Notes from Washington.
THE GROWTH AND EXPANSION OF MANUFACTURES IN THE UNITED STATES.

The annual reports from the heads of Departments, recently made to Congress, for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1872, indicate a most extraordinary development of manufacturing industries, agriculture and internal trade.

In the South there has been a marked expansion of the iron industry of the late war. The wide waste caused by that protracted strife, has been repaired. The railroads have been rebuilt, and new lines constructed; and the transportation facilities of that section of the country are better now than ever before.

The cotton crop of last year was equalled only once before in the history of the country, while that of the present year, according to the Agricultural Department, is ten per cent larger, and in the same proportion of better quality, than that of last year. In other staple products the increase has more than kept pace with that of cotton.

In the West the last and the present year are marked as years of general prosperity, and the crops of that vast region have suggested the exports of agricultural products far beyond the limits of any former period.

From Florida also, and the other States, the yield of wheat is so great that it is almost impossible to procure the hundreds of vessels necessary to transport the surplus to home and foreign markets. The manufacture of wine has also become an important industry, and promises a brilliant future.

The foreign trade of the United States has been the largest in the history of the country, the exports of last year amounting to $1,000,000,000.

The increase of foreign imports has kept pace with that of other industries; but now the ship yards are busy again, and the iron works are that this year's exception in the general progress will soon be repaired by a rapid increase of wood and iron tonnage.

As a result of the extraordinary increase of business and the expansion of manufacturing industries, I will note two facts: Elevated prices of the raw materials, and the general Post Office Department of the United States Post Office, authorized to issue ten million dollars. They had never, up to 1872, reached a one and a quarter million in a single year.

land and Massachusetts are five of manufacturing industry, their annual products approaching in value $400,000,000. It is stated by statistical writers in these general States that seventy-five per cent, of the present owners of these manufacturing plants started a few years ago, at practical weekly wages. They are not only now at the head of the establishments, but are the owners of over fifty per cent of the capital invested in these works.

In the United States a young man with a good head and honest heart, a clear brain and willing hands holds in his possession the keys to independence and honor.

With the compliments of the season to the EXPRESS and its readers, I am, &c.

The Daily Express. A. S. LINDSAY & CO., Publishers. JELLY, 1725 MARKET STREET, PHILADELPHIA. OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF BERKLEY COUNTY. WEDNESDAY, JAN. 1, 1873.

scribbling fitterer. Faugh! When these men get to know each other's aims and purposes, and the power which each has in the machine, they will be better able to copy of water days ahead to read, so mind themselves how they are read. By all his peckishness laudatory, or "these remarks," have been "drawn out" by a translation of an article from the St. Louis Press found in the Union. It hurts the venerable hater of every body but himself and treason, to be told that it is the spirit of the extreme Democracy to out-Herod the "Radicals" by railing and publishing them.

Does he forget the work of 1861? We have not space to go into details, but I must be the unsparing of Judge Strabing and Noonan, which will suffice. And what has been the tone of the Democratic press during the canvass until it was known that Grant was re-elected? Was it not most violent and extreme, and was it not softened a great deal?

The fact is, the St. Louis Press spoke the truth, but the revolutionists are farthing counsel of their foats and are not as Greely did of a disappointed ambition, and broken heart.

Let us hope for a bright future, and have hope in the hope of charity towards all the disappointments may be turned into a changed into benefits.

A private word with our readers may not be worse than a year since the present editor took charge of the Express.

As fast as the increased income from the paper, the Express is to increase its value as a medium of news and instruction.

On December 27th the brick courthouse at... the entire building, and the records of the Sheriff's Office are total loss.

That eminent philosopher, Von Helmholtz who flourished about the beginning of the seventeenth century, believed the human soul was located somewhere about the fit of the stomach; reasoning, perhaps, from the fact that there was no better place to locate the seat of the mind.

A Boston gentleman who could not water, offered a young lady $100 if she would let him kiss her as much as he liked.

We understand that the original doctor of the United States District Court at Austin, will be called upon on or about the 15th of January, 1873.

The Russian government has adopted a more liberal and tolerant course towards the Jews than that country, and has permitted them to enjoy many privileges heretofore denied them.

MEMPHIS, Dec. 27.—People crowd the bluffs to watch the destruction of boats by fire. There is only three days' supply of coal to Memphis. The gas Company is without a day's supply.

Established by Official Authority, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, H. O. McChesney, Mayor.

It is said that Thomas Carlyle has been heard of in the city of Washington, and that he has been seen in the city of New York.

The editor of one of our exchanges has just had his family reinforced, and makes the following announcement:

IN MEMORIAM
Up in the arms of his loving wife
The dear old man who has passed away
And the many who loved him so dearly
Will be missed by all who knew him
The dear old man who has passed away
And the many who loved him so dearly
Will be missed by all who knew him
The dear old man who has passed away
And the many who loved him so dearly
Will be missed by all who knew him

Woke a broken heart from a troubled sleep
To find the dear old man who has passed away
And the many who loved him so dearly
Will be missed by all who knew him
The dear old man who has passed away
And the many who loved him so dearly
Will be missed by all who knew him
The dear old man who has passed away
And the many who loved him so dearly
Will be missed by all who knew him

Business to California building, formerly occupied by
P. O. Taylor, in the City of San Antonio, Texas.
Our friends in the City and Country generally,
will find the change an advantage,
as the building being more centrally located and provided with a spacious display case, the shelves, we will be able to call to meet with the best of service and satisfaction to which we owe the kind patronage of our many friends.
