The load we all must bear!".
He only lifts his languid lids,
And says: "The morn is fair!"

THE Republican mass-meeting at Kotula's hall will have made its city nominations, or at least agreed upon a plan for making them, be fore this paper appears. We have abstained from any remarks concerning them. We have trusted to the good sense of the party, to select for candidates for the different offices in the gift of the people of San Antonio, such men as have given sufficient evimay be called upon to perform.

In all civic offices a combination of qualifications is desirable which it is hard to find united in one man. Therefore the necessity for making a choice with the utmost care, betting aside the blinding prejudices of party zeal, becomes the more imperative. Disregard this caution, and your choice leads inevitably to well merited trouble; keep it taith fully before you and act accordingly your reward will be an honor-able victory, or a no less honorable defeat. It you put up, for any office, a noisy ranting, pot-house polition because he has a certain popularity; and if this popularity ensures his election, your party loses horse back. more by your success than it would have done by failure. there are few things, among the petty annoyances of life, more vexations than the overbearing and pert forms which some official men put on efter election.

Honesty means not only the abstention from picking pockets or the offering a traveller his choice between the surrender of his purse or his acceptance of a bullet; but it means, when a public officer is in question, a great many things more. The due and proper performance of every duty of his office; the proper use of the time for which he is paid; a regard for the interests of the people, by whose majority he was elected, and not merely of the party which elected him, such as he would entertain for his own interests or those of his family.

Consistency, in an official, means practice; Intelligence, that condition of mind which fits him for the proper apprehension of his public duties; knowledge, that amount of enlture which renders him competent to perform his part well; firmness, that decision of character that repels improper advances and that retuses to be swayed to the right or to the left by any undue influences; energy, the qualities of the "live man;" impartiality, an equal dealing with all-democrat or republican, white or black, American, Mexican,

Sir Charles Adderly on the Geneva Tribunal.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Sir Charles Adderly, in his remarks last night, alluded to the work of the Geneva Tribunal and the setwork of the Geneva Tribunal and the set-tlement of the dispute basween England and America, and read the prospective of the world depended upon the cordial, mo-derstanding of the two nations. England has made great accritices to terminate the atate of sensi-alternation, and relices the anxiety of Ganada. In conclusion be said the aetilement of the difficulties arising out of the depradations of the Confederate privateers had been dearly purchased by England, and maintained that the parties who fatted out these resuels and maite forwho fitted out shows vessels and made for funes at the risk of the honor of the coun-fry ought to bear the hirden of the award of the Geneva Triburnal.

The democrats have again preceded us nominating their city officers. They have disregarded the mishes, the interests and the nationality of the citizens of this city. The nominations have been made THE Hon. Blatrict Court, Judge Nooran for the benefit of the old Court-house clique, as were the County nominations and there is just now nothing that engages the attention of these gentlemen so much as to obtain control over the city and its fluances. The leaders of this move ment, Devine, Green, Teel and others, kept quietly in the background, but they pulled the wires and made the liberal puppets dance to suit them; and they do really understand how to manage such things. And they have concected a ticket that resemoles those which used to be gotten up be-At the head of this ticket is Giraud for Mayor, who has always been a pliant tool in the hands of Devine. In the election of 1866 be was appounced as a candidate against Lyons-but before it same to the election, he was hand in glove with the clique, and received therefor the office of Secretary. We have not forgetten that the city Treasury, under the administration of Lyons and Girand, was nearly sticked dry. It is still fresh in our memories that after one year's management, a debt of $20,000 had been imposed on the people. Mr. Girand serv ed this swindling administration with a quiet conscience. In fact we must believe that Giraud was the moving spirit, because the aged Lyons was only put up as a blind, anyhow. And yet this is the man who is presented to us for the office of Mayor in this age of reform. The pominations for aldermen are an insult to the intelligence of our citizens. Great invention come in groups as the stars troop over cur besds in constellations. It is a most est traordinary circumstance that from the estimate time down to within a little more than a generation we material improvement in weighing machines for general use was made. The "simple balance," such as was almost universally employed fifty years ago, is depicted upon the most ancient monuments of liabyion and togyst. With this, Abraham doubtless weighed out the fear hundred pieces of silver which he paid for the field of Machpelah; for money in those primerval lays, went by weight. The "steel-yard" is found in the ruins of Pompeti, and was horrowed by the Romans from the east.
