

The Daily Express

JULIUS W. VAN SLYCK, Proprietor.

Official Journal of the United States

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF BEXAR COUNTY.

A. SCHMIDING & CO. Publishers.

FRIDAY, AUG. 29, 1873.

We are authorized to announce FRANK NEWTON as a candidate for the office of District Clerk of Bexar Co. at the next election.

We are authorized to announce SAM. S. SMITH as a candidate for District Clerk at the coming election.

We are authorized to announce JAS. R. SWEET as candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace, Precinct No. 1, at the coming election subject to the approval of the Democratic Convention.

TO THE VOTERS OF BEXAR CO.
Having been selected by a large number of voters, irrespective of party, I announce myself as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the District Court at the ensuing election, subject only to the will of the people, as the same may be expressed on the day of election at the ballot box.
JNO. ROSENHEIMER.
SAN ANTONIO, August 29th, 1873.

Now They Accept the Standard.

When the German Convention published its address there was a surprising quantity of Democratic surprise exhibited that the Germans advocated and demanded measures, calculated to secure all the citizens of Texas in the enjoyment of their rights and privileges under the law. Democratic journals that have never favored a progressive measure of any kind, insisted there was no difference of opinion among the good people of all parties in reference to a good system of free schools, opposition to secession, state aid to immigration and other similar measures necessary to the prosperity of the State.

Article 5 of the German Address reads: "We declare against the passage of any law tending to oppress any class of the inhabitants of this State on account of race or nationality."

"Exactly what the Democracy has always contended for," is the refrain of the Anasazi in the Texas press, in the face of the fact that the wife of Gov. Davis saved the State from the Landlord and Tenant Act, which was quite as infamous as the "Labor Law" of 1866. Nobody denies that the practical working of both these laws reduced the poor white and all the colored voters to a condition of peonage. These laws are so vilely democratic that we do not remember single democratic journal that has ever undertaken to palliate the iniquities contained in them. We all know what the Texas Democracy would do if it dared. It would virtually re-instate, not only the colored man, but the poor men of the State generally. It would do exactly what the State of Georgia has done. Georgia was gained over to the Democracy by murder and fraud. The colored voters were murdered at the polls or prevented approaching them at all by the "Georgia Hussars" and other revived ex-confederate organizations.

We call the attention of the colored people in particular, to the result of the success of the Democracy in Georgia, as shown in the following clipping from a Democratic paper:

REVIVING SLAVERY UNDER ANOTHER NAME.—We regret to see in the Georgia newspapers notices which read very much like the old advertisement of enslaved slaves. N. T. Crozier advertises in the Georgia Appeal for "Lewis Springers runaway, who had contracted to work for the present year. Said freedman is about twenty-five years old, five feet four or five inches high black complexion; also Blake Gouling, sixteen or seventeen years old, about five feet high, yellow complexion." Mr. Crozier is not to blame for trying to get his freedmen back, but the injustice is in the laws of Georgia, which make it a crime to harbor a negro who has contracted to labor and has run away from his employer. There is no similar restriction on the white laborer. This is simply reviving slavery under another name.

The editor of the New York Post prints a paragraph asking some one who had written him a certain letter to call at the office, and gives as a reason: "We do not decipher his address." Probably as much newspaper correspondence goes into the waste basket for this same reason as for that even more potent one—its worthlessness. Will people ever learn to write?

The Dallas Convention.

TELEGRAFICO.

DALLAS, Aug. 29, 1873.

Convention organized permanently this morning by electing S. G. Newton, President. The Platform was read and unanimously adopted; it endorses resolutions of German Convention.

The nominations are as follows:

For Gov.—E. J. Davis.

For Lieut.-Gov.—Rob. Taylor of Faunin.

For Comptroller.—Thomas of Collins County.

For Com. of Land Office.—Jacob Kuehler.

For Sup. of Education.—A. B. Norton.

For Treasurer.—A. T. Munroe.

An Ohio paper vigorously defends Deacon Richard Smith's record as a Christian. And this after the deacon has himself vigorously repudiated the insinuations.

No man knows what grace and delicacy of touch is until he learns to shave himself.

[Special to the State Journal.]
Telegraphic.

DALLAS, TEX., Aug. 19, 10 A. M.—Governor Davis and party arrived this morning and breakfasted at the Cosmopolitan Hotel. He was enthusiastically received and escorted from the depot by a band of music and large concourse of friends. The Convention is well represented by all classes, and is the largest ever held in Texas, will meet at 12 o'clock.

LATER 3:30 P. M.—Convention met at 12 o'clock. House crowded. Full delegations representing every class. After music by band Convention called to order by Judge William Chambers in absence of J. G. Tracy, President of Republican Executive Committee, who ordered convention.

Call for convention read by Secretary Republican Executive Committee, and received with unanimous enthusiasm. Nominations for temporary chairman being declared in order, A. G. Malloy and F. W. Minor were put in nomination. Nominations closed and Malloy elected, who was conducted to the chair by committee of three and received enthusiastically. Temporary Secretary being in order, Mr. W. M. Fries of Matagorda elected. Motion made that committee of fifteen on credentials be appointed; carried. Capt. Farrow elected Sergeant-at-Arms.

Governor Davis then invited to a seat on stand, and was greeted with music and prolonged applause; he asked that the proceedings be conducted with harmony and good will; and that they select standard bearers without prejudices or feelings, one way or the other; but more particularly select men who won't steal and won't go back on their Republican record; that he would agree with the nomination and we will carry them to victory, because we are in the right and do not depend on any shortcomings of the enemy; immense applause.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made a few remarks, hoping that order would be preserved, that the business in hand was of a serious character, and that the Republicans would do their duty and give it their prayerful and earnest attention. Until it was known who the delegates were, it was impossible to appoint a committee, and therefore moved the roll of the various counties be called, and that delegates come forward and present their credentials.

Col. A. H. Parsons of Travis, was then elected Assistant Secretary by acclamation, and Col. Gibbs, of Grimes, Second Sergeant at Arms, and J. Haynes, Second Assistant.

Judge A. B. Norton made

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

ALEX. E. SWEET, Notary Public, Express Office.

WANTED.—A man who understands running a circular saw. Apply at J. C. Crawford's Library Stable. [16-8-41]

PA-NUT and penopole candy stands grace our main thoroughfares to the intense delight of children blessed with this world's goods.

MAGNO LORAS was committed to the county jail to appear at the next term of the District Court, and explain what induced him to steal from a house.

The San Antonio mess extract is appreciated abroad. The Company has received notice from Vienna that a medal has been awarded them for the excellence of the article manufactured.

The burning of the hay stack of Mr. HODGSON caused an alarm of fire on Wednesday afternoon. The prompt arrival of steam engine No. 2, and the neighboring buildings having thin roofs, prevented serious loss of property.

PROF. PERRIN and Mrs. L. de L. WILLIAMS will open a SELECT SCHOOL for boys, on September 1st. The exact location of the school will be announced in a few days. English, French and German will be thoroughly taught, as well as all the branches of a liberal education.

For past two months the principal of the principal, Mrs. L. de L. Williars, at Mrs. Sheahan's, Soledad Street. Prof. Perrin at Mr. Leroux, Main Street.

NOTICE!
The undersigned offers to exchange choice land, east of the San Antonio river, for two horse wagon and team, 1 ambulance, and about 50 head young stock cattle. 17-418 R. EAGAR.

CANDIDATES are accused of congregating in vast numbers in the vicinity of the Recorder's Court for the purpose of being first in the field in going on bonds, paying dues, acting as witnesses for the accused, &c., in order to consolidate the Mexican vote in their favor.

A very flattering picture of Dr. McBride, who visited our city in the interest of suffering humanity, adorns the head of a column of advertisements in Carl Schurz's St. Louis paper. He comes cholera now in three minutes and a half.

He is without doubt a great fraud, and if he lived in this State would be a candidate for Governor.

G. T. BRIGGS will open school in Flores street School House on the 1st of September, assisted by Miss A. O. Hewitt.

The English, German, Spanish, French, Latin, and Greek languages will be taught.

Tutor fees, $1.00, $2.00, $3.00 per month.

MISS CUSHMAN and SPENCE, formerly associated with Rev. J. F. Martin in Commerce St. School, will commence a private school, September 1, in Fireman's Hall No. 2, situated near the new Hall of the Alamo Literary Society.

For further information apply at Gamble's book store. [15-8-181-4]

Maketon's trip to Mexico was made in the interest of the whole people. Let the Kickapoo kick up as much as he pleases, let his Massachus mix in our local politics, but Marion like music has charms to soothe the savage breast. He keeps in a bottle and only lets a little of it out at a time.

In the wording of the contract with Mr. Faure, the words used in reference to the location of the depot, left it at the discretion of the Company to locate the depot at the convenience of the city limits, if they saw fit. As this was objected to by some, likely to produce future misunderstandings and litigation, Mr. Faure was telegraphed and the substitution of "one" instead of "less," by his consent, has removed all ambiguity in the wording of the instrument.

TENNESSE was making important transpiring at the Roederer's Office yesterday morning; in fact it was due to a meeting of the City Council. But yesterday afternoon a very interesting case was tried before a jury. A young German had a spate at a young lady because she didn't have any food for him. As he could not produce an impression in any other manner, he threw a stone about the size of an ink-stick through the window. He was punished very lightly with a fine of $5 and costs.

PUBLIC curiosity is somewhat excited about the weather, probably because there is nothing else to be excited about. Although July and August are noted for absence of rain, we have been refreshed with frequent showers, and as we write the sky is hung with heavy clouds and a distant rumbling indicates that more showers are in store for us, but for what purpose just now we cannot imagine, unless it be to try the patience of the San Antonio editors by bad roads and high water delaying the mails.

We have examined "A Brief History of Texas" by D. W. C. Baker, intended to be used in schools. The object of the work is a most laudable one; nothing is more important in the education of the youth of the country than that they should be well acquainted with the history of their native State. Although we have not subjected the work to any very critical examination, we are satisfied that the author has succeeded in his endeavor of uniting brevity, comprehensiveness and simplicity, and that the little work will be a text book in our schools.

We are indebted to Judge Gamble for the copy before us.

A Jewel,
SOZONOFF Parfums,
BOZONOFF Perfumes,
BOZONOFF Graines all who are
sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

Telegraphic.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21st, 1873.

To W. S. Kingbury, San Antonio:
The word in your proposition should be more or less. Changed to read more.

T. W. PIERCE,
President.

A true copy,

W. G. KINGSBURY.

POST-OFFICE, CONCHO, TEXAS,
August 18th, 1873.

Postmaster, San Antonio, Tex.

—This stage due on the 14th from El Paso, arrived on the evening of the 16th in a very bad condition. The newspapers I could do nothing with, being a mass of pulp. The letters I put up in as good a condition as I could. The coach upset in a flooded creek this side of Davis. Two (2) miles were washed sed pretty much drowning Senator Fountain of El Paso.

Yours Respectfully,
JAMES TRAINER, P. M.,
by Wm. Russell.

Army News.

Captain Nathaniel Prime, 10th Infantry, is relieved as a member of the General Court Martial instituted by paragraph V, Special Orders No. 152, current series, from these Headquarters.

Major George W. Schofield, 10th Cavalry, and First Lieutenant Irwin M. Starr, 9th Cavalry, will report in person at these Headquarters for duty in connection with the purchase of horses.

The Late German Convention.

We have seen a great deal in the leading Democratic papers against the Convention of the German-American citizens, and have observed a good deal of slander used against them. The news itself taking neutral ground. We hope, however, that, by this time the parties are convinced that German-American conventions cannot be manipulated or bought as other conventions are, and that it is manifest they did not meet as a sectional class, but as true American patriots. Their convention was as orderly and harmonious as any we have ever seen, and we would recommend it highly to both Republicans and Democrats as an example of decorum. The resolutions adopted at this meeting will be found in another column and will speak for themselves. We think these resolutions will be acceptable to all those who are interested in the welfare of our State, as they express protection to life and property, a liberal system of education, equal rights before the laws to all without distinction of race, color or previous condition. This, most decidedly, proves that the German convention was anything but sectional.—Waco Register.

NOTICE!

The undersigned offers to exchange choice land, east of the San Antonio river, for two horse wagon and team, 1 ambulance, and about 50 head young stock cattle.

17-418 R. EAGAR.

CANDIDATES are accused of congregating in vast numbers in the vicinity of the Recorder's Court for the purpose of being first in the field in going on bonds, paying dues, acting as witnesses for the accused, &c., in order to consolidate the Mexican vote in their favor.

A very flattering picture of Dr. McBride, who visited our city in the interest of suffering humanity, adorns the head of a column of advertisements in Carl Schurz's St. Louis paper. He comes cholera now in three minutes and a half.

He is without doubt a great fraud, and if he lived in this State would be a candidate for Governor.

G. T. BRIGGS will open school in Flores street School House on the 1st of September, assisted by Miss A. O. Hewitt.

The English, German, Spanish, French, Latin, and Greek languages will be taught.

Tutor fees, $1.00, $2.00, $3.00 per month.

MISS CUSHMAN and SPENCE, formerly associated with Rev. J. F. Martin in Commerce St. School, will commence a private school, September 1, in Fireman's Hall No. 2, situated near the new Hall of the Alamo Literary Society.

For further information apply at Gamble's book store. [15-8-181-4]

Maketon's trip to Mexico was made in the interest of the whole people. Let the Kickapoo kick up as much as he pleases, let his Massachus mix in our local politics, but Marion like music has charms to soothe the savage breast. He keeps in a bottle and only lets a little of it out at a time.

In the wording of the contract with Mr. Faure, the words used in reference to the location of the depot, left it at the discretion of the Company to locate the depot at the convenience of the city limits, if they saw fit. As this was objected to by some, likely to produce future misunderstandings and litigation, Mr. Faure was telegraphed and the substitution of "one" instead of "less," by his consent, has removed all ambiguity in the wording of the instrument.

TENNESSE was making important transpiring at the Roederer's Office yesterday morning; in fact it was due to a meeting of the City Council. But yesterday afternoon a very interesting case was tried before a jury. A young German had a spate at a young lady because she didn't have any food for him. As he could not produce an impression in any other manner, he threw a stone about the size of an ink-stick through the window. He was punished very lightly with a fine of $5 and costs.

PUBLIC curiosity is somewhat excited about the weather, probably because there is nothing else to be excited about. Although July and August are noted for absence of rain, we have been refreshed with frequent showers, and as we write the sky is hung with heavy clouds and a distant rumbling indicates that more showers are in store for us, but for what purpose just now we cannot imagine, unless it be to try the patience of the San Antonio editors by bad roads and high water delaying the mails.

We have examined "A Brief History of Texas" by D. W. C. Baker, intended to be used in schools. The object of the work is a most laudable one; nothing is more important in the education of the youth of the country than that they should be well acquainted with the history of their native State. Although we have not subjected the work to any very critical examination, we are satisfied that the author has succeeded in his endeavor of uniting brevity, comprehensiveness and simplicity, and that the little work will be a text book in our schools.

We are indebted to Judge Gamble for the copy before us.

A Jewel,
SOZONOFF Parfums,
BOZONOFF Perfumes,
BOZONOFF Graines all who are
sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

THE GRAND PACIFIC HOTEL CHICAGO.

The Largest and most Complete
Hotel in the World.

The Lessees (well known as the Proprietors of the SHERMAN HOUSE before its destruction in the memorable Confliction of October 8th and 9th, 1871,) take pleasure in announcing the completion of this great enterprise, which is now open under their personal management for the accommodation of all.

—CAGE BIRDS, &c. RICE

Lessons for Twenty Years.

CHICAGO, June 1st, 1873. 7-336

Fairbank's Scythes, Agricultural Implements Large Assortment of Plows.

Hinchley's Knitting Machines

Agents for HERRING'S SAFES.

ELMENDORF & CO.

SOLE AGENTS FOR

THE EXCELSIOR

FIRE EXTINGUISHER.

SEPTOLINE OIL.

Empire, Eagle and Emory's

COTTON GINS

AND CONDENSERS

WITH DOUBLE STITCHES.

About 100 in use here in town.

H. T. BLACKWELL,

DURHAM, N. C.

He reminds the public that the United States Court has recently given a decision in his favor, which secures full protection from the imitators of his Smoking Tobacco, and that dealers and manufacturers are alive liable to prosecution for dealing in the spurious brands.

SOLD BY

HUGO & SCHMELTZER,

GROCERS.

Commerce St., San Antonio,

AGENTS FOR WESTERN TEXAS.

Will keep always on hand a fresh supply of the genuine article. 18-7-73 dsf

PROF. BURT'S

SPECTACLES

Can be procured at NETTEN'S Drug Store

24-6-73 dft

BOARDING in the Country

By the undersigned at Twenty Dollars

Gold per month.

F. SIMON,

Boerne, Kendall Co., Tex.

took the Premium at the Louisiana

State Fair in 1871 and 1872,

at the Mississippi

State Fair 1871.

At the Texas State Fair 1871, and in 1872, over all competitors.

ELMENDORF & CO.,

Agents for Western Texas.

STANB'S Celebrated Portable Corn and Wheat Mill.

QUEEN OF THE SOUTH.

With Bolting Apparatus, Elevators, &

Scantlers and the Separators Combined

ELMENDORF & CO.,

Agents for the Clipper Mows and Kneads

Exchange on England, Germany and France.

COLLECTS solicited upon all points in the State.

TELEGRAPHIC Transfers. Advances made on Consignments. 24-7-73 dft & w

ANTHONY EARHART,

ARCHITECT AND BUILDER.

Cornel North and Alamo Sts.,

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS.

I PREPARED to contract for all kinds

