Imports and Consumption of Coffee in the United States.

In 1872 there were imported (into all except the Pacific States) 577, 636,258 pounds of coffee; experted, 5,856,700 pounds; retained in the country, 271,779,558 pounds. In 1871 there were imported 322,700,479 pounds; exported, 5,768,695 pounds; retained in the country, 316,931,784 pounds; showing a decrease in 1872 of 46,152,226 pounds. By adding the stock on hand January 1, 1872, and deducting the stock on hand January 1, 1873, the actual decrease in consumption in 182 is shown to be 44,891,027 pounds. In 1872, New York imported 165,252,428 pounds—just about three-fifths of the total; Fine Packet and Table Cutlery, and deducting the stock on hand January 1, 1873, the actual decrease just about three fifths of the total; the sources of the coffee supply of the country will therefore be pretty infirly indicated by the shipments to New York. These were: from Brazil, 83,304,969 pounds; Maracaibo, 20,947,510 pounds; Maracaibo, 20,947,510 pounds; Java and Sumatra, 17,923,979 pounds; Laguayra and Porto Cabello, 9,464,905 pounds and Brazil and the speaker of the counsel and tairly indicated by the shipments to European ports, which is produced in Brazil, and it is estimated that from 70 to 80 per cent. of our supply is drawn from that country. The estimated consumption of the Pacific States for 1872 is 12,000,000 pounds, making total for the country 282,-718,738 pounds. The value in gold of imports of coffee at ports of shipment, (exclusive of the Pacific States,) as shown by the custom house returns, was, in 1872, $25,284,189; It will be noticed that though the amount of coffee imported in 1872 was much any compensation other than that previded by the laws of the United States. less than in 1871, it cost much more. These results are mainly attributable to the very short crop in Brazil, and a partial failure of the crop in Java in 1871. The average wholesale price in gold at New York was, in 1872 and 1871, respectively, for Brazil, $18.42 and $15.91 per 100 pounds; for San Domingo, $15.37 and $13.55; for

THE people and papers of Berlin are in a ferment over the supersefure of Prince Blumacek by Gen. Von Roon as President of the Prussion Ministry. It was given out and for a time believed that this involved no change in Bismarck's policy, but the thorough conservapraise bestowed upon him in an imperial decree, forced the conviction that the sovereign had thrown himself into the arms of togyism. The main hope of the Liberalarests in the composition of the Cabinet. It consists of four liberals, four conserva-tives, and one mixed. This balance forbide the hope of peace in the Qabinet councils, while the public are in a state of agitation that will speedily develop into a bitter and obstinate controversy.
