Can Our Railroads Pay? We have read with much interest an article in the New York Commercial and Financial Chronicle of September 21st, on the question, "Do our railroads pay?"

In tracing effects on the material prosperity of our country, we are lost in amazement, and we feel that we were deprived of the influence of railroads we should lose the progress of a century.

In this discussion we should avoid, as far as possible, any hostility toward our railroad interests, recognizing fully their many benefits, but solely that we may strengthen our financial position, and secure our prosperity and progress in the future.

Had we constructed our railroads under this system, at an average cost of even twenty thousand dollars per mile, equipped, the account would have stood between the two as follows: Sixty thousand miles standard gauge (at fifty thousand dollars per mile) $3,000,000,000 cheap transportation. We may therefore conclude that the narrow-gauge railway is by far the best means for a general and quick development of our resources, for the following reasons: 1. Costing only about one-half as much as the broad-gauge, it is within the means of all sections to build them to avail themselves of railway facilities where otherwise they will be compelled to dispense with them.

The committee have sent forth this report, and invite the attention of the thinking public to its general arguments and conclusions. We find that in every instance where the narrow gauge railroads have been tested, they prove the system to be a complete success.

Now, calculating the interest at the rate of seven per cent. (which is a lower average), the interest on the savings would be, per annum, the sum of one hundred and twenty-six million dollars, and the second or twenty-six years would stand as follows: Principal saved $1,500,000,000 Interest saved $2,550,000,000

As it is, the cost of railway construction and operation affects every industrial interest and the cost of every article of necessity or convenience. Every farmer, miner and manufacturer, and even the commonest laborer is interested.

subject of local, but of national importance, and any movement cheapening our railroads and their operating expenses, reduces the taxation on all the necessities of life. Hence, this question is one of the most vital importance.

More than that, our roads could have been free, or nearly free from debt, and from their small cost and light operating expenses been able to pay a dividend to their stockholders. On the question of dividends, let us quote the evidence which the Nation offers on this point. It says: "The gross annual earnings of this — the present broad-gauge — system are about $455,000,000, of which not more than thirty-three per cent. can be set down to net profit, or a total of $150,000,000, being exactly five per cent on the cost."

This is a subject that invites the attention of every citizen, be he a laborer or a capitalist. We cannot undo the past; but learning from the past we can build rightly in the future. — Mr. Democrat.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF BEXAR COUNTY.

SATURDAY, NOV. 16, 1872.

"OUR SENIOR" of the Herald of this city in his issue of yesterday rises to explain. He was one of the delegates to the Baltimore Convention, and approved of the little bargain which, like the little joker of the prestidigitator, was not merely to astonish, but to win over to the science of jugglery all the intelligent people of this country. It seemed to him only necessary to say, as Señor Bliss used to say: "My friends, there is no devilry in this—if you only knew how you might perform this wonderful feat as well as I do! Presto! change! Do you perceive?"

The whole explanation of the believing—Logic consists, in the assertion that there was a difference of opinion as to just how the "presto! change!" was to be effected. Some insisted upon one way, some upon another, and still others upon a third. Finally one way was adopted. It hasn't worked well; but he sorrowfully says, it was not the fault of the party, but of the democracy! He therefore, adds, that "as a National party we regard the democracy as in a very doubtful condition." Who can help sympathizing with this drivelling Jeremiah, who, having failed in becoming successful in a palpable and villainous trick which was to have been palmed off upon the people, not for their sakes, but for the sake of that success whereby the people might be plundered, and he and his pals procure the spoils without molestation—now dolefully wipes his eyes with a red bandanna, mourning like Fagin the Jew, in D'ekens' David Copperfield, the corruption of the times! There is something in all this to melt the hardest heart. When we recollect how this noble party of Fagin's picked up and dragged into their den their little Oliver, (which his name was Horace,) and schooled him in the old historical style—"poor little Oliver!—good little Oliver!—see, see, see, we are surprised at the result! The people of this country are not surprised, how much so ever the Fagins, Bill Sykes and all comers may be. Let them repent—re-subside.

THE school-board of this county has, we understand, done that which ought to have been done long ago—viz: to authorize the payment of the school taxes with the warrants of the teachers. The chief objection hitherto urged against the payment of the tax has been, that the citizen had no assurance of a proper expenditure of the money paid. The objection loses its force when it is known that the teachers, who have earned their wages by teaching the children of these same tax payers, are to be paid therefor. Now we shall see how far these objections were made in good faith. If in good faith—if such has been really their objection, they may now invest their money in a method of tax-paying such as that it cannot be perverted, and exhibit at the same time, a disposition to do justice to one of, if not the most useful class in our community. The teachers of our public schools are greatly in need of their wages; and there has been suffering and annoyance endured by them, sufficient to impel them to resign, had they not faith in the ultimate triumph of common sense and justice among the people. The attorneys who represent those opposed to paying the school-tax have advertised for them to come and give the bonds required, or to pay the tax; now let them pay the tax in the manner proffered, if they are, what they have pretended to be, in favor of a free school system.

THE attention of all men interested in having a railway built to this city is called to the article published on the outside of to-day's issue. It is the most exhaustive summary and argument upon the subject discussed we have yet seen; and let no one be deterred by its length from giving it a careful perusal. Every business man, every property owner, every one who lives either by his labor or its employment, or by the use of his capital is interested in this question—as the article itself will prove. This subject needs to be agitated until the true interest of the people are known, and a proper channel for the exercise of its influence and energies may be opened up.

Notes from Washington.
Grant Again—The overwhelming majorities—The news in Washington—Newspaper Enterprise—"Newspaper Row"—The President at Home—Congratulations of his friends.

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
Midnight, Nov. 5th, 1872.

THE VICTORY—RECEPTION OF THE NEWS IN WASHINGTON.
From 4 o'clock this P. M., down to the present time (midnight) telegrams from nearly every State came in rapid succession to the Executive Mansion, to "Newspaper Row" in the office of the daily city papers, and to Judge J. M. Edmunds, Secretary of the Congressional Republican Committee, showing the assurance of President Grant's re-election. The community was prepared for just such intelligence, and the announcement created no surprise. There was no excitement. The opposition had abandoned all hope of success, and they were prepared for the announcement of a Republican victory. Republicans, democrats and liberals all mingled together and exchanged salutations as they gathered around the ballina or upon the avenues and streets. The opposition consisted itself by declaring that "The liberal movement was temporarily checked, but not defeated. Let us pick our flints and try again."

There was general good feeling and jubilation throughout the city. The President was at home, and remained with his family during the longest portion of the evening. Some few friends called in the course of the evening to congratulate him, not so much on his re-election, but chiefly in reference to the overwhelming majorities by which the people had evinced their confidence in him and his administration in the past. It is indeed a triumphant victory, as well as a verdict against those who have so industriously misrepresented the President and his Cabinet, before and during the campaign.

Telegrams were received at the White House from all parts of the country, in rapid succession during the evening and down to the present hour. They were opened by Gen. Dent and their contents were immediately announced to the newspaper correspondents and others who were calling from time to time to obtain the latest intelligence.

The most creditable newspaper enterprise manifested on the occasion, was that of the proprietor of the Daily Republic. He has just erected a five story stone building of large size for his newspaper establishment. It is not yet completed, but will soon be ready. Next to the "Lodge Building," in Philadelphia, it is unquestionably the finest newspaper building this side of New York city. From the balcony on the front of the second story, a large screen was displayed during the entire evening. Upon this, by means of the stereopticon and electric light, the telegrams from the different States were displayed as fast as they were received, and were distinctly read by the thousands gathered upon the broad Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the "Republican Building."

The plan of presenting the telegrams was this: A number of small chemically treated plates of glass were provided. Upon the reception of a telegram it was immediately traced upon one of these plates in the usual size and style of writing. The plate was then passed before the electric light and the letters appeared in white, upon the dark screen. Each letter appeared to be from six to eight inches in length, and the telegrams could be read at a distance of five hundred feet. A fresh telegram was displayed every five or six minutes, and between them portraits of Grant and Wilson, or other appropriate devices were shown upon the screen. An excellent band was present and entertained the scene with some choice music and National airs. Altogether the enterprise was an entire success, as it kept the community informed just as promptly as the dispatches reached the city.

The Daily "Morning Chronicle" exhibited upon the second story front of the "Chronicle Building," a very appropriate design, consisting of the word "FRANCIS" in large letters, formed by gas jets. "Newspaper Row," on 14th street, opposite the "Willard House," was thronged during the later hours of the evening. It is here that nearly all the prominent and well-to-do daily newspapers throughout the Union have rooms fitted up for their Washington correspondents and resident editors. These representatives of the daily press of the Union were in constant communication with, and in receipt of intelligence from the home editors of the papers they respectively represent. These dispatches were posted upon the bulletin boards as soon as received, and were read by thousands constantly coming and going during the entire evening.

THE PRESIDENT'S VISITORS DURING THE EVENING.
It was stated that the President was waited upon during the evening and congratulated by a few of his friends. Among these were Hon. H. D. Cooke, Governor of the District, Attorney General Williams, Judge Swayne of the United States Supreme Court, Senator Morrill of Vermont, Chief Justice Carter, and Judge McArthur of the District Courts, ex-Secretary Boris, Admiral Porter and others. The President received their congratulations with his usual equanimity, and without manifestations of rejoicing at the defeat of his opponents. He said he was glad to know that his efforts had been appreciated and endorsed by the people, and that if his administration had been successful in the past, he had reason to believe that it would be more so in the future, as he and his advisors in the Government will have the experience of the past to aid them in further efforts to advance the National interests and the material prosperity of the people.

DR. C. F. BRAUN'S
Young American Liniment.
THIS Liniment has gained a lasting reputation, where it has been used. In most cases which require an external remedy, such as rheumatism, soreness and swelling of the breast, pain and weakness in the back and joints, sprains, bruises, cramps, numbness, frozen limbs, bites of insects, old sores, fever sores, gouts or swollen neck, paralysis, wounds, erysipelas, bites of reptiles, headache, white swellings, mange, poison, burns, all swellings, salt rheum, corns, warts, sore eyes, run-rounds, &c. We daily hear of the most astonishing cures on animals by this excellent remedy, and hazard nothing in saying that there never has been its equal as a curative for horses. We assert positively that it will cure any case of any kind in existence; also splint, galls, sprains or strains, bruises, scratches, wounds, bad head, wind galls, sore eyes, swellings, and has never failed to cure fistula, poll-evil, ring-bone and spavin. When used in the beginning, strictly according to directions, and given internally with the food, it is a harmless but certain remedy for worms. Do not fail to give it a trial; only 25 cents a bottle.

CAUTION.—In order to protect the public against imitations, all the genuine will have a private United States revenue stamp engraved expressly for it, which stamp will be found on the wrapper over the cork of every bottle. It represents a horse held by a group of men, and is surrounded by the words "Dr. C. F. Braun's Young American Liniment."

GOOD NIGHT.
O, sweet my love, the hour is late;
The moon goes down in silver state,
As here alone I watch and wait.
Toss far from thee, my lips repeat
In whispers low, Good Night, my sweet.

The home is still, but 'er the gloom,
Of star-lit gardens, faint with bloom,
I lean out from my darkened room,
And only hear the panning breeze
Move softly in the lilac trees.

Sometimes beneath those gracious skies
My lonely love a dreaming lies,
With slumber brooding in her eyes,
So seek her, happy wind, in vain,
And kiss her forehead hallowed for me.

Across this dome of silent air,
On ties of floating ether bear,
To where she sleeps, my whispered prayer;
The day has brought the night full down,
God keeps these, little love, till dawn.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.
FOR SALE.—A well selected Law Library containing a complete set of the Texas Reports. Also, full set of the AMERICAN ENCYCLOPEDIA, with Annuals, Library binding. For sale—each or both will be sold cheap. Apply at this office.

FERRY SYSTEMS!—A. Safford has made arrangements for the receipt of stock, selected from the best of a week, which he will serve up to his customers at the St. Charles Hotel, in every style. They are brought in ice and washed fresh. 27-10-81d1w

THE returns already heard from seem to leave no doubt but Austin will remain the Capital of the State.

THE District Court opened upon the criminal docket of our district yesterday, with unrelenting purpose, and its business was pursued with vigor. Jose Chavez and Juan Fernandez were tried on the charge of horse stealing, both found guilty, and the term of imprisonment fixed by the jury for each at five years. Tomorrow a case of murder is fixed for trial.

ICE froze last night in some places in the city as thick as one half inch. The Bananas have drooped, and many of the tenderer plants and trees were no doubt destroyed. The streets yesterday were remarkably quiet, the sharp wind of the north, in spite of a bright sun, piercing the thickest epidemic sufficiently to incline every one to sunny and warm quarters.

QUITE a large amount of business was done during the session of the District Court held by Judge Noonan at Eagle Pass. There were six convictions for felony, and quite a number for misdemeanors; and also a considerable number of civil suits disposed of. Everything is all quiet about that portion of the frontier. We regret to learn that the small-pox has broken out both in Eagle Pass and Piedras Negras, but is as yet chiefly confined to children.

ON their way up to Eagle Pass, a short time since, Judge Noonan and those accompanying him crossed a fresh Indian trail on the 4th, between Uvalde and the Neecos. Upon their return they learned that some twenty head of horses had been stolen in that vicinity and along the Sabinal, and returning the Indians had passed up the Canon Frio, stealing at all the settlements. The full amount of their depredations is not known. A party of men started from Uvalde in pursuit, but returned without overtaking them.

THE school directors are guilty of palpable neglect of duty in not having before provided school fuel for the different school rooms in this city. The cold—very cold—winter which has prevailed since the 1st of September has rendered it impossible to heat the ordinary school room. The health of both the pupils and teachers who have braved it through has been seriously endangered; but the attention has been very lax, and the consequence necessarily short. A little activity might have prevented all this—which results in injustice and dissatisfaction to all interested. Will the directors not see to this matter at once?

SPECIAL NOTICES.
The N. Y. Manufacturing Co., 21 Courtland Street, New York, have established an "Emporium of Novelties" and utilities for every-day use. Agents, male and female, wanted every where, see their advertisement in another column.

The Harvest of the Hand.
When the comb acts as a rake, bringing away a roll of parted fibers every time it passes through the hair, baldness would be inevitable, but even in the case of the hair, as it may seem, the mischief can be arrested, the loss repaired. Lyon's Ka-thairin, aided by a brisk application of the lotion to promote the absorption of the hair, will stop the shedding, and the most out process in forty-eight hours. The roots from which the dead filaments were shed will soon be re-endowed with vitality, and a new growth will speedily spring up on the denuded places. This work of re-production will go on until the damage is completely repaired, and the luxuriant crop of hair thus produced will never stop or fall out as long as the vitalizing application is regularly continued.

Nature Gives Us Teeth.
But she does not preserve and purify them. That must be done with fragrant, SODORIC. The dental bone and its covering are made invulnerable to all destructive influences by the daily use of this beneficial preparation.

Reasonable Suggestions.
The heavy mists and cold night dews which characterize the present season are very trying to delicate organizations, and are low-lying and swampy localities they produce an enormous crop of intermittent fevers of various types and degrees of intensity. At this very time there are probably half a million of people in the United States suffering from periodical fevers by miasmatic fogs and exhalations. What makes the prevalence of this evil the more deplorable is the fact that it might in all cases be easily prevented. Malaria and dengue produce little or no effect upon the system pre-fortified by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Every fall and spring hundreds of letters are received from persons residing in fever and ague districts, who state that while their neighbors are incapacitated for labor by the debilitating disease, they have been happily exempted from attack by the regular use of the great vegetable antidote to miasma. As a prophylactic or specific for intermittent and remittent fevers the Bitters may be justly accounted infallible. They eradicate the complaints in their most obstinate forms; but the wiser course is to forestall attack by taking the preparation as a preventive. The amount of preventive labor withdrawn from active service during several months in the year by malarious maladies is immense, and the pecuniary losses in individuals, families, and the nation, which the cause is local, is incalculable. Bear in mind that by toning and regulating the system with Hostetter's Bitters before the miasm comes, it may always be escaped; and let it also be remembered that indigestion, general debility, biliousness, constipation, nervous complaints, and indeed almost all disturbances and derangements of the physical system are controllable by this general restorative. 45

The Duluth Tribune wishing to compliment the grocery wares of a resident of that little town, does it in this style: "He has a splendid article of cracked wheat or 'grits,' which, as an article of diet, can't be beaten."
The groceryman at once countermanded the order to send a sack to the editor's house.
The title were brown the heavens were blue.
A woodpecker whistled a pinetop shell. While a partridge pointed the whole day through.
For a rabbit to dance in the chaparral. And a gray grouse drummed. "All's well!" "All's well!"

"What can be more harrowing to your soul than the thought of wasted opportunities?" asked a teacher of a bright boy. "A pig in my boot harrows my soul more than anything else," replied the boy.

BROMO-CHLORALUM!
THE NEW
DOZELERS, NON-POISONOUS
DEODORIZER and DISINFECTANT.
The want of a certain and perfect deodorizer and disinfectant capable of destroying all noxious odors and gases, as well as germs of disease and septic particles in the air, has long been felt, and more particularly, one that was free from poisonous qualities, so that it could be safely used under all circumstances.
BROMO-CHLORALUM contains no poison, possesses no odor in itself, operates by destroying and not by creating an odor greater than the one to be removed.
INVALUABLE as a Gargle in Diphtheria, Sore Throat, Canker, Catarrh and Pustil Breach.
INDISPENSABLE IN SMALL POX, Yellow Typhoid and Scarlet Fever, Cancers, Eczema Ulcers, Discharges of all kinds, and all contagious diseases, both as a wash to neutralize fever poisons, and as a disinfectant.
TO REMOVE ALL BAD ODORS OF GASES and TO DISINFECT ROOMS, suspend cloths saturated with it, diluted, and put in all chambers, closets, bedrooms, etc.
THIS OROBLES DEODORIZER absorbs in an astonishing manner all odors in the Kitchen, in Store Rooms, Pantries, and Meat Safes, by simply suspending cloths saturated with a solution of it, also, by sprinkling Cellars, Stacks, Water Closets, etc., with it.
AS A HOUSEHOLD ARTICLE it has no equal for personal injuries, Scalds, Burns, Mosquito Bites, Chills, Pustil Pox, and arm Pits, Erysipelas, Itching, and Cutaneous Affections. For purifying Barrels, Milk Cans, Babies' Feeding Bottles, and all dishes and utensils that have any bad odor.
USES FOR THE DEAD.—Injected into the arteries of the body full strength, and used externally, it has proved itself a long time, much better than ice.
MOSQUITOES and FLIES.—It has been discovered among other valuable properties to possess the merit of repelling these household pests, which, if it is exposed in open sanctuaries, upon a person by purifying the air of the odors and its parasites upon which they live.
POISONS.—From poison Ivy or other vegetables, from Mosquitoes or other insects, relieved once by washing the parts affected with it.

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,
With Peppine and Stimulant.
A REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA.
The stimulating influence of Buchu upon the mucous membrane of the stomach and bowels, has given it reputation in Dyspepsia. It augments the appetite and promotes digestion. In combination with Peppine and Stimulant, when there is a deficiency in gastric secretion, its beneficial effects are decided and really wonderful. In Acute Dyspepsia complicated with uric acid, it tends to prevent the accumulation of the food and consequent generation of the sedimentary deposits in the urine, while the diuretic property holds the latter in solution and favors its discharge.
