Mr. Lawther replied that he has no information on that point, but he can express an opinion as to its origin or possible consequences. POLITICAL ITEMS.

It is not improbable that Mr. Seymour will again be the Democratic candidate for Governor of New York, a strong movement being now apparent in that direction.

Thomas M. Marshall, a liberal leader in Allegheny in 1872, fell back with Grover to the old Republican line after the disastrous Greeley rout, and now supports Hayes.

NATURDAY MORNING, July 22nd, 1876

The impeachment trial of Ex-Secretary of War, Belknap, draws its slow length along. The opinion prevails that there is not sufficient evidence to convict Gen. Belknap by even a majority vote, and, under the Constitution, it would require two-thirds to convict.

MR. WILLIAMS shows the Kottville Phanerogama some very fine millet and Hungarian grass grown on his place within a mile of Kerrville. Half an acre of the first has heads averaging seven inches in length, stalk three feet high. The other grain increased from a single seed to fifty-six. In fact, the little crop, put in rather as an experiment, had an increase of fully fifty fold.

Prof. JOHNSON's school at Kerrville, closed last Friday appropriately with an examination, which was as creditable to him as an educator as it was to the scholars, whose proficiency was marked. At night there was an exhibition which consisted of recitations, discourses and singing, making altogether a pleasant treat. It is understood that Prof. Johnson will begin the next session early in September with numbers somewhat augmented.

The General Council of the Reformed Church met at Ottawa, Canada, on the 19th, with a large attendance. Bishop Nicholson, of Philadelphia, presided at the opening services. At the close of the session a relay of the late Bishop Cummins was delivered. The Council was called to order by Judge Hughes. In the afternoon session the election for presiding bishop was protracted with. Bishops Cheney and Kiehn were nominated, the result being the election of Bishop Cheney.

A correspondent writing from Georgia says that the "tide of immigration in Western Texas this fall will be immense. The fever is raging for Texas, and all for the Western part. If you could only put down these desperadoes and give security to immigrants, it would give an impetus to the tide that nothing else will do. The laws must be observed; there must be security in life and property before any people can expect to prosper."

About six weeks ago Judge McFarland at Kerrville, received in a bark from Tortie Creek, seven miles distant, a swarm of bees and put them to work in a patent American hive. He has just removed over twenty-five pounds of beautiful honey from the hive—an excellent yield. The bees are a dark brown with a yellow band around the body, being a distinct variety from our common bees, better workers and much more docile.

The Pomological Association of Houston will hold its first anniversary meeting on the 10th and 11th of August. The Fair Grounds have been selected by the Exhibition Committee as the most suitable spot. It is supposed to illuminate the main building, and have the display of fruits and flowers there. A fountain, brilliantly illuminated, will rise in the center from ground floor to cupola. The exhibition will last two days, and will doubtless be a very interesting occasion.

COMMISSIONERS OF THE ARMY.—Mr. Lansing, Chairman of the Military Commission, has recently had an interview with General Sherman on the condition of the army. The latter does not think there is any necessity for increasing the army. He has sent reinforcements to both Creek and Terry, making their force sufficiently large, he believes, to prevent any general outbreak, and he does not anticipate any point of view to their part. He believes they will maintain themselves in attacks on isolated parties, and strike the force there upon sufficient to bring them to terms.

Mr. Blaine is now United States Senator from Maine, in place of Mr. Morrill, recently made Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Mr. Brewster, but Mr. Blaine's health is still too precarious to allow him to take his seat. He will make an able Senator if he recovers, as he probably will.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN JAPAN—AN EXAMPLE FOR GOVERNOR COKE'S ADMINISTRATION.

At a recent meeting in Baltimore of the National Educational Association, Dr. D. Murray, connected with the educational system of Japan, delivered an address describing the progress of education in that country, which we commend to the favorable consideration of Gov. Coke and the Fifteenth Legislature of Texas. Dr. Murray said that people had reached a high standard of culture and civilization. Before the country was opened to the other peoples of the world there must have been a good system of education. About the year 700 the nation took up the subject of education, and in 850 the national university was established at Yedo, and continued until 1600, when the Government of the Tycoon made a change. The education of the common people was left to themselves, and to-day there are few who cannot read and write. The Government schools were for the children of the gentry. In the language there are three hundred characters representing letters, which can be learned only by children. With them competition is taught from the beginning. At ten years the child is placed in the classical school, where the works of Confucius and others are read, and where teachers of the highest training are employed. They are also taught the arts of war. The opening of the country to foreigners opened up to that people another and higher civilization, but they entered upon the necessary training, and very soon a school was established for the instruction of foreign languages and the sciences under the government of the Mikado, who provided for the whole people, and not for the retainers of the nobles alone. An addition of eight thousand elementary schools have been made, and secondary schools are to be established. This means to maintain the schools are derived from the government by taxes on the people and by voluntary contributions. They have also normal schools for the preparation of teachers. For the present, some foreign language will have to be used, for that of Japan has not the words to express scientific ideas; that will come, and after the foreign languages have done their work they will cease to be used except for educational purposes.

T. Tanaka, Vice Superintendent of Education in Japan, was introduced, and said he had come hither for the purpose of studying the educational system of this country. In 1853 the first newspaper was established in Japan; but now he was glad to say that there are now more than a hundred.

THE HAMBURG MURDER.
On the 4th of July a colored military company took part in the celebration at Hamburg, S. C., just across the Savannah river, opposite Augusta, Georgia. While they were on parade two young white men rode up, and instead of going round them and not interrupting their maneuvers, they ordered them out of the road. This was refused; a fight was the result, and it came before a colored justice of the peace. The demand was made for the arms of the company, which they foolishly refused to comply with. Large numbers of hot-headed young whites men gathered with arms from both Hamburg and Augusta, the negroes took refuge in a building, and thus ridiculously insignificant affair was inflamed into a race riot and battle. Artillery discharged the negroes. One white man and three negroes were killed during the fight, and seven negro prisoners deliberately murdered in cold blood by the guards. Gen. M. C. Butler of South Carolina is the old fool and scoundrel who is most responsible for all this needless bloodshed. This is the case about which that great Southern patriot and orator, Mr. Lamar, made his great speech in Congress on Tuesday last.

VISITING NORTHERN.—A party of Swedish gentlemen are on a visit to this country for the purpose of studying its institutions. Of this party, Mr. Knoll Wall is editor and proprietor of "Dagbladet Nya," the largest daily paper in the Scandinavian Kingdom. He is the Swedish champion and originator of all the liberal ideas in his country, and to him is due, to a great extent, the great success of the Swedish exhibition at our Centennial Fair. Mr. Herald Wisligrén, another gentleman of the party, and the editor of the "Swedish Illustrated News," a weekly paper published at the Swedish capital, known as one of the best writers at the present time. Hon. Axel Gamaelius, along with the party, is a prominent member of the Swedish Parliament, having been elected to his seat not less than three times.

Gen. W. S. Hancock, who was one of the prominent candidates for the Democratic nomination to the Presidency, was recently in the Senate chamber as a witness in the Belknap case. An exchange says he has changed considerably in appearance since he rode at the head of his gallant Second Corps during the rebellion, twelve or fourteen years ago. Then there were no silver threads among the black, and his mane, though thin, was quite dark. He is still a fine-looking man, but is older looking than he was during the war. His hair and mustache are a gray, but in figure he is as erect and imposing as ever.

Gov. Vance is the Democratic candidate for Governor of North Carolina; and Judge Thomas Settle is the Republican candidate for the same position. Both of them are able and popular men, the two parties are nearly of equal strength in the State, and the contest will be a close lively one.

Mr. Blaine is now United States Senator from Maine, in place of Mr. Morrill, recently made Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Mr. Brewster, but Mr. Blaine's health is still too precarious to allow him to take his seat. He will make an able Senator if he recovers, as he probably will.

HEBREW SABBATH SCHOOLS.

At the recent Convention of Israelites at Washington city, Mr. A. J. Friedlander, from the committee on recommendations, reported on recommendation No. 3. "We consider by what manner and means the Sabbath Schools can be improved," urging upon parents the necessity and importance of having the children attend Sabbath Schools regularly, and to prevail upon young ladies and gentlemen who are capable of doing so, to take part and assist in the instruction of the smaller children in the first rudiments of Hebrew reading, Bible history and first elements of religion, to facilitate which object suitable textbooks should be provided and adopted by all congregations of the Union. The ministry should urge upon their children the importance of inculcating their children to attend Divine service regularly, and, if possible, to participate to some extent in the same, in order that the Hebrew language may become more familiar and take a firmer hold on their minds. Only competent teachers, who are thorough English scholars, should be employed in Sabbath Schools, that they may be able to impart lessons in the vernacular. The committee hope that the Hebrew Union College will soon be able to furnish such competent teachers.

In regard to recommendations four and five, "what measures are best to adopt for a stricter observance of the Sabbath," and "how to induce every Israelite to join a congregation," the committee were of the opinion that no more practical measures to attain this much desired end can be suggested than to educate the rising generation to a true sense of the importance of keeping the Sabbath as the main pillar upon which Judaism rests to make their divine service so interesting and attractive, the sermons and lectures so instructive, as to satisfy any and every intelligent demand, and thereby induce members and their families to visit their respective places of worship on the Sabbath regularly, which would exert an elevating influence on recent members. Officers as well as members should direct their special efforts to pointing out to young men and every Israelite in general their paramount duty to join a congregation.

It is interesting to note the fact that the Israelites, the ancient people with whom the religion Sabbath originated, are now moving vigorously in behalf of Sabbath observance and Sabbath schools.

The new Postmaster General, Judge Tyler, entered upon his official duties a few days since. The first official act signed by him was an order amending the postal regulations, by cancelling the word "illegal" from section 88 of the postal regulations.

The section refers to the transmission through the mails of circulars, letters, &c., regarding lotteries, and the amendment is intended to prevent such institutions, claiming to be legal, but without any authority for so doing, prosecuting their business through the United States mails.

There have been numerous applications for positions in the Post Office Department since the recent change, but it is not probable that any important appointments will be made without "some intimation from the President that they are desirable. It is believed at the Department that Judge Tyler will be glad to have postal affairs in all respects continue as they were at the time Mr. Jewell retired from the service.

Governor Jewell, late Postmaster General, says his interview with the President when the latter asked for his resignation, was quite pleasant. Just as he was leaving the President said, "Jewell, whom would you suggest as a proper person to take your place?" "Well," said the Governor, "if you ask my advice I will give it. Judge Tyler, Second Assistant Postmaster General, is the best fitted for the position of any one I know." They parted in the friendliest way, and Governor Jewell says he would have been glad to be released from the cares of the office six months ago, in order to attend to his private business interests.

McKENNY's company is, according to the bill recently passed, to be used against lawlessness in Western Texas alone—an insult to the West. And yet the Houston Age says that "not seventy five miles from Houston there is a recent organization of one or two hundred good, solid citizens, sworn to hang up murderers and thieves and put down crime in their community. District attorneys, judges and juries objecting to the arrangement have been politely informed that their own necks may snap. The people are determined the reign of murder and crime in this State shall end, and it will." So this is what Coker is bringing us to. Gov. Coke is playing the fool.

FACTS BY WHICH DECIDE.

In those spacious but insignificant advertisements of C. Pratt & Co., they endeavor to convince the public that their STAR OIL and FRELLESS are identical to the same, which they know, even better than we could ever attempt to convince them is NOT THE CASE. FRELLESS is by no means one of the inferior grades of oil; it is every respect equal and fully up to the actual standard (not the advocated) of Astral, and is like the latter 12 degrees below the burning point of our STAR OIL. Now we propose to furnish the FRELLESS, guaranteed equivalent in every respect to Astral, at One Dollar a case less than our STAR OIL, which we sell at the price of Astral, although our STAR OIL is 12 degrees better, hence safer, and consequently has the preference of the consuming public.

TRADE MARK

by 12 degrees better than Astral.
In Addition to the certificate alluded to, we herewith annex a certificate from Chemist Theo. Odet.

Certificate.

At your request, I have tested the samples of Star Oil taken from the stores of George Delloug, and find the flashing point at one hundred and thirty-three (133) degrees Fahrenheit, the burning point at one hundred and forty-four (144) degrees Fahrenheit. Astral oil, taken from the store of E. Kotula & Co., the flashing point at one hundred and twenty-one (121) degrees, and the burning point at one hundred and thirty-two degrees Fahrenheit. I am of the opinion that the Star Oil is by all means the best and safest oil.

VOLTAIRE'S RETORT TO CHESTERFIELD.

Chesterfield and Voltaire, born in the same year (1694), were warm and lifelong friends.

AN EXPLANATION ASKED

LBOM GRANT.

We are among those who believe that President Grant ought to explain to this Christian nation why he has pardoned seven officers convicted of using their official powers to aid in defrauding the revenue of the United States.

A glimpse of Napoleon, furnished by Miss Balcome, whose father's house was his temporary home on St. Helena.

"His appearance on horseback was noble and imposing. The animal he rode was a superb one; his color jet black, and as he proudly stepped down the avenue, arching his neck and champing his bit, I thought he looked worthy to be bearer of him who was once the ruler of nearly the whole European world."
