THE INDIAN WAR.

-The Western men generally are urging very strongly the passage of the bill which authorizes the President in his discretion to enlist five regiments of volunteers for the Indian war in the border States. It is understood that this proposition has the support of the Secretary of War. Under the present law it is possible for States to organize volunteer regiments only for the defense of their own borders, but the gans which the Secretary of War is authorized to give them are those of the second class only. General Sherman does New York, July 14 - While a gang of fifty convicts were being fransferred from Sing Sing en route to Anburn, Thomas ments of volunteers, but thinks that the army should be rendered more effective New tork, leaped through a car window while the train was running 40 miles an by filling up the cavalry regiments. Overwhelmed by blood-thirsty and yelling thousands, enclosed within "the jaws of hell," with certain death staring every man in the face, there was no panic, no rout, but each company took its place in turn to fight and die, Custer and his stari taking their turn last.

There is nothing superior to it in all history. The New York Herald truly says that there is a terrible pithiness in this curt dispatch, "Thie whole Custer family died at the head of their column;" and again, "General Custer, his two brothers, his nephew and brother-inlaw were killed." Never, perhaps, in American history, did a family ever offer up so many lives for the flag in a sligte engagement. We recall the Curiatii from Roman history and the Maccabees from the Habrew. ## FACTS BY WHICH DECIDE

In those spacious but insign heant advertisements of G. Pratt & Co, they en deaver to convince the public that our STAR OIL and PEERLESS are identically the same, which they know, even better than we could ever attempt to consider them, is now that Case. Poerless is by no means one of the inferior grades of oil; it is in every respect equal and fully up to the actual standard (not the advocated) of Astral, and is like the latter 12 degrees below the burning point of our STAR OIL. Now we propose to Furnish the Peerless, guaranteed equivalent in every respect to Astral, at One Dellar a case less than our STAR OIL, which we sell at the price of Astral, although our STAR OIL is 12 degrees better, hence aster, and consequently has the preference of the consuming public.
