Does anyone believe that that Jefferson, if he were to revisit this earth, would endorse this rag, tag, and bobtail of creation that calls itself "Democracy ?" In his day he was a pronounced aboli. tionist, and saw "as in holy vision tranced, the future pass before him," and predicted what the Republican party has accomplished. It is not difficult to show, that all though the leader of the democratic party of that day, that these ideas party has carried out.

History is sacred and should not be tampered with, hence we ask of the modern Democracy that it lay not its unhallowed hand on Jefferson, for he belongs to us.

A CALL is being signed by the citizens of this place and vicinity apon Gen. J. W. Barnes, Vice President of the International Railroad Company, to know apon what terms the company will agree to build and complete their road to this city in a specified time, Gen. Barnes, now here, having signified the willingness of the company to come to some agreement upon the subject, on condition of the pay-ment by the people of this county of a subsidy to the company. The general expression of our people is an earnest desire for the early and rapid construction of this grand trunk road. Whatever may be our views upon other subjects, the completion of this road to Austin and Western Texas is one upon which our citizens are united. We would hall with joy the day when a direct line of railroad would lead from here towards New York, as well as to the great West, by San Marcos, New Braunfels, San Auto-nia, and ultimately, as is contem-plated, to the heart of Mexico and the Pacific coast. We hope to live for such a consummation.

WE had a conversation with Sheriff Volumer and others yesterday in reference to the lynching of Chassard. We did not obtain many additional particulars, but sufficient to convince us that our previous opinion was correct, that the lynching was has occurred in this section of the State for many years. From all we can learn the unfortunate man was dead when he was hung, having been beaten to death with the iron bar of the jail door pravious to the lynching.

Tun Democracy of Wilson does not find itself in exact harmony with the rest of the creation. Not long since, a long baired son of thunder gave vent to his pent up graceful wrangle over a corpse, each feelings in about the following ludicrously reckless manuer : "Railroads are dele ter ous, merchants, professional frauds of all class s, and mechanics must yield to the dictates of the farmer and stockraiser, Grauger Clubs must be organized that t bese leeches be taught who is the lerd of the land." Then he sat down and crossed his hind legs violently-

It is very probable that the farmer movement, which is preductive of so much good in the North and West, will turn out badly when manipulated by the seedy gentlemen of the South, who used to own plantations. It is very hard for one of war relied on the solored man to paddle his cance for him, to be suddenly trans-formed into a "hard fieled farmer."
