Cleta Williams entered St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock Thursday morning for a series of tests. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Creamer, accompanied her to Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McMahan and Steve, of Stanford, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Raney, of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McMahan, Eddie, Debbie and Jimmy, of Levelland, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. W.C. McMahan, and Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Ward.

TYPICAL GIN SCENE--Trailers of cotton are being hauled to cotton gins throughout the area as cotton harvest is just now beginning to get into full swing. Very cold temperatures at night all this week have helped defoliate the cotton stalks, allowing farmers to get strippers into the field. Light moisture last weekend did not bring cotton harvest to a halt, but slowed it down for a few days.

Mules-Indians Final District Play For '79

It's right down to the wire now, the unbeaten Mules will face the Morton Indians Friday night in Muleshoe, with an unblemished district record on the line. The best the Mules can do will be to win the district championship again this year, unmarred by a defeat. The worst they can do will be thrown into a three way tie, in the event the Indians should wreak their terrible vengeance on the Mules.

There's no doubt that the Indians will be on the warpath, because of a couple of factors. For op-

Juniors Plan Turkey Dinner Before Game

Members of the Muleshoe High School junior class will serve their traditional Thanksgiving supper immediately preceding the Muleshoe-Morton football game Friday night.

They promise turkey and dressing and all the trimmings for only $3 for adults and $2 for children under 12 for the dinner which will feature turkey and dressing, giblet gravy, green beans, potatoes, cranberry sauce, hot rolls, pumpkin cake and coffee or tea.

Serving hours will be from 5:30 p.m. Advance tickets are presently on sale by members of the junior class. They will also have take out orders and will deliver plates by calling 272-4360.

eners, until last Friday night, the Indians were unbeaten in district action, then came the game with Littlefield. The Littlefield Wildcats scratched and clawed and waltzed home with a 56-0 blitz on the Indians, while the Mules were easing the Dimmitt Bobcats out of town with a 34-0 victory.

Also, for the second thing, this will be the last year for the Mules to meet Morton in district action. Muleshoe has advanced to district 3A and the Morton Indians have stayed in District 2A. However, the Indians will be the second game for the Mules for at least the next two years, as Floydada has now dropped out of the Muleshoe picture. The Mules have also picked up Lockney as a regular pre-district team.

For some reason, the Indians have always saved their 'big guns' for the Muleshoe Mules, and for the last game of the season, regardless of their prior record in the other nine games, have really hit the field with a vengeance when they see the black and white Mules. This year is expected to be no different, regardless of their big loss to Littlefield.

In the meantime, the Mules are healthy, they know what to expect Friday night when they take to the field in Muleshoe and they expect to be playing a very hard game.

Lubbock Cooper managed to defeat Morton early in the season by a 20-14 score and the Indians also lost to Crosbyton by 22-16. They tied 14-14 with Farwell, then the rest of the year has been clear sailing. Con't on page 6 col 1

Engelking Wins Weekly Contest In Football

Muleshoe's weekly merchant's football contest tightened up some this week with three new winners. Marilyn Engelking missed two games, the Tennessee-Notre Dame and the Stanford-Oregon game and was a total of 16 points away on the double tiebreaker score for first place.

Second place Baldemar Orozco also missed two games for second place. He missed Mississippi State-Auburn and North Carolina-Clemson and was 19 points off on the tiebreaker scores.

In third place was Anna Gutierrez, who missed Stanford-Oregon and Texas-Houston and was a total of 25 points away on the double tiebreaker score.

Just out of the running was Cindy Pena, who missed Stanford-Oregon and Texas-Houston, but was 25 points off on the tiebreakers. A lot of contestants missed only three games, including Frank Jesko, Maureen Jesko, Joel Sinclair, Lavayne Williams, Morris Douglass, Cliff Buckner, Ruth Malone, Mrs. John Hayes, Ed Northcutt, Randall Stevens, J. B. Stevenson, Travis Besire, Joe Gutierrez, Richard Engelking, Raymond Davenport, Elaine Roddam, L.C. Roddam, Jerry Roddam, James Roy Jones, David Cox, Lemmeth R. Taylor, and Jo Wood.

There are still a few weeks left to enter the weekly contest. So, it's still anyone's ball game. Be sure to get your entry in and perhaps you may be the lucky winner of the football tickets for the Cotton Bowl game on January 1 and an expense check.

Elaine Damron Receives Award From Arthritis

Elaine Damron, Muleshoe has been named "Volunteer of the Year" by the Arthritis Foundation, West Texas Chapter. Cited for her longevity of service, contributions as Chapter secretary and effectiveness of operating the Bailey County Unit, Mrs. Damron was also elected a vice president of the West Texas Chapter during that organization's annual meeting in El Paso November 3. Also attending from Muleshoe was Jerri Wagon, Bailey County Education Chairman.

Other officers elected were Al Coe, Lubbock, president; Tom Kimball, El Paso, vice president; Tom Wilkerson, Midland, treasurer; Harris Kerr, Midland assistant treasurer; and Pat Zimmerman, El Paso, secretary. More than 40 members assembled at the 1979 Chapter Annual Meeting to hear Foundation officials moderate workshops on Public Education, Patient Services and Fund Raising.

At the Saturday evening banquet, representatives heard Dr. J. Donald Smiley of Dallas speak on "New Directions in Arthritis Research."

The West Texas Chapter, encompassing 89 counties, is part of a 72 chapter network across the country working toward the prevention and cure of arthritis. Arthritis claims 31 million victims in the U.S., a new case every 33 seconds.

Floydada Dropped: Lockney Is Added

Last week, the Muleshoe School System was notified that the Muleshoe Mules had moved back to a AAA designation. However, they did not move alone. Also moving to the AAA designation were Olton, Dimmitt, Friona and Littlefield. Morton was retained in the AA class.

In effect, this will mean that Muleshoe will play the same teams they have played in the past several years in district action. However, although they will be playing Morton, it will be in pre-season action.

At this time, with the new UIL designations and realignments the class is no Class B, so Lazbuddie, who has been a Class B team, will be in Class A.

Portales will continue to be the Mules' first game of the season next year, on September 5. Morton will be the second game of the year for the Mules and the game will be played in Morton.

Floydada has been dropped from the schedule and Tulia will be the third game, and will be played on September 19 in Tulia. Idalou will play in Muleshoe on September 26 and the Mules will travel to Abernathy on October 3.

A new team has been added to the roster for pre-season play, and Lockney will be in Muleshoe to take on the Mules on October 10. October 17 will be the open date.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—Protecting the rights of privacy and the freedom of the press are two very important matters that concern us all. During the last session, the Legislature dealt with both these matters before finally passing two new pieces of legislation concerning search warrants.

SB 1202 delegates that only judges of statutory county courts, district courts, the Court of Criminal Appeals, or the Supreme Court have the authority to issue search warrants for property or items which would serve as mere evidence that a person committed an offense. Previously, the search warrants could have been issued by any magistrate. Thus, by limiting the number of judges who can issue search warrants, a warrant would be more difficult to obtain and thus would tend to be used with careful discrimination and only in cases of specific need. Also, under the new law only judges who are lawyers will now have the authority to issue search warrants.

The other piece of legislation, HB 2091, is important to the preservation of the freedom of the press. This bill effectively limits the circumstances in which a search warrant may be issued to search a news media office. A recent ruling by the United States Supreme Court gave leeway to states to create such legislation. This ruling failed to declare unconstitutional police searches of news rooms or the property of reporters who are not suspected of any criminal activity. Specifically, this new law provides that evidentiary search warrants can not be issued for the search of a news related office.

There is always a balance that must be maintained between preserving personal rights and certain freedoms and seeing to it that such rights and freedoms do not become unintentional handicaps to law and order. I believe that both these new laws preserve this important balance.

W.I.F.E. Convention Scheduled Next Week At Lubbock Center

W.I.F.E., Women Involved in Farm Economics, will hold their third annual National Convention, November 16-18, at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center in Lubbock.

Sarah McClendon of McClendon News Services and White House correspondent, and Dr. Frances Hill, professor at the University of Texas will address this active agricultural association of women.

A highlight of the convention will be a working still producing alcohol to be used in the making of gasohol. Bob Soleta, director of the alcohol division of Iowa Corn Growers Assn., and Dr. Lance Crombie will give a presentation on the production of alcohol fuels.

National W.I.F.E. president Betty Majors of Osceola, Neb. feels that alcohol stills "could and should be constructed on every farm in the nation."

"Gasohol has been W.I.F.E.'s number one priority," said Mrs. Majors. "Our purpose in having the still along with gasohol information is so we can go home with plans, knowledge, and expertise to enable us to construct alcohol fuel stills on our own farms and ranches."

W.I.F.E. welcomes all women who are interested in or involved in agriculture to join this fast growing organization to help promote the nation's number one industry... agriculture.

Make hearing tests a part of your child's annual physical checkup.

This is especially important in babies and children because their speech and language is developing and hearing is critical to this developmental stage.

If your child seems inattentive, if his ears bother him during a cold or even if he has frequent colds, get medical advice on this to prevent problems.

Hearing problems may stem from one of the following:

1.) Some childhood dis-ases can cause hearing impairment. These diseases include measles, rubella, mumps, scarlet fever, whooping cough and meningitis.

Protect your child against some of these diseases through immunization. Medical care can help avoid complications with the other diseases.

2) If tonsils and adenoids are infected, this infection can affect the ears. Early detection and treatment will help to avoid hearing problems.

3) Do not try to remove hard ear wax or foreign objects from the ears with toothpicks, hairpins, matches or any other similar instruments.

Taking care of a problem like this is not for amateurs.

4) Constant poking in the ear with a finger, pencil, match or cotton-tipped swab can compress the wax and cause an ear blockage.

In most people, the wax will disappear as fast as it is formed. It is one part of the ear's defense against infection and dirt.

5) When a child has a cold, be sure he doesn't blow his nose hard. Blow without pressure and with the mouth open so that infection is not pushed back into the ears.

'Be With A Book For A Day'

In conjunction with the national White House Conference on Libraries and Information Science being held in Washington, Nov. 15-19, show your support of an American institution, the library by carrying a book with you to school, to work, to the store wherever others will see that a book and the right to read is an important part of your life.

"Be With A Book For A Day" and show that you believe that access to books and knowledge should continue to be a part of every concerned citizen's way of life. Nov. 15th.

"Be With A Book For A Day" stickers to wear on your lapel will be given to everyone who visits the library during the week of the 15th and if you need a book to be with, check one out, or the library will give you a paperback book from the basement.

The "Be With A Book for a Day" emblem, featuring the White House on an open book, will be distributed to all citizens via public, school, academic and special libraries. Civic groups, youth groups, and service organizations will also assist in getting the emblems onto wearers in all sections of the State. In addition to thousands displaying their support for libraries with the diamond-shaped symbol, people are being asked to carry a book during the period Nov. 15-19, as an indication of their interest in libraries.

Free and accessible to all Americans, our libraries preserve the past, put the present in perspective, and prepare us for the future.

There are about 100,000 libraries in the United States, with a holding of about two billion books, enough to supply every man, woman and child in the country with at least five books a year.

What does it cost? About $3.50 a year to the average citizen, a real bargain in today's market.

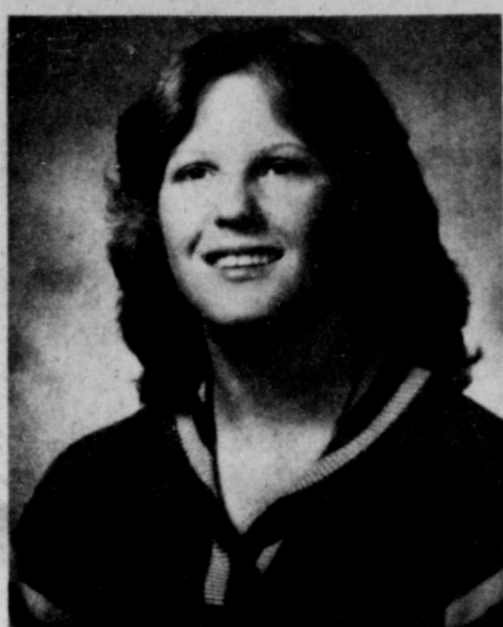

What do you get out of it? Recreation (a vicarious vacation); information (fix your car, build a boat); education (learn to needlepoint, bone up for a college placement test, improve job opportunities) and the joy of interaction with the ideas found in sharing a book in a one-to-one relationship with its author.

During Nov. 15-19, delegates from all states and territories will convene in Washington, D.C. to develop recommendations for the further improvements of the nation's libraries.

Do you remember the sack dress? That was certainly a fad in the world of fashion and eating only grapefruit and hard-cooked eggs is a fad in the world of diet. Truly classic style in either clothing or diet will always be in fashion and in good taste. Style in dieting can be summed up in two words -- variety and moderation. These are the two keys to sensible eating. Promises of quick, painless weight loss are an indication that the diet is probably not medically sound.

Morton beat Springlake-Earth by 6-0; nudged a 14-7 victory from the Olton Mustangs; scored late in the game to steal a 20-16 victory from Friona; and held the Plains Cowboys to 13-12 and a key interception proved the difference in Morton's 13-0 victory over the Dimmitt Bobcats.

Muleshoe in the meantime, lost only the first game of the year, a 2-7 decision at Portales. Then they came back with a 9-7 squeaker over Floydada and a 24-0 shutout of Tulia. From there, they tied up 20-20 with Abernathy and surprised Idalou with a 21-15 victory. In district action, the Mules sent Friona home after a come from behind 36-23 victory; edged Littlefield 16-3; sailed by Olton 27-0; and slammed Dimmitt 34-0.

With a victory over Morton, the Mules will again be the district champions and will play Idalou, who have clinched their district title. The winner of that game will probably meet Childress, who again this year, is unbeaten for the year.

A large crowd is again expected to be on hand for the final game of regular season play in Muleshoe. Gametime is 7:30 p.m.

Gov. Bill Clements said he thinks the United States and Mexican governments will act soon to remove "illegal" from the term "illegal alien."

The reason: the large population of undocumented Mexican workers in the U.S.—estimated at 3 million—should be documented.

Clements said he expects the aliens to be given visas or work permits for three, six, nine and 12 months. "They would be given a Social Security number, pay taxes, be protected under the law, enjoy municipal benefits, and be paid a fair wage," Clements said.

Such documentation may also take the guesswork out of the problem of educating the children of illegal aliens, an issue recently complicated by a Justice Department brief charging the Texas Education Code is unconstitutional.

The code was amended in 1975 so that only citizens and legal aliens have the right to a free education in the public school system. It's the Texas practice of charging tuition to illegal alien

'Redneck rock' may be on the way out

STEPHENVILLE — A year after a Tarleton State University folklorist predicted "redneck rock" was on the way out, it turns out she could be right.

Dr. Sue McGinity, a music-as-folklore researcher on this 3,400-student North Central Texas campus, said the progressive country music movement would probably die as a result of its own acceptance because the popular style of Willie Nelson, Waylon Jennings, Jerry Jeff Walker and Asleep at the Wheel would be copied.

AUSTIN — Voters approved two constitutional amendments last Tuesday and rejected one which would have authorized the Legislature to override rules made by state agencies on certain matters.

Favored solidly were amendments changing the method of appointing notaries public and creating guaranteed loans for family farms and ranches.

Boosters of the farm and ranch loan amendment were fearful that the low turnout in rural areas would defeat the proposal, but urban voters in Houston, Austin and Dallas-Fort Worth voted its passage. The bill's sponsor, State Rep. Luther Jones, D-El Paso, had traveled the state seeking editorial backing and was not disappointed.

Legalizing Aliens

Gov. Bill Clements said he thinks the United States and Mexican governments will act soon to remove "illegal" from the term "illegal alien."

The reason: the large population of undocumented Mexican workers in the U.S.—estimated at 3 million—should be documented.

Clements said he expects the aliens to be given visas or work permits for three, six, nine and 12 months. "They would be given a Social Security number, pay taxes, be protected under the law, enjoy municipal benefits, and be paid a fair wage," Clements said.

Such documentation may also take the guesswork out of the problem of educating the children of illegal aliens, an issue recently complicated by a Justice Department brief charging the Texas Education Code is unconstitutional.

The code was amended in 1975 so that only citizens and legal aliens have the right to a free education in the public school system. It's the Texas practice of charging tuition to illegal alien that is said to be unconstitutional, a matter under scrutiny with the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Special Session Postponed

Clements is keeping legislators guessing again as to exactly when he will call his promised special session of the Legislature to pass his favorite bills.

Last week Clements said he has ruled out next January and will call lawmakers back to Austin for 30 days in either March or September of 1980.

Most legislators seem to be expecting a September call, right before the November elections. Since most incumbents are Democrats, a special session then would keep them busy in Austin while their Republican opponents are campaigning back home. And of course, any vote an incumbent might cast during the Legislature is a fair target for an opponent stumping back home.

Clements, a Republican, has listed initiative and referendum, wiretapping in narcotics cases, and tax relief as his main subjects for a special session.

Radioactive Waste

Low-level radioactive wastes from other states are accumulating in Texas because there is no place in the nation to store them permanently.

Recent shutdowns of radioactive waste dumps in Washington and Nevada have caused the pipes to back up, so to speak, and about 2,000 drums of waste per month now arrive in Texas.

Texas Health Department officials say the waste generated from hospitals and labs does not constitute an immediate problem; it may be stored from six months to a year.

Last spring the Legislature defeated a bill which would have created a low-level radioactive dump in Texas because of the small penalty included for illegal dumping. Some Capitol insiders are now saying such a bill will crop up again in the Governor's Special Session. It may be needed to eliminate the waste already in Texas, and Clements long ago gave his approval for the creation of such a dump.

Lax Controls Charged

State and federal officials attending the National Conference of State Legislators in Austin last week said that shippers of nuclear waste are likely to encounter a federal inspector once every 20 years.

Such shipments of waste are transported on the nation's highways, and Texas does not have enough of its own inspectors to adequately monitor the 2,000 shipments per day to Texas. Texas Health Department officials say there is not enough money or personnel to enforce shipping regulations.

AG Briefs

In a legal opinion filed last week Attorney General Mark White found there is no violation of the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 when a state-supported college provides a student with direct access to his or her medical records as required by the Texas Open Records Act.

Law Enforcement Center Report Sheriff And Police

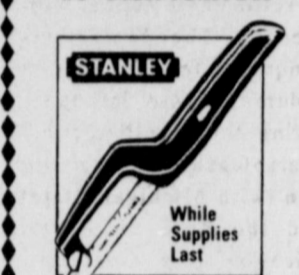

According to records at the Bailey County Law Enforcement Center, two arrests were recorded by the Department of Public Safety, one for driving while intoxicated and the other for carrying a prohibited weapon.

Three arrests were recorded by the Muleshoe City Police, two for runaway and one traffic violation. No burglaries have been reported in the last five days.

Sooners To Take On Cornhusker Power

Missouri came within three points of doing it to Nebraska, Saturday, the Tigers will try again, this time against the other Big Eight power Oklahoma. The Cornhuskers were happy to escape with a 23-20 win over Mizzou two weeks ago and the Sooners may possibly wish for the same type of settlement before the afternoon is over. Missouri, playing at home for this one too, has vivid memories of last year's 45-23 loss to Oklahoma. The power quotients, of course, favor the sooners. The spread 17 points. But it's advisable not to gamble grandma's proverbial little red tricycle on the outcome.

Michigan and Ohio State finally get the opportunity to settle their annual differences. The Wolverines conquered the Buckeyes in Columbus 14-3 last year giving them both the co-championship of the Big Ten (with Michigan State) and the Rose Bowl trip. Michigan has dominated the 75-year-old series with Ohio State as it has dominated every series of every team on its schedule. The victories stand at 42 to 28 with five ties. Saturday's contest is in Ann Arbor, but the Buckeyes are favored by seven points.

Although other national polls only recently recognized them, we have had the Owls of Temple in our Top Twenty for the past four weeks. Saturday, Temple and Penn State meet in a game that could have considerable significance on supremacy in the East. Temple was nipped by Pittsburgh 10-9 early in the season for its only loss, so we'd like very much to call this game with the Nittany Lions even. However, no cop-out here—we'll pick a winner: Penn State by one whisker!

Washington will close out one of its most successful seasons beating Washington State by 21 points.

Arkansas tackles a real toughie in Texas A&M—the Hogs are favored by only three points.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

This is a letter of appreciation for the hospital. As far as I'm concerned this is the best hospital in this part of the country. The best nursing staff, who always comes in your room with a smile on their faces and go out asking you if there is anything they can do for you. And when you ring your bell its not long before someone is there and they have really been busy. I know I was in there for over 19 days. I have spent some time in hospitals around the country and in N.M. This is by far the best. Our Doctors, Jerry Gregory, Gary Albertson, Homer Allgood, Sayago, Bruce Purdy are very good couldn't ask for any better ones. I would trust them with my life.

We have good beds and nursing care, maid care, and ideal "Respiratory Therapist". I don't think I would have made it without them.

The rooms are very clean. The beds are changed daily. Also the Administrator, Marshall Cook and Jo Jean Blackwell always have a smile and a hello when you see them.

As far as I'm concerned there is NO hospital any where as good as ours and I'm proud of it along with a lot of other people.

Mrs. Thresia Davis

MJHS Coaches Comments

The 7th grade team got off to a poor start in Thursday night's game and after an early fumble that was recovered by Dimmitt, the Mules trailed by a score of 8-0 early in the game. Hector Flores scored for the Mules later in the half and the half-time score was 8-6 in favor of Dimmitt. Coaches were well pleased with the Mule's second half showing, as the game was turned completely around by a determined group of Mules. The Muleshoe 7th grade, now has a record of (5-2) with one game remaining on their schedule.

The 8th grade game was a hard fought defensive struggle, Muleshoe played good defense throughout the game and early in the first quarter managed to sack Dimmitt's quarterback in his own zone, for a 2 point safety and hung on to this lead until the 4th quarter. Dimmitt's touchdown pass with 3 minutes and 48 seconds remaining in the game beat Muleshoe 6-2. This was their 3rd close loss in the last 4 weeks and Dimmitt won the 8th grade district championship with this victory. A last try for a winning touchdown by Muleshoe was turned away when Dimmitt broke up a 4th down and zone pass to Mike Pecina.

Coach Flowers was elected for teacher of the week at M.J.H.S. She coaches 7th and 8th athletics, 6th, 7th, and 8th P.E. and she also teaches 8th grade health.
