as to what was the tone of it.

Mr Singleton of Mississippi, bore testimony to the fact that the speech isade by Lamar, at Jackson, was directly against what is termed the white line policy, and there was nothing it it which touded to ill feeling between the races. The article therefore, did him gross injustice.

MrLamar expressed thanks to Mr Singleton and said his appears at Abstrdeen was also in favor of co-operation of races and against the supremacy or subordination of any one race.

He denied that there was any truth in it. Never in the slightest instance, nor in the least particular, had he awarved from the setiments which he had uttered in that speech. He called upon his Republican colleague (Wells) to speak as to the character of his speeches during the capyans.

Mr Wells said he had beard Mr Lamar speak at Holly Springs, in which speech he invoked the people to throw acids all ment jointly and administer it in the interest of the public welfare.

Mr. Lamar, it conclusion, apologized to the House and said he would not have brought the matter to its attention on his own account and had only dens so on account of the interests that were struck at through him.

Mr. Hale of Maine, intimated that he shared somewhat in the general suspicion that the utterance of such sentiments as Lamar had proclaimed in the House was eafer here than elsewhere, and be called his attention to a characterization of his the Galveston News of last evening:

safer here than elsewhere, and us called his attention to a characterization of his Aberdeen speech by his friend, the editor of the Vicksburg Herald, as an elequent Democratic speech, in which he had declared in manty and singing tones that the contest involved the supremacy of the unconquered and unconquerable Saxon

Mr. Lamar explained that the editor of the Herald understood his meaning. As to the gentleman's other suggestion he said there was nothing in their character or relations which justified that gentle-man's interposition in the matter. (Ap-plause on the Democratic side.)

FACTS BY WHICH DECIDE.

In those spacious but insignificant advertisements of C. Pratt & Co., they endeaves to convince the public that our STAR OIL and PEERLESS are identically the same, which they know, even better than we could ever attempt to convince them, so not the case. Peerless is by no means one of the inferior grades of oil; it is in every respect equal and fully up to the actual standard (not the advected) of Astral, and is like the latter 12 degrees below the burning point of our STAR OIL. Now we propose to Purnish the Poerless, guaranteed equivalent in every respect to Astral, at One Dollar s case less than our STAR OIL, which we sell at the price of Astral, although our STAR OIL is 12 degrees better, hence safer, and consequently has the preference of the communing public.

Our, certificates, formerly published, (originals of which can be seen at our office) from our local, disinterested chamists, Messra, Geo. H. Kattayer, A. Nette and E. Dreiss, who tested both oils, and declare our Star Oil

At your request, I have tested the samples of Star Oil taken from the store of George Delining, and find the flashing point at one hundred and thirty-three (123) degrees Fabrenheit, the burning point at one hundred and forty-four (144) degrees Fabrenheit. Astrat oil, taken from the store of E. Kotula & Co., the flashing point at one hundred and twenty-one (121) degrees, and the burning point at one hundred and thirty-two degrees Fabrenheit. FRIDAY MORNING, July 28th, 1876.

THE PRESIDENT-BRISTOW AND JEWELL.

[From the New York Graphic.] The time has come when the truth should be told concerning the relations between President Grant and his late Secretaries, Briston and Jewell. The Republican press of the country are injuring the party by their indiscrete criticism of the timely and justifiable action of the President towards the adber ents of the two retiring Cabinet office. Ministers. Mesers Bristow and Jewell were called to the cabinet by President Grant. They were comparitively unknown men, Mr. Bristow below an expecially changes. person till brought into notice by friends of the administration. From the moment of their installation in office these two Cabinet Ministers autagonized Hamilton Fish with the other members of the President's family in becoming avowed candidates for the Presidency. They intrigued with the newspapers—they dired and wired microsics, wasters with the halsted. Howles and Watterson, and other opinion-makers on the so called "independent" press. They were hand in glove with the correspondents of Newspaper Row; they worked the press ingeniously for personal puffs, and supplied what ammunition was required for bringing the administration into ripening and the chauce was afforded for exposing public corruption, and these two popularity hunting and advoit men, seeing which way the public breeze was blowing, trimmed their sails accordingly, and determined to become President contains a post paid as a p ripening and the chauce was afforddially assented, and his sententions | Agents Wanted for the new Historical phrase, "Let no guilty man escape," phrases of the day. But in this matter, as in all subsequent measures of Messrs. Bristow and Jewell, the public interest was subordinated to private ambition, and the cry of "Beform" was adopted to promote their Presidential schemes. The presidential schemes are presidential schemes. The presidential schem to anger and not naturally suspic-ious. Soon, however, he became conviaced that private ambition was the spar to their action. The work of "reform" was so skillfully managed as not only to help the personal fortunes of Bristow and Clearly, he was in a dilemma. Had he dismissed his Secretaries on proof of their treachery, it would have raised a storm of indignation in their favor throughout the bountry; for the facts in his possession could not then be given, and, even if they could, would not have set the matter in its true light. So he was compelled to bide himself time—to wait the action of the National Republican Convention. National Republican Convention.

Though they and their subsidized friends worked diligently, they failed of attaining the object of their ambition, and the logical result is their retirement from the Cabinet in which their gross improprietes had long annoyed and exasperated the President. With them go the agents and instruments whom they induced to public life.

· himself and his political family.

The President is now consured by the Rapublican press for resenting what he has always regarded maligned by the press. He knew that the attacks upon himself were based upon charges furnished by his Secretaries, yet be could not resent their insolence without ad-vancing the political fortunes of the men who were attempting to distroy his reputation in the estimation of the public.

In this connection we call attenfraphic last February, but not printed until to-day. We could not publish it then, for the same reason that Grant himself did not expel Bristow from the Cabinet.

The public mind was in no temper to listen to reason. The public feeling had been so skillfully manindiated that the truth regarding Bristow would not have received any attention. But we give it now, and we ask the leader to persue it in the light of subsequent revelations. It will now receive more the Balcony and Cibolo, credence, for the public is in a Boarne from San Antoni to sell to make a division. The simple truth about Mr. Bristow is that he is n self-seeking and contriving politician. His go-ing before congressional committees, and by implication hinting dwelling, west of the San Pedro. Good that there was something that Cistern on the premises. Julyl daw control was something that conceal, was so censurable, if the hint had not basis of fact, that it is difficult to find words in which to properly characterize it. We say boldly that President Grant would have deserved the severest censure if he had not excluded from the No 45 Commerce Street, public service as soon as practicable such men as Bristow and Jewell and their immediate friends. It has always been regarded as a grave indecorum for any to advance his Presidential ambition. Other Presidents have resented such conduct on the part of their Ministers. But Bristow and Jewell were guilty of still graver oftensethat of using the press to bring into disrepute the head of the Government who had found them in obscurity and given them positions of truth and honor. It is to be regretted that the Republican press has no leader. Were the lamented Raymond or Greeley alive the grave mistake would not be made of giving the Democrats so much capital as is afforded by the
