JONES W. TAYLOR, Editor & Proprietor.

Official Journal of Bexar County.

THURSDAY, JAN. 9, 1873.

Editorial Address: Mr. HENRY COLLMAN, an independent candidate for Alderman, Ward No. 1, at the next election, for the benefit of the many voters.

San Antonio, Dec. 31st, 1872. 1-173e

THE LATEST CHINESE PUZZLE.

The leading headed "Our School System" in yesterday's Morail, if anybody has the courage to read it, and will tell us what the great pecksnaw is driving at, we will tell him what character of the inimitable Dickens he illustrates.

The rebellion in Cuba, which has now been in progress for several years, seems to be as far from suppression now as ever — a pitiful commentary upon the weakness and imbecility of Spain. Two engagements recently occurred between Spanish troops and the insurgents, resulting in considerable loss of life, but nothing decisive.

ONE of the peculiar characteristics of so-called independent journals is to give credence to every scandalous fabrication of the opposition. Several of them are industriously circulating the story that $30,000 was appropriated and absorbed last year in the support of the Anti-Slavery Indians, when no such tribe exists.

MEXICO has been comparatively docile lately, but nobody will be surprised to learn that her people are getting tired of this tame sort of life, and that a formidable revolution has been ready to burst about the ears of the new Government of Lerdo de Tejada, the recently elected President. Mexico is nothing but revolutionary.

REPUBLICAN LIBERTY is a queer thing in France. The keeper of a small store in France has just been sent to prison for two years for the audacious offense of displaying caricatures of members of the National Assembly in his window. Imagine such a thing in this country as the arrest and imprisonment of the keepers of book and periodical stores for displaying, for sale Harper's Weekly, containing cartoons of Congressional intrigues! French statesmen have yet to learn the very rudiments of Republicanism.

A Hailroad to the Rio Grande.

HOW FAR up the Rio Grande, wakes up from a dip, Yan Winkle sleep, and in a dazed, stupefying string of platitudes goes over the railway business just as though the question had never been headed by our people, and that we thought nothing had been, or was now being done.

This is the more singular, since it took up all the space of publishing information it was requested to furnish the public for substantial reasons. And now it assumes the rôle of adviser, — advising, a bungling and general way that which is already being accomplished. The ponderous wisdom of this sheet appears to be limited to this: "tell you so" class of philosophers. But better a late philosopher fit, if philosophy and free schools than none at all — and if the venerable churchman could better for claiming credit which does not belong to him, it is an innocent amusement, and affects nobody.

Davidson to the Rio Grande. Our neighbor, the World, wakes up from a dip, Yan Winkle sleep, and in a dazed, stupefying string of platitudes goes over the railway business just as though the question had never been headed by our people, and that we thought nothing had been, or was now being done.

This is the more singular, since it took up all the space of publishing information it was requested to furnish the public for substantial reasons. And now it assumes the rôle of adviser, — advising, a bungling and general way that which is already being accomplished. The ponderous wisdom of this sheet appears to be limited to this: "tell you so" class of philosophers. But better a late philosopher fit, if philosophy and free schools than none at all — and if the venerable churchman could better for claiming credit which does not belong to him, it is an innocent amusement, and affects nobody.

It appears that Davidson, late Adjutant General of the State Government, has abandoned the State, and, after examination of his books and accounts has shown a deficit of some $30,000 to $40,000. It is all stated by the official Journal, that the Governor has caused to be seized the property of Davidson, and that in value it is nearly $100,000. To make good to the State the amount of deflection.

But the question arises, why was not an examination instituted before the bird had flown? There certainly has been no want of accusation against Gen. Davidson since he has been in office — he has been charged over and over again with appropriating public monies, but no steps were taken to investigate the facts until it became necessary in order to protect the new incumbent of the office from being charged with the deft, as well as from criminal charges.

It is not a little unusual for a government to accept the resignation of any officer who has had the management and control of public monies before an adjustment of his accounts? It certainly seems to us not to be the rule. There may be a vast amount of virtue, and other choice gubernatorial qualifications in locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen; but most persons will undoubtedly assert that it would have been better to have locked it the evening before. Thereupon this subject, a remarkable silence preserved by the Austin newspaper. The mere fact is brutal abroad, and nothing else. It is intimated that the principal founders of Davidson, as of Honey, late State Treasurer, will prove to be the Democracy. It would not be surprising to us; and if many charges made against a few other officials should ever be brought to light in manner necessitating an investigation, it is quite probable that there will be a change of front all around, because there will be good reason for several Democratic lights to screen themselves from the public gaze.

AN UNFORTUNATE GIRL. — Very early yesterday morning an elegantly dressed female was found loosing against the doorway of a store on Washington street, near Avon. She was insensible, for the chill of the intense cold was on her. The humane policeman who froze his hands while attempting to resuscitate her, spoke harshly when he discovered that he had rubbed the paint off the cheeks of the wax beauty, who, before she was burned out, was wont to smile from the window of the hair store opposite. — Houston Advertiser.

The New York Tribune says:

"Miss Emily Faithfull visited the Michigan University, at Ann Arbor, last week, and, on entering the law department with Prof. Taylor, while Judge Cooley was lecturing to 400 or 500 students, she was at once recognized by the young men, who called loudly for a speech. Judge Cooley gave Miss Faithfull his place on the platform, and for about half an hour she delighted the audience with some capital stories about the leading men at the English bar, and left the hall amid the wildest demonstrations of enthusiasm on the part of the students for what was characterized by the professor as one of the best impromptu speakers ever listened to in Ann Arbor."

THE Dallas Herald says: "Major E. C. Burke, line builder for the Western Union Telegraph Line, committed suicide at the boarding house of Mrs. Bartlett, in McKinney, on Saturday evening last, by taking morphine. Major B. was in charge of the work of building the line between McKinney and Sherman, and had been in the employ of the Western Union Company for several years, most of the time on the coast of Texas. He assigned no reason for the act.

ANOBIS UP-TOWN BOY earned a dollar, which instead of spending for trinkets as many other boys would have done, he gave to his ailing mother, and in the evening she hired a fisher, and a pleasant dance was the result.

AMONG the recent applicants for lodgings at a New Orleans station house was a young woman named Blanche Fornon, the daughter of a deceased Confederate officer, who for more than a year has been working at the post office, having portmanteau of her, the Prince of Orange, and of John L. Motley, Late American Minister to London, and the historian of the Dutch republic. Mr. Motley and the queen are warm personal friends, hence the prominent position given to his picture. It represents him as wearing a black velvet coat, and his crest is painted in one of the upper corners of the canvas. The queen who is a princess of Wurttemberg, is fifty-four years old, and has a decided literary taste. We do not know that she has made personal ventures in authorship, like King John of Saxony, but she thoroughly appreciates good books and their writers. She has recently been visiting England, and has shown that her love of letters is not an affected profession by associating almost exclusively with people of talent and intellectual requirements. At least she was on her way to Scotland, to stay at the home of Sir W. M. Sterling, author of "The Chester Life of Charles V.", and a man of very extensive reading and decided talent.

ATHENIGENOUS AMERICAN — who has probably seen much things in London in old days — has "invented" and patented a "jacket-hat." These, he says, would prevent the wearer from being run over by carts at night, and would, to some extent, enable a saving in the lighting of streets with gas to be effected. There is another advantage which he overlooks — husbands, discovered by their watchful spouses in the act of attempting to unlock the front door with the hot end of a cigar, might plead their hats as an excuse for the bet, and win his money.

THE Fairbanks borrowed five dollars to make their first road, and are now worth $30,000,000. Go and borrow five dollars man.

A SIX YEAR OLD BOY told his mother how to make butter: "You just take a long stick with a crook at the end of it, then you get a tub, and then you borrow a cow."

HOW FAR IS IT TO CUBA CREEK?" asked a traveler of a Dutch woman. "Only about a little ways." "Is it four, six, eight or ten miles?" impatiently asked the stranger. "Yes, I think it is," coolly replied the unmoveable gatekeeper.

Charles," said a young lady to her lover, "there is nothing interesting in this paper to-day, is there dear?"

"No, love, but I hope there will be one day, when we both shall be inserted."

The lady blushed, and said, of course, "For shame, Charles."

A NEW YORK DISPATCH dated January 1st, says: "The Fifth Avenue Theatre, on 24th street, adjoining the Fifth Avenue Hotel, burned to the ground. The audience which had assembled to witness the play of "Palmyra" had scarcely more than dispersed when the fire was discovered.

THE San Francisco papers report the discovery of the ruins of a vast city in Northwestern Arizona. Scientists are directing their attention to these ruins, and great interest is manifested. It is supposed the race that built this city, and left the evidence of their civilization in these crumbly ruins, perished many thousand years ago.

HERE is an "old" that Tonypah didn't write — "The Idiot of a State House!"

At wind or rain
I don't complain.

The rain ex' do me much.
But weak and wimpy,
I've no comin'.

This equine-ox is too much!

I'm purged and blest,
And yet my head
is swelling large and large;
Herdies, sure,
Could not endure
Such head a-swingin'!

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

MARSHAL O' HENDERSON has removed their office to John Tuck & Co., Bankers, 1-17-1872.

This editorial prospectus for news from the outside world is not decidedly cheering. Some people may be reminded of former times, but they will do better to continue upon a way to prevent future recurrence of similar misfortunes.

A HUNDRED numbers of the most prominent citizens of Austin have formed a Prison Reform Association. The association is timely, since if the Association will go conspicuously at work it may, and undoubtedly will, induce the incoming legislature to enact laws much needed. The regulation of not only the State's Prison, but of the county jails.

GENERAL JAMES H. CARLTON, was buried yesterday in the Spanish Catholic Cemetery of this city with Military honors, and with all the rights of the church in whose faith he died. Aside from a large attendance of officers and soldiers, there was, also, an unusually large assemblage of citizens who followed his remains to their last resting place.

WHAT shall we do without money?—is the question asked on every hand. Are we to be blockaded here on an indefinite period by the secessionists? Doubtlessly, and it is to be hoped that the little experience will have some effect in arousing the people to the necessity of preparing to live longer—in convincing them that all horses fight in vain, that grass, if it does this, the horse disease will prove a blessing in disguise.

SPECIAL NOTICES:

LUSTING LOVELINESS.—Twenty years ago, when paint, pearl powders and enamel were raising the complexion and destroying the health of women of fashion, MAGNA MAGNOBA BALM was brought out as a pure botanical cosmetic, guaranteed to restore bloom and beauty to the skin. From that time to the present it has been continually rising in public estimation, as the safest and most acceptable of cosmetics. It is the latest of paint, of sealing wax, of artificial, metallic surfaces, like poisonous fluids sold under various names as "beautifiers." It keeps the skin as soft as velvet, renders it as smooth and glossy as satin, and imparts to it that delicate, gay tinge, which is the true ideal of complexioned loveliness. This exquisite chromatic effect is not transient. By applying the Balm daily you may be prolonged in the enjoyment of it. A lady, who, in the first battle of the article nineteen years ago, writes to say that her complexion at forty is "purer, clearer and more brilliant than it has ever been;" and she attributes its beauty solely to the daily use of MAGNA MAGNOBA BALM.

BACHELOR'S HAIR DYE.—This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—Perfectly Sterilized, Reliable, and Indispensable. Manufactured by W. A. Batchelor, 105 W. 14th Street, New York, or Union Square, N.Y. The genuine W. A. Batchelor's Hair Dye produces IMMEDIATELY a splendid hair color. Bright, Soft and Beautiful. The only safe and Perfect Dye. Sold by all Druggists. Factory 14 Bond Street, New York.

BEST known; the murderer of Jim Fink, Jr., was found guilty on Friday last by a New York City jury, of murder in the first degree, and is to be sentenced. True, there is to be the usual effort made for a new trial, but all that sort of thing known. A criminal jurisdiction but the indications are that the crime of murder is to be once more recognized in the great Metropolitan City, and its proper reward meted out. Now let there be quick work and short shift for the villain Dutys, and we may look for greater security of life in the future, where it has been long while incomprehensibly precarious.

"Cheer Up, and Stand Up!"

This advice, given by blind Captain Castile to the forces Mr. Toots, is cordially tendered to all who are laboring under that cloud of depression and melancholy which usually accompanies chronic indigestion, biliousness, habitual constipation and nervous debility. "Cheer up!" woe-begone invalids. The causes of your gloomy feelings, though they may be chronic and of long standing, are not incurable. A course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most general of all vegetable stimulants and correctives, and especially adapted to ease you, will relieve you of your bodily ailments and consequent mental misery, speedily, certainly, and without pain. The chills and damps of the present season, in fact, all its atmospheric qualities, are unfavorable to dyspepsia, bilious and nervous affections. They need a stimulant, as well as a tonic and alterative. This wholesome vegetable preparation combines the three. While it increases the digestive capacity of the stomach, and purges the bowels, the condition of the liver and the bowels, it gives an agreeable impulse to the mental faculties and steadies the nerves. Unmedicated stimulants are good for aches, they are too exciting, and often react disastrously. "On the other" hand than those which contain no digestive stimulants, and are surcharged with drastic aperients that almost turn a man inside out, are dangerous. The system needs more vitality, and they prostrate it entirely. Hostetter's Bitters has affinity either with the dangerous excitant or the still more dangerous depressant. It simply strengthens and tones the body, and the mind is greatly improved, and able to walk about his room.
