Judge Dibble's Statement.

The remarkably able and candid history of the Louisiana troubles, given by Hon. Henry C. Dibble, as found in our telegraphic dispatches to day, will be read with great interest by all good citizens throughout the Union.

We are very glad to know that a few persons who were disappointed in not getting the positions they wanted on the People's Ticket, have upon due deliberation, concluded to give it their support.

The Herald, noticing the fact that Mr. Martie Muench, one of the Democratic nominees for Alderman of the Fourth Ward, was not also nominated on the People's Ticket, intimates that it was because Mr. Muench is a well known and prosperous German.

The Herald thinks the People's Movement has neglected the Irishmen. That's funny. Among the important offices the Party has Irishmen for Collector and Street Commissioner and the People have Irishmen for Marshal and for City Attorney.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup. See Wood Tonic and Mandrake Pills. These deservedly celebrated and popular medicines have effected a revolution in the healing art, and proved the fallacy of several maxims which have for many years obstructed the progress of medical science.

The People's Mass-Meeting Postponed.
The People's Mass-Meeting announced for tonight in front of the Plaza House, has been postponed in consequence of the cold weather. The night will be too cold to ask people to stand in the open air.

Judge Dibble gives better advice than Gen. Sheridan.

At the last moment we learn that the Herald is not the ring organ. We apologize.

The Herald insinuates that the People's Movement is not friendly to the Catholics. Ridiculous! The Catholics, and all other Christian denominations, come to the Plaza House for fair dealing and fair reports whenever they are slighted by the Ring organ.

The reliance of the ring ticket is upon the Mexican vote. A great proportion of that vote is known to be illegal—and there is too much at stake in the present election to suppose that the tax-payers will quietly stand by and see this illegal vote cast against their best interests.

With the Germans, the Irish, the French, the colored people and a very large part of the Democracy, all on one side and the ring managers and the Mexicans only on the other side, nothing can be more certain than a victory of the People's Ticket over the Ring Ticket on Monday next.

The Herald is in a quandary. It sees the handwriting on the wall, in the defeat of the Ring ticket, and seeks to make fair weather with the People's Movement. Listen to the following from its issue day before yesterday:

We give to our readers the ticket selected by the meeting of citizens of San Antonio—a meeting at once numerous and influential. The people of this community now have two tickets to select from, or choose the one or the other as they may prefer. As to the result, we need assured that the people will select a good Board of City officers, whether they will select the one or the other.

This gives the fight up. It is an indirect admission that the People's Ticket will be elected.

The People's Ticket.

Every hour adds to the strength of the movement for the overthrow of a corrupt ring in this city. If it should be alleged by a law that the Ticket voted upon with which to best the ring candidates is not precisely to the liking of every voter who is opposed to the ring, we ask such to give a little thought to the situation of things.

The People's Ticket is at least free from all partisanship, and those placed upon it were put there for the purpose of reconciling conflicting, or rather, diverse elements—those engineering the movement knowing well that it is to defeat an organized oligarchy party, having its organs and other political appliances to work out its behests.

With the ring once defeated, no such necessity will exist to consult expediency in the formation of tickets in the future. But with the ring triumphant, what showing will the people have hereafter? At all, its edicts will be law—its favorites will be our masters. And that's just what's the matter. No, no! If the People's Ticket is not just what every one would wish it, it is because there was no time to make it better. It is a long way superior to the ring ticket, as is practically admitted by the ring organ; and for that and a hundred other reasons, it should be voted for on Monday, and triumphantly elected.

JUDGE DIBBLE'S STATEMENT.

HE REGARDS LOUISIANA AS NEEDING RE-RECONSTRUCTION.
NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 8, 1875.
Hon. Chas. Foster, Chairman Sub-Committee on Louisiana Affairs.
DEAR SIR:—It was my duty to appear before your Committee during its recent session in New Orleans as counsel for the State organization of the Republican party. In that capacity, I have endeavored to do what I could to present the strongest case for our side. You are aware also, that I have held, and now hold, office under the administration of Gov. Kellogg. In this relation I have consistently supported the State Government since its accession to power in 1872, and have done whatever I could to aid in such financial and political reforms, as it has been the policy of the Government to effect. Coexistent and conscientious in this course, I have no regrets to express, and no further explanations to make; but by looking at the situation in Louisiana as a higher standpoint than that indicated by my past relations to the Government; considering the troubled state of affairs not as a partisan but as a citizen of the commonwealth, I feel constrained to offer to your Committee the following suggestions:

It seems to me that Congress and the country at large will be unable to solve the problem presented by the Louisiana case unless they consider that everything that has occurred in this State since the election of 1872 has been revolutionary, utterly beyond the province of law, and in violation of those fundamental rules and principles which, under a Republican form of government, are within the purview of the Constitution of the United States.

In contemplating this question it will not do to lose sight of the extraordinary condition of political society in this State in 1872, resulting from the sudden change in the relations of the two races, and the somewhat crude and altogether partisan effort at reconstruction; an effort which was more or less a failure, because it contemplated the establishment of a government upon abstract theories, and lost sight of the actual, social, political, and economic surroundings. There existed at that time, as there has existed since the close of the war, a spirit of intolerance toward the blacks and toward the white Republicans. The intolerance, which often found its outlet in acts of intimidation, aggression and violence had produced its own result in the enactment by the Republican Legislature, elected under the reconstruction laws, of those harsh and oppressive measures, which have been generally and in most respects so justly condemned upon the public press throughout the country.

By these measures the Republican party had yielded to the Governor of the State a degree of power scarcely assumed by any sovereign in the world; and yet the passage of these laws was justifiable, in a degree at least, by the necessity of affording protection to the weak and unprotected blacks, whose political rights were constantly threatened by the powerful class and larger portion of the whites.

The governor, elected under the reconstruction laws, was, and continued to be, until his defection, the trusted leader of the Republican party, as represented in the General Assembly. Up to this time that he abandoned his affiliation he continued to have the unusual authority to which France adverted. Therefore, when he determined to nullify his political alliance with the opposition he took steps which made his accession valuable to them—his almost absolute executive powers.

The Republican leaders in this State and I among them, sincerely and truly believe that our party had a large majority in 1872, and that Gov. Kellogg and his associates on our State ticket would have been elected by such majority, had the election been fair and honest; but that they were actually chosen by the votes actually cast by a reduced majority. We charged them, and we have repeatedly shown to the Senate Committee that Gov. Warmoth, in alliance with the Democracy, by his unconstitutional and illegal appointment of officers, nullified the registration and election, so as to change and alter the result.

To crown all, when the election had closed, he attempted to pack the Returning Board, and to affect this and he overthrew the local judiciary by violence. These first measures and subsequent acts were beyond the law. They were revolutionary in the fullest sense of the term. It was during this period that I laid from the bench, while examining an issue which arose out of the disturbed condition of affairs, that "the ring ticket is not an American institution."

Since that time, surrounded as I have been by so much violence and wrong doing, I have some times lost faith in my government, but now, when I calmly and hopefully look to the future, and contemplate the time, when the Louisiana troubles shall be remembered by the American people only as a horrible dream, I still believe that I truly comprehend the spirit of our Republican government. Revolution and violence beget counter-revolution and after violence. Out of these efforts to strangle the voice of a majority of the people of the State sprang the extraordinary and not less revolutionary proceedings which resulted in the installation of the administration of Gov. Kellogg.

Had the first effort succeeded, there would have been established a Government by fraud and revolution. The second effort did succeed, and a Government was established by terrorism and the armed intervention of the power of the Federal Government. In this view, I believe, I am consistent, and I have never looked upon the existing Government in any other light than a revolutionary Government, recognized however by the President, by the House of Representatives of the United States, and by the Judiciary of the State. I believe its acts should have full force and effect, and personally I have rendered it cheerful obedience and support, because I conscientiously believe that it was the choice of a majority of the voters.

Passing now to the events of 1874, we find there were revolutions. The revolution and counter revolution which attended the election of 1872. During this interval of two years the administration of Gov. Kellogg carried on the government, making and executing laws, and to this government the Republican masses gave support, while the opposition yielded only a sullen obedience. A spirit of intolerance toward their opponents again began to manifest itself actively, which, as the period for a general election approached found expression in sincere and bitter hatred.

Gov. Kellogg and his associates have done whatever they could, but it was of no avail. They had reduced the taxes, they counted for nothing; they shocked indignant appropriations for private purposes, which had characterized previous assemblies; so thanks. They had carried on the government at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars less than it cost for a like period under other administrations; but still there was no less opposition and bitterness and hatred manifested against every one connected with public office.

All this demonstrates that in the experiment of establishing and maintaining a government over a people, there is but one alternative as to its form: You must establish an absolute government and enforce obedience and outward respect; or you must have the consent, express or implied, of the whole people.

A partisan press and designing politicians had so tarred and interpolated the facts attending the election of 1872 that I do not see the great majority of the opposition sincerely believed that Gov. Kellogg was not elected, and that he was in law and in fact a usurper; and so they cried, as with one voice, that "good could come out of Nazareth," refused to give credit, where the future will accord it.

This sullen discontent found vent in numerous acts of violence and bloodshed; notably, the massacre in Grant parish; the assassinations of Judge Crawford, and the district attorney of this court; disturbances in the Attakapas; the murders at Conshate; and the innumerable personal assaults and acts of oppression and intimidation against the blacks in different parts of the State.

Finally, this spirit of discontent was organized and manifested itself in a political military body, which took the name of the White League. This body fell under the leadership of more discreet and better thinking men, whose influence was sufficient to check in a great degree further instances of outrages upon the blacks; and the entire energies of the embryo army were systematically directed to the overthrow of the State government. The election was to be a simple right or wrong.

The night of Sept. 14th was unprecedented, but an accident or rather the incident of the seizure of certain arms prevented the opportunity, and the real purpose of the "League" was shown. The results of that day are historical and indeed only due to them.

The election approached. We were to select a House of Representatives and a Senate, and a State Treasurer. Should the opposition sweep every branch, they would then only have one thing to do, to call an Assembly, and one of the financial officers, but it soon became manifest that their intention to seize the entire government by some revolutionary means.

Now ask you, Sir, to consider with me the inquiry: Has Louisiana a Republican form of government? I answer, without hesitation, and unequivocally, "No!" The existing government is not the product of an election duly ascertained by regular process of law, but of a revolution, or rather of a counter-revolution set in motion to check another.

It is not my purpose to discuss that clause of the constitution, which gives to each State a Republican form of government, with the purpose to define such a form of government.

I will rest content with the suggestion that I have called the attention of Congress to the fact in one of the States the there is not a Government Republican in form.

What then is the duty of Congress? Our position is not dissimilar to that we occupied in 1867. The State was then reconstructed; let this process be repeated. Mayhap, with the experience we have had we can do better. We can scarcely do worse. I care not what plan may be adopted as long as we may have peace and order, full fairness, and equal justice for all. I have the honor, Sir, to be your obedient servant.

The Mind Dependent on the Body.
Hypochondria is a far more common malady than is generally supposed. It has its degrees, it is true, progressing from mental depression, or the "blues," to mental hallucination; but they are all forms of the same malady. It is a significant fact that this mental ailment is invariably accompanied by dyspepsia and nervousness, and the fact that it readily yields to the alternative action of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which are peculiarly adapted to the eradication of indigestion and nervous debility, proves that it originates in those complaints. It will thus be seen how dependent the mind is upon the body for the preservation of a cheerful equilibrium, and also how readily the causes of mental gloom may be removed. There is no sorer or pleasanter way of shaking off a fit of depression brought on by indigestion, than by swallowing a dose or two of this agreeable medicine.

In the Hands of Science all things become valuable by adaptation, and salutary by their application. Thus, Dr. J. WALKER has obtained from certain vegetable products of California, that have been trampled upon for centuries by the ignorant, the invaluable curative known as the CALIFORNIA VINOGRAPHER BITTERS, a medicine which is exciting the wonder of the community by its beneficial operation in the worst cases of Rheumatism, Palmsory Disease, General Debility, Congestion of the Liver, Constipation, Scrofula and Malarious Fevers.
