The Pyramids.

As the elections for 1871 are now completed, it may be well to recall the monuments that have been built out of the results, that a comparative exhibit may be made of work of the respective parties. These pyramids point significantly to the conflict of 1861.

Heard of the amount of money required to the expenses used by the President in regard to Cuba in his annual message. While we need wait for further developments, nothing could suggest today's dispatches anything more than economical. We shall see what we obtain, and make no mistake, without there being some benefit to us.

Little Spain would do better, if possible, than the United States, in regard to our own interests, or prompt explanation of our own government in Cuba, for she must see herself, that in a contest with this country she would have no earthly chance for success, and only hasten the inevitable subjugation of Cuba to the United States.

We will publish in days paper the letter from the Chicago Relief Committee to W. H. WOODFORD & CO., of Paris Stockton, acknowledging the donation of $200 from that paper.

We think the amount a very liberal one, considering that Port St. Louis is but a small military post. We will credit you on the grand total.

The Whigs are reported to be on the war path again, crossing the Rio Grande from Mexico, robbing and murdering, and general making a bad retreat with their booty. Their usual place of crossing is said to be fourteen miles above Brownsville. A collected party of Mexican and American citizens intend to pursue them into their villages, and punish them.

We are sorry to learn, from Mr. Howell & Son, New York, to those who may have occasion to advertise in papers beyond their immediate vicinity, at the first opportunity, to inform the press that they are the sole agents for the press throughout the whole country—Quincy (III) Whig.

The State Journal reports that while going to Washington, the New York Tribune has called, to meet at Worcester on the second Tuesday of December, to reorganize the party and nominate a Presidential candidate.

The California News compares Grant to Jack Cade. Both Cade was a rebel, so was Jeff Davis, so is the editor of the News. Grant has not given the News any handle to justify it, in reading his two exceedingly bad company.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

ALEX. E. SWETT, Notary Public, Ex-Press Office.

Go to Duerer & Dugoni's Confection-ary and get a good cup of Java coffee or Chocolate after the circus is over. (14d)

Tickets will be two Circus performances each day, only in the afternoon and the other in the evening. It is the universal opinion that it is the very best circus that has ever visited this city.

Now is the time when it is dangerous and expensive not to have your chimney cleaned. A Mexican woman was fined for the illumination she gratuitously afforded the residents of the lower part of Alamo City the other morning.

DISTRICT COURT.—The cases set for yesterday were disposed of in short order.— The cases are generally the accumulation of years and they and time have left nothing but the costs to settle.

A GENERAL Court Martial will convene at Fort McKavett, Texas, Monday, Dec.
16, 1871, at 10 o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as practicable, for the trial of such persons as may be properly brought before it.

A CERTAIN who is posted, informs us, that there are more than twice as many pupils attending the public schools of Travis County than attend those of Bexar.— Why is this, when Bexar has one-third more population?

Our streets and thoroughfares are grazed by the appearance of fine dray horses. (It is fashionable to use the Russian equivalent of principal). The harness, as a class, are far above the standard of those in either size and nobility, robustness or exterior, and rarely, if ever, to be met in intercourse with them.

We notice a distressing account of a man facing to death in a New York station-house. In our country jail, there are not only no stories, but there are no "closed windows," which is a sign of an offender, and is found over to make his appearance at the next term of the District Court, is legally supposed to be, and in many instances, actually innocent, but if he is poor, and cannot furnish the required bail, he goes to this painful refrigeration, where he must endure torments, until he is freed.

If we are a vastly discriminating people.

PANAMA.—The former editor of this paper, Maj. STANLEY WHITAKER, is in town, and addressed our office with his presence yesterday. We bid him welcome, and hope his temporary stay among us may prove pleasant.

CORONATION.—Superintendent of Public Buildings, whose arrival at the Monumental Hall, yesterday, will remain a few days among us—on business connected with that office.

Maj. JAMES WAGNER, Principal of the public schools of Bexar county, is staying at the Wagner, with his family. Maj.
Wagner takes the place of Judge Gamble, who has heretofore been acting in that capacity.

Quartz, probably, to the skinned sholers, are much higher than usual, and the same complaint made in reference to better.

Fancy items, with an upward tendency to set some thinking go-ahead follow to starting a dairy, and honey to admitting principles. Our milk dealers and poultry raisers depend on the size of the window, and the probabilities of the "sink" being too large, and the demand if good hatching and shade were prepared for stock in the winter season, the extra will, with the extra demand, more than repay the investment in making such improvements.

The Alamo Market is another public institution that is not up to the requirements of the nineteenth century. In the first place, it is much too small; but the greatest discrepancy slept it, is the style in which it is built. It is in the nature of a casemate, which would be admirable if we enjoy perpetual summer. But we have cold weather in San Antonio, and we may remark, that an emigration, we can be about enough, as anywhere this side of the north pole, and then, protection, and ventilation, is the great thing to be desired. The crowds of people that resort to the Alamo Market are frequently compelled to stand shivering in the piercing weather, which, whether through the market like, through some ancient ruin. Besides, there is a large open space to the north of the building, and in frosty weather, during the prevalence of a norther, (like yesterday morning, for instance), the meat that is offered for sale, is unadmirably covered with a coat of dust and sand. As the butchers pay an enormous rent for the stalls, it would only be fair for the city to have at least the openings that are exposed to the north, closed up.

On Wednesday evening, we visited the first performance of Mr. May's Circus.
The tent was crowded to suffocation, all the seats being occupied as well as every foot of standing room. The performances gave universal satisfaction, and Mr. May's has fully redeemed his promise to provide an entertainment that his audience had expected in Texas.

The first performance was equestrian in its nature, and the training of the horses enabled general admiration. The grooms and managers of the mounted set, by the late brothers, were admirable, meeting strength and gracefulness in a manner that is seldom seen. The champion rider, Woods Cook, from Frost, N.Y., displayed considerable aplomb; the Cosimo came of the latter, was so true to nature as to create the impression, that Mr. Haynes had copied from nature. Mr.
Reynolds is a clown to be, his talents had the genuine ring of true wit, and were never vulgar; but, besides, an excellent comedian. The sharp rope performances of Miss Jessie Fairholme, were remarkable in me young, while the wonderful and daring trapsope performances of Missie Turner brought down the house.

The two educated mules displayed an intelligence that were to redound the reputation of that noble animal for stupidity. Her Long, leading the lions, was excellent to complete.

We think, too, that the visiting performers of the vendors of lemons and cooling confectionaries deserve favorable mention.
