OFFICIAL
OF THE
UNITED STATES,
Passed at the Second Session of the Forty-Second Congress.

[GENERAL NATURE NO. 120.]
AN ACT to provide for the redemption and sale of lands held by the United States under the several acts levying direct taxes, and for other purposes.
Enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all the lands now owned or held by the United States, by virtue of proceedings under the act entitled "An act for the collection of direct taxes in insurrectionary districts within the United States, and for other purposes," approved June seventh, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, and under acts supplementary thereto, or upon the same subject-matter, may be redeemed and restored to such persons as shall make application therefor to the Secretary of the Treasury, through the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, within two years from the passage of this act, and furnish satisfactory evidence to said Department that such person or persons in such cases, at the time the United States acquired such lands, were legal owners or mortgagors, or the heir at law, or devisee, or grantee, in good faith, and for valuable consideration, of such legal owner; but before such redemption shall be awarded the cost of such application, and proof, such applicant shall pay into the treasury of the United States the direct tax charged against the lands described in such application, together with the cost and charges at the same rate as said lands, and all other proper charges against the same, and interest on said tax from the date of its assessment at the rate of ten per centum per annum, and interest on the cost and charges at the same rate, from the time they accrued and were payable: Provided, however, That if any person or persons, that such applicant shall in such cases, furnish satisfactory evidence to said Department that he or she or they are the acquiree of title by the United States, and before the passage of this act, made valuable and permanent improvements on said land in good faith, and under color of legal title, he shall then be the additional duty of such applicant for redemption to pay to such person or persons the reasonable value of such permanent improvements at the time of such redemption; and if the applicant and such person or persons fail to agree upon and satisfy such claim for improvements, then the value thereof shall be assessed and reported to the Secretary of the Treasury, by three competent and disinterested freeholders, residents of the county or parish in which such land is situated, who shall be appointed for that purpose by the clerk of the district court of the district where the lands are situated; information from the Secretary of the Treasury that a claim for compensation for such permanent improvements is pending in said district court, and the parties thereto, it shall be the duty of said board of freeholders to state in their report the nature of said improvements, when they were made, by whom, and the reasonable value thereof, as assessed, and any other facts that may be in their judgment material to a fair and just determination of the rights of the parties: They shall send one copy of such report to the Secretary of the Treasury, and duplicate thereof in the office of the clerk of the highest court of record of the State in the county or parish where such land is situated. The reasonable fees of said board shall be borne and paid equally by the parties to said controversy.
Sec. 2. That whenever the foregoing conditions have been complied with, and redemption and restoration of title has been awarded in any case by the Secretary of the Treasury, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to make out a certificate of release of the interest and title of the United States in and to such land, in duplicate, which shall be returned to the Secretary of the Treasury, and his approval thereof, and then one copy thereof shall be delivered to such applicant and the other filed in the office of said Commissioner.
Sec. 3. That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, shall, as soon as may be after the passage of this act, prescribe and promulgate such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, as may be necessary and proper to facilitate the execution of this act, and secure the most speedy and least expensive attainment of this purpose hereof.
Sec. 4. That if, at the expiration of the time hereinbefore allowed for redemption, there shall remain any of the said lands unredeemed, it shall then be the duty of the said Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, to proceed to sell such lands, and such sale may be consistent with the public interests, the lands not redeemed and restored, and to release and convey the same to the purchaser in fee, and such sale may be in the most advantageous mode, and shall be subject to the same laws and conditions as shall be in force at the time of such sale.
Sec. 5. That all lands now owned by the United States acquired under the provisions of any of the United States direct tax acts, situated in the State of South Carolina, including all tracts of land purchased and "army and navy" lands not paid for in full at the present time, shall be included in the provisions of this act: Provided, however, That the application of the provisions of this act to "army and navy" lands shall, for six months after the passage of this act, have precedence so far as relates to the land purchased by them.
Sec. 6. That all money derived from the sale of "school-funds" lands, under the provisions of section eight of an act entitled "An act to continue in force and amend 'an act to establish a bureau of education and to provide for the better support of the public schools in the territories of New Mexico and Santa Fe, South Carolina in special parts, to be expended under the direction and control of a special board of trustees, and for other purposes,'" approved July sixteenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and which money is now in the custody of the Freedmen's bureau, be, and the same shall be, applied to the redemption and support of the public schools in the territory of New Mexico and Santa Fe, and shall be subject to the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall be duly sworn that they will faithfully discharge their duties as such commissioners, and shall give such good and sufficient bonds, that said Secretary shall require, and which shall not receive more than one hundred dollars per year each for their services.
Sec. 7. That the provisions of this act shall not be construed to apply to or an-tract subject to entry under said laws; and his right to a patent therefor may be determined by the process touching his residence and cultivation of the first tract and his absence therefrom in such service.

Sec. 8. That any soldier, sailor, marine officer, or other person coming within the provisions of this act may, as well by an agent as in person, enter upon said homestead by filing a declaratory statement in pre-emption cases: Provided, That said claimant in person shall within the time prescribed make his actual entry, commence cultivation and improvements on the same, and thereafter fulfill all the requirements of this act.
Sec. 9. That the Commissioner of the General Land Office shall have authority to make all such rules and regulations to carry into effect the provisions of this act.
Approved, June 8, 1872.

(GENERAL NATURE—No. 121.)
AN ACT to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads.
Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the act entitled "An act to enable honorably discharged soldiers and sailors, their widows and dependent children, to acquire homesteads on the public lands of the United States," approved April fourth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, be, and the same is hereby, amended so to be, as follows: To-wit: That every private soldier and officer who has served in the army of the United States during the recent rebellion for ninety days, or more, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the government, shall, on compliance with the provisions of an act entitled "An act to amend an act relating to soldiers' and sailors' homesteads," approved February thirteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-two, and every son, marine, and officer who has served in the navy of the United States, or in the marine corps, during the rebellion, for ninety days, and who was honorably discharged, and FOR PRESIDENT,
Ulysses S. Grant, OF ILLINOIS.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
Henry Wilson,
OF MASSACHUSETTS.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS—4th Dist.
J. R. BURNS, of Fayette.

FOR CONGRESS—STATE AT LARGE:
HON. LEMUEL D. EVANS,
HON. A. B. NOELTON.

FOR CONGRESS—4th District:
W. O. HUTCHINSON.

10th DISTRICT ATTORNEY,
M. G. ANDERSON.

COUNTY NOMINATIONS.
FOR HIDE AND CATTLE INSPECTOR,
EUGENIO NAVARRO.

M. G. ANDERSON, Esq., is candidate for the office of District Attorney of the 10th District; as the regular nominee of the Bexar County Republican Convention.

We are authorized to announce FRED. COCKE, Esq., of this city as an independent candidate for District Attorney at the coming election, in this Bexar District.

We are authorized to announce A. BADER as a candidate for the office of Hide Inspector for this county, at the ensuing election.

N. O. GREEN, Esq., is announced by authority as a candidate for the office of District Attorney, at the coming election.

The world moves. The Memphis Appeal is out in a ringing editorial in favor of free schools and universal education. This is better than encouraging the Ku-Klux to burn school-houses and whip schoolmasters. If the Appeal will only make Tennessee a safe and pleasant place for the Yankee schoolmaster a large portion of the thrifty population, now diverted to more northern latitudes, will come there and make the whole State musical with church bells, cotton spindles, and all the glad noises of prospering industry.

One of Thomas Carlyle's vigorous incisive phrases, is that, in these days, "Parliamentary eloquence is only a detestable and damnable babblement of lies." If the venerable Cheltenham could be persuaded to come to this country, and should inform himself, he would say that the Greeley newspapers and stump speakers were chiefly filled or made up with that sort of stuff. In this respect we differ from the Washington Patriot.

In imitation of the Union Herald of New York we propose to establish a political weather bureau, and to announce with accurate forecast the "general probabilities." Mixed weather in North Carolina, West Virginia and Maine has disappeared, and the sky in these States will remain calm and serene during the approaching election. The demerit clouds have entirely disappeared in these States.

The wind has been in the wrong direction to produce showers either in Vermont or Maine. These States are now secure against turbulence danger. Pennsylvania was for some time during last month threatened with a disastrous conflict of the elements; but the danger is now over and she can count on a beautiful autumn. Our dispatches from the N. Y. Herald say:

The heavy weather which threatened New York State is gradually but surely disappearing. The department pre-Dis that on the 5th of November next a clear, strong irresistible breeze, blowing from the Lake Erie and the St. Lawrence of Montauk Point, will sweep over the State, and wipe out the last vestige of Tammany.

These dispatches are corroborated by our own observations. We have heretofore announced that there was no danger of foul weather in Oregon. Every indication verified the prediction. The probabilities now are that fine Grant and Wilson weather will remain in all of the Northern States not only until after the election but during the succeeding four years. In some of the Southern States there will be a great deal of wind, accompanied by gusts and floods, but a sudden subsidence into a Grant and Wilson calm after November. Altogether there need be no apprehension of damaging storms in any part of the country. Grant and Wilson weather will prevail every where.

Refuses Crow.

Benjamin G. Wright, formerly Lieutenant Governor of Ohio, but now a resident of Illinois, peremptorily refuses to eat crow upon any terms. He says:

"It is the right, nay, the duty, on conviction of error of any party in politics, or any sect in religion, by a majority of its members, to change its political or religious creed and join its opponents; but it has no right to sell out, like cattle at a fair, the minority who remain steadfast to the moral convictions of duty, nor has it a right to denounce them as 'bolters,' unfaithful to their party ties. And this base attack on our personal rights as freemen, to be our own judges before God and our fellow-men, is exactly what the Baltimore Convention corrupted and despotically attempted to do—even to the exclusion of entering a word in defense of the rights of the minority by the well-known 'gag-law,'—the previous question."

"But if there were no objections to the candida endorsed at Baltimore, for one, I would resist this venal attempt to sell and transfer the rank and file of the party, and would fight it out on this line if it took the short remnant of life that is now left me."

Texas is Known at Last.

[From the Houston Union.]
Texas is known at last. The world is at last awake to her vast advantages over nearly all other lands. The time was in the memory of Texas journalists, still in the vigor of the prime of manhood, when the papers of the North and of Europe, had scarcely a mention of Texas during a year, while their columns teemed daily with news, incidents and descriptions of California and all the States and Territories of the Great West. Now Texas is mentioned in the leading papers of the world, every day and everywhere.

Col. Thos. A. Scott, President of the Texas Pacific Railroad takes a trip through this State to examine the proposed line of this road. Col. Forney, the talented and versatile editor of the "Philadelphia Press" accompanies him, as well as several other gentlemen of the North; of means and leisure. Colonel Forney writes letters to his paper descriptive of the fertility, health and advantages of Texas, which have made tens of thousands of people in the North wild with the desire to make their homes in Texas. Col. Scott, in the interest of his great road, visits San Francisco, to get its people to build a road, to the Pacific terminus of which is in San Diego. In his speech, as published in the Union of yesterday morning, he gives a glowing account of the fertility and latent wealth of Texas.

From New Orleans and Savannah to Philadelphia and New York, the twenty odd Eastern branches of the Texas Pacific Railroad are chief interests in it because it runs through the vast and rich State of Texas. So it is with the Western or Pacific feeders of the same road, from San Francisco to San Diego, and lower down on the Pacific coast. The time is near at hand when every railroad running west from the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, from Portland, Maine, to Houston, Texas, will seek its Pacific and Asiatic connections over the Texas Pacific Railroad. And the time is also near at hand when every railroad running East from the Pacific coast, from Oregon to San Blas, will seek its Atlantic and European connections over the Texas Pacific Railroad. Not only the whole United States will travel and trade, West and East, over this great railroad, but all Europe will travel and trade to Asia over this line, and all Asia will trade to Europe over the same line. Texas is destined, through this great road, to become the common meeting ground of all the States and all the nations—Europe, the United States, Mexico, Japan, China, and all the vast Orient.

In this light, which is the true one, what is the pitiful subsidy granted by the State of Texas to the Texas Pacific Railroad, about which some narrow-minded people make so much complaint! It is nothing but an advertisement of the State worth thousands of millions, paid for at a very low price. Who has brought Texas at last to the notice and admiration of the world? The hard-worked and poorly-paid journalists of the State, who, for the past twenty years, have advertised her gratis, with all their might. Will they find their reward?

Feldspar in Texas.

Large veins of this mineral, of a thickness of two, three, or more feet, exist in the eastern part of Llano county, near the Packaddle mountain. These we saw when on a geological examination of that county in 1867. These veins are in the granite, and the feldspar is remarkably pure, yet is occasionally associated more or less with quartz.

Feldspar is useful in the manufacture of porcelain. The well known kaolin which is also used for the same purpose, and from which the finest of china is made, is simply a decomposed or altered feldspar. Kaolin is generally a simple hydro silicate of alumina, composed of nearly equal parts of silica, the basis of quartz, and of alumina which is the basis of clay, with the addition of water. The feldspar in Llano county is the largest deposit of this mineral which we have seen in the United States, with but one exception, the quarry near Middlestown, Conn., from which porcelain has been largely manufactured. State Gazette.

Still They Come.

The True Patriot, of Cuba N. Y., publishes the names of over one hundred honest and reliable Democrats who have recently joined a Grant and Wilson club at Wells-ville, Alleghany county, N. Y. The Democrats of old Alleghany can't swallow Horace. They are not so far lost to a sense of justice as to accept "anything to best Grant." They believe Grant's Administration has been honest, and that the best interests of the nation require the defeat of the Greeley movement. For his reason they have come out openly in favor of the tried soldier and patriot. If the example of Alleghany is followed by other counties, and we believe it will be, New York will give us of its old-fashioned majorities for General Grant.

Mr. Gavens has charge of Hughes' ranch, Colorado, where three attacks have been made by the Apaches recently. His wife has an infant less than a month old. Gov. Safford visited there last week and urged Mr. Gavens to go to a place of more security, and she nervously replied: "No, no, I cannot go." The Governor pointed to the walls of the house, full of bullet holes, and said it was no place for her and the baby. "Oh!" said she, "do not speak of taking me away from my husband! I am not afraid of him, and I can watch the hills and advise him of approaching danger, and if he must fall a victim to Apache cruelty, let baby and I go with him. I can not bear to leave my husband alone in this place of danger." It would have been a hard heart that did not melt at such a scene, and yet brave women are accepting these posts cheerfully, all over that Territory, as well as in this State.

SAN DOMINGO, HAITI, &c.—Samuel Hazard, Esq., an attaché of the Philadelphia Press, who accompanied the San Domingo expedition, has remained ever since on that island. He writes a lengthy letter to the Press, in the course of which he attempts to show that Mr. Sumner entirely misconceived the state of facts in the Black Republic and the San Domingo matter. Having studied the facts at both ends of the island, he affirms the wisdom and necessity of an alliance with the States to save the people there from a military despotism. If Mr. Hazard can believe Mr. Sumner, he will hardly advise the people of that distant island to seek a union with this military despotism.

Secretary Fish, in conversation with a friend, stated that in his place, Philadelphia, New Jersey, two hundred Democrats have declared for Grant and Wilson, and further, that a leading Democrat there named Kimball, has offered to bet $10,000 that the State of New York will give Grant a majority of 100,000.

Those big trees at Mariposa and Calaveras, are not the best that California can do, after all. They have found one at Vinalia forty feet in diameter with the bark off, and the bark had six feet in thickness. It is strange that these slender saplings have been overlooked so long.

The Alastians and Lorrainers, of New Orleans, numbering eight hundred men and one hundred, and eighty ladies, repaired to the French consulate the other day, and declared their intention of retaining their French citizenship as provided by the treaty of peace between France and Germany.

The English Government has under consideration the project of purchasing all the railroads in Ireland for the sum of one hundred and fifty million dollars.

of August, and a citizen said, now read State, and a resident of the State... A little elbow leans upon your knee, your tired knee, that has so much to bear; your tired eyes are looking lovingly from underneath a thatch of tangled hair...

From the Aldine for September. THE MOTHERS. "Look here, Bill Turner," said he, "you can't fool us; that's a man!" We wish all those in charge of charitable institutions had the same idea about paupers as Silas had.

THE MOTHERS. A dispatch from London dated August 29th, says: "Advises from India report that the cholera is raging ferociously in many of the towns throughout the empire. The greatest consternation and alarm prevails among the inhabitants of the small and thickly settled towns, who, fearing an epidemic, are hastening to the settlements where the disease has not yet appeared."

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

COOK HATS at Frost & Bro., for two bits apiece. (14-9-73rdm.)

By accident we failed to announce in yesterday's issue the meeting of the delegates to the Republican convention which took place at Kotula's Hall at 2 o'clock, P. M., on yesterday.

THE County Clerk has introduced an admirable improvement, in our opinion, in obtaining a new book for the record of deeds. The book is about the ordinary size, and contains blank forms of deeds, which have been approved by the ablest attorneys, together with certificates of acknowledgment, and certificate of record, two forms on each page.

ANDY JOHNSON knows all about the Liberal Republicans. They are the same sort of cattle as the liberal Doolittle Democrats who got up the Philadelphia Convention, shook hands across the bloody chasm in 1866, and wept when Massachusetts and South Carolina walked into the hall arm in arm.
