PIRITUPONT SETS HIMSELY RIGHT. Attorney General Pierrepont writes to a member of the Judiciary committee that the Healston letter, urging caution in allowing fellow-conspirators to testify, was with the knowledge of Secretary Bristow, it the anguation of the Fresident, who was annoyed at the charges that favorites were allowed to escape for evidence which was worthless or unnecessary.

Pierrepont set himself to work to find out how the letter found its way into print, and came to the conclusion that, it must be found that it was a copy sent to the reat, and he received agent information which convinced him that it was go. Upon speaking to the rest on the subject, Upon speaking to the rest on the subject, he said he had no knowledge of the letter whitever.

Pirreport ascertained that Gen. Bab-

WHOLK COMMUNITY STARVING. London, March 7-The Palt Mall Ga zette's Copenhagen correspondent, writes that the mail from Ireland reports the 500 inhabitants of the West Manna Islands, a group lying to the south of Ireland and nging to Denmark, are actually dying of starvation.

The fisheries there last year were unsuccessful, and the inhabitants, fearing the feed would not last through the winter sent to Ireland asking for supplies. Small quantities of supplies were dispatched, only about a mouth ago however. A bot-tle was found on the coast of Ireland con-taining a letter stating that the supplies on hand were only adequate for one week and that fawine was inevitable. The dangerousness of the sea during the wist-ter months rendered communication with the West Manna Island almost impossible.

FERRICE AND FATAL FIRE.

New York, March 6—At about 5 o.clock this morning a fire broke out in the House of the Aged Sisters of the Poor, a large four-atory building, with two wings, at Bushwick Avenue and Chestant streets, Williamsburg. The fire originated at the second wing, and before the aged liminates of it were aware of its presence, the finance had made considerable progress. The panie was caused among the immates, who rushed hither and thither through the building until they became exhausted or sufficence from wake and, ank down. The police rendered years able assistance, and carried out a number of the green had been served on bill same part of the green had been served on bill same by the Russes and the make, so they went up to the roof, uttering plerings shrieks. The smoke and flames which shot up completely hid them from yiew. The firemen and police succeeded in rescuing all who were on the roof, but there were an ambers affected by the missing and farmantly killed. Jeremish Sullivan, 65 years old, was fatally injured by jumping from a window at kas same height.

The police and firemen at 3 o/clock had salve what had transpired in the runs.

Clymer replied that the Court had not protended to ask them any questions at all. They were to be examined before the Grand Jury. If the questions were to have been asked by the Court in the presence of the public, he might not have had so great an objection, but he and his colleagues felt that if they were to go before a Grand Jury whose prodeedings were necessarily secret, the fact would strike terror everywhere throughout the land, and would close all the avenues of testiand would close all the avenues of testi-mony to the House and its committees. Blackburn of Ky—'I am not surprised at the sormelines and servenness mantrasted by the gouthenan trong Blains. I did not jutend to charge that it was the purpose of the Executive to intimitate witninger, to throttle investigation or to witheres, to throttle investigation or to afford immunity to cuminals, but I did say that unless the gag process was stopped, the country would believe it too." (Applement of the Democratic side.)

Blaine—"What gag process?"

Blackburn—"It has been given forth to the fountry that the need given forth to the fountry that the committee connived at the absordment of an important witness, against the protest of the Republican members of the committee. It is needless for me to say that the charge is false. I only wonder that these Repubis false. I only wonder that these Republican incubers alleged it to go ent on their own authority without contradiction."

He then went on to argue that it would be impossible to convict the late Secretary of War, or any other Cabinet officer, except by the testimany of accomplices, and yet the House with now to be told that an accomplice should not testify before a committee except at his own peril, He intimated that the exclamation, "Let no guilty man escape," would be a construed by the country to mean, "Let no man escape who tion, "Let no guilty man escape," would be construed by the country to mean, "Let no man escape who darm to tell on those who are he authority." He warned the House that the voluminous investigations that were now progressing would be stopped, and that it would be utwest impossible to carry their further with success unless there was a declaration that the testimony of the witnesses should not be used against them. Lamer - There should not be any exil-bition of party feeling or excitement in the presence of such solemn events as were throwing their shadows over the House It seems to me that the voice of factions should be hushed. I regard this facetoms should be hashed. I regard this mandate, or summons, or subpoens, issued to members of a committee by the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia as an oddrage on the privileges of this House. I do not say that the object of the Court was to hash or to suppress the investigation of the case, but regard it as a violation of the privileges of the House for a court to issue a summons to a member, ordering him to bring along with him the records of the House, and to remain in court, and not to depart, until allowed to do so by the Court or District Attorney."

Blaine—Does not the geutleman from Mississippi see, and does not the whole country see, that having possession of all the evidence on which an indictment can be found, and having in its possession be found, and having in its possessiyn every paper in the case, the House puts itself behind its technical privilege, and throws itself across the indictment of Belkunp, and that to day it stands as the obstacle, and the sole obstacle, to the indictment of the late Secretary of War."

Lamar—"Neither the gentleman from Mississippi, nor the country, nor the gentleman from Maine, were suy such thing."
Blaine—"It is anything but that."
Lamar—"It is anything but that."
The question is simply whether this House will permit the records to be at the beek and call of a District Court. [Mississippi goodd have the last word. Ed.]

We make a few extracts, as they show that the opinions of the Expanse in relation to this matter nave been well founded, although we had no light but our own judgment : THE MARSHAL'S OFFICE.

Reporter—I have been informed that you determined some time ago to resign the office of Marshal. Is is so?

Judge Evans—I had business that took me to Washington about the latter part of December, and kept me there till a few days age. I could not conscientiously hold the office and stay away from the scene of my duties, and therefore resigned. Moreover, the office does not pay, and there is no inducement to hold it as a means of support. neans of support.

Judge E—He is an old friend of Morgan amitton, and a man who suffered for his pinion in the late civil conflict. He held it true to the end, and deserves reward Laby one does. He was highly induced for the position by Texans, Jadge McCor mick among the number. Mr. Phillips in a good man, not a politician, and I think he will be a capable Marshal.

he will be a capable Marshal.

B.—He was your choice, was he not?

Judge E.—He was. I have known him for many years, and can commend him.
He hald office by appointment from Andrew Johnson, and on the accession ofGrant to the Presidency was removed, not for any special reason, but on general principles that actuate each new administration to make a clean secon. He has tration to make a clean sweep. He has stood by the party in the State neverthe-less, and has therefore some just claim to patronage.

THE DISTRICT ATDENSYSHIP.

R—Was it through Hamilton that Baldwin was nominated for Boyle's position?

Judge B—Boyle belongs to the Dayle wing, which amuses itself on all occasions and at this, that and the other meeting in crying "out with the ins," and passing resolutions high seunding with their arms of elegant designation. Plumly and others have a hand in these proceedings. Now, the authorities whom they. Boyla, et als., have been trying to impress with the necessity of removing the 'lns' have simply concluded to fell w this advice and just remove Mr. Boyle. The latter is merely getting a dose of his own medicine. Hamilton believes that Baldwin is the better man of the two for the win is the better man of the two for the position; that he is possessed of the right kind of ability and deportment in a more eminent degree, and that he was removed unjustly to make way for Boyle.

In that sity who is 113 years old:

**Re-The removal of Boyle would score another triamph for the-anti-Davis wing, in addition to the configuration of Philips. Would this not be a rebuke to the opponents of the "inst"

Judge E—With all this outery against Shishle Sabin and myself, hew does the case stand? Why, a letter from Rabin at Washington would have more weight than one from any Republican in Texas. So they have confidence in Shishle. No post-office sends its accounts up in retter shape or with more regularity than does that of Galveston. The Collector is straight in his accounts. The question at Washington is not as to how much of a political a such a Federal office-holder is; but the abetting any fraud? The departments that the shetting any fraud? The departments that the shetting any fraud? The departments the shetting any fraud? The department that the shetting and the shetting any fraud? I had seven brothers are all seven brothers, but they are all dead but they are and sreate assurance at Washington and among the great party leaders generally.

TOM SCOTT'S SCHEME.

Tom Scott's scheme is about this : to grab enough land in Toxas to make a fine State, and to get a subsidy from the Gov- ranches and immense herds. We see it ernment that would altimately cost the tax-payers of the United States four or five hundred millions of dollars. This is the scheme—the land grab from Texas, and drive. Austin, as well as San Antonio, has been greatly aroused by the movement to push the International railroad fornus, to the capital, and thence to San Ansonio. Not many months ago, the Express, in view of the early completion of the Pierca seilroad to this city, urged that narrow gauge railroads be built as soon as possible to Boerne, Kerrville, Pleasanton, and other points. We. believe that such roads, not costing heavily, to the various centers of fine. country, connecting much of the West with the Plerce railroad at San Antonio, would be the beginning of a great era of development in all West Texas, and make the fortune of this city. It appears that the Austin people are pessessed of the same idea in regard to their city. The Statesman seems a little alarmed, and says that it would be a very easy thing for the International rallroad company to push, their road as far as Flag Spring, where they have purchased the ground for a depot, and establishing another such trading post as Rockdale has been, divert all the trade of the upper country from Austin, and hold it there until the expiration of the time at which they are bound by their charter to reach that city, (some time in 1878) unless the Austin people offer them a bonus as they were compelled to do in the case of the central road. It does not say they will, but if the Lampasas Narrow Gauge was run out a few miles they could do it if they wanted to. The Statesman also says that one hundred thousand dollars subscribed to the narrow gauge railway from there toward Lampasas would secure the building at once of twenty-five miles of the road, and would secure the trade of the whole upper country to that city. It does seem that it ought not to be difficult, especially when such stock would in all probability, be a paying

A WONAN 113 YEARS OLD.

A reporter of the Washington Repubhean has found an old colored woman In that city who is 113 years old :

she has been confined to her bed, and complained of not feeling as well as she used to. "You are pretty old aunty?" "Yes, I am a hundred and thirteen or fourteen, I slon't know which." She continued rocking to and fro, clasping her knees nervously, and muttering and carooning to herself. In answer toquestions she said, accompanying every statement with incoherent seniences as if in revery, "I've had ten children, but they are all dead but two. PALESTINE. Sir. Moses Monteflore, now in pose of collecting information relating to the actual condition of the Jewish inhabitants of the Holy Land, as to their capability and inclination to engage in mechanical and general agricultural pursuits. The report (the London Times says) is now published, with a letter to Sir Moses from the lending Rabbis of Jerusalem, in which they refute the charges of disinclination to work of the Jews of Jerusalem while there was a possibility of obtaining sufficient charity to enable them to live. It is known that, in order to give a refutation to these charges, Sir Moses Montemission to the Holy City and remission to the Holy City and report on his observations. From the New York Herald] We feel deeply with the South-ern people in their troubles. We have done all in our power to help a genuine work of reconstruction. The Southern States have the elements of a great empire. In another generation this war need be no more of a memory than the disease of infancy to the strenuous, lusty flore determined to undertake a man. The South can never be equality they can win the negroes. Common sense would also teach that where there is a large negro population—in South Carolina, Louisiana, Mississippi, where the negro is in the majority-the part of wisdom is to recognize the negro. willingness to assist. All that would have been gained, even from the Republican point of view, would have been nothing compared with the disasters that would have followed. It would have been dis integration, the begining of what we have seen in the Republics of South America—the pronounciamento superseding the ballot. The people of New York, even Republi cans, saw that it was far better to bear the ills they had than to fly to others they knew notion—the evils of repudiation and revolution.

THE MASSACRE OF PRISON ERS AT GIDDINGS.

Below we give the testimony of the jailor of Lee county in regard to the execution of prisoners con-fined in the Lee county jail, on the sixteeth of February:

"I am jailor for this county. Beverly Shaw, commonly catted Pet Shaw, the man hero lying shot dead, was in my custody as a prisoner yesterday and last night till between twelve and one o'clock. At about that time I heard footsteps and I jumped up to the window. Just as I got to the window a man called me by name. I answered and ask him who he was; he told me his name was Jenkins, from Burleson county, with a prisoner he wanted to lock up in jail; that he was very tired. I told him I had been looking for a mob there and did not wish to open the door. He insisted that I should; said I knew him; that he had met me in FRESH FLOUR FROM Houston and went from there to Huntaville with me. I told him I reccollected going with Jenkins but I could not recognize his voice nor could I recognize him in the dark, and told him I did not like to open the door unless I could see all around the house. He then declared that he was all right; that there was no one about except himself and his prisoner and guard. I then told him that I would open the door. I went down carrying a lamp which I set on the steps, and opened the door, and the first man that stepped in I found was not Jenkins, and then I knew that I was sold out. Four or five men rushed immediately in. I looked at them but did not know them ; told them that I would recollect them for this herealter; only one man was disguised that I soticed; he had a white handkerchief tied over his face. I had the key in my hand and was backing out to put the key in a barrel in the hall, but they surrounded me and saw the key and took it from me. They told me to be quiet, that they did not intend to hurt me; I told them I knew they did not. They told me to unlock the door; I replied to them that I would not; that they might kill me, but could not make me unlock the door. After they had caught me, my wife came down and thought the would come out and give the slarm; they stopped her and made her go back; told Iftook her by the arm and led her right behind me with a shot gun They then opened the door; I could not see them to do it but heard the click of the lock. After I got up stairs I was airaid they would take out the men they were after and leave the door open, se that the others would get out, and I said to them not to leave the door open. The man that had held of me replied "we want five men." I heard them ask David Wilkenson (I think they had him in the hall at the time) if he thought he could be a good boy hereafter-he told them that he could and that he had always been a good boy. They told him to go back. I heard no-
