LECTURE BY GEN. SHERMAN.
AN INTERESTING ACCOUNT OF HIS TRAVELS AMONG THE GREEK ISLANDS.
A few evenings since General Sherman delivered, in Washington City, a very interesting lecture on his travels among the Greek islands, to Constantino and the Canes, before the Philosophical Society, of which Professor Henry is president. General Sherman does not possess great oratorical powers, but his capacity to relate an interesting story is very wonderful. He spoke without notes, and the accuracy of his memory in giving dates and incidents was remarkable. His familiar comparisons and illustrations developed an amount of observation and knowledge that when compiled will prove of the greatest value. He had photographs and maps of places and scenes described that he visited, and which added very greatly to the interest of his lecture. These he passed among his listeners, and with their aid they were enabled to more fully comprehend the exact nature of the subject treated of. Among the interesting notes of his lecture was the description of his coasting along the western coast of Asia Minor, and finally striking the site of old Ephesus, where Paul lived and wrote his wonderful letter to the Ephesians. At that time it was a seaport; now it is, through changes of the land and sea, an inland town. Here was located in olden time the great temple of the Ephesians, which was one of the seven wonders of the world. The site of this has recently been discovered, and the British Museum spends $100,000 annually, excavating, to get at the buried remains. He said that they have already taken one of the pillars of the temple from the ruins, which is one of the most exquisite works of sculpture ever seen in ancient or modern times. From old Ephesus Gen. Sherman carried his hearers past the site of ancient Troy, seeing Ida, the classic spot where once the thousand springs gushed from the hillside, and rolled their united waters to the ocean through the channels of Simois and Scamander, but which is now a bare, unfruitful knob, rising out of a sandy plain. From Ida the General took his hearers to Constantino. Here he was received in the most honorable manner by the Sultan and his officers, and by them was shown all the wonders of Constantino. Among the interesting facts brought up by the General's trip is that the Sultan is diminishing the numbers in his harem, which institution will be soon numbered with the relics of a past barbarism. When about to start across the Black Sea, the Sultan said his in aid of his own steamers to Constantinople, where he went through the city and visited the battle fields of the Crimean war, and gave his criticisms upon the want of military skill developed there. From here he went east to the region of Caucasus, a country owned by Russia, and ruled by the Emperor's brother, who is the Viceroy. Gen. Sherman and his party were entertained by him. They visited the region where the beautiful Christian women were supplied for the Sultan's harem. Dealers complained of the reduction of the profits of their business since the failure of the Sultan to keep up the former magnificence of this part of his retinue. The lecture occupied two hours. When General Sherman closed he announced his willingness to answer any questions his hearers might wish to ask. An evidence of the interest kept up throughout was given by the fact that a pleasant conversation ensued between the lecturer and his hearers. The General collected, while in Europe, much valuable information on military affairs, upon which he will write a book at an early day.

close all summer, and I kept them moving all the time to get a little, and this did for them quite as well as bran, so that without either doctoring or coddling they went through the regular course of the disease, eating oats and hay greedily every time they came in from pasture, and they lost no flesh. A horse lying in the same stable, at tended by a young man having time to nurse it in the most careful way, and who put two cloths on, out up apples and did many things recommended by the papers, has the appearance of a skeleton, and has difficulty in getting up—in fact will not be fit to work for a week or two, though all the others are doing their regular work again, merely allowing them to take it easy and guarding against sweating or pulling up hill, so as to set those coughing which have not quite got rid of that affection. These animals have been living on oats and hay made from grass, mowed when young, which doubtless was in their favor, for corn and cornmeal and ripe seeded hay produce a state of the system which causes liability to more serious results from any distemper or ailment of any kind.—Country Gentleman.

President Grant.
It may be truly said that death has its compensations even this side of the grave, and that no occasion of public mourning, like that of yesterday, is without its ray of sunlight. The Tribune of this morning says:
"President Grant did a graceful thing last night in declining to attend a reception—even in honor of his best friend—after the mournful rites of the day. After the funeral procession he took the evening train back to Washington."
The generous and cordial manner in which the bitterest political and personal animosities were laid one aside by the prominent men of all persuasions who met yesterday to perform the last rites over Mr. Greeley was remarked by all. But the most conspicuous example of propriety in the manner in which Gen. Grant bore himself through-out this trying occasion. Without any boastfulness or ostentation, without any official parade of his intentions, without any form in his coming, he presented himself as a private mourner at the church where Mr. Greeley's body lay yesterday, and passed through the vast concourse alone and almost unrecognized. With the other mourners, he followed the body to the grave, and then, instead of attending a reception in honor of his most intimate and eminent friend in public life, which would have been also a generous evasion to himself, he quietly took the first train for Washington. This graceful observance of what was due to propriety on the death of a rival candidate for the Presidency has won for Gen. Grant the approbation of many who hitherto have not been ranked among his friends.—N. Y. Post.

The Prevailing Horse Disease.
By the time this statement is in print, it is to be hoped the sickness will have disappeared; but should it be still existing to the alarm of farmers and others, it may calm their minds to know that there is nothing to fear if they will but leave drugs alone. My whole force of males and horses have had it, and, in accordance with my usual practice in all passing or casual ailments, I used no medicine, considering it nothing but what is called "bastard strangles" by the common people in England; or influenza as it was termed thirty years ago by the "vets." I determined to treat it exactly as I did some time ago; and, instead of giving any of the drugs recommended, covering with cloths, fomenting, &c., nothing whatever was done but to turn them out in a field in the day time when in grass they coughed and discharged at the nose, and had no protection from the cold air. The grass was very short, having been grazed

THE WICHITA EAGLE SAYS:
"Thousands upon thousands of buffalo hides are being brought in here by hunters. In places where these hides, spread out with the fleshy side up to dry. It is estimated that there are south of the Arkansas and west of Wichita, from 1,000 to 2,000 men shooting buffalo for their hides alone. Is it a wonder that the red man sometimes protests against the wanton destruction of his cattle?"

BROMO-CHLORALUM!
THE NEW
DOSELESS, NON-POISONOUS
Deodorizer and Disinfectant.
The want of a certain and perfect deodorizer and disinfectant capable of destroying all miasms, odors, and gases, and well as purifying the atmosphere in the air, has long been felt, and more particularly, one that was free from poisonous qualities, so that it could be safely used under all circumstances.
BROMO-CHLORALUM contains no poison, possesses no odor in itself, operates by destroying and not by creating an odor greater than the one to be removed.
INVALUABLE as a Germicide in Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Catarrh and Pertussis.
INDISPENSABLE IN SMALL POX, Yellow Typhoid and Scarlet Fever, Cholera, Eruptive Diseases, Discharges of all kinds, and all contagious diseases, both as a wash to neutralize fever poisons, and as a disinfectant.
TO REMOVE ALL BAD ODORS of gas, and to disinfect sick rooms, suspend cloths saturated with its diluted, and put in all chamber utensils before use.
THIS DOSELESS DEBILITIZER absorbs in an astonishing manner all odors in the kitchen, in store rooms, Pantries, and Meat Safes, by simply suspending cloths saturated with a dilution of it, also by sprinkling Cellars, Sinks, Water Closets, Sewers, &c.
AS A HOUSEHOLD ARTICLE it has no equal for superficial injuries, Scalds, Burns, Mosquito Bites, Chills, Pains, Foul Feet and other Pimples, Itching, and all cutaneous Affections. For purifying Dairy Milk Cans, Baking, Feeding Bottles, and all dishes and utensils that have any bad odor.
USES FOR THE DEAD.—Injected into the orifice of the body full strength, and inserted externally, it has proved a most long time, much better than tre.
MOSQUITOES AND FLIES.—It has been discovered among other valuable properties to possess the merit of ridding premises of these household pests. When it is exposed in a conspicuous manner, and applied by spraying the air, the flies and mosquitoes upon which they live.
POISONS.—From poison Ivy or other vegetable or animal poisons, or other insect poisons, relief is at once by washing the parts affected with it.

 JULIUS W. VAN SLYKE, Editor & Proprietor.
 Medical Journal of the United States
 OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF DEKAL COUNTY.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 18, 1872.

THE press rumor that Mr. Geo. Wm. Curtis will take editorial charge of the New York Tribune is one which has thrilled the whole country. We regard Mr. Curtis as the ablest newspaper writer on this continent, and there is no one more fit to sit in the chair vacated by Horace Greeley. We hope and trust the rumor may prove true.

THE proposition to buy the telegraphs of the nation, and adopt the system of postal telegraphy, has been referred by the lower house of Congress to the Committee of Appropriations. Judging from the course of the same committee on this matter at the last session, this action virtually defeats the proposition, so far as concerns this Congress. The Forty-third Congress will probably create a special committee to investigate the whole matter, and make a recommendation.

Centralization.

There is a class of people in this country whose continual cry is centralization. The supposition is that these men mean that the general government of the United States is assuming, or about to assume, powers not legally belonging to it, but certainly oppressive. The boy who walks by night an illuminated street, and imagines the appearance of a wolf at every corner, is equally wise. The wolf is just as imaginary in the one case as the other.

There is just as much danger of centralization in this country as there is of the return of the wild beasts who once infested this country to the exclusion of mankind. Indeed, there is less danger of a reversion to barbaric laws among the people of this country than of the abandonment of the soil altogether. Those who prophesy a return to the stone hatchet in lieu of the steel axe, who advocate the locomotion of the ass in place of the steam engine, may be conservative advisers in accordance with Democratic doctrines. But the people of this country have outgrown this sort of conservatism. They will do more to bring the smoke-stack of the steam engine here than to perpetrate the ass's ears.

They are kind enough to permit all of the lower animals to browse by the way-side, and to ruminate in peace in the fence corners; but they must keep off the track of progress or they will be run over and terribly mangled—whether they call themselves Democrats or asses.

Religious Periodicals.

We have upon our list of exchanges quite a number of papers devoted to religion—or sectarianism. Occasionally we "go through" them, just as one goes through a circus, in order to discover something new, if possible. We must confess that, with one or two exceptions, the press of the country is not attractive to the ordinary intellect. It is, on the contrary, repulsive, dull and intensely stupid. There is a continual rehearsal of the orthodox sermons, which everybody is supposed to listen to every Sunday, and a repetition of nonsense which would disgrace a circus clown.

Now there is no reason in the world why our spiritual instructors should not be as intelligent and interesting as anybody else. If the public were to demand sense of them in lieu of no-sense, they would have it. To submit to indeterminate twaddle and both simply because a man has the audacity and blasphemous presumption to announce himself as a vice-gent of—&c., &c.,—is worse than stupidity. The secular press is much to blame for the absurdities of the so-called religious press. If there estimates from the latter anything thoughtful, or argumentative, at once the counter cry is raised of "heresy"—or abandonment of religion, &c. We do not pretend to instruct, but we do not hesitate to acknowledge a supreme disgust over the platitudes of nine-tenths of the matter contained in most of the so-called religious newspapers. The aim seems to be to pervert the intellect rather than to educate it; to destroy healthful aspirations rather than to promote them; to alarm and vex the soul rather than to encourage and lift it up. Altogether, outside of the faux literature of the metropolis of the country, there is none so weak, and we regret to say, none so intellectually baneful as the organs of the various sectaries.

Notes from Washington.

Proceedings in Congress.—The Naval Bill.—Return of President Grant from Mr. Greeley's Funeral.—Government Estimates for 1873.—Contingent Expenses.—Retrenchment.—Inauguration Ceremonies.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5th, 1872.

PROCEEDINGS IN CONGRESS.

The Senate met on the morning of the 3rd and 4th and adjourned without doing business, mainly to await the re-organization of the committee. Two caucuses of republican members have been held, at which the "liberal" members were not present. They are adjusted with the committee as in the minority.

To-day petitions were presented from Massachusetts, New York and other States asking the passage of a prohibitory liquor law for the District of Columbia and the Territories; and Mr. Fournier introduced a bill for that purpose.

On motion of Senator Morton the President was requested to communicate any facts in his possession relative to the assistance of the slave trade on the African coast, and whether Great Britain or other Governments have taken any steps for its suppression.

Senator Cameron gave notice that he would call up the French spoliation bill early next week.

Senator Sumner asked to be excused, on account of his having to appear on any committee.

Senator Morrill, of Vermont, delivered an argument in favor of the bill to provide for the further endorsement of Agricultural Colleges and the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes.

IN THE HOUSE.

Yesterday, during a portion of the morning hour there was a debate on the operations of the Board of Public Works in the District of Columbia. It grew out of a motion by Mr. Roosevelt, of New York, for the appropriation of a special committee to enquire into the expenditure of eight million dollars upon the Avenue and streets during the past summer. This large sum was provided by the city, mainly on thirty years bonds. But it will require about as much more to complete the improvements contemplated by the Board, and as a large portion of the improvements have been made around the Government buildings and property, the Board proposes to apply to Congress for an appropriation to complete the work; hence the investigation. The motion was granted.

THE NAVAL BILL.

Debate was continued on the bill to authorize the Secretary of the Navy to construct iron steam vessels. This addition to the Navy is generally conceded to be necessary. The debate was confined mainly to the question as to whether the vessels should all be constructed in the Government Navy yards or a portion of them be built in other ship yards under competitive contracts. Debate will be continued.

To-day the House passed a bill for the relief of the assessors by the Boston fire. It is the same as the bill passed a year ago for the relief of Chicago, excepting that lumber is admitted in the list of building materials to be admitted free of duty for one year.

A number of bills were presented and referred, when the debate on the Navy bill was resumed and continued up to the time of closing this despatch.

RETURN OF THE PRESIDENT AND OTHERS FROM THE FUNERAL OF HORACE GREELEY.

The President, Vice President, Secretary Belmont, and others from Washington yesterday returned this morning. Mr. Coffey represents the funeral to have been the largest and most imposing he ever attended, excepting that of Mr. Lincoln; demonstrating the fact that the man whom the country could not endure as possessing the qualifications essential for a successful Chief Magistrate of the Nation, was nevertheless held in high estimation by the whole country as an eminent journalist. The greatest mistake in the whole life of Mr. Greeley was the last one; and the wisdom of the discrimination made by the people in the selection of their Presidential candidate and his selection, is confirmed in the startling fact, now made known by eminent physicians, on the confessions of Mr. Greeley himself, that his mental organs were chronically damaged before he entered upon the campaign. He expired at the White House, but died in an insane Asylum. Such is life.

THE ESTIMATES FOR 1873-74.

The estimates as prepared at the different Departments for the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1873, amount in the aggregate to $308,223,263.97. The estimates for the current fiscal year were $301,700,036.99, and the amount appropriated was $299,414,428.56. The estimates for the ensuing year will be cut down by Congress. A general and growing disposition prevails on the part of a very large portion of the members of the House, to retrench and economize in every possible manner consistent with the interests of the country.

THE NOVEMBER DEBITMENTS.

The reduction of the public debt for the last month, as has been officially reported, was less than $3,000,000. This is attributed mainly to the fact that the drafts on the Treasury were unusually large in November, amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $14,785,350, divided as follows: War $2,800,488; Navy $1,598,184; Indian and pensions $4,731,741; civil and miscellaneous $4,904,937. The reduction of the debt for the month of December will be much larger.

ECONOMY AND RETRENCHMENT.
 Congress is circulating rather too severely for the convenience of the Departments. The new law requiring the printing and binding work of the Executive Department to be kept within prescribed limits, goes into effect in July next. Secretary Boutwell says the Departments will not be able to conform within the prescribed time, and has asked for a postponement of the regulations.

AWARDS ON SOUTHERN CLAIMS.
 During the year ended Dec. 1, 1872, the Court of Claims disposed of 1,120 claims of which 70 were contested claims involving $2,970,000, on which the Court awarded $1,413,000.

THE INAUGURATION CEREMONIES.
 Preparations have already been commenced for a grand Inauguration ball and ceremonies. The Governor and members of the District Government, together with prominent citizens, have held two preliminary meetings and appointed a committee to devise and report a course of procedure. Just here the members of the Pennsylvania State Association, composed of clerks, &c., in the service of the government, called a meeting and passed resolutions objecting to the action of the Governor, and claiming that the preparations for the inauguration ceremonies belong to the State Associations of the different States, the members of which are residents in Washington. The city authorities, however, claim that the Inauguration ball and ceremonies are a District matter; but that the different State Associations will be recognized in the appointment of the regular committees.

The Central Republican Association, composed of members from each State Association, held a meeting last evening, and after an amicable discussion of the subject, left it to a special committee of one from each State. An arrangement will be made, no doubt, so that all may participate in developing the arrangements and maturing plans to make the affair worthy of the occasion. It need not, however, be a matter of surprise if the President, in a polite note to Governor Cooks, should express a desire that the whole matter of a ball, &c., be dispensed with. Personally this is his feeling about the matter, as it was on the occasion of his first inauguration.

AT THE WHITE HOUSE.

The President came on the night train from New York last night, and was at his desk to-day. Among those who called on business were Senators Ramsey, Chandler, Morton, Osborne and Buckingham; Gen. Cowan, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, and Representatives Lowe, Bingham and Stevenson.

THE FUNDING BILL.

Secretary Boutwell has returned to the city. He was before the committee of Ways and Means to-day, and stated that unless the House took some action in regard to his funding operations under the late syndicate, he would proceed in a like manner to negotiate the remainder of the loan.

DISSENTING WITH REVENUE ASSESSORS.
 Commr. Douglass was before the committee of Ways and Means to-day, and made an argument in favor of the adoption of his bill dispensing with the services of Revenue Assessors.

O. S. T.

President Grant has appointed Gen. Jas. L. Orr, of South Carolina, Minister to Russia. This simple act of our President is worth a thousand sermons on "fraternal feeling" preached by the Democratic press. Gen. Orr bore a conspicuous part in the rebellion on the Confederate side, but since the war has composed himself as "become a true patriot and an honest gentleman. He accepted the situation in face and not in name only.—[Houston Union.]

A gentleman from the Emerald Isle was about to be vaccinated from the virus of a Tontonic individual at the Quincy City Dispensary the other day, when Pat said, "well, yer villain, don't yer be after graffin's Dutchman on me again."

NO LADY'S TALKING.
 Unless there be the fragment SOZODONT, into the breath swept, edges it imparts, the sun's rays, redness soon assumes, the teeth quick rival ablaze, first, and seems as pearls set in a coral vase.

Living Advertisements.
 A medicine that has done more than all the prescriptions of the pharmacopoeia to protect the human system against the body ill as asperidized by unhealthy surroundings, is certainly worthy of universal confidence. It is mainly on account of its extraordinary preventive properties that the Monaster's Bitters is so exceedingly popular in localities subject to the visitation of malarial fevers and other diseases produced by unimpure air. A family that has escaped sickness during a wholly summer in poisonous air being the Bitters a safeguard, is a living advertisement of the virtues of the preparation. The whole neighborhood realizes the fact. I could have believed it," says one. "I scarcely credited the advertisement; but one must believe what one sees," says another. "It is the very thing we need in this unwholesome section of the country," remarks a third. And the result is that the instinct of self-preservation, the first law of nature, induces three-fourths of that community to obtain a supply of that great vegetable antidote before the next sickly season sets in. In winter when the system requires extra vigor and elasticity to enable it to battle the effects of damp and cold, the Bitters will be found particularly serviceable. Rheumatism will not be apt to fasten upon muscles and nerves that have been braced up by this excellent invigorant and tonic; nor will the severities of the season, which have such a disastrous effect on the pulmonary organs of the feeble and delicate, be likely to exercise the same untoward influence in those whose the stomach and the external surface of the body (which always sympathize with the digestive organs) have been toned and stimulated by a course of the restorative. The fits of indigestion and irregularities of the bowels which proceed from sudden changes of weather may always be averted by a timely use of the Bitters.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
BLOOD PURIFIER

It is not a phisic which may give temporary relief to the sufferer for the first few days; but which, from continued use brings Piles and kindred diseases to aid in weakening the invalid, nor is it a doctored liquor, which, under the popular name of "Bitters" is so carelessly palmed off on the public as a sovereign remedy, but it is a MOST POWERFUL TONIC AND ALTERNATIVE, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful results.

Dr. Wells' Extract of Jurubeba retains all the medicinal virtues peculiar to the plant and must not be taken as a permanent or sensitive agent.

It is there want of action in your Liver and system to clean out your system, the blood becomes impure by deleterious excretions, producing eruptions of skin disease, blotches, Eczema, Psoriasis, Chanker, Pimples, &c., &c.

Take Jurubeba to cleanse, purify and restore the system to its normal condition. It is a most powerful tonic and alternative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful results.

Have you Weakness of the Intestines? If you are afflicted with Chronic Diarrhoea or the Colic of Infancy, the Jurubeba will relieve you. It is a most powerful tonic and alternative, pronounced so by the leading medical authorities of London and Paris, and has been long used by the regular physicians of other countries with wonderful results.

Take it to strengthen organ weak or life becomes a burden.

Finally it should be properly taken to keep the system in perfect health or you are otherwise in great danger of malarial, miasmatic or contagious diseases.
