THE STORY OF A LONG AND VERY SUCCESSFUL CAREER BEFORE THE FOOTLIGHTS.

as Barney Williams, the Irish com. edian, died yesterday of paralysis, in his home at 41 East Thirty.eighth street. He was born in Cork on the 19th of June, 1824. His father was a Sergeant in the British army, and after his death Mrs. Pfaherty and her two sons and three daughters emigrated to New York, Bern ard was then six years of age. Mrs. Flaherty's sons began very early in life to earn their own living. Bernard ran errands for Washing. ton Market dealers, and subsequently became an erraud boy in the office of the Courier and Enquirer when Col. James Watson Webb was editor of that journal- In 1836 he ran errands for the management of the Franklin Theater, and in time became an usher at $5 a week. During his employment in the theater he learned a number of negro songs and dances, and in them he soon exhibited himself in saloons, and finally in Vauxball Garden in the Bowery. As he approached man bood he played utility in both the Franklin and the Chatham Theaters, under the name of Barney Williams, and was intrusted with frish characters. In these he showed ability, and was at length allowed to play Pat Rooney, the leading character in the farce of the "Om nibne." From that time he took a good position in the profession, and in March, 1845, he appeared in the old National Theater, Philadelphia, as Mad Sampson in "The Heroic Struggle of 1776." In August, 1845, Barney Williams returned to this city and became, manager of Vauxball Garden, and while he was manager there Dan Bryant made his debut as a boy negro dancer. Not finding alti-mate success in Vauxhall Garden, Barney drifted back to the Chatham Theater, where Miss Maria Kath. leen Pray was in the ballot. was soon married to Charles Mes. tayer, and after his death returned to the Chatham, and became popular as a fancy dancer and second soubrette. In 1850, Barney was to religion. Their conduct since still in the company, and Joe Jefterson was the low comedian. The Directors elected were C. Elmendorf, H. B. Adams, J. H. French, R C. Norton, J. F. Minter, G. R. Dashiell, F. C. Haneisen, Wm. Herman, and P. J. Beisenbach.

-Day before yesterday we saw Mr. Kirby, from the Medius, in this county, deposit at Mr. Meyer's grocery store, on Soledad street, as fine a lot of El Paso onions as we have seen for a long time. They are very large, weighing about a pound each, are well formed, and very white. These are the first of the season we have seen. We saw also a large quantity of buffalo meat, the finest lot we have seen in San Antonio. A short time since we met the warrons of the hunters who had taken and cured it. They were bringing in a lot of 10,000 pounds. We have eaten considerable of it, and find it fresh, sweet, and juicy, whether eaten raw, or broiled

A FIGHT-A MAN SHOT AND KILLED.

PLEASANTON, May 3, 1876. This morning abou; 7 o'clock a shooting affray took place between J. H. Smith and Miguel Laremo, a Mexican or negro. The latter received two wounds, from the effects of which he died at 9 o'clock.

It seems that Laremo was intoxicated and in ne good humor with anybody, in which state he went to Smith's saloon using very rough and abusive language to Smith. He was ordered out of the house, and after going out, drew his pistol, but Smith, being armed, was too quick for him, and fired first. Laremo fell, but as Smith walked off, he fired. Smith fired another shot, as did also Laremo. Neither of Laremo's shots took effect, while both of Smith's dld, the one in the left knee and the other lu the neck. This last was the shot that killed him. Laremo had two pistols, and is said to have been a very dangerous character, Smith will be examined to-day.

A WOOL GROWERS' ASSOCIATION.

San Antonio, May 2nd, 1876. EDITOR EXPRESS :- It has been said that association is the genius of the age. Among the many associations, of one kind or another, around us, there is at present a great necessity for an associyet resigned the duties of the office at ation in the interest of the wool growers Waco, but will do so on her return. She of Western Texas. Now, when I speak will leave the city on Saturday, to close of an association in the interest of the wool growers of this section, I do not mean an association to be formed or conducted in antagonism to any other interest or any other class; but I mean an We have said everything that we intend association to advance and promote our own interests by a systematic effort to improve the products of our flocks. also mean one that will improve the present mode of handling, assorting and classifying our wool so as to relieve us of that bad reputation which the wool of Western Texas has, when placed on the market in competition with the product from other flocks in States, where more > care has been given to properly prepar ing it for market. There does not seem to be any dispo sition on the part of the few wool buyers in San Antonio te make such distinc tion between wool of the same quality put up in good clean condition, or put up in Mexican style, with tags and dirt enclosed, so long as it is free from burrs, and they can "bear" the market and buy we cannot look for much encouragement interested in elevating the character and reputation of our wool abroad, and raising its value in the market at home. thus giving the producer a more liberal price, some action and co-operation among ourselves seems absolutely necessary. The wool crop of this country is fast looming up in importance, and will soon be second to no other interest, and for one I should be glad to see some steps taken toward the formation of a wool growers' association here in San Antonie. Thus those in that interest could, by consultation and the interchange of opinions Mrs. Norris speaks in great praise of the as to the best mode to remedy existing evils, advance our class interests, de something to elevate the character of our wool, and have it come into market in such condition as to give us better prices at home and better credit abroad. It is not my purpose to enter into discussion of the many questions of importance that would be of interest to such an association, and would, from nance agency. New York, or at the Ordtime to time, come up for consideration and discussion. I only wish to gall attention to it, and express the hope that some of our large flock owners will call a meeting of those interested with a view to an organization.
