

JAMES W. VAN DYKE, Editor and Proprietor. Social Journal of the United States. OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF BEXAR COUNTY. A. SIKKING & CO., Publishers. THURSDAY, JAN. 23, 1873.

A gentleman of more than ordinary common sense and reflective judgment, criticized yesterday our mention of the Military Depot fairs.

The criticism was not just, nor was it philosophical. The man who offers you an ordie watch and avers that it is pure gold, is just as good a man as the editor who conceals facts, but endeavors to deceive by a display of simulating materials.

Experience and observation have taught that no country can be built up without a basis of solid and lasting prosperity. If that exists in San Antonio, then all there is needed here is ENERGY! Capital may be sensitive of investment, but it will follow every other permanent sign of progress.

The National Law.

What a amount of tinkering of the present school system, or, in what direction, the present Legislature proposes to undertake it, is, of course, as uncertain as the verdict of a petit jury.

Jefferson and Jackson.

There is nothing more amazing, and oftentimes disgusting, to the well informed reader of the political history of this country, than the constant allusions by ignorant Democratic stump speakers, and newspaper editors, to Presidents Jefferson and Jackson.

country during the present generation, even by the aid of a vast and sorrowful civil war; while Jackson, on the other hand, was a mere politician, a man of impulse and untold prejudices, a Frank Blair of his time, with better control over his baser appetites, but whose ruling principle was simply, "to the victor belongs the spoils."

Negro Education in the South.

The experiment of a normal school for colored youths at Hampton Roads, Va., which was founded by General S. C. Armstrong in 1868, has been very successful. Forty-three pupils have graduated, and there are now 231 scholars of both sexes, nearly all of whom are preparing to be teachers in the public schools of the South.

An old gentleman living near Brimsfield, Ill., argues that if the farmers of Illinois, Iowa and Indiana would enter into a combination to burn one-half their corn crops for fuel, they could sell the remaining half for as much as the whole would now bring.

Man will sometimes put a very fair valuation upon themselves.

A brave young sailor at Newport lately saved two men from drowning, and they rewarded him with a glass of beer. Doubtless this was just about the value of the property rescued from destruction, but it will not pay for that young sailor to continue in the business of saving such cheap lives.

It is a curious fact that all the leading generals of France are of foreign descent.

McMahon is descended from Irish parents, L'Admiral's father is a Spaniard, De Cissey comes from Belgium, Doree's grandfather was a German named Deckerath, and Laforest's grandfather was a Swiss from Geneva.

Van you think that all mankind was foolish, look poety full out dot by dew.

The following is given as the philosophy of man derived by a reporter for the St. Louis Democrat, during the unprecedented cold snow-storm lately prevalent through the north.

NOTICE

The undersigned will rent out a few acres of garden land in this city, either for one-third of the crop or a reasonable amount in cash.

THE "Feet and Fancy Man" of the St. Louis Democrat is authority for the following interesting and grave charge: A couple in Chicago kicked the lid off from the coffin and called for his customary matrimonial cockle.

Partnership Notice.

FROM the first day of January, 1873, Erich and August Manager become partners with the late my business. The firm name will be S. Menger and sons.

BY mutual agreement the partnership heretofore existing between James Moore and Wm. E. Sweet, under the firm name of Moore & Sweet, is hereby dissolved.

A man in Cincinnati upset a milk-can at the depot, and becoming frightened at the contents of the can ran into a telegraph pole and broke one of her horse off.

The Chicago Times reporter, warmed up by an excess of good spirits, thoughtlessly pulled off his coat, while taking notes of Mrs. Minnie Myrtle Miller's lecture the other night, and disclosed to the small but attentive audience the fact that he had no shirt on.

A man in Boston makes a very handsome living visiting houses and killing insects that infect plants. He shows something (probably just tobacco) and then gently breathes on the infected shrub.

A De Moines, Iowa, paper can write up a trifling incident of Western life in as good a style as a New York Tribune man. Hear him!

"In Buffalo, Scott county, at a New Year party where they had been 'takin' snuff,' a man asserted that he could whip anybody in the room. When he found himself lying on his back and saw his antagonist complacently chewing the end of the nose he had colored with so much snuff and expense, he began to suspect he had slightly overrated his powers."

Mrs. Christina Mack, residing near La Salle, Ill., was burned to death in her house, which was also destroyed by fire last week. She was seventy-three years old, and had been married ten times. Ten times had she been speared, ten times blushed at the altar, and ten times had she performed the last offices of laying peanies on the eyes of her laid out husbands. She was being vigorously courted by a young and ardent admirer of sixty when a flame of a fierce breath than love's, blew her.

"Did you know," said a cunning Gentle to a Jew, "that they hang Jews and jackasses together in Portland?"

"Indeed?" returned Solomon, "dep it ish vall dat you and I ish not dere."

The sacred chimps of Trinity Church, New York, stink off some fine music now, such as "Champsy Charley," "Shoe Fly," "Captain Jinks," "The Flying Traps," and other classical selections calculated to soothe the weary brain.

W. A. B. Were half the power that fills the world with terror, Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts, Given to redeem the human mind from error, There were no need of arsenals nor fort, The warrior's name would be a name abhorred, And every nation that should lift again its head against a brother, on its forehead should wear forevermore the curse of Cain.
