Thereupon the returns from these two countles, which were situated in the wilderness, were doctored by the democrats so as to give Barstow, their caudidate, a majority of 1,500. The latter was given the certificate of election, and on the first of January, 1856, he was duly in inaugurated. Meantime Bashford sued out a writ of quo warranto before the Supreme Court, which body was composed one republican and two democratic judges, and the issue came to a hearing a month or two after Barstow had been installed as Governor. The Court went behind the declaration of the scanyassers, and took testimony the canyassers, and took testimony came, etc.

Fifty years hence, probably all the diplomatic missions from this country will be done away with, when the people shall have learned how useless and expensive they are. They are now burdened with them because they are saddled with the traditions of the Old World. They were necessary at one time between sovereigns who could not communicate with each other under weeks, and sometimes months; and there may be other reasons for their maintenance, at present, in a monarchy, but they should have no weight in a republic. The diplomatic mission with the gold laced agent is part of the royal trappings by which a sovereign imposes respection an unenlightened people, and gratifies a sentiment of puerile vanity. Yet the importance of even the king's diplomatic representative is now much diminished. At pres-

THE MAYORALTY.

San Antonio, Dec. 5th, 1876

In an article which appeared in Fri- BEER CONSUMER day's issue, signed "Democrat." I find the following: 'Where would be the chances and hopes of placing Tilden in the White House" (where he is not yet, but where we hope he will be) 'had the democratic party politice that did not burt?"

This question might be answered better by asking another, and it is this: What would Tilden's chances have been had he not received other than straight demoeratic votest. "Our party," he says, "is in the ascendancy-see the immense gaine throughout the United States." Very true, and why? Because such men as Adams, Palmer, Curtin, Trumbull, and a host of others, have thought proper to join us in this great national reform movement, and must we, as Democrate, feel "debased" because those gentlemen, and others like them, once leading Repubscaus, have, in good faith, offered us the band of fellowship, and side by side, un-der this "reform banner," marched with us to victoryf Surely not! How is it then, and why are our San Antonio democrats so very choice just now? I have known some of them, not long since, to have been a good deal more liberal. Why fine sudden change all at once! Who helped to elect Mr. French? Those demoerats who were once so very liberal-now so hide-bound. . Yes, those "Sunday-goto meeting" democrate, who could not chant bosaunas, d'atribute religious tracts to the benighted ----, and pray inceslaw. No they could not vote for Knoxnot surely because he was not a sound democrat. It was not thought good polioy then to mix polities with city affairs.
