> THE MUSTANG RACE IN NEW YORK.

This race, which was begun, but not finished, on account of bad weather, we believe, is as interesting to Texians as to Californians, although the New York papers speak as though the mustang were peculiar to the latter State, so far as our country is concerned. The mustang, however, is as peculiar to Texas as the buffalo. The New York Herald says that the thirty horses will deserve less credit than the one man, Francisco Peralto, who has undertaken what is, even for a Californian, a severe ride. THE LIBERAL INDEPENDENTS.

The Liberal Republican Independent who met in Conference at New York a short time since, have been protty severe ly handled by the party press on both sides. We are surprised, however, at the New York Revald, a strictly independent paper, for ridsculing independence in pelitics, while maintaining it in journalism. It says that Mr. Schurz, long a favocite and popular etump speaker on the Republican side, was rewarded first with the mission to Spain, then with a high command in the army, and was elected Senator from Missouri when so large a proportion of the Missouri Democrats were distranchised that the Republicans had a majority. When his Senatorial had a majority. When his Senatorial term was half out and the disfranchisement of the Democrats was removed, giving them control of the State, Mr. Schurz broke with their Republican party, of which he was so distinguished and honored a member, losing its favor and yet falling to be re-elected by the Domocrats. So he is out of public life and diseatished with both political parties. Mr. John Jay has been a galous Republican, was appointed Minister to Austria, had a falling out with the administration, and now appears in this conference as a member appears in this conference as a member from New York, Mr. David A. Wells wab nurtured as a Republican, gained great distinction as Commissioner of Internal clace, ran this spring as a Democratic in sympathetic company. Quite a proportion of the leading spirits in this affair have their grievances, but would, nevertheless, be glad to return to the Republiean communion if they could do so or terms that would save their pride.

SHEARING SHEEP.

Now is the time(15th of May) to clip the fleece from sheep. If it is done earlier in this climate, the chilliness and break winds incident to our spring months, lessen the vital forces so much that various diseases and parastes are ant to afflict the animal. In clipping the wood from the sheep, care should be ta-ken not necessary to bruise or injure them in handling them, or by worrying them before they are caught. A good table of proper height for a man to stand erect is the best upon which to place the animal while undergoing the clipping process. Not unfrequently by awkwardness, the limbs are drawn out of position so far as to inflict severe pain, and sometimes, permanent lameness. This should never be tolerated.
