DIVISION OF THE STATE

We have no hesitation in saying that, per se, we have always been opposed to a division of the State. At one time we favored it, because we saw no other way to secure that homogeneity and practicality of regislation demanded by the interests of Western Texas. We saw saw no other way of utilizing our interest in the public domain for the building of railroads through Western Texas, and for the stablishment and maintenant of the state and its part of the state and its part of the interests of the state and its part of the interests of the state and its part of the interests of the state and its part of the interests of the state and its part of the interests of the state and its part of the interest of the state and its part of the interest of the state and its part of the interest of the state and its part of the interest of the state and its part of the interest of the state and its part of the interest of the state and its part of the interest of t favored it, because we saw no other towards Laredo and Mazadan, will for saw no other way to prevent the whole of our public lands from being squandered. Let the fine for the public lands from being squandered, or appropriated wholly to the building up of the central, eastern, and northern sections of the State. We saw no other way of providing for the encouragement of immigration to the West, for developing its agriculture, else. Had we seen any way to accome one in almost every direction contrary; we should have opposed it.

But at the very time we advocated division, nearly two years ago, the papers and people who are now crying out for between San Antonio and Copano is for lieve that they are better agreed on it or prepared for it to-day than they were two years ago. The consequence was that we abandoned the enterprise and ceased the discussion of the subject. We have seen nothing since calculated to the hanging of a negro who had stolen a cause us again to discuss the subject or State. We do not propose to act with those advocates of division now, who my, required him to give ball for left us "the bag to hold" two years ago. We neither advocate division nor oppose it, now, because we proved to our own satisfaction two years ago that the people of the West were not ripe for the change. When the people as a body show that they wish to bring this matter to a test, we shall be ready to repre, sent them fairly and fully.

We should be glad, however, to have the advocates of division to point out to us the way in which the enteprise can be accomplished. How are we going to divide the State? If we have to get the all over the country. The people have consent of the other sections of the State we shall fail, as they are bitterly opposed to the change, Is the consent of Congress sufficient to give us a division? We fear not, and if this is so, we doubt if we can get the consent of Congress. Let The writ was placed in the hands fus know. Is the division of the State

FACTS BY WHICH DECIDE

In those spacious but insignificant advertisements of C. Pratt & Co., they endeavor to convince the public that our STAR OIL and PEERLESS are identically the same, which they know, even better than we could ever attempt to convince them, to NOT THE CASE. Peerless is by no means one of the inferior grades of oil; it is in every respect equal and fully up to the actual standard (not the advected) of Astral, and is like the latter 12 degrees below the burning point of our STAR OIL. Now we propose to Furnish the Peerless, guaranteed equivalent in every respect to Astral, at One Dollar a case less than our STAR OIL, which we sell at the price of Astral, atthough our STAR OIL, is 12 degrees befor, hence aster, and consequently has the preference of the consuming public.

Our, cofficience, formerly published, (eriginals of which can be seen at or office) from our local, dislatorested chemists, Messrs, Geo, H. Katteyer, A. Nette at E. Dreiss, who tested both oils, and declare our Star Oil by 12 degrees latter than Astral. .

In Addition to the certificate aliuded to, we herewith annex a certificate from Chemist Theo. Odet.

At your tequest, I have tested the samples of Star Oil taken from the stone of George Dollorg, and find the flashing point at one hundred and thirty-three (13t) degrees Fabrenheit, the burning point at one hundred and feray-four (144) degrees Fabrenheit. Astral oil, taken from the store of E. Kotula & Co., the flashing point at one hundred and twenty-one (121) degrees, and the barning point at one hundred and thirty-two degrees Fabrenheit. I am of the opinion that the Star Oilies by all means the best and safest oil.
