THE KENTUCKY REPUBLICANS.

KENTUCKY REPUBLICANS.

Louisville, Ky., May 18.—The Republican State Convention met here today. Hon. Walter Scott, of Louisville, called the Convention to order. Gen. John A. Flanigan, of Covington, was made Temporary Chairman. Hon. James Speer, Attorney General, and Lincoln, were selected as permanent Presidents of the convention. The proceedings were large and the proceedings orderly.

The platform reaffirmed the adoption of the principles of Kentucky to the principles of the party.

The declaration of principles speak: First, for the fulfillment of all promises by the Nation to the soldiers and sailors who fought for the Union; second, thorough treachery and most rigid economy in all departments of the public service; third, such reform in the civil service as will prevent the prostitution of public stations to selfish ends, and make honesty and capacity indispensable qualifications for all offices; fourth, men in office who are honest, and have the courage to fight corruption; fifth, reputation in all its forms, is a national crime; sixth, the payment of the public indebtedness, according to the letter and spirit of the contract; seventh, a speedy return to the money of the Constitution—gold and silver; eighth, opposition to any readjustment of a return to paper payment, before the time has fixed; ninth, the reduction of taxation as rapidly as the public service will permit; tenth, the common school, and opposition to all schemes which tend to place it under other than popular control; eleventh, equal rights before the law of all citizens.

The following section was read amid great applause, hand-shaking and hat throwing: "As Kentucky gave Abraham Lincoln to his country and to mankind, for the great work performed by him, she now presents Ben. Harrison to complete the correction of all her errors incident to war. His past conduct in collision with our friends of his future course. He has been true to republican principles in war and peace, ever manly, calm and courageous, and deserves every disbursement of his country. His persistent and successful warning against corruption deserves the thanks of all friends of honest government. In this presenting and commanding our fellow-citizen to the Republican National Convention, we are not unmindful of the distinguished services and worth of other Republicans. We trust the Cincinnati Convention will present as candidates men whose allegiance to party has been proved and who have the moral courage to enforce the laws."

The Committee on resolutions recommended and the Convention elected the following delegates:

State at large: John Marion, of Louisville; W. C. Gendee, of Lexington; W. H. Wadsworth, of Mayfield, and Robert Boyd, of the Mountain District. Two delegates from each of the ten Congressional Districts were then elected. All are of one choice.

A SWATHING REPORT.

CENTRAL UTAH.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—The House Committee investigating the affairs of the Freedmen's Bank made their report to-day, in which they say that institution degenerated into a monstrous scoundrel, and was, almost from the start, merely a scheme of sedition under the guise of philanthropy, and to its confiding victims, an impudent body of false pretenses, in addition to speculating rings. The district of Columbia Government came in to profit by the work of apportionment. Its treasury was wholly unequal to the task of sustaining the magnificent expenditures of the Board of Public Works, provided over by H. D. Cooke and controlled by A. R. Shepherd. Some exchequer must be found to sustain depreciated bonds and worthless Auditor's certificates of the District, or the contracts given out and the speculation of the pool and of Shepherd and his friends in unimproved towns, goes some to grain. The actual proof of improper conduct on the part of officers and agents of the bank is shown in the testimony of Washington's Cable, consisting of the president of the bank, D. L. Eaton, the attorney, H. D. Cook; Chairman of the Finance Committee, Wm. L. Huntington, and headman of Cooke and of the same committee; O. G. Howard, honorary-leader, an office and position unknown to the charter; Lewis Creppan of the Finance Committee, and a few more enough to constitute a sufficient crew, a majority of the five thousand carnival on the freedmen's hard-earned and sweat-stained earnings, which in an evil hour had been snatched into trusting them with for safe keeping and profitable investment. The freedmen were swindled out of their money for the benefit of strangers, while the leading hypocrites of nefarious ventures, if the who had deceived them under various pretences of regard for their race and who have undoubtedly swindled the people to whom they are answerable. The Board of Public Works, the Board of Education, and the Board of Health, were also involved in the same

J. W. Vandenburg was a pet of the District Government, as a sort of protege and favorite contractor for grand public improvements planned and put into execution by the Board of Public Works. The report says that the securities on which Vandenburg borrowed money from the bank were not worth four cents a bushel as valuable securities or an evidence of debt. The attorney of the bank himself, Eaton, was induced to accept as a gratuity from Vandenburg a half interest in a $100,000 contract for sewer pipe. Eaton put in no money of his own, incurred no risk or responsibility, and had no trouble about it except to sign the receipt for his share of the profits, but he used the influence of his position to get Vandenburg a paper at the bank counter, and the money thus obtained was used to carry out the contract in which he was interested as a beneficiary. This may not be a steal, but at Vandenburg still loses the bank according to the exhibit made by the books of that concern $144,164—which, however, he disputes on the ground that some $40,000 or $50,000 of his securities have been disposed of, and no credit given him, the rest being hardly worth a cent about—the freedmen depositors have the consciousness of knowing that they have been fleeced by an irregularity to use a polite and exemplary phrase, employed by the present Commissioners when compelled to allude to the malfeasance of their predecessors in the management and control of the affairs of the bank. But the commissioners say the Vandenburg-Eaton irregularities are small in actual criminality compared with the Seaman Banditry. The bubble was a fancy steel-gazing concern, gotten up by H. D. Cooke, John L. Kidwell and H. H. Dodge, by which $62,000 shares of the platinum were drawn out of the freedmen's good money, and the pieces were drawn out on worthless securities. Every one of the sharers, in this gross fraud and conspiracy, namely: Henry D. Cooke, Louis Clephane, Hallett Milbourne, and J. O. Evans, should be indicted, tried and punished to the extent of the law, while those who are peculiarly responsible should be sued for the recovery of the money or good securities constituting in part of $20,000 first mortgage bonds of the Maryland Freestate Mining and Manufacturing Co., of which the bank was robbed by the conspirators. G. W. Scott, the attorney, and Eaton, the attorney of the bank, are shown to have been not only guilty of the crooked transactions, but principle actors in others, of which a fraudulent conversion of funds to their own private use, is one for which he merits and should receive punishment. Add to the steal perpetrated on the bank by the officers and others through the connivance of its officers, the act of forgery, as in the case of the Boston teller of the Washington branch, and the way the freedmen's money went is not difficult of comprehension.

The report was signed by Meigs, Chairman; Bradford, Stenger, Hiddle, Hooper, and Rainey. Mr. Frost agreed to all the main points, but disagreed from some of the arguments.

A STORY THAT OUGHT TO LIVE FOREVER.

China's new London Envoy.

There comes to us from a Western district a story on the details of which a Brigadier or a Colonel John Hay would frown. The other day a gang of laborers were unearthing stonking blocks of stone on a permanent way of the Great Western Railroad, between Keynsham and Bristol. In fact the operation of stone stacking was carried on within a few yards of the Bridgeman tunnel. It was at the time of day when the most wonderful express train by the world, called the "Flying Dutchman," was passing, and a stone accidentally fell down the embankment and lodged on the railway line. At this instant the rear of the "Flying Dutchman" was heard in the tunnel. There was not a moment to lose, so swiftly down the bank sped one of the brave masons to remove the stone and save hundreds of innocent lives, or perish in the attempt. The India white family of four, he never thought of saving. His life was in all danger but he never thought of the Indian. The stone, however, continued to roll down the embankment and lodged on the railway line. At this instant the rear of the "Flying Dutchman" was heard in the tunnel.
