

The Daily Express.

A. SIEKEMING & CO., Publishers.

Official Journal of the United States.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF BEXAR COUNTY AND CITY OF SAN ANTONIO.

THURSDAY, JAN. 11, 1872.

BLANK DEEDS,
OF ALL KINDS FOR SALE AT THE
"EXPRESS" OFFICE.

Republican State Convention.

A Delegate Convention of the Republican party of Texas was convened at the session of Tuesday of Jan. 10th, for the purpose of nominating Presidential Electors, and for the election of a State Convention.

The basis of representation is fixed the same as for members of the Legislature under the present apportionment.

Delegates will be chosen on the 1st of February.

J. G. TRACY,
Chairman of the Republican State
Executive Committee.

J. P. NEWCOMB, Secretary.

CHEF'S OFFICE,

ON THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES U.S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21st, 1871.

To the Speaker of the House:

Sir.—The House has been adjourned for the recess of the second session of the Forty-Second Congress, and also such public treatise entered, into and ratified by the United States as may be selected and for the time being, and the same shall be in all cases to be published without delay.

I am, etc., respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

John C. Breckinridge, Clerk of the House of Representatives U.S.

Candidate for Justice of the Peace.

The undersigned respectfully vouches the support of his fellow citizens for the office of Justice of the Peace for the Second Ward, Bexar County.

JULIUS LIPKIN.

A. BREWER & SONS.

We have the honor from the N. O. National Republicans of the 5th inst. It explains itself and forms a new proof of what we have often asserted, that the imperative necessity of purifying the Republican party—its removal, into the ranks of our friends, the Constitutional Unionists, has been elevated into high moralities since the war, and that these miseries are not guilty of the most discreditable of the proslavery privileges entrusted to them. While there can be no doubt of Gov. Wornum's having positively left up the Republican ranks, and that he who yet supports him, but were more so, need not believe, what is now proved as clear as daylight, that the amiable gubernatorial and editorial friends, has been continually trying to sell out to the Democrats, at the very time when he continually kept up a fire and brim against the Grand Republicans, avowing their having done what he himself had been so persistently attempting. The old saying that "truth sets free."

The Legislative Democrats however, yet remain an article, Wornum never was seen in an article, he was in his usually broad coat, in his usually tall hat, a certain point of honor, and in cause assumed, they unanimously declared to have caught whatever to do with him.

We wish to thank Major Monroe, of the House adjourned sine die, the members did not seem disposed to quit their seats, as the regular session would commence at 12. The Speaker retained his chair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—General Keyes, formerly speaker, was arrested under the caption of a bill which denies that Governor Wornum had made overtures for a coalition with the Democracy. The Democratic members of the Legislature, however, in a speech to the Governor and representatives of the new-people of Louisiana, pronounced that they should make a statement of the occurrences which gave rise to this rumor.

On the night of the day of adjournment, while the members were engaged in caucus at their rooms, No. 107 Customhouse street, their President, J. C. Monroe, was called to the door by Gen. H. C. Stevens, who informed him, that he had been requested by Gov. Heriot to communicate with the Democratic members and associates if some arrangement could be made to secure the election of the party and the Democratic Gov. Since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

Mr. Monroe returned to the room, and to the Democratic members, whereon a motion was made and unanimously adopted that the Democrats decline every proposal and the Wornum party, since he knew that the Wornum party was willing to concede to the Democrats the speakership of the house.

Upon this question, arising as to the authenticity of Gen. Heriot's representations, the Wornum party, he assured Mr. Monroe that the arrangement was to be made by him with the Wornum party to give it a position in the same, but declined to do so.

Mr. Monroe, which a committee of the Wornum party, had been sent to see the Wornum party in regard to this arrangement.

