of substantial progress. We make an extract from the article above alluded to as contained in the Chieago Times, inviting every one interested in agriculture to its careful permal;

No class of men have been ridiculed much, and none have done so much good as those who are denominated facey farmers. They have been in all times and countries, the benefactors of the men who have treated them with derision. They have been to farmers what inventors have been to manufacturers. They have exper-imented for the good of the world, while others have simply worked for their own gain. They tested theories, while others raised crops for market. They have given a dignity and glory to the occupation of farming it never had bet at

Fancy farmers have changed the wild boar into the Suffolk and Berkshire; the bull of Britton into the Shert horn; the nountain sheep, with its loan body and bairy fleece, into the Southdown and Merino. They brought up the milk of cows from pints to gallons. They have length-ened the sirloin of the bullock, deepened the udder of the cow, enlarged the ham of the udder of the cow, enlarged the ham of the hog, given the strength to the shoul der of the ox, rendered finer the wool of the sheep, added flectness to the speed of the horse, and made beautiful every and mall that is kept in the service of man. They have improved and hastened the development of all domestic animals, till they hardly resemble the creatures from which they aprang.

Fancy farmers introduced irrigation and under draining, grinding and cooking food for stock. They brought guano from Peru, and nitrate of soft from Chill. They introduced and domesticated all the plants we have of foreign origin. They brought out the theory of the retained of crops as a natural means of keeping up and increasing the fertility (f the soil.
