FOR PRESIDENT,
Ulysses S. Grant,
OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
Henry Wilson,
OF MASSACHUSETTS.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS—4th Dist.
J. R. BURNS, of Fayette.

FOR CONGRESS—STATE AT LARGE:
HON. LEMUEL D. EVANS,
HON. A. B. NORTON.

We are authorized to announce M. G. Anderson as a candidate for District Attorney of the 2nd District, subject to a nomination of a Republican Convention should one be held.

N. O. GREEN, Esq., is announced by authority, as a candidate for the office of District Attorney, at the coming election.

Call for a Republican Nominating Convention.

San Antonio, Tex. Aug. 19, 1872.

The chairman of Republican Executive County Committee of the 29th Senatorial District, composed of the County of Bexar, Wilson, Comal, Kendall, Blanco, Burnett, Banderas, Edwards, Kimble, and Menard, will call County Conventions or Mass Meetings, and elect delegates to the 29th Senatorial District Convention, to be held at San Antonio, on the 13th day of September 1872, for the purpose of nominating Candidates for the Legislature. County's which have no organized Committee will hold Mass Meetings and elect delegates to said convention.

W. J. LOCKE,
Chairman Ex. Com. 29th-Sent. Dis.

Cotton factories are springing up all over the South. Within ten years at the present rate of progress, those States ought to manufacture nearly all the cotton produced within their borders.

Great excitement prevailed last week in Chicago on account of a collapse in the price of wheat owing to a corner got up by the bears. The price went down from $1.50 to $1.28 in one day. It is stated that over $2,000,000 were lost.

West Va. has gone republican by a large majority. The vote was upon a new Constitution, and the very liberal Greeley radicals proposed to deprive the colored people of that State of their present right to hold office. The developments of the campaign show conclusively that W. Va. is sure for Grant and Wilson.

The Greeley Radicals of Comal county have shown dissatisfaction over the nomination of Col. Hoffman for the legislature. A large mass meeting was held in New Braunfels last week, the nomination of Col. H. was repudiated and Mr. A. L. Kessler was put in the field. There will be extensive dissatisfaction also for the whole of that ticket on the election days.

About ten days since the people of St. Louis were honoring Mr. and Mrs. Spotted Tail at the Everett House in that City. Among other things recorded of these distinguished people in the Mo. Democrat are the following items of general interest:

Spotted Tail bears himself haughtily, as he sits a brace with a picture on an appendage. He refuses to speak to or distinctly recognize his neighbor who stands contrary over the cigar store.

Also that while Mrs. Spotted Tail and Mrs. Two Strike were out yesterday, their places were taken by Thigh and White Thunder, who played the parts remarkably well, considering the short time allowed for preparation.

The Fruit Season.

Here in San Antonio the season of the most luscious fruits is drawing to a close. Peaches will continue some time yet, and there are, and will be until late in October, apples. But owing to the hot weather which has prevailed for some time now, apples are most abundant in the market. Since the Greeley-Grant radicals have heard of Blair's diagnosis of Grant's limited number who head the reformers in this city have taken, with great unanimity to the occupation of sitting on rotten apples. The number which has been squeezed in this manner during the past week—rather since the county nominations—is astounding; and everyone flew to the market of the latter. A rotten apple is a perfect phenomenon in this climate.

A Mistake.

The person who reported for the Herald the proceedings of the meeting of the GRANT and WILSON Club No. 3 is unhappy. It is a sad thing to be unhappy. The number of persons present was not large enough to suit him—therefore he diminished them by half. He was also unhappy because the editor of this paper was not present. The editor will be present next time, and several times hereafter.

Now, for the gratification of "Yours R." We will inform him that the GRANT and WILSON Clubs of this city already number over four hundred members; and there are several new Clubs in process of formation. These already formed comprise every nationality and every race among the voters. The indications are already sufficiently developed to convince every wise man that we shall carry this county by a large majority for GRANT and WILSON than was ever given heretofore for any candidates; and it is proposed to put into the field an equally popular ticket for the county and district offices. The radical Democracy who shout for the radical extremity, Horace Greeley, were never before so thoroughly demoralized and divided. When it sat on Greeley it sat on the rottenest kind of apple. It is too weak to erect after such a sitting.

The Gay and Festive soft-shell Crab

Is "catching"; i. e., like the whooping cough, or measles, or scarlet fever, or small-pox, the sprightly disease is contagious—it runs both backward and forward when a person comes in contact with one already infected.

The columns of the Herald of this city have shown signs for some time past. The fact is, it has 'em bad. Poor deceit Logan got several at Chappaqua—they were concealed in Greeley's spring water, but he did not know it until it was too late.

Like the youngest child of the Californian who had been absent from the bosom of his family some three years, the festive crab was transmitted in a letter to this city. It has grown, flourished, multiplied. On Sunday evening it might have been seen on its return from the San Pedro springs shaking hands across the bloody chasm then existing between two hacks, "Let's shake!" said one of the Herald staff. "Jeff Davis forever!" "Jah!" Thus the "bloody" was closed, there was a mild subsidence of crabs too numerous to mention, and mild satisfaction prevailed. Poor Greeley had sunk into oblivion—so soon!

IN the Herald of Sunday, there is an exceedingly discreditable article upon its first page intended first to injure one of the best teachers who ever taught in this city, and, secondly, to injure the success of the public schools. We are not authorized to speak for the lady whom we have not seen for many weeks, and whom the Herald grossly and insultingly calls "the female," but we have no doubt she is ready and more than willing that there shall be public investigation in the courts of the country.

We know all of the facts of the case alluded by inference in the Herald article, having heard them detailed by the assistant teachers, by pupils witnessing what occurred, and also by the complainants. There was nothing in that evidence justifying the repeated assaults made upon her by our contemporary. We know that she is a teacher who has a well recorded reputation of several years, not only as an able, competent, faithful teacher, but as a lady without reproach in all respects, and we cannot help feeling a sense of shame that any member of the press should lend himself to so vile a purpose as the malignant base of "a female," if he will have it so, who is a thousand times his superior in mental capacity and in the acquisition of knowledge, who is also infinitely his superior in all that is refined, virtuous, respectable. "Shame! O! shame! where is thy blush!"

The Opening of the Public Schools.

It will be seen by a notice given in another column that the public schools will open on the second day of next month, and that ample preparation has been made for complete success. In general, the same tried and capable teachers have been reemployed, and this assures the people that the same good management and excellency of instruction will continue during the coming scholastic year.

There is a serious question to be determined by the public opinion in this matter. Is the people in favor of good, cheap, and free public schools or not? To the people we say, your constitution requires free public schools for all classes and all races. By the present system you are enabled to educate your children cheaper and better than you can in private and uncontrolled institutions. A simple calculation will convince you of this. There are multitudes who are too poor to pay the expense of private tuition, and while the rich loose nothing the poor gain—the public at large gains, every interest of the State receives a forward impulsion. To sustain free public schools is a sacred duty resting upon us all. That there are objectionable features in the present law, all admit. Let us amend and correct the law—but in God's name let us not destroy an institution characteristic of civilization, promising progress, and one which will tend more than any other to give our State a good name abroad, and attract such immigration as we most need.

Therefore, sustain your present system until you can amend and correct it. Pay the small amount of taxes required of you, cease a useless litigation which only enriches your lawyers, and look to future legislation for a correction of the present law. He who advises you otherwise is, in our opinion, a public enemy.

Notes from Washington.

Greeley on the Granite Hills—Greeley's and Grant's speeches—Grant's Maligners Retracting—The 'World' exposes one of the Tricks of the Enemy—Judge Kelly and Fred. Douglass Witnesses against Sumner.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12th, 1872.

GREELEY IN HIS NATIVE STATE.

Horace Greeley has been most kindly received on his visit to New Hampshire. It is nearly half a century since, when a boy, he left home to go to himself. He now returns in the capacity of a private individual, while he is at the same time a party nominee for the highest office in the gift of the people. It is well that he should be received with marks of respect, not only as a successful publicist, but also in view of his accidental nomination for the Presidency. At all the principal cities and towns he is met by delegations and kindly received. He meets his friends with great cordiality, makes a short address, avoiding politics, and confining himself to early recollections. A comparison of the State forty years ago with what it is now, with its improved farms, fine general prosperity, and occasionally drawing a contrast between the comforts of the working classes here and in Europe.

Judging from the logical force of Mr. Greeley's addresses in years past on political economy, the tariff and other National questions, in which he showed not only great research, but an aptness in presenting his points so as to produce the best effect upon his audience, his present addresses fall far short of what might be expected from a man of his intellect, large experience and practice in public speaking. His ideas are very common place, and they are clothed in very clumsy sentences. It is probable that the explanation lies in the fact that his political addresses are prepared with care and read generally from his manuscript, while the little speeches in New Hampshire are made without much previous thought or preparation. Be this as it may, his addresses now are more like those of a school boy, or of a practical farmer who had no pretension to education or public speaking. As public speakers the two G's are just about upon an equality. Greeley may make the longest speech, but in point of compactness Grant is ahead of him, judging from their talks with the people while on their recent tour, the one in New Hampshire, the other in New York State.

GRANT'S MALIGNERS RETRACTING.

The charges against the President of nepotism, gift taking, centralization, corruption, &c., were too transparent to abide long in the mouths of his opponents with any degree of success in aiding the campaign. They have all been met and proved to have been false, and circulated from bad motives. Strange as it may appear, the opposition has already joined in the work of exposing the untruthfulness of some of those charges. They have found that in falsifying the President they have not injured him at all, but have damaged their own cause.

The Tribune was the first paper to charge General Grant with gift-taking, after he became President. The New York World, backed by its Washington correspondent, denies the charges and gives the facts in the case. Here is the exposure of the Tribune trick, made by the Washington correspondent of the World. The writer says:

"I wish to expose a political forgery, which, though it did not originate with your paper, finds currency in your columns this morning. You print the following:

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 17th, 1869.

Dear General—Your letter of the 15th, enclosing me the handsome testimonial of the citizens of New York, with the names of all the too generous contributors to it, is received. Through you I wish to thank the gen-men whose names you have enclosed to me individually and collectively. I have the honor to be your obedient servant.

U. S. GRANT.

The forgery is in the date. The letter was written in 1866. And yet this identical forged letter has formed the text of numerous stump speeches and newspaper paragraphs during the past three months.

The correspondent of the World then adds:

"While I am about it let me deal with another mistake." The Tribune will be remembered said that the President's Long Branch cottage was a gift. Here is the charge of the Tribune:

"For the purchase of the President's cottage at Long Branch, presented to him after he became President, there were eight subscribers. This is the direct personal statement of Alexander T. Stewart, who said significantly that he 'knew of one gentleman who was invited to become a subscriber to that fund.'"

To which the World's correspondent replies:

"Neither Mr. Alexander T. Stewart nor any other living man subscribed and paid any sum of money whatever toward the President's cottage at Long Branch. Mr. Stewart never stated that he had made such subscription. He said he knew of one gentleman who had been invited to become a subscriber to a fund for the purchase of a cottage for the President, but he never did, and never will say (for Mr. Stewart is a truthful man) that any such fund was actually raised, or that the President had any knowledge of or complicity with the intended donation."

Grant received at the close of his military labors, as an appropriate response to a just appreciation of his services, a purse of $100,000 made up by capitalists. With a portion of this he purchased his cottage. Since he became President he has received no gift.

A twenty-acre field of oats in Ashton, Ill., was attacked by the army worm last week, and in two days there was not a green thing left in the field.

It is said that Dr. Livingstone has discovered, with great delight, the long-disputed origin of a familiar lyric of home and childhood in the spiritual war-song of an African royal drum corps, which runs thusly:

Boo tea! Boo tea! Kilda Kaff!

Kutti mappu nett! nett!

Hangie ida pon a wall!

Dressim downa d et mail!

AN HOUR BEFORE THE... BY BERT HART.

She's here, your unknown Dulcinea—the lady you met on the train...

"course," he replied, "she would know me; there never was womankind yet who got the effect she inspired. She excuses, but does not forget."

"You told her your love?" asked the elder; the younger looked up with a smile...

"I hold that the spot of the tongue he as frank and as bold as the look I held up herself to herself—that was more than she got from her book."

"Young blood," laughed the elder, "no doubt you are voicing the mode of the day..."

"Why, my wife (you must know), we first met on the journey from Florence to Rome..."

"But what if you make a mistake?" quoth the elder. The younger half smiled. "What happens when signals are wrong, or switches misplaced?" he replied.

"Very well, I must bow to your wisdom," the elder returned, "but admit that your chances of winning this woman your business has bettered no whit."

"Why, you do not, at least, know her name. And what if I try your ideal. With something, if not quite so fair, at least more on a par with real?"

"Let me find you a partner. Nay, come, I insist—you shall follow this way. My dear will you not add your grace to entreat Mr. Rapid to stay?"

"My wife, Mr. Rapid, what? Why, she's here, yet he said he would come. How could I doubt? wonder, my dear, you are properly opinion and dumb?"

"There are those who know good wine and good liquors, and prefer them to the poor. Such may find just what they want at Castro's—on Commerce street—cheap. His stock is for the connoisseurs—go and try it."

RAILROAD NEWS.—The rumored arrival in Boston, of J. W. Pearce, Esq., and that he had telegraphed for his Engineer, Mr. Converse, to meet him forthwith, revives our hopes...

Resolved, That bids, for the section of a building at the Fair Grounds be invited. Mr. T. G. Williams was appointed to give all information and to receive the bids.

At a Republican Mass Meeting held at White's Hall, Eagle Pass on August 21st 1872 the following Resolutions were adopted: Whereas, we are sensitive of the necessity of having honest Legislators and believe it the duty of every good citizen to assist in the election of each Legislature, therefore be it Resolved, That the Republicans of Maverick Co. in mass assemblies, unanimously declare for Capt. James Speed of Frio Co to represent the interest of this section in the next Legislature.

Resolved, That the San Antonio Express, Brownsville Ranchero and Austin State Journal be furnished with copies of these Resolutions.

He was working to get an old curb from a well and accidentally fell to the bottom, his scaffold falling in upon him, frightfully mangled his body. His injuries proved fatal and he expired on the 10th inst.—Goliad Guard.

A Philadelphia paper says there is more bustle visible at Cape May than ever before. We suppose it means there are a great many lady visitors.

ON MARRIAGE. Happy relief for Young Men from the effects of Errors and Abuses in early life. Manhood restored. Nervous debility cured. Impediments to Marriage removed. New method of treatment. Few and remarkable remedies. Books and Circulars sent free, in sealed envelopes. Address, HOWARD ASSOCIATION, No. 2 South Ninth St., Philadelphia, Pa. (4-172d&wt)

It is a mark of the unsuccessful man, that he invariably looks his stable door when the horse is stolen. This sort of wisdom never thinks about bodily health until it is gone. But just as much as any disease becomes seated, the power of the system to resist and throw it off is weakened; hence time is all important.

NEARLY every advertiser, who makes advertising pay, contracts through a responsible Agency, experience having taught them to avail themselves of the services of those who have made the business a study. The Agency of Geo. P. Rand & Co., No. 41 Park Row, New York, is the most competent in the country, and many of the largest advertisers make all their contracts through them.—Exchange.

Cupid's Ambuscades.—The sly archer, Love, shoots his arrows from many coigns of vantage, but it is doubtful if he delivers his heart-taking shafts from any ambush with more effect than when he aims them from the brains and foils and fignets of a superb head of hair. Ladies who have not been favored by Nature with this crowning charm of womanhood, can readily and certainly increase the volume of their hair and impart to it a lustrous lustre by using LYON'S KATHAIRON as a daily dressing; while those whom Providence has blessed with a superabundance of the hair of the sex, can preserve it, undiminished in beauty to the latest period of life. There is a germinating principle in the Kathairon which literally compels the hair to grow. It expatiates scurf, dandruff, and all exfoliations and excretions of the scalp which interfere with the rapid and healthy development of the fibers.

A Disease With a Thousand Symptoms. Dyspepsia is the most perplexing of all human ailments. Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety, and the forlorn and despondent victims of the disease often fancy themselves the prey, in turn, of every known malady. This is due, in part, to the close sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part, also, to the fact that any disturbance of the digestive function necessarily disorders the liver, the bowels and the nervous system, and affects, to some extent, the quality of the blood.

A medicine that, like Hostetter's Bitters not only tones the stomach but at the same time controls the liver, produces a regular habit of body, braces the nerves, purifies the fluids and "ministers to a mind diseased," is therefore the true and only specific for chronic indigestion. Such is the operation of this famous vegetable restorative. It not only cures dyspepsia, but also all concomitants and consequences. Moreover, it is invaluable as a preventive of indigestion. No one who chooses to take half a wineglassful of this agreeable appetizer and stomachic habitually three times a day will ever trouble himself with oppression after eating, nausea, sour eructations, or any other indications of a want of vigor in the digestive and assimilating organs. The debility and languor superinduced by hot weather are immediately and permanently relieved by the Bitters, and persons who are constitutionally inclined to look upon life "as through a glass, darkly," will be apt to take a brighter and more hopeful view of the situation under the genial influence of this wholesome medicinal stimulant.

Substitute in The Dental Banks. Are not desirable; therefore, keep the natural teeth sound and pure with that wholesome vegetable elixir SODODONT. Do this, and they will last as long as the breath lasts, and the breath itself will never be tainted.
