The Austin Statesman which reach-Richard Coke, and which he at-Richard Coke, and which he attempts to dignify by associating it Consensuation of Lungs Consensuation of Stomach Texas. We sat down to its permal Meningitie with the patriotic determination to give it a fair and candid analysis, and to publish the result to our Fermature Birth Unknown with the patriotic determination to Tri nd to treet it as the message of the de facto Governor of the State with all loyalty. The President of the United States was bethrowing the government of Texas, chosen by her people by a majority of fifty thousand. The heal and municipal officers throughout the State in sympathy with the infamous designs of these desperate and nasempulous revolutionists, taking sounge from the boldness of the leaders at the Capitol, were refusing to deliver over to their lawfully slected successors the offices in their possession. COKE, himselt, is a conspirator it up by charging these crimes upon others.

TEXAS is not Louisiana. Neither the Democrats nor the Republicans. of Texas are responsible for the wrongs of the men called by the same names in Louisiana. But Coke tries in his Message to plunge Texas into the same wortex of rev olution and ruin with Louisiana.

Gov. Davis never, during the whole four years of his admistration, pttered a word of party feeling. ich less hatred, in one of his messages. Coke's Message is brim-full and running over with the bitterest partizan and personal hatred.

COKE wants to curse the Galveston News, and other papers, and public men, for not obeying his tyranuical edicts. But he dare not do it, and be therefore pours out the poisonous slime of his spleen upon the Republicans.

Coxe has deliberately made his administration a White League ad, man point out one crime, of Sheriministration. He has given it that dan or anybody else, supported by character in his Message. No Republican in the State of Texas denied that Texas went Democratic at the last State election. But Gov. Davis' term of office did not end until April 28, 1874. Coke overthrew and usurped the government in the middle of January, after having admitted Davis' claim to office till April 28. The Presideut, boping to avoid further Southern complications, would not interfere. This was the beginning and cause of all the President's subsequent troubles in the South. Now, he is compelled to put down revolution, then mild, now rampant, Now we shall seek to prove the usurpation of Coke before, Congress. War to the knife with "Cokery," say we ...

Are these men "bandit ti," or are they not? Is Sheridan and a usurper, and he tries to cover right or wrong in so doing them? We ask the Austin Statesman if it is "crime" in the EXPRESS to oppose these men, or "crime" in the Statesman to support them? Unless the moral law can be changed at the behest of the White League Democracy, we are right, and the Statesman is wrong. We cannot yet give up the plainest principles and teachings of religious, civil and political truth because a large number of our fellow-citizens, whom we otherwise esteem highly, have been carried away by the infidelities of another Paris commune.
