Once England was as dependent upon the Dutch as the Edinburgh Review would have the South be upon the English. There were those who thought that having across the channel a foreign market for her surplus products was the best thing in the world for England. So long as slavery existed, the South could not develop the resourees requiring skilled industry for their unlocking. Free-trade was therefore in their interest. Protection did them no good. Now the condition of things has entirely changed. If only the Ku Klux would stop their villainies, and capital could feel safe in going South, there would soon be heard the hum and whirr of machinery all through the South. Stability of Government Indispen sable to Public Credit-Grant's Practice ss. Greeley's Theories-Views of Capitalists.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 14th, 1872. Generally in this country, young men in ing business for themselves have but a limited cash capital as the basis of their operations. If prudent, they will not run round in search of credit, but will limit their purchases by the extent of their ability to pay on receipt of the goods, always retaining a small cash reserve in bank to meet an emergency, should one occur. After commencing business the next object will be by each to economise expenditures so se to allow the profits to angment the original capital as rapidly as possible. By punctuality and promptness n meeting all his engagements he will very soon secure the confidence of the public, and manufacturers and importer will begin to seek his custom and ask him to receive gueds on time. He has then con-trolled the elements of future success. All success is said, and continued prudence, out usually result in disappointment, a loss of assets, and ultimate insolvency. As it is with individuals, so is it with nations. A Government without stability can never command the confidence of the other Great Powers, What would Mexisen bonds he worth to-day in the money markets of the world ?

Is 1857 our own government, by a vacilating policy, a low tariff, and the stoppage of our manufacturies by a flood of foreign goods, was brought to a crisis by which not only the masses of the working classes were thrown out of employment, but the national credit itself was seriously affected, and the country was saved from commercial ruin only by the timely aid of California gold, discovered a few years before, which had then become sbundant. The United States Treasury was empty, and continued so. Congress authomines of the Central South. Every rized the Secretary of the Treasury to raise a loan on short time United States Treasury Notes, fixing the interest at six | rational per cent. At the next session of Congress the Secretary of the Treasury reported that he could not command money on the He was then authorized to obtain a loan on the best terms he could make. The resuit was that in raising ten millions of dollars he paid eight, nine, ten, eleven, and for about one-half the amount twelve per cent per annum! (See annual reports of

The Republican party came into power in 1861, and Secretary Chase redeemed those obligations in 1862, and stopped this ruinous rate of interest, and that too. make them demand, as with the when he was devising ways to meet the large and rapidly increasing daily cost of the ourrent war.

For some mouths after the Republican party came into power, the interest paid on money for the use of the Government. too late for a great many years to was high, but never over eight per cent. come. If they did but know it, the From that it gradually fell, even while Southern capitalists have really one and a half million dollars per day were required for the war alone. The falling scale has continued. The last the Republican party in power than maney hired by the Government—that any other class of citizens, except authorized under the provisions of the erest. And positive propositions have been received by Mr. Boutwell, for the entire amount called for by the funding bill ($130,000,000,) at five per cent, four and a half, and four per cent, according to its provisions. The offer is standing open for the Secretary's acceptance. The funds are not required yet, and could not be used, as the 5:30 and 7:30 bonds have not all matured, and cannot be called in until the limit provided by lay has expired. These facts demonstrate the results of Public Confidence in Governments as well as in individuals.

Now the question is, shall we again shake the public credit by trying the experiment of a change of Administration, with Horses Greeley instead of U. S. Grant, at the head and front ? That is the problem which the People are now called upon to solve. It is a plain one. There is sthing intricate about it. What are Greetey's ideas upon questions of finance and political economy ! Very extraordinary and capricious. In the Tribune of June 5, 1867, Horace vaid, editorially "We believe in tax og so as to pay the Asht in ten years." Think of that Two handred and ser esty million of dollars pe annum, comsensing at that date: Gravt's Adminia tration, by the generous and cheerful liberality of the people, has been paying off the debt at the rate of about one hundred million per annum, and that is quite enough for the tax-payer to bear. And now that the credit of the Government has been re-cotablished with the Great Powers, as well as among our own capitalists, the Administration proposes to contime to reduce the debt at the rate of only bout half that amount, or $50,000,000 educing the taxes in the same proportion and reducing the interest under the funding bill to 5, 44 and 4 per cent per annum,

The Washington Chronicle says: It is now stated that A. T. Stewart, the rince among New York merchants is not presed to Grant, and has never authrized sufbody to say that he was. He autheriand Houry Clows a few days since to say as nuch to General Grant.

Mr. SUMNER's endeavours to estrange the colored people from General Grant, has mot with but very little success-as witness the following words of hr. Fred. Douglass the most eminent and popular man of his race—there is no caut hereplain, honest and unadorned truth-:

"Aside from his purpose to support the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, Mr. Summer has added utterances. To his flerce, bitter, sweeping, and unqualified impeachments af U. S. Grant we oppose the sober, unimpassioned, and just record in other columns setting forth General Grant's military and political course to ward the colored people of the United States during the last ten years. We appeal from the power of invective to the power of simple, unadorned truth. Judged by this standard, U. S. Grant stands triumphantly vindicated as a wise, firm, and consistent friend of the just rights of man, without regard to race, color, or previous condition efservitude, and every way worthy of the support of colored citizens and of the whole nation."

In your article headed "School Tax" you say that "many tax payers of the city have presented themselves to the Sheriff, proflering to pay the school tax, but the Sheriff construes the injunction granted against his collecting it, as prohibiting that from receiving it."

The foregoing is a mistake, in as much as the Sheriff has never refused to receive the school tax when offered, and in proof thereof I can show that several have paid the school tax since the injunction was granted. The Sheriff does not " miscoustrue the law," he has no right, in face of the injunction, to ask the school tax, but when voluntarily tendered, receives it every time and gives receipt for same. Respectfully,

J. A. BONNET Deputy Collector, Bexar County.

The Chicago Tribune says:
Of course the Louisville convention will not be much of a shower," yet the telegraph informs us this morning that thirty-one states have alreade organized and appointed delegates to it. The meetings of the democrats of Wayne county, in Michigan, and of the democrats of the Ninth Indiana congressional district, as reported in our columns of yesterday and ment has supposed to exist. Perhaps when first coemed.

Wendell Phillips has come out strong for Grant. In a letter to the colored citizens of wounds. THE latest thing out is the "Greeley of Boston he says: "Vote, every one of you for Grant, as you value property, life, wife or children. #### Scribener's for September.

A lively illustrated paper by Edopens the September number of Scribner's. There is also a capital article on Sculpture, by an accomplished critic, with numerous illustrations; and a pictorial account of the Ascent of Gray's Peak by a party of ladies and gentlemen. The most important article of the number, however is Mr. Mulford's essay 13-6-71d&wtf.)
