The Homan Inquisition.

The Roman journals call attention to the fact that at the present time an institution called the "Italy Ro man inquisition" is extant at Bome. Strange as it may seem in the nine teenth defitors; such is the fact. It is asked who the government permits the society in question to carry on its operations, and the answer must be that it can not provient it. The power of the inquisition is now reduced to declaring that such a munion of the Catholic Church The Popula Romano writes on this subject t

"It is important to know that many people believe it an momaly that there should exist still in Rome this holy office of the Inquisitionthat Rome, where there is a Liberal staine, the presence of a Parliament, and where the purpose is in ruins. It would be an offense to believe that the civil authority can any longer tolerate with impunity this enormous abuse; and, in-deed, if the civil power should not intervene to protect the Roman citizens against the usurnations of the Church, which now believes berself in the full plentitude of her power, everyone would have a right to ask what Rome had gained in the way of liberty and human pro gress by the fall of the Temporal l'ower.

What the world knows Mr. Merriam is larely capable of knowing, and it is, therefore, possible that the illegal practices referred to in the resolution may have been an allusion to Mr. Cannon's Mormon proclivi ties It some lawyer had handled the case it is certain that precedents would have been cited to show that the House has on previous similar occasions refused to allow regularly accredited members accused of illegal practices to take their seats; but fortunately for Cannon the lawyers were on his side. Messra. Buttler, Cox, Hoar, Potter and others insisted that the prima facie evidence embraced in his eredentials should not be ignored. If Mr, Merriam had been lawyer enough to advance the suggestion that the four wived Mormon had taken the "endowment oath," which as legally established, proves him to be disloyal to the United States, a different aspect of the case would have been presented. The House would bave been presented. The House would then have been able to act intelligently, for its own protection, best brands.

THE coming Christmas does not promise to be one of unusual brilliancy. Although our stores fairly sparkle with pretty things, the domand for them is inferior to that of any of the previous years.

The pleasant weather continues. The last porther has cleared the air and the sun shines lustily spon our city. We have had no frost yet and consequently enjoy a green turf on the prairies and blosseming flowers in our gardens.

It is rumored that Mr. Peirce expressed himself as to the inconstitutionality of the last railroad election, and that the iron, telegraphed to be on the way to Toxas, is still in England, and not bought either Who knows?

PANCOST & SON have certainly the best assertment of scarfs and ties, the very best kid and dogskin gloves, and tine white shirts to be found in the City. The stock just received.

Our city rests peacefully after the late political struggle, almost too peaceful for a local. Business is improving. Last Saturday Communes Street was jammed by passing teams. How will it be when we hear the snort of the iron horse? No danger of that says public opinion. What FAIRE & TorioforMagas

"Used Up." "Veed Up."

What is the precise meaning of this familiar phrase when employed to signify an unnatural condition of body and mind? It meshs exhaustion, languor, want of vital energy, mental apathy—a pitiable state of physical and mental helplessness. The best and in fact the only perfectly reliable panacea for a "nsed up" system is that most pepular and potent of medicinal stimulants, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. No matter whether the health has been broken down by excessive labor, over-study, an insalibrions atmosphere, anxiety, irregularities in diet, dissipation, or any other cause, this powerful and pleasant vegetable restorative will soon recruit the drooping energies of nature, restoring the inteing energies of nature, restoring the integrity of the nerves, and re-establishing that functional regularity which is essential to animal vigor and a hepeful frame of mind. As a cure for debility, in all its varied manifestations, Hostetter Stomach Bitters is unapproached by any tonic in the materia medica.
