THURSDAY MORNING, Mar. 2nd 1876
The San Antonio correspondent of the Galveston News does very great injustice to our Government in charging them with wantonly in the recent election, and hereafter. They are more independent, divide more between the two parties, and more frequently vote against their own countrymen than any other class of our citizens. They are not very strong partisans, because they are too honest and independent for that.

THE LETTER OF EX-GOVERNOR DEVIS TO A FRIEND IN WASHINGTON, IN REPLY TO FEDERAL OFFICE-HOLDERS IN THIS STATE, AN EXTRACT OF WHICH WAS PUBLISHED IN A TELEGRAM TO THE GALVESTON NEWS, AFTER OUR PUBLICATION OF WHICH WAS A VIOLATION OF PERSONAL CONFIDENCE. We do not approve the Governor's course in this matter, but we will not be his justice, as we will all other men. We hope he will consult his own dignity enough to let these squabbles alone. They cause dishonorable injustice to be done to his real merits and worth.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE SPEAKS OF HON. JOHN HANCOCK!
We have on all hands that the Texas delegation is one of the very best in the House. The Legislature just elected in Texas has elected a United States Senator, and we earnestly hope that the same man will make there an equally good one. Nothing could have been better for the good interests of the South and of the whole country, as well as for elevating the character of the Senate, than the late choice of Colonel James H. Rusk. Nothing could have been better for the good interests of the South and of the whole country, as well as for elevating the character of the Senate, than the late choice of Colonel James H. Rusk.

HON. BARTER FAYOR, says the Austin Statesman, is engaged in the conduct of a lawsuit, involving the title to a large body of land in Texas, now pending in the Federal court. Though eighty years of age, he is as vigorous, active, alert and alert as the more youthful and stout accomplished of our business men. It is in such men that the venerable lawyer wins most the admiration and affection of his auditors. He is a living encyclopedia of personal facts and anecdotes which should be gathered and preserved. The year and associate in Congress forty years ago of Henry A. Wise, has known personally and intimately the great man who shaped the fortunes of our country, and thus his memories bridge the grand chain that connects the present from the past in the laps of historical years. It is distinguished for his admirable social virtues, and wins friends in Texas everywhere, even as he is universally revered in Tennessee.

INCIDENTS OF THE BARBOCK TRIAL.
The fact in the Barbock case that was struck by the court not to converse with any one, not even with one another, about the evidence during the trial. They say that the Barbock case was fully obeyed that when they entered the jury room they were each utterly ignorant of the opinions of the others. Without a word of discussion, and without approval of each other's opinions, they took a vote by ballot, and they decided the fact that they were unanimous for acquittal. Not one of them was willing to convict on mere suspicion, based upon circumstantial testimony which involved no necessary implication of guilt.

The scene in the courtroom upon the announcement of the verdict of "not guilty" was one of the most exciting on record. The Globe-Democrat says that no sooner were the words uttered than a scene of confusion that baffles description ensued. Gen. Barbock's hands were seized and shaken by everybody who could get within reach of him, Judge Foster being the first in his congratulations. The crowd in the rear burst into a hearty shout of applause, handclapping and all other forms of enthusiastic expressions of joy were heard. The judges very wisely overlooked this very natural jubilation, and in a few moments the crowd recovered its self-possession. Judge Chester H. Krum then rose and asked that the defendant be discharged, and, on that order being made, and after the order for the discharge of the jury, Gen. Barbock and Judge Foster stepped forward and shook hands with each jurymen as they filed out, thanking each personally for the steady attention they had given to the case, and the manly manner in which each had done his duty. The eyes of both were wet with tears of joy, and the nation of both trembled as they endeavored to utter their gratitude. Mr. Storr stepped across the court-room to shake his client by the hand, looking calm and passionless, but out of his eyes there shone a light of triumph as of a victor surveying the field where he has but just conquered in a great fight. Col. Campbell, the father-in-law of Gen. Barbock, was there, too, looking happy again when the wicks of incense and the candles of justice had been kindled, and the people were interested in the result. At night a grand serenade and ovation were given to Gen. Barbock at his hotel. Col. Eshelby, a long since a Democratic candidate for Governor of Missouri, and a recent orator at the Houston Texas Fair, made the leading speech. Ex-Governor Reynolds, and gentlemen of all parties, joined in the testimonial.

WHAT ABOUT WEST TEXAS?
Rev J M Powell, New Haven, Mason County, West Virginia, writes a letter to one of the agents of our Immigration Bureau, making inquiries about the prospects in Texas for those who seek homes here. It is sent to us for an answer, which we give in the columns of the Express. Among other questions this gentleman asks the following:
"I wish to ask a few questions which I hope you will answer fully: Will ministers and members of the Methodist Episcopal Church be received into the best society of the best society? If I move there I want to enjoy social equality with all citizens. I want to live in the country where I am respected. I have long been a minister in the West Virginia Conference, M. E. Church, and such are respected, and to go into a country where it would be different, would be unpleasant. Texas is dear to me. I hope her soil sleeps the dust of my father and mother. Long have I had thoughts of returning there, but the war, the condition of society, the many cases surrounding me here, the burden of so long a move with a large family, have kept me here. Texas is my choice, but to go there under unfavorable circumstances will be embarrassing. We answer that in San Antonio and in Western Texas generally, no difference is made in society on account of religious creed or political opinions. Catholics and Protestants, and all denominations of the faith, live together on the best of terms. In the several Protestant churches, members coming from all sections of the Union heartily welcome and work together, and are glad of each others society, and help to politic the case in the same. In the most cities, judges, magistrates and other officers were chosen from the Republican party on their merits, although the Democrats were able to elect their whole tickets. In society here a man's politics never enter into the consideration of his personal worth. It is no other part of Texas is so socially as in the beautiful and fertile West, soon to be penetrated by railroads.

THE RUFF GORDON OF SEGUIN.
Mr. Gordon who was recently elected to the office of Sheriff of Guadalupe county, a position which he has held for a long time by the suffrages of the voters of that county, is represented to us by gentlemen in this city who know him as an excellent man, and every way "worthy and well qualified" for the office. He was a Confederate soldier, and left the army at the close of the war with a honorable record. But in the exercise of his functions of conscience and opinion which is the glory of the American Constitution to guarantee to every man, he holds to the principles of the Republican party, and this is effective in a ring of political bludge and persecutors in Seguin. They have labored for years to deprive him of the office in which he has been repeatedly and fairly elected, and which he has long and honestly maintained. They have had him removed, but the result has been that he has every attention bestowed in society. There is a Democratic majority. The matter has been taken in the Supreme Court and there decided in his favor. Now that he has been again elected, the old persecution has been revived. And notwithstanding all the charges made against him, he now goes, too far to make any honest man believe that there is anything the "partial" prejudiced in the matter. We propose to take a hand in the investigation of this case, without the least party bias, for we should do something if Mr. Gordon belonged to the other party, and we're treated in the same way. Had these persecutors lived at the right time they would have proved to their satisfaction that Christ ought to have been crucified long before he was. This case will send somebody to the United States Senate, yet, or keep somebody out.

Here is what the Seguin Times says about it:
While a good portion of the Democratic ticket has been elected in this county, the office of Sheriff is again to be filled by one who is not the choice of the intelligent people of Guadalupe. He is the standard bearer of the pro-segregation party, and his nomination is a disgrace to all that are honest. He is a man of no account, and his appointment is a disgrace to all that are honest.

The Market street engine house is receiving a new boiler of iron.

Professor Chapman left the city for Corpus Christi yesterday morning.

New Goods—Clothes and Ornaments of every grade and description—at Hilger's Merchant Tailoring establishment.

Yesterday was the first day of spring, and, being Ash Wednesday, was the beginning of Lent.

The members of the Mechanic's Social Club will meet at their hall at 7 o'clock this evening.

It is an item worth mentioning that no one now living will ever see the 29th day of February again celebrated at Marfil Grae.

Notice to order, cut and make in the latest styles, can be had on short notice at Hilger's Merchant Tailoring establishment.

We learn that one hundred convicts have been put to work repairing the defects of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio Railway.

Two large masquerade balls might be held, one at the Casino and another at Wolfgram's Hall, on the dancing season, this winter.

We received a call yesterday from Mr. G. W. Garrett, the newly elected District Clerk of Wilson county.

Mr. Ed. Headen will assume the proprietorship of his hotel, the Breakfast House, on the 1st of April, and is now making arrangements for cleaning up and remodeling the house.

General Tom Thumb and his troupe left the city this morning after a sojourn of three days in San Antonio.

March 1st, 1876, Joseph C. Fox died, infant son of Aaron and Mary A. Fox, aged 36 months and 19 days.

The funeral takes place at 10 a. m., March 3d. Friends of the family are invited to attend.

We learn that proposals are being invited preparatory to erecting a hall over on Market street Engine House.

The following were the county officers elected in Wilson county at the recent election: W. L. Washburn, County Judge; Q. C. Wilson, County Attorney; Geo. W. Garrett, District Clerk; A. G. The death of a woman, we learn from the best of authority, are caused by parties not really interested in the honest stock interests of that section, but penniless individuals whose aim it is to override the laws of the land and acquire wealth in the best way they can.
