WEATHER ON RAMPAGE AT LAZBUDDIE--Again Monday, the Lazbuddie area received varying degrees of crop damage from a rampaging hailstorm that dumped large amounts of golf ball sized hail and heavy rain in an afternoon thunderstorm. The corn shown here was east of Lazbuddie in an area that was especially hard hit.

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday said Texas cities shared $268.9 million in rebates from the one-percent city sales tax during the first eight months of this year.

Lazbuddie Longhorns In Practice

Lazbuddie area football fans will have a chance to see the 34 Lazbuddie Longhorns in action in pre-season today (Thursday) at Lazbuddie, when the scrimmage with Wilson at 5 p.m.

Football coach Dewayne Sexton has high hopes for his team this year, citing their experience, good size and quickness as pluses.

"The team could be real good," he commented Monday afternoon.

The coach said they have a lot of starters back, and expects the large, already experienced players to make a difference when they take to the field in their first game on September 7.

He will be depending a lot on quarterback, Andy Rogers; Stefan Moore, center; guards Keihm Smith and Joe Gonzales and tackles, Reggie Treider and Rob Stanley.

On the team are 11 seniors and six juniors, most of them with good size. Coach Sexton explained that only two boys in high school at Lazbuddie are not football players, so he expects not only a good year this year, but other good players coming up.

Three Way Eagles Getting Ready For Good Season

Head football coach Pat Risinger, from Three Way, figures his Three Way Eagles will have 'an even chance this year for district honors; except for their yearly 'thorn in the side' -- Cotton Center.

Coach Risinger explained that Cotton Center was second in the state last year, and again this year will have a powerhouse back who is expected to deal some misery to the Eagles.

Coming off a 5-4 season last year, the coach expects the Eagles to have a very good chance this year.

He said he would like to extend an invitation to all Three Way football fans to come out Friday August 31 at 6 p.m. to the football stadium and see the Three Way-Whitharral scrimmage.

Lazbuddie Reels Under Hailstorm

It was same song, second verse, or third verse, or fourth verse in the Bailey and Parmer County areas Monday afternoon when towering thunderheads built up, depositing large amounts of rain and hail estimated to be at least golf ball size in the Lazbuddie area.

By mid-afternoon Monday, the clouds in the northwest had built to a towering height, and passed over Clovis, leaving hailstones estimated to be an inch in diameter before moving into Parmer County.

As the cloud moved across Parmer County, it gained momentum and from west of Clays' Corner, in a strip all the way east to the Flagg highway, the cloud dumped heavy amounts of hail, and gushing rain.

Demp Foster, at Foster Fertilizer, some three miles east of Lazbuddie said he had not seen such a devastating hailstorm since 1949 or 1950. He said it was like wintertime as the hail was so thick.

He commented, "It fell so hard we couldn't see the road."

According to the businessman, water ran down the ditches in front of Foster Fertilizer in such a torrent it filled up the pit to the grain scales.

Steve Foster said he lost six windows from his house during the storm and other people reported broken windows and roof damage from the hailstorm.

Some estimates had the hail ranging up to larger than golfball size and said it was still four to eight inches deep some two hours after the storm went on to the east.

Some farmers had a complete loss of cotton, corn and soybeans and others on thousands and thousands of acres had lesser damage to their crops.

Letters To The Editor

8-19-79

Dear Mr. Editor:

I am a tired American. Tired of being subjected to the phrase "poor people". Tired of the trite expressions of abused "minority". Tired of being overtaxed to support people who are too lazy to get out and do an honest day's work but will spend all their efforts to drain extra bucks from your pocketbook and mine. I am a tired descendant of Cherokee and Choctaw blood; therefore, if any minority has claim to make it would be from my people.

What I have to say can be said better by a very gifted mother of two, grandmother of three, professor at a Christian College, affectionately called, Mrs. "O" (Mrs. Louise Oldham) from her August 15, 1979 column 'The Now and Then':

"Somehow in our American society we have come to think that being poor is some kind of virtue. We have been trained into thinking that if one is poor he is always mistreated. If he is poor he is honest or does the right thing. On the other hand, we have fallen into thinking if a person is rich he must automatically be also bad in some way, cruel or noncompassionate. We just assume that all rich take advantage of the poor and suppress them. We feel compelled to extend pity to the 'poor' regardless of the cause of their situation. If one is poor he is to be excused, pardoned, 'let get by', or what-have-you. Now there are exceptions to all this. Some people don't feel this way at all. Yet, the thinking of America goes in this direction. We have been brainwashed into believing we should feed the poor and give him what we have even if we know when he gets his stomach full he will come and shoot us or take from us the rest of what we have. We have this crammed down our throats every day concerning feeding the poor and starving in Communist countries. Why? So they can grow into a great army and scatter their vile teachings all over the world! You know, that is pretty dumb for us to fall for that.

"Well, being rich does not make a man or woman bad, any more than being poor makes him or her good. Actually, whether a person is rich, poor or in-between doesn't really have anything to do with whether he is good or bad, honest or dishonest, lazy or ambitious. Some of the best people in the world have come out of violently poor homes. Also, some of the best people have come out of multi-millionaire homes. The same is just as true for those who are bad people, they come from every economic stratum. Being poor or rich does not make one bad or good. Anyone who uses that excuse is doing just that...excusing.

"No place in God's Word did Jesus condemn the wealthy for being wealthy, nor did He extol the poor for their poverty. This is a badly misunderstood and misinterpreted portion of the Holy Scriptures. "It is foolish indeed to reproach one's self for having, just as it is evil to feel proud because one is poor. Let us teach our children the truth of this lest they become ensnared by its very false premise of common acceptance." I trust this will be of help to those who have been thinking along the same lines that I have. I know what poor is. I have lived in a chicken house after cleaning out the manure. But I had a mother that taught me to use my hands to make my daily bread.

She also taught me to pay my own debts. She pointed out to me that most of my poverty would come of my own making. She quoted: "A willful waste will bring a willful want." I am proud of America. I am proud that she is free. I would like to think of her as the land of opportunity for those who would like to make their OWN way. May God grant it. Sincerely, Charles Kenneth Harvey Box 534, Muleshoe, Tx. 79347

Granddaughter Of Muleshoe Residents Repeats Vows At Louisiana

MRS. JEFFERY KIRK ALEXANDER [nee] MISS MARGARET JEAN MOTES

Vows were solemnized by Miss Margaret Jean Motes and Jeffery Kirk Alexander, both of Sulphur, La. on August 18 at 2 p.m. in the Henning Memorial United Methodist Church. Rev. Beverly E. Bond performed the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jesse R. Motes and Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Alexander, all of Sulphur, La.

The bride is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gunter Sr. of Muleshoe and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Gunter Jr. also of Muleshoe. Her cousins from Muleshoe include Terry Gunter, John Gunter, Gary Gunter and Brent Gunter. Amaranthus was used to decorated the altar, aisle, foyer and entry of the church. A bouquet of burgundy silk roses accented the altar.

Lynn Smith sang the "Wedding Song" accompanied by Ross Allured on the guitar. Mrs. Horace Vincent accompanied him on the organ as he sang "One Hand, One Hear" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a reembroidered ivory beaded gown of Chantilly lace over organza. The gown featured a Victorian neckline with long fitted sleeves trimmed with Chantilly lace. The matching lace circled the skirt and circular chapel train with matching appliques in the center of the skirt. The veil was trimmed with reembroidered Chantilly lace with pearls attached to the Chantilly Camelot. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of burgandy silk roses and baby's breath.

For something old, the bride wore a shark's tooth in the hem of her skirt that is believed to be ten to thirty million years old, according to the Smithsonian Institute. Something new was her dress and something borrowed were antique ivory earrings. She also wore the traditional blue garter. Rhonda Gray of Sulphur, La. served the bride as Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Terri Collins, Maureen Farrar and Pixie Rasberry, all of Sulphur, La. The bridal attendants wore floor length gowns with circular skirts and spaghetti straps at the shoulders. Matching shawls draped the shoulders. The Quiana gowns were in the bride's chosen color of madrid red. Each of the attendants carried a single long stemmed burgundy silk rose with ivory streamers and baby's breath.

The flower girl, Ginger Miller of Sulphur, La. wore an ivory eyelet street length sundress with matching bonnet of polyester and cotton.

Serving as best man was Rex Alexander, brother of the groom of Sulphur, La. Groomsmen were Kirk Credeur, Kevin Couvillion and Randall Alexander, brother of the groom, all of Sulphur, La.

Guests were ushered by Kyle Motes, brother of the bride; Gary Venable, Tommy Keller and Bob Landry, all of Sulphur, La. Hunter Heath of Sulphur, La. carried the rings.

The groom wore an ivory tuxedo with an ivory shirt and tie. A burgundy silk rose boutonniere accented his lapel.

His attendants wore ivory tuxedos and shirts with burgundy ties and burgundy silk rose boutonnieres.

The candlelighters were Pamela and Paula Alexander, twin sisters of the groom of Sulphur, La.

The mother of the bride wore a loose fitting gown with a blouson top and a bateau neckline. The short dolman sleeves featured an elasticized edge. The circular front wrapped skirt was made of mocha rose disco knit.

The groom's mother wore a one piece gown with a bateau neckline with elbow length dolman sleeves with elastic edges. Both mothers wore corsages of white roses.

A reception followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Members of the house-party included Mrs. Roy Edgar, Mrs. Gordon Thornton, Mrs. Burns Landry, Mrs. Randall Alexander, Mrs. Joseph Tallman, Mrs. Bill Morris, Melissa Smith and Ronda Young.

The bride's table was covered with an ivory lace cloth with an ivory ruffled skirt. An arrangement of amaranthus, pink roses and burgandy ribbons centered the table. The four tiered ivory wedding cake was decorated with burgundy silk roses, baby's breath and fern and topped with a porcelain bride and groom. Silver appointments were used on the table.

The groom's table was laid with an ivory lace over burgundy cloth. A brass 17 stemmed candelabra centered the table along with antiqued busts of a boy and girl displayed on small mirrors. The chocolate cake was decorated with pictures of the bride and groom in their earlier years.

For a wedding trip to Galveston, Texas the bride wore a fitted dress with a V-neckline and short sleeves in textured polyester of navy, ivory, dark blue and burgundy. Her ensemble was completed with black patent accessories.

The couple will make their home at Sulphur, La. They are 1979 graduates of Sulphur High School.

Daily showers were reported to be skipping across south Bailey County, leaving amounts of rain of up to an inch or more, and slight hail damage.

Skating Fad Rolls Toward Texas

Whatever you can hurt when you fall, you can hurt it worse when you are on roller skates. Speed and the very fact that you have wheels on your feet increases the possibility of accidents, the Texas Medical Association (TMA) said.

The skating craze has not rolled full speed into Texas yet. But more than 28 million people in the U.S. roller skate, national sales this year already are 125% higher than in 1978 and the fad is thundering toward Texas from both coasts. Celebrities on skates, disco skating and other fad factors make it almost inevitable that many Texans soon will be wheeling along for fun and exercise.

Skating uses many of the muscles running does and steadily paced skating for 15 minutes can give the heart about the same exercise as running a mile in 10-15 minutes. Polyurethane wheels and other technological advances adapted from skateboards make getting exercise by skating smoother and easier than ever before.

As these fancy features have increased the sport's popularity, roller skating injuries also have risen. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission said that in 1978 there were almost 93,000

Playday Slated By Bovina Roping Club Saturday

Bovina Roping Club plans a youth Playday on Saturday, August 25, starting at 2 p.m. at the Bovina arena.

Buckles will be awarded for first place in each age group in each event. Buckles have been donated by Crop Care Inc. of Bovina and Friona. Entry will be $3 per event. Breakaway calf roping will have divisions of 14 and under and 15-19.

Four age divisions will be featured in all the other events: six and under; seven to ten; 11-14 and 15-19. Other events include barrel race, pole bending, goat ribbon race, goat tying, potato race and flag race.

All area youth have been invited to participate in the playday.

injuries. This figure is about 8,000 more than for all types of skating in 1977.

Skateboard riding saw a similar surge in injuries until the fad peaked and riders learned more about safety. After leaving miles of skin on the sidewalk, many skateboarders discovered the advantages of kneepads, elbow pads, gloves, helmets and other protective garments. Since skateboards and roller skates can cause many of the same types of bumps, breaks and scrapes, TMA recommends that roller skaters also use protective equipment. Full protection may not be necessary for a casual outing at the roller rink. But outdoor skating may offer opportunities for more hazards and increased speed. With luck a rider can step off a skateboard. But there is no way to eject from runaway roller skates. This fact makes several skills important. Learning to crumple instead of falling with stiff arms, easing into the sport even though it appears simple to do, and wearing safety equipment are handy skills for enjoying skating.

Gasohol Workshop Slated In Lubbock

A statewide workshop on "Gasohol Know-how" will take place in the Lubbock memorial Civic Center Sept. 6 under co-sponsorship of the Texas Farmers Union (TFU) and the Texas Tech Center for Energy Research.

State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, whose support of gasohol production has earned him the name of "Mr. Gasohol," will be the keynote speaker.

Jon Thomas, TFU staff conference coordinator, said the workshop will deal with all major problems related to gasohol production and marketing.

"Gasohol is seen as a very logical solution to some of the Texas farmers' problems," Thomas said, "and this conference is designed to be a gathering point for information on gasohol."

Rotating sessions are planned so that farmers who want to enter the field of gasohol production can attend all four technical meetings. The sessions will provide information on "Technology of Gasohol Production," "Legal Aspects and Financial Assistance for Production," "Equipment Procurement," and "Mixture and Uses of Gasohol," including blending, storage and marketing.

For the technology session there will be a slide lecture on methods of producing alcohol fuels, a description on solar applications to ethanol production, model glass and solar stills. Cindy Domenico, coordinator for alcohol fuels for the National Farmers Union, will participate. Director Victor Ray of NFU Field Services will give a Declaration of Independence for Farmers.

Speakers for the session on legal aspects, including the steps necessary for obtaining federal and state permits, will be representatives of the Economic Development Administration and other interested federal agencies.

Hard work never kills anyone, they say, but occasionally it wears us down.

Hope Smith: "Hope is really a wonderful thing."
Jones: "True. One little nibble keeps a man fishing all day."

Life would be much simpler if we didn't try to make people think we're what we're not.
