INDEPENDENT TICKET.

FOR MAYOR,
S. G. NEWTON,
FOR RECORDER,
L. A. DITTMAR,
FOR CITY COUNCILMEN,
FIRST WARD—A. COLLMAN and J. C. CALLAGHAN.
SECOND WARD—FRITZ SCHREINER and F. KALTEYER.
THIRD WARD—LOUIS BELAM and C. H. HARRIS.
FOURTH WARD—F. GROB and S. W. MCALISTER.

Edgar Hermann
You will please announce Mr. HENRY COLLMAN, as an independent candidate for Alderman, Ward No. 1 at the ensuing election, upon the request of many voters.

San Antonio, Dec. 30th, 1872. 1-173c.

The Democracy will undoubtedly endeavor tomorrow to monopolize the polls as much as possible. Let those who vote the independent ticket, like good citizens act a good example; deposit their votes as quickly as possible and then go about their business. He who lingers about the polls for the purpose of obstructing voters, has better think the pick-pocket who crowds himself among a multitude for the purpose of picking pockets.

A U. S. Court in San Antonio.

The action taken by the members of the Bar in the District Court room yesterday is not premature, and looks towards the accomplishment of a desirable end. Hon. J. C. Conner having introduced into the Congress a bill to create an additional Federal Court District in this State. San Antonio is the natural and most easily accessible center, of all this section of the State, and is entitled to a U. S. Court not only on this account, but because of the large amount of litigation springing up in all this region which must be determined by that Court.

If our member of Congress will earnestly exert himself in our behalf there is little doubt but an amendment to Mr. Conner's bill securing us the Court will pass. But whatever is to be done must be done quickly.

Illegal Registration.

Now the Democrat is made against the board of appeals, those who make it should, if they have, or can procure, evidence, make complaint before the proper legal authority with the view of punishing everyone guilty of an offense. In the first place, such charges should not be made unless they can be substantiated. Let not good citizens, especially Republicans, fall into the pernicious ways of the Democracy, whose chief argument for years has been the manufacture of vile standards and accusations against every Republican who held position; it cannot benefit any party, is disreputable and discrediting. But when the law is actually violated in the duty of every citizen cognizant of the fact, to exert every honorable means to bring the culprit to judgment. There will be no hesitancy on the part of the people to give a moral support to the law, whenever the accused may be.

Political Slavery.

Judging from the criticisms we hear, upon the article, entitled "Forefather's Day," which appeared in yesterday's issue of the Democrat, we are led to believe that this community is no wise abhors the vulgar, indolent, and highly sensual trade, which it has pleased the editor to place before his readers.

The—which appears after the word “precious,” is only used in writing when the word intended to be conveyed is too gross or profane to be printed, which at once gives the key to the animus which prompted the article in question. We do not wish to be understood as presuming to act as censurer for the readership, contumacious, that is not our province, but as a journalist, a citizen and an American, we do protest against such utterances passing unrebuked, for so sayeth the prophet: “If ye will not hear my voice, I will smite you with the pestilence.”

The State Journal says: The Brain Bridge has been greatly damaged by the destructive flood that was at first believed. Many castings belonging to the bridge, have been swept away with the timber, and if they are not reclaimed when the water subsides, it will be much to do with the residential results to produce as he said: “For when great things are done, it is always the destruction that gives them.”

they people in our midst, whose friends and relatives may have been among the guests of that celebration, whose parents and closest may be tenderly associated with the reminiscences of the event which that scene honors, in addition to all this, which may not be strictly commercial, and hence, to some, of no importance, we ask our citizens merchants what must be the conclusion of a New England man upon reading such an attack upon his ancestors! Unfortunately the status of mind which wrote the article will not be known; if it were, of course, no attention would be paid to it, any more than we of San Antonio notice the mooning, simpering, fourth-rate school boy vainglory of the editor who does the “local mention” of the same paper. But when San Antonio is asked to say that such sentiments are held by her, as her feelings and conclusions, all this becomes a more serious matter. Let our readers should think that we write in this strain from journalistic cholera which we disclaim in toto—we quote a few lines taken here and there from the article under review:

“There is something at once grotesque and impressive in the mixture of earnestness and nonsense at what is called a New England dinner—a convivial celebration of the untoward landing of the Puritans two hundred and fifty years ago. Nowhere is this contradiction more manifest than when the degenerate (we mean spiritually and esthetically) descendants meet at Delmonico’s and pushing aside the unworthy of thought, the pugnacious, and pork and beans, which to their ancestors were delicacies, revel and the widow Olinot in the affluence of papistical rols au rost and financiers.”

Yes! there is something “impressive” in such an assemblage—it tells a story deep with meaning—it stands as a beacon light to all people struggling amid tyranny and persecution, what devotion to principle can accomplish: or, as one of these “grotesque assemblage” poets said:

“Lives of great men all remind us
We see can make our lives sublime,
And departing leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time.”

As the eye runs over the gathering of intellect, integrity, and power, as we see the men whose names are connected with the Atlantic Cable—the spindles of Sprague’s gigantic manufactures—whose steady, earnest, honorable dealing has poured the products of India and China into the lap of the American people, whose massive brains conceived the binding of the shores of the Atlantic and Pacific by a wire thread over which should pass, tons of freight and millions of human beings, as we see the broad intellectual foreheads of the poets, the devines (Bishop and Clerical) the Presidents of colleges, the journalists, we search in vain for the “grosjeau” unless the editor who thus animadverts, had been there in spirit.

Small Power.

The latest triumph of mechanical ingenuity is a new power machine for the purpose of driving sewing machines and other light machinery. The invention consists of two shafts, with four steel springs coiled open each, and a counter-shaft with cog-wheels so arranged as to permit the application of the whole or part of the power, as may be desired. The winding shaft has a groove to receive a slide, which catches one spring at a time in winding. Not more than a quarter of a minute is required to wind each spring, while the combined power will run the machine at full speed for an hour and a quarter. The lightest pressure upon the foot-rest stops the machine, and the removal of the foot starts it instantly. The turning of a screw at the operator’s right hand regulates the speed, which can be graduated to run a sewing machine at the rate of from sixty to twenty-five hundred stitches a minute. It is an extremely useful invention, and perhaps it would be worth while for some of our studios mechanics to consider whether the principle upon which it was based is not susceptible of wider and weightier applications.—[American Manufacturer.]

A young man named Billson, at Grassopper, Ks., lately returned from an Eastern town filled with romance and Chesterfieldian vice. He saw a pretty well dressed young lady standing ankle deep in the mud, beside her epistolite palfrey, and evidently waiting for assistance to mount. He sprang to her relief, made a temporary stirrup of his two hands, and was rewarded by a kick in the mouth which knocked eight dollars worth of gold plate down his throat, while the gentle one—murmured, “I’ll leave you to insult me, you pig-eared bunch of a nasty man, you. For a nickel I’d put a hand on you that would make you wear shirts all down the back for a month.”

The State Journal says: The Brain Bridge has been greatly damaged by the destructive flood that was at first believed. Many castings belonging to the bridge, have been swept away with the timber, and if they are not reclaimed when the water subsides, it will be much to do with the residential results to produce as he said: “For when great things are done, it is always the destruction that gives them.”

A-Judgeship That Don't Pay.

Judge Strickland of the United States Court of Utah, called at the White House recently, to explain the reason for his resignation, which will be tendered in a few days. He says that while Congress refuses or neglects to appropriate funds for the proper maintenance of the court it is unable to administer justice or enforce its decrees, and is therefore a dead letter, which he, being a “lively corpse,” cannot endure; and further, that he can not afford to be a judge for $3,000 a year when he can make twice as much money by practicing at the bar.

WILL SHE MOVE?—Those Detroit boys! Here is their latest.

“Are you going to move this afternoon?” inquired a boy of the mistress of a house on Sixth street.

“No, of course I ain’t,” replied the woman, considerably surprised.

“I’ll bet you $2 you will; the roof of the house is all ablaze,” cried the boy. So it was, but pedantic, ladders, and water put it out. The man of the house says he would give $60 to shut up with that boy for about ten minutes.

The cells of Stokes, Seaman and Sharkey are handsomely carpeted, papered and provided with rugs. Stokes has a French set of furniture, dressing-case, library and canary bird. Seaman and Sharkey also have libraries and rich furniture.

All smoke the best cigars, and converse all day long through the gratings with their visitors. King’s and Foster’s rooms are not so imposing as the other salons, though they have carpets and a library. Simmons is having a “Tomb parlor” fitted up, which will eclipse all others in luxury. The meals of this elite of cut-throats are supplied by the choicest caterers in the neighborhood. This is what might be called making murder respectable.

The New York Mail says:

“They appear to be cursed with some very bad preaching in Iowa. A minister in Hardin county, in that State, lately had to sue for his salary, which amounted to the enormous sum of $25,000, and the defense set up was want of consideration. The presiding warden worth the money. Perhaps the salvation of that community was not sufficient importance to justify more expensive exhortation.”

A smart youth at Fagundes City, in the oil regions, puts a pistol in his mouth to show how little he cared for such things. The powder somehow underwent a chemical change and pushed the ball in front of him through the smart youth’s neck, but we are sorry to say he still lives to be heard from again.

“What is the use of trying to be honest?” asked a young man the other day of a friend.

“Oh! you ought to try it once and see,” was the reply. And the young man wanted to put a hand on his plain-spoken friend.

GOLD DEVELOPMENTS.—Some two or three years ago a valuable nugget of gold was found on Mr. Robt. Davidson’s farm, in Montgomery county, Maryland, and within the last few weeks several additional specimens of great value have been found on the same farm.

A gentleman, owning a farm near Greenfield, recently decided to stock it with sheep. He accordingly purchased, at the store gone, forty South Down ewes, and then went to a dray and asked him to buy forty books to put with them. The idea of polygamy among these domestic animals had never occurred to him.

Here is food for the superstitious. Fourteen years ago an aged lady of Portland, Maine, fell dead from heart disease while winding up an old-fashioned clock. The time was ten minutes before ten in the morning. Ever since that the clock has stopped at ten on the anniversary of her death. It is said to have never once failed in the fourteen years that have passed.

Having imported them directly from Spain we offer them at the very lowest figures: also a new supply of

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

RELIGIOUS.—There will be preaching at the First Presbyterian Church, on Flores street, by Rev. J. W. Hall, this (Sunday morning) at 11 o'clock.

Sunday School half past nine.

A somewhat lengthy report of the interesting and instructive discussions which took place at the meeting of the Agricultural Association on Friday night; we had prepared for today's issue, but for want of space must defer until our next.

A VOLKAN High Mass for the repose of the soul of the late General JAMES H. Cameron, will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church on Monday, January 13th, 1873, at 10 o'clock, A. M. The friends and acquaintances of the late General Cameron are requested to attend.

The filibusters have succeeded in their purpose, in all the equine stock in this country, but it is in a mild form, and where the horses are blanketed, fed on soft feed, and kept quiet there is no danger. There was one death yesterday, but the animal had just arrived after a hard drive while he was suffering from the disease. There is no doubt the disease atmospheric and will spread all over the country, so that those living in the country need not hope to escape it by keeping their horses away from the city. They should go right along as usual, only when one of their animals is sick, give him rest and care.

Up to noon yesterday the whole number of votes registered was about 1850. The number probably reached before night 1900. Of these not less than 150 were newly manufactured, chiefly delegates, as we stated yesterday. We are informed that train hands, who never had a demill in this city, are being sworn in, and any one can see how these noble aspirants for citizenship marched in bands to the District Clerk's office, thence to the Mayor's office, and put through a solemn farce as disgraceful w/out State and Constitution as it is to the men whose driven asses they are.

One Mexican, we are told, was registering when a German recognizing him stated to the board that he was one of his train drivers who had been in the city a few weeks, and when he had presented in Mexico. But there was one present who asserted he had seen the man in this city three years ago—and he was registered!

At a meeting of the members of the Bar of the City of San Antonio, held in the District Court room yesterday morning, assembled for the purpose of considering means whereby a Federal Court may be established at San Antonio; Judge Thos. J. Upton was selected as Chairman, and Prof. Dr. Postle, Secretary.

On motion of W. H. Leigh, Esq., a committee of five, consisting of Col. S. G. Newton, Chairman, Jacob Walker, Thos. J. Devise, D. Y. Portis and W. H. Leigh, was appointed to draft resolutions expressing the sense of the meeting in the matter, and a memorial to Congress asking the establishment of said Court.

Meeting adjourned subject to the call of the Chairman.

THOS. J. DEVINE, Chairman.

FRANK D. POSTLE, Secretary.

THE MAIL.—The agent, in this city, of the mail coach lines, Mr. A. Munney, telegraphed to Washington for instructions, but at the time of going to press had received no reply. It is believed that the Postmaster will be authorized to contract with private parties for the carriage of the mails, at least, he, we understand, urges this upon the department as a necessity, and we trust the authority will be given. At least, two liveries men of the city have, we are told, preferred to the mail coach right to carry the mails at a reasonable rate, but the offers have been declined. We are glad to chronicle the activity and efforts of our Postmaster, who will do all he can to prevent the great inconvenience which would befall this community, were we to be entirely shut from the outside world for any indefinite period of time.

Proceedings.—Of the Agricultural, Stock-raising and Industrial Association of Western Texas, San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 12, 1873.

A large number of the members of this Association met Friday evening, pursuant to adjournment. In the absence of the Secretary Julian W. Van Slyck was requested to, and acted as Secretary pro tem. The President of the Association proposed thirty six names as Directors, to which, were added, upon motion, three others, all of whom were elected. (The names are here omitted.)

Dr. Wm. H. Stirling, with appropriate remarks, moved a reorganization of the Association into a Joint Stock Company, each share to be $25, not more than $250 to be required to be paid in monthly. Upon this motion there was a division, but interesting discussion, when the motion was withdrawn, to give place to one made by Hon. T. H. Stirling, as follows: Resolved, that a committee of five be appointed by the President to report at the next meeting of the Association, as to the legality and propriety of changing the present Association into a joint Stock Company, and to make such other recommendations upon the subject matter of the draft of bill read before the Association, as the previous meeting by Hon. — Denton, as to the committee to be appointed.

The resolution was adopted, and Messrs. Kingsbury, Houston, Stirling, Robinson and Van Slyck appointed upon the Committee.

Upon motion of Dr. Kingsbury, the committee was instructed, should it find no legal objection to the change proposed, to recommend its adoption in manner and form.

Here followed an elaborate and instructive discussion of nearly all the questions involved. Hon. T. H. Stirling, Dr. Houston, Dr. W. G. Kingsbury and others arguing earnestly, supporting their statements by facts and experience in favor of the proposed reform, while Major J. T. Brackenridge and Mr. James Speed of Frio County opposed the movement as hostile to the stock interest.

At the close of the discussion it was resolved that a committee of three be appointed by the President to prepare a petition or memorial, to be presented to the Legislature, praying the enactment of a law embodying the sense of the Association upon the subject matter under discussion.

The following Committee was appointed, Dr. Houston, Sam Maverick, Esq., and Walton Eg.

The Association then adjourned to meet next Friday Evening, at a place to be announced through the public press of the city.

A PRINCE CONVICTED OF FORGERY.—Prince Michael Lusignan, a lineal descendant of the kings of Cyprus, Jerusalem and Armenia, has just been tried in St. Peters burg under an indictment charging him with forgery. He was convicted and sentenced to exile in the Urail country. The Prince's father was, at one period of his life, one of the most brilliant of the adopted sons and soldiers of the Empire of the Caesars. The career of the son was unfortunate. Penury came to him and crime followed want. The history of the case is exceedingly melancholy, particularly in view of the fact that the aged father of the convict was present in court during the proceedings.

A M Overplus of Wheat.

Advices to the Agricultural Department state that in Alameda county, California, thousands of bushels of wheat still remain on the fields where it was threshed, there being no place to store it. Granaries and warehouses are full, and there are not one-half enough to take the surplus away.

There are needed in San Francisco bay one hundred more ships than there are to export grain.

The high prices of labor, sacks, and freight have about discouraged the farmers, so that they are at present doing but little toward putting in another crop.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Lasting Loveliness.—Twenty years ago, when paint, powder and enamel, were ruining the complexion and destroying the health of women of fashion, Dr. H. H. Shultz, of New York, invented a pure botanical cosmetic, guaranteed to restore bloom and beauty to the skin. From that time to the present it has been continually rising in public estimation as the safest and most unexceptionable preparation of its class. Instead of presenting an artificial, metallic surface, like poisons fluids sold under various names as tonics, it is smooth and glossy and, at the same time, imparts to it that delicate, rosy tinge, which is the ideal of complexion loveliness. This exquisite chromatic effect is not transient. By applying the Balm daily it may be prolonged from youth to age. A lady who purchased the first bottle of the article nineteen years ago, writes to say that her complexion is as fair, clear, and glowing now as when she first bought it, and she attributes its beauty solely to the daily use of the BAGAND MAGNOLIA BALM.

BATCHELOR'S HAIRDO.

This New Day is the best in the world—especially for Hairdo, Brightening, Bleaching, and Instantaneous Removal of Unpleasant Odors. The genuine "TWO IN ONE" is absolutely SPLENDID. It is a splendid Black & Neutral Remedy. Does not stain the skin, but leaves the Hair Clean, Soft and Beautiful. The only Safe and Perfect Remedy. Bring me a sample of your hair, and I will tell you how to use it.

Cheer Up and Stand By!

This advice, given by bluff Captain Cutts to the forlorn Mr. Toole, is cordially tendered to all we are laboring under the cloud of depression and melancholy which usually accompanies chronic indigestion, biliousness, habitual constipation and nervous debility. "Cheer up!" was begun invalids. The causes of your gloomy feelings, though they may be chronic and of long standing, are not incurable. A course of Bostonian Stomach Bitters, the purest and most genial of all vegetable stimulants and correctives, and especially adapted to cases like yours, will relieve you of your bodily ailments and consequent mental misery, speedily, certainly, and without pain. The chief and stamp of the present season, in fact, all its atmospheric conditions, are unfavorable to dyspepsia, bilious and nervous affections. They need a stimulant, as well as a sovereign corrective. This wholesome vegetable preparation combines the three. While it increases the digestive capacity of the stomach, and enlarges and regulates the condition of the liver and the bowels, it gives an agreeable invigorant to the mental faculties and stimulates the nerves. Unmodified stimulants are never advisable; they are too exciting and often too active. On the other hand, the sham fevers, which contain no specific stimulants, and are interchanged with chronic vacuous fits, which turn a man insatiable, are dangerous. The system needs more vitality, and they possess it entirely. Bostonian's Bitters help no entity either with the dangerous exanthem or the still more dangerous delirium. It is deeply strengthen ing and relaxes the body and clears the mind. This is the whole secret of their
