problems of the elderly include established food attitudes, diminished ability to obtain food, decreased energy requirements with continued needs for other nutrients, and the more frequent need for therapeutic diets.

The biological age of a pregnant teenager should be given more consideration than her chronological age in making a nutritional assessment, Dr. C.E.

Gibbs told the audience.

Dr. Gibbs, professor in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at The University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio, said the linear growth of a female typically stops about two years after the start of her menstrual cycle.

He said the relationship between growth and nutrition hinges on how close pregnancy occurs to the start of the menstrual cycle. The increase of caloric intake may be all that is necessary, generally speaking, after two years, said Dr. Gibbs. He said some of the main deficiencies found in adolescent pregnancy are in iron, calcium and vitamin A.

A noted pediatrician told the delegates to the conference that he deplored the feeding of skim milk to babies as a weight reduction tool.

Dr. Samuel J. Foman, professor of pediatrics at the University of Iowa College of Medicine, said many physicians and parents feel that skim milk will prevent obesity or trim down the babies.

"But, the trouble is, a baby just can't drink enough skim milk to meet the calorie needs," he said. "It's equivalent to a crash reducing diet in an adult and an unsatisfactory method of nutritional management in a baby," he said.

Dr. Foman said there is a tendency to introduce foods other than milk products--or prescribed formulas--too early in life. Over feeding, he said, is a big problem in babies. Parents have a tendency to get the last drop out of the bottle or feed a baby the last bit out of a bowl of food without regard to a baby's desire to feed. Dr. Foman, who advocates breast feeding, said that in breast feeding the baby normally determines when he has had enough.

The eating habits of pregnant women have long been shrouded in myths and half-truths and superstitions, according to Dr. John Duhring, University of Kentucky Medical Center.

"Research indicates the things a pregnant woman needs is a good balanced diet and probably iron," he said. "The necessity for other supplements such as vitamins is very much in doubt at the present. In fact, it may actually be that some vitamins, especially in high doses, may actually be harmful to the growing fetus and may produce birth defects," he said.

Dr. Willard Krehl of the Thomas Jefferson University Medical College stated that not enough was being done to improve the nutritional needs of patients in hospitals. The Philadelphia physician called on Texas hospitals to make nutrition a primary concern. Dr. Krehl said hospitals should have interdisciplinary teams of professionals to deal with nutritional problems.

Harvard medical professor Dr. Ronald Arky informed the delegates that there are nine million people in the United States with a kind of diabetes brought on just by being overweight. "What seems to be a very common genetic tendency, maturity-onset diabetes, is brought forth by just mild obesity," he said. "It's essential for those with a family history of diabetes to start early to prevent overweightness," Dr. Arky said.

This has been accent on Health, a public service presentation of your Texas Department of Health.

The Speaker Reports
by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN--What this nation needs is more energy. Energy to maintain our current lifestyle and to protect our economic system and democratic form of government. What we have now is a proposed national energy plan that will institutionalize the energy shortage. Never again will we be without an energy crisis. The plan calls for the creation of a massive bureaucracy to regulate the shortage through increased taxation and government controls. This country does not need any more bureaucrats or any more taxes.

The energy shortage can be solved with American ingenuity, free enterprise and a little common sense. The desire to increase America's energy supply should not be considered a regional special interest. It should be of paramount interest to all Americans. The proposed national energy plan will stifle energy production and lead us into an era of "no-growth." There are alternative policies, however, that will increase our domestic energy supply.

First, we must end government regulations and price controls on the energy industries. According to government, industry and university studies, the effect of de-regulation would be to open vast new reserves for development that are now closed because of artificially-low, government-mandated prices. Why is Experience is knowing a lot of things you shouldn't do.

Protest Movement For Farmers Moving

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman, Panhandle area county presidents and their delegations will meet one day prior to an October 14 tractor convoy of protesting farmers in order to display support for the protest movement and make plans for an official statement at the Amarillo rally.

"It's high time we identify those farm organizations which stand fully behind their members and these efforts," said Naman. "We want no doubts that we have been and remain ready for tough action. It's time farmers themselves recognize their friends and their enemies in this thing."

Texas Farmers Union Leaders will gather in Amarillo on Thursday, October 13, to sharpen and focus their direction within the atmosphere of full cooperation with the protest movement. Naman will then spell out that full support during the 2 p.m. rally of protestors in the city Friday.

Naman has told the press that the Farmers Union has applauded the efforts of out-of-state groups striving for 100 percent parity. "We've been fighting for full parity since our very beginning," he said. "It's inspirational to see producers getting involved in an activist movement because no individual or organization can get anything accomplished unless farmers are willing to get involved. Unity in agriculture, particularly during this bleak time, must be our top priority."

A spokesman for Texas Farmers Union said that it was hoped that the movement leaders will get down to the business they have promised of separating the sheep and goats. "We've been protesting for four months. We're ready to leave those behind who are not willing to stand with us."

Lazbuddie Longhorn Stampede

By Judy Lust

The Lazbuddie longhorns lost to the Nazaeth Swifts last Friday night by a score of 14-8. The Swifts scored all of their points in the second quarter. The Horns scored on a 3-yd run by Charleson Steinbock in the 4th quarter and Charleson passed to Mike Windham for the extra points. The Horns had a good drive going and nearly scored again in the final seconds of the game, but time ran out before they could score. In the first half the Horns were hampered by 85 yards worth of penalties against them. Lazbuddie had 59 yards rushing and 65 yards passing for the night. The Offensive Player of the Week was Charleson Steinbock, and the Defensive Player of the Week was Jimmy Standridge. The Strike Award went to Russell Windham.

The Longhorns next ballgame will be Thursday (Today) at Canyon High School and we will play Canyon J.V. Game time will be 7:00, and everyone is urged to go and support the Horns.

Energy Costs For Farmers To Be Discussed

AUSTIN--The Energy Resources Committee of the Texas House of Representatives will conduct a public hearing Tuesday, October 11, in Plainview dealing with the costs of utilization of energy for agricultural irrigation.

State Rep. Joe Hanna of Breckenridge, committee chairman, said the hearing would run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the city council room of City Hall.

The study of irrigation energy expense and usage in the Pecos and Upper Plains areas is one of the interim studies assigned the committee by House Speaker Bill Clayton. A final report in late 1978 should prescribe for the 66th legislature any needed legislation and measures to correct the existing problems.

Hanna said all irrigation farmers who wish to make statements will be allowed to do so in an effort to hear all facets of the problem.

Researchers from Texas Tech University have been invited to report on their findings and others interested in the situation are expected to attend.

Dimmitt Downs Seventh Grade

The seventh grade Mules also went to Dimmitt and participated in their very first ball game. Cris Kirven scored the only TD in the game for the Mules. Dimmitt won the game and the Mules realize that much has to be done in order to reach standards that are necessary to show the full extent of their ability. The 7th grade also plays Littlefield Tuesday night. The Journalism Staff wishes them good luck. GO-FIGHT-WIN!!!

Student Council Sets Projects

The Junior High Student Council has been getting back in the swing of things. They have sold popcorn for the last three Wednesdays and have set a record for the most sold in a day. They are selling frozen lemonade, pickle juice, and Kool-aid, also pickles and popcorn for 15 cents each. The popcorn sales are only one of the moneymaking projects that the Student Council has each year. They would like to thank all of the teachers and the members for helping with this successful project. The Student Council uses their proceeds to furnish things that the building needs, such as the

School Pictures Taken This Week

School pictures will be taken October 12, at 1:00 in Junior High. When they come in, the students will pay for them. If they don't like them they will get a refund. Everybody's picture will be in the annual. So all you students be sure and be at school Wednesday to have your picture made.

air conditioner that was placed in the teacher's lounge at the first of the year.

Students Get Report Cards

October 12 was the first report card day for the MJHS students. Every six weeks report cards are given so students and parents are aware of their grades. Each six weeks report cards will be a different color. This six weeks report cards were white. Students do not have to return these report cards to the teachers, they are to keep them to add them up for the six weeks Honor Roll and yearly Honor Roll.

Students, try your best for the next six weeks report card!!!

Band Sells Magazines

The combined bands, 6th through 12th grades, sold magazines, tapes and records September 26 through October 8. Their goal was $9,000. Their super super goal was $11,500. Each person had a quota of 13 or more subscriptions. The top dollar salesman in High School will get a stereo unit. The second top dollar salesman will get a loud mouth. The third top dollar salesman will get a cassette recorder player. In Junior High, the top dollar salesman will get a stereo unit, the second top dollar salesman will get a loud mouth, the third top dollar salesman will get a cassette recorder player or a skateboard, and the fourth top dollar salesman will get a skateboard. If they reach the goal of $9,000, the grand prize winner that is drawn will get a TV game or a choice of anything on the prize chart. If they reach the $11,500 goal, the grand prize winner will get a choice of a 12" TV, a 40 channel CB, an Ithaca shotgun, Justin boots, or any prize on the prize chart. The money made from these sales will help pay the travel expenses for the band. We want to thank everyone that took part in these magazine sales.

Eighth Grade Beats Bobcats

Last Thursday October 6, 1977 the Muleshoe 8th grade Mules made it three in a row as they held Dimmitt Bobcats 8-0. Most of the action in the contest took place in the form of a good old defensive struggle. Both defenses played well but the Mules outplayed Dimmitt just well enough to gain the victory. The only score of the game was the result of Monty Hysinger's pass to Ronnie Angeley from 30 yards out, and with only two seconds remaining in the first half of the ball game. Angeley caught Hysinger's pass on Dimmitt's five yard line and after giving a couple of Dimmitt's defenders, dived into the end-zone. Muleshoe knocked on the door in Dimmitt's end of the field several times but failed to score again and the final score in the game read: Muleshoe-8, Dimmitt-0. The Mules now stand 3-0 for the season. The Journalism class would like to congratulate the Mules on their third win.
