SCENES IN PERU.

Land of Drottry.

I believe that in no other country in the world is there such a complete absence of the fitness of things as among the inhabitants of Peru. They are constantly doing and saying the most grotesque and inappropriate things, with the same unchanging air of dignity and sober earnestness that makes it only the more ridiculous.

Daily there passes my door an old Cholo waterman, carrying his water jars, on the most diminutive and stunted of donkeys; and daily is the same scene enacted. As Peru is a Catholic country, there is in the centre of four streets a large wooden or stone cross, and it is the universal custom for every man, woman and child, whenever they pass one of these wayside crosses, to stop and, making the sign of the cross, to bow before it. Some of them more devout kneel and utter adi maria, while every one doffs the hat and makes the sign of the cross. Either this little donkey or the aguador (water-carrier) has been brought up by a priest, or else he possesses more devotion than the rest of his species; for he invariably stops square before the cross, sets his fore legs sturdily at right angles, puts up his long ears and straightens his stubby tail, and obstinately and persistently refuses to move an inch. The waterman dismounts, pulls at him, kicks and shouts, tags at his bridle and belabors him with a stout cudgel; but all to no purpose.

Standing as immovable as a rock, the donkey brays and brays again, his nose fairly rubbing the cross, and, at every blow, firmly plants his feet more firmly and brays the louder. Little Rooney boys say, "Let him alone; he is at his devotions." Bystanders cry: "Look at the piety of the beast;" and the waterman, looking around in despair at the crowd, says: "What shall I do? What can I do?" in the most hopeless tones; then, turning to the donkey, he says, savagely, to it: "Beast! I stop your braying; you are nothing but an old fool, and your mother was a fool before you!" This settles the donkey for he moves on, amid the jeers of the lookers on and my own laughter.

I have been much amused at the drunken antics of a couple of sailors, ashore for a spree after a long voyage. In front of a Chinese eating house (called a tonda) these reeling taras see standing a donkey, whose Chinese waterman has gone into the tonda with his jar of fresh water, leaving the little donkey patiently waiting for him. In a moment one of the sailors is across the street and has mounted astride the poor donkey, with his face turned toward the animal's tail and his long legs almost quite touching the ground. The other sailor takes the poor beast by the bridle, and by blows and curses tries to induce the donkey to go on, but in vain; he will not move or stir, and only plants his legs more sturdily and sets his head stiffly in the air. Out comes the Chinese waterman and begins to reason with the drunken sailor to get off from his donkey and let him load on the empty water jars. But the sailor is drunk enough to have a little frolic, and refuses to get off or to allow the Chinaman to pull him off.

The waterman now waxed mad and begins to scold, going from Spanish to shrill Chinese, and screaming higher and louder. The sailors understand neither Spanish nor Chinese, so that neither can understand the other. One sailor pulls at the donkey's bridle-rein and the one seated upon the animal jerks the beast's tail up and down, and digs his knees into the donkey's sides, shouting and kicking at him to go on. A crowd assembles, and some side with the sailors and some with the Chinaman. After exhausting all his arts to dislodge the jolly tar, the Chinaman appeals to the crowd and says in Spanish: "Gentlemen, pity me and help me! See how I am hindered and tormented by this drunken Americano. Will not some of you be good enough to bring his mother, that she may coax him to get off and leave me to go in peace?" The idea of bringing his mother!

Prof. Cancio Bello, formerly Professor of Spanish in Harvard College, has been arrested in Havana at the invitation of the Spanish authorities in relation to his property, which had been sequestered, promising to restore it on the payment of a certain sum, he to relinquish his claims. He was arrested on the arrival of the steamer City of New York in Havana, recently, with some sixty others, some of whom were already in Havana.

The Verdict of the People.

The manner in which the Democracy obtained the verdict of the people, is coming to light. The democratic Houston Mercury tells us, how Railroad-Baker obtained the verdict of the people in his favor and how he was elected Senator. It says:

"He has maintained and put in practice the doctrine that all men in the employ of his road have a right to vote for Houston. As a consequence, the registration and roll lists of Harris county have recorded upon them the names of citizens of Denison, Sherman, Dallas, Goliad, Navasota, Burleson, Hempstead, Brenham, Giddings, Ledbetter, McJade, Manor, Austin, and of all the lesser towns along the main line and branches of the Central. Section men who have never lived in Houston, switch tenders and station agents, who not only have never lived in Houston, but who have actual domiciles elsewhere, have been persuaded by the "boss" that they had a right to register and vote in Houston, and have done at his bidding.

Nor has it stopped here. Evidence has been obtained that men who had never even registered in Houston come down on the spiritual train on the day of election and voted upon other men's certificates. We are informed that seventy-five such voters came from Denison and Dallas. The original owners of the papers refused to cope, but were prevailed upon to give them up to voters improvised for the occasion.

An attempt was made in the first ward, where the bulk of this fraudulent vote was cast, to challenge these men, but the presiding judge, ~~but only refused to allow challengers~~, but also neglected to require men voting a certificate to make ~~up~~ they were the men named, and that they had not voted elsewhere, as the law plainly directs. It is also asserted by men placed to watch that men who voted at Blackley came down and voted also in the first ward of this city."

Now if you put it "Mexicans" instead of "Railroad hands," and Wilson County, Atascosa County, Uvalde County, Maverick County and Mexico, instead of Denison, Sherman, Dallas, etc., you have it exactly, how the verdict of the people was manufactured in Bexar County.

UNIVERSITY.

Since the Republican party has been defeated, we have, as we stated before, made up our mind to bear the consequences of this defeat. We have nothing to deplore, nothing to take back; if we had to fight the battle of the last years over again, we would exactly do, as we have done.

We know that we have labored in the interest of our community and our State. We have advanced whatever we believed would contribute to the welfare of our people and have, regardless of personal abuse and regardless of our own interest, exposed the evil. If the verdict of the people, according to democratic understanding, has been rendered against us, it does not prove that our principles were wrong or our intentions inimical to the country. The people are often ready to shout the: Crucify him and to murder their own happiness. Whoever will tell us to respect the result of the election in Bexar County as the verdict of the people tells us to insult our intelligence, to acknowledge the right of overrunning the wealth and intelligence of a community by foul means.

But we acknowledge the fact that we have been beaten, as the frontiersman some time ago acknowledged that the Indian was the master of the situation. If accident had thrown us into the land of the Chinese, we would respect the laws of China and act accordingly. Now we are doomed to live under democratic rule and we shall act as we would in China.

But one thing we absolutely defy!

... magnanimity you, ... perpetrate on us! We ... nor do we believe in ... magnanimous to deceive ... of the United States with ... kind of hypocrisy. We know what we have to expect from you and are ready to meet it. But there is no action of ours that we need to be ashamed of, and if we have committed mistakes, none was so grave and fatal, that it deserves your ungenerosity!

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,

December 9, 1873.

In order to ascertain when the terms of one of the incumbents of State and county offices will expire, it is first necessary to determine the inquiry of certain officers who seem to have caused confusion and uncertainty in the minds of those by whom it has been prompted.

Our investigation must be presented as though none of the present officers had been sent to the assistance of the Constitution by Congress on March 30, 1870, when the offices may now hold as provisional officers. The period during which some of them held provisionally as military appointments, and not as elected officers, by virtue of their section, seems proper and fairly to compute as a part of their respective term of office. Had the constitution not been accepted, they would never have been other than provisional officers holding at the pleasure of the General commanding while those that were at the same time elected but who did not receive military appointment would never have been officers at all.

It must also be borne in mind that the "Emancipation Declaration," which, by using the expression "beginning from the day of the election," has misled many, was through mistake printed and appended to the Constitution, and must not be regarded as a part of our fundamental law. It has erroneously been considered in full, though it was not directed by Congress to be submitted to the vote of the people and in fact was not submitted nor voted upon. It was repudiated by implication (over in force) by the act of Congress (April 10, 1869), and its consequences were construed to be inoperative. Above all, it shows no regard for the conventional passing of a transacted transaction, which were not submitted, but which only affected it to frame organization.

Texas was admitted to representation in Congress by the Act of Congress of March 23, 1870 (16 U. S. Statutes at Large, p. 40) making special additional provisions for the reconstruction of Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, and the other Reconstruction Acts (not the Election Declaration) exclusively consigned that Declaration, upon which she was admitted. Sec. 3 of the Act of April 10, p. 41, provides "that the President of the United States may ad hoc manner submit"—what the constitution of Texas to the voters of said State, at such time (not at the time specified in the Declaration, the first Monday in July, 1869) "and in such manner as he may direct" &c. so as the Declaration directed. Though it does not so much as mention the Declaration, as Congress had jurisdiction, could it have by implication more clearly abrogated and superseded it?

President Grant's proclamation copied the words of the Act of Congress, but only directed "the constitution" to be submitted to vote. (17 U. S. Statutes at Large, p. 1129.) General Orders No. 174, of Brigadier General Reynolds, commanding the Fifth Military District, incorporated the proclamation of the President in full, and followed the language of the Act in directing "the constitution" to be voted upon. In consequence, no part of the work of the convention which passed a large number of so-called "declarations," some of which were charters of private corporations, say the constitution, was submitted, and was actually voted upon.

The "Election Declaration" could not be a part of the Constitution or fundamental law of this State, is further apparent from the internal evidences furnished by itself. It is not one of the conventionally numbered articles, of which the Constitution is made up. It declares and defines no rights, embodies no plan of government, limits the power of no officer or department. Its subject-matter is not organic law, but on the contrary is essentially of a legislative and temporary nature. Besides, the Declaration, by making five distinct references to "the Constitution," thereby not only shows an appreciation of its own nature but recognises and treats the "Constitution" as an instrument separate from itself, of which it is not a component part.

Delegates elected to frame State constitutions have only the power to do what the sovereign people delegate them to do nothing else. They are not vested with unlimited powers. They have not the right, or the power to legislate. Our delegates, in so far as they attempted to legislate by enacting what they were pleased to call "declarations," of a few of which are very objectionable charters, &c. formerly transmuted their powers and what they sought to do outside of the Constitution they framed, have been very properly held and must be held null and void.

Testing it by the rule of constitutional construction, we find that the Declaration ordered the election to be commenced on the first Monday in July, 1869; that it not then commenced, but was begun under the Reconstruction Acts and not the Declaration on November 30, 1869. The Declaration directed the Legislature to meet on the 2d Monday in September, A. D. 1869. It did not convene at that time, nor indeed until the next year. When it assembled, it met, not under the Declaration, but under the Reconstruction Acts. When Congress, on March 30, 1870, had accepted the Constitution, (16 U. S. Statutes at Large, p. 80,) on the 26th of April following the Legislature organized as a constitutional (not provisional) Legislature. (See Certificate at end of General Laws of the 12th Legislature. Also House Journal of 12th Legislature, p. 5.)

As the election Declaration never had effect, it follows that the commencement and duration of terms of office must be decided exclusively upon the Constitution and laws of this State.

To illustrate: The present Governor was inaugurated in pursuance of section 4 of article 4 of the Constitution on April 28, 1870. (House Journal, 12th Legislature

p. 14.) That section enacts that "the Governor shall hold his office for the term of four years from the time of his installation and until his successor shall be duly qualified." No legal writer has sanctioned a rule of construction so latitudinarian that it would warrant a Legislature by changing the time of its sessions to abridge a Governor, or indeed any other officer, of any part of his constitutional term—especially when it is defined by a special section relating to his department.

It has been held, from the inception of the Republic of Texas to the present time, that the organization of a government the term of every officer begins on the day of his qualification by taking the oath prescribed by the constitution. No officer could qualify save as a provisional officer, in Texas, prior to March 30, 1870, when the constitution was accepted. That is construed, by expressly providing in the 19th section of the 5th Article, that in case of a vacancy a Justice of the Peace can only be elected "for the unexpired term," ~~unless~~ ~~unless~~ implication that in case of a vacancy in any other office, the new officer cannot be so elected. Hence, the officers newly elected cannot commence to hold their respective offices until the constitutional or statutory term of their predecessors are ended. They were not elected to fill unexpired terms.

Though the more material parts of "An Act Regulating Elections" of March 31, 1873, (General Laws of the 12th Legislature, p. 20,) are claimed to be unconstitutional because in conflict with section 6 Article 3 of the Constitution—a matter not necessary to be decided in this opinion, section 25 of that Act, which does not appear to conflict with the Constitution, enacts, "that the Governor shall commission all officers except members of Congress, members of the Legislature and the Governor." That makes it his duty to cause the commissions to be framed so as to conform with the term of office for which each officer to be commissioned was elected; not for an unexpired term, or a term for which he was not elected.

The production of the commission by a new officer is the authority which warrants the increment to turn over to him his successor. ALEXANDER, Attorney General.

Messrs. MANDELBAUM & RILLING keep the largest stock of leather and fenders in the State, they only keep such kinds of French and German calf skin as have already gained a reputation; they also manufacture boot, garter & shoe-uppers of all kinds and styles. Merchants, clogmakers and saddlers would do well to examine their stock before buying elsewhere.

Messrs. MANDELBAUM & RILLING respectfully call the attention of country merchants to their large stock of boots and shoes of their own make, offering them special inducements. (25 d&w)

PROF. FOWLER'S Greatest Work.

The National Publishing Company, of St. Louis, have just issued a very important and valuable work, by Prof. U. S. Fowler, on Manhood, Womanhood, and their Mutual Interrelations; Love, His Laws, Power, etc. It is a masterly exposition of the laws which control the relations of the sexes, and their duties towards each other, and is not asserting too much to pronounce it the most valuable and timely publication of the age.

"Know thyself" was the profound injunction of the ancient sage, and it is necessary to comply with this precept which covers nearly all the misery and sickness of the world. It is astonishing to find how many ignorant men and women, otherwise accomplished and intelligent, are regarding themselves. Husbands and wives constantly fail to find the hand of more light on the subject of their relations with each other, especially concerning the great duty for which marriage was instituted—the bearing and rearing of the family.

It is for the purpose of diffusing this knowledge that Professor Fowler has given to the world his work "Natural Science," which is simply an explanation of the laws which govern the sexes in their relation to each other. He points out the duties of husbands and wives and discourses facts of which no true man or woman ought to be ignorant. He teaches the secret of preserving female health and beauty far into the old age, and shows how mothers can avoid much of the suffering of bringing children into the world—a subject in which every woman is interested and how "female complaints" may be avoided with ease and certainty.

His book is pure and elevated in its style and ideas, and furnishes a practical solution of many of the most perplexing questions of life. It should be read by the young and old, by the married and single, and especially by those contemplating marriage. It touches upon questions and discusses them thoroughly, in which every married person is interested. The advice which it gives to unhappy or indifferent husbands and wives is sound and practical, and its warnings to those who seek to promote pleasure at the expense of health ought to be read by every man. The terrible practice of "regulating the size of families," which prevails in many parts of our country, is shown in its true light, and we commend the chapters concerning it to every husband and wife.

All friends of morality and purity in social life will hail the advent of Professor Fowler's book with delight, and those who seek information upon the curious and tragic features of domestic life, those who would study human nature stripped of its masks and disguises, will find this volume the best hand-book in existence.

Young men who value their domestic happiness, should not fail to read his remarks on the subject of selecting a wife, as the information it contains is beyond value.

The book is a real blessing to the public, and will be regarded as such by all who read it. The low price at which it is sold brings it within the reach of all, and every person who wants to arrive at a proper understanding of the true relations of the sexes, should procure a copy. It is sold by subscription only, and Mr. S. G. Burton who is the authorized agent for this section, is now canvassing for it.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

BRIDGEPORT, the $600,000, is sentenced to three years penitentiary.

PANCOST & SON have received a splendid assortment of goods to make up to order.

The San Antonio Turnverein has definitely resolved to build a Turner's Hall. The cost of building are not exceeded $20,000.

If you want to buy cheap and best clothing and hand made shoes, boots, stylish hats, Go to MOKE & BRO., at the marble state.

We were mistaken in announcing yesterday that an examination of the pupils of the German-English school would take place on Saturday. The examination has been postponed to next year.

CALL ON PANCOST & SON to see the latest style of hats, just received.

THE new steam engine of Fire Company No. 1 will be tried on Monday at 1 o'clock P. M. on the Main Plaza. The public generally is invited to attend.

THE New Braunfels Zeitung has a leader entitled "Nonchalance." The Daily Press has answered the article, and agrees with the New Orleans Zeitung as to the nonsense contained in said leader.

PANCOST & SON have certainly the best assortment of scarfs and ties, the very best kid and dogskin gloves, and fine white shirts to be found in the City. The stock just received.

We enjoy a fine northern and a clear sky since yesterday morning. The change in the weather is accompanied by a change in the general appearance of our city. Our streets are lively and business is waking up.

In Fort Bend County the Democrats printed the tickets for the Republicans, and placed the name of Wm. Burton, the Democratic candidate, for Senator, on it, instead of W. M. Burton, the Republican candidate, as they were ordered to do.

This, of course, was plain swindle, and the mistake was not discovered until the votes were counted. Then Wm. Burton received a majority of the votes, while the whole Republican ticket was wiped out, except W. M. Burton.

This is another instance how the verdict of the people is manufactured.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the trial of the new Steam Fire Engine "Wilam No. 1" will take place on next Monday, the 15th inst. at 1 o'clock P. M., at the Main Plaza, San Antonio, December 1st, 1873.

JNO. ROSENHEIMER,

Secretary San Antonio Fire Co. No. 1.

If you want a pair of real good French calf skin boots or shoes, go to MANDELAU & RILLING, 60 Commerce St. They will make them for you out of the best French calf skin, at a slight notice and fully warrant their work. They employ now 14 workmen, and are therefore enabled to fill orders quicker than their competitors. They also keep on hand a large stock of boots and shoes of their own make and are certain that they can fit and satisfy everybody.

What is the precise meaning of this familiar phrase when employed to signify an unnatural condition of body and mind? It means exhaustion, languor, want of vital energy, mental apathy—a pitiful state of physical and mental helplessness. The best and in fact the only perfectly reliable panacea for a "used up" system is that most popular and potent of medicinal stimulants, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. No matter whether the health has been broken down by excessive labor, over-tired, ab insalubrious atmosphere, anxiety, irregularities in diet, dissipation, or any other cause, this powerful and pleasant vegetable restorative will soon recruit the drooping energies of nature, restoring the integrity of the nerves, and re-establishing that functional regularity which is essential to animal vigor and a hopeful frame of mind. As a cure for debility, in all its varied manifestations, Hostetter Stomach Bitters is unsurpassed by any tonic in the materia medica.

The Verdict of the People.

The manner in which the Democracy obtained the verdict of the people, is coming to light. The democratic Houston Mercury tells us, how Railroad-Baker obtained the verdict of the people in his favor and how he was elected Senator. It says:

"He has maintained and put in practice the doctrine that all men in the employ of his road have a right to vote for Houston. As a consequence, the registration and poll lists of Harris county have recorded upon them the names of citizens of Denison, Sherman, Dallas, Corsicana, Calvert, Hearne, Bryan, Navasota, Bourne, Hempstead, Brenham, Giddings, Ledbetter, McDiade, Manor, Austin, and of all the lesser towns along the main line and branches of the Central. Section men who have never lived in Houston, switch tenders and station agents, who, not only have never lived in Houston, but who have actual domicile elsewhere, have been persuaded by the "lads" that they had a right to register and vote in Houston, and have done at his bidding.

Nor has it stopped here. Evidence has been obtained that then who had never even registered, in Houston come down on the special train on the day of election and voted upon other men's certificates. We are informed that seventy-five such voters came from Denison and Dallas. The original owners of the papers refused to come, but were prevailed upon to give them up to voters improvised for the occasion. An attempt was made in the first ward, where the bulk of this fraudulent vote was cast, to challenge these men, but the presiding judge not only refused to allow challenges, but also neglected to require men voting certificate to make out they were the men named and that they had not voted elsewhere, as the law plainly directs. It is also asserted by men placed to watch that those who voted at Hockley came down and voted also in the first ward of this city.

Now if you put it "Mexicans" instead of "Railroad hands," and William C. Atkinson, Atascosa County, Uvalde County, Maverick County and Mexico, instead of Denison, Sherman, Dallas, etc., you have it exactly, how the verdict of the people was manufactured in Bexar County.

THE LIBERTY.

Since the Republican party has been defeated, we have, as we stated before, made up our mind to bear the consequences of this defeat. We have nothing to deplore, nothing to take back; if we had to fight the battle of the last years over again, we would exactly do, as we have done.

We know that we have labored in the interest of our community and our State. We have advanced whatever we believed would contribute to the welfare of our people and have regardless of personal abuse and regardless of our own interest, exposed the evil. If the verdict of the people, according to democratic understanding, has been rendered against us, it does not prove that our principles were wrong or our intentions inimical to the country. The people are to often ready to shout the "Crucify him and to murder their own happiness. Whoever will tell us to respect the result of the election in Bexar County as the verdict of the people tells us to insult our intelligence, to acknowledge the right of overrunning the wealth and intelligence of a community by foul means.

But we acknowledge the fact that we have been beaten, as the frontiersman some time ago acknowledged that the Indian was the master of the situation. If accident had thrown us into the land of the Chinese, we would respect the laws of China and act accordingly. Now we are doomed to live under democratic rule and we shall act as we would in China.

But one thing we absolutely defy!

magnanimity, you perpetrate on us! We nor do we believe in magnanimous to deceive the people of the United States with this kind of hypocrisy. We know what we have to expect from you and are ready to meet it. But there is no action of ours that we need to be ashamed of, and if we have committed mistakes, none was so grave and fatal, that it deserves your magnanimity!

Spare us this infliction and treat us as we have a right to be treated and as we will treat you to treat us as free citizens of these United States.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,

December 9, 1873.

In order to ascertain when the terms of office of the incumbents of State and county offices will expire, it is first necessary to consider the inquiry of certain facts in order to have cause for confusion and uncertainty in the minds of those by whom it has been pronounced.

On inquiring I found it presented as though none of the present officers had previously to the inauguration of the Constitution by Congress on March 30, 1830, filled the offices they now hold as provisional officers. The period during which some of them held provisionally as military appointments and not as elected officers, by virtue of their election, cannot properly and fairly be computed as a part of the constitutional term of office. Had the constitution been accepted, it would never have been other than provisional officers holding at the pleasure of the General commanding, while those that were at the same time elected, but who did not receive military appointments, would never have been officers at all.

It must also be born in mind that the Constitution itself, by using the expression "beginning from the day of the election," has misled many, was through mistake printed and appended to the Constitution, and must not be regarded as a part of the fundamental law. It has erroneously been considered in full, though it was not directed by Congress to be submitted to the vote of the people, and in fact was not submitted and voted upon. It was rejected by implication, (as it was in force) by the act of Congress of April 10, 1860, and as so comprehensively construed to be inoperative. Above all, it shows on its face that its convenience in passing it transmuted its character, which were not submitted, but which only authorized it to frame organic laws.

Thus was added to representation in Congress by the Act of Congress of March 3, 1873 (16 U. S. Statutes at Large, p. 112) the 13th Amendment, which exclusively congressed itself that Declaration, and the 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, Marrowed Beyond Precedent.
As the effect of SOZDONT upon the whole economy of the Month, keeping the guns rosy and healthy, the teeth perfect order, giving to the breath a balmy fragrance.

"Feed Up."

What is the precise meaning of this familiar phrase when applied to signify an unnatural condition of body and mind? It means exhaustion, languor, want of vitality, mental apathy—a pitiful state of physical and mental helplessness. The best and in the end the only perfectly reliable panacea for a "used up" system is that most popular and potent of medicinal stimulants, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. No matter whether the health has been broken down by excessive labor, overeating, an insalubrious atmosphere, anxiety, irregularities in diet, dissipation, or any other cause, this powerful and pleasant vegetable restorative will soon recruit the drooping energies of nature, restoring the integrity of the nerves, and re-establishing that functional regularity which is essential to animal vigor and a hopeful frame of mind. As a cure for debility, in all its varied manifestations, Hostetter Stomach Bitters is unsurpassed by any tonic in the materia medica.
