The program will start Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in front of the Court House, the barbecue will be served in the center of Market Street, between Second and Third Street at 12 o'clock. The afternoon will be taken up with all kinds of entertainment.

The barbecue will be in charge of the following: Larmer Henry, chairman, P. G. Hatchett, Ed Glover, John Driskill, John Asbury, A. T. Vestal, Buck White and J. A. Hammons. Mr. Henry stated that 3000 pounds of barbecue will be served, which he thinks will take care of six thousand people. Everything that goes to make a barbecue, will be served. The following ranchmen have contributed beeves for this occasion: Ed Horn, Mgr. of the J. O. Hall Ranch, Ace Hickman, Fred Cutbirth and C. B. Snyder, and others who have not been seen yet by the committee, will, we are sure contribute beeves for this occasion. The ladies of Baird are requested to furnish the cakes and pies.

Grant Bowlus and his committee will have charge of arranging the tables. Other committees are being appointed, who will have charge of the celebration.

The amusement committee is composed of, W. S. Parks, C. C. Wright, Mrs. Gus Hall, Mrs. James Ross and Mrs. Russell Hart.

NEW BUILDINGS IN BAIRD

The Mitchell building just north of the City Hall, is nearing completion. This building is built into two compartments, and we understand both have been rented to business concerns.

The building being erected by Judge W. C. White, on the west side of Market Street is also nearing completion, and we understand it too, has been rented.

We are informed that Messrs L. L. Blackburn and Virgil Jones have let a contract for a brick building to replace the wooden building just north of the Hi-Way Garage. Work of the tearing away the old buildings to begin about the first of December.

The City Pharmacy has just finished an extension of their sales room, and building in of a large case for display of toilet goods. They also have ordered a large Frigidaire Fountain which will be installed in a few days. This makes the City Pharmacy one of the most modernly equipped drug stores in this section.

The Baird Drug Company have put in two large show windows in the front of their store.

A large force of men are at work on the Sigal Theatre, which is being enlarged and completely remodeled. All of the brick work is finished. The front of the building is of Spanish design and is finished in gray brick. The lobby has a tile floor and the auditorium a floor of cement, the walls are being cemented and will be tinted a pleasing color, the ceiling is of a fire proof composition.

The stage will be well arranged. New seats will be installed throughout the house which will have a seating capacity of near 500 people.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS OF BAIRD AND CLYDE CONSOLIDATE

On last Thursday night a very important meeting of the K of P Lodge of Baird was held. Mr. Mackey, Special District Grand Deputy was present and another important feature being that the Clyde K of P Lodge asked to be consolidated with the Baird Lodge, and the consolidation was consummated with pleasure. This will give Baird quite an increase in members.

Several good speeches were made and considerable interest shown. Refreshments were served.

WEDNESDAY CLUB MET WITH MRS. HICKMAN

On November 16, the Wednesday Club met with Mrs. Hickman in her beautiful new home, just east of Baird, and spent a very enjoyable afternoon. Mrs. Tatum and Miss Anderson were club visitors.

Following in the program, a Roll Call, What Club What are doing today.

Report of G. F. W. C. G. E. Foy, Joh Le Farge, Mr. Jackson Lesson conducted by E. Ivey.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Foy of Amarillo, and Miss Annie Foy, of Abilene, spent Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Foy.

Judge B. L. Russell and H. O. Tatum returned to Baird Monday morning from El Paso, where they attended the "Broadway of America", meeting. Delegates from California, Arizona and New Mexico were present and met with the Texas delegates.

Judge Russell and Mr. Tatum were appointed on the executive committee and it is the hope of this committee to get the national organization functioning by spring, at which time a meeting will be held in Memphis, Tenn. A motor caravan will leave San Diego, California for the Memphis meeting and as they pass each town, other cars will be added to the caravan. The committee anticipates that there will be 300 cars in the motor caravan when it reaches Memphis.

Definite designation of the only year-round transcontinental highway in this country from Broadway, New York to Broadway, San Diego, California, was not made at the meeting in El Paso, but it is generally understood that the old Bankhead route will be selected.

"The Broadway of America Highway Association" was not organized to build a new highway, but merely to pick a route which can be traveled at any time in the year. The purpose of the Association will also be to gather accurate information on the road and to supply tourists the best possible aids on this route.

The northern route from coast to coast across the United States is known as the Main Streets of America. The southern route is known as the Broadway of America route will be traveled a great deal more as this route will be an all weather route. Baird in all probability will be on the Broadway of America route.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE STARTS HERE

W. E. Hutchins of Dallas is in Baird this week to co-operate with the local advisory board in raising funds to carry on the work of the Southwestern Division. He will remain here the rest of this week and probably part of next week until the work in this county is completed. The American Legion will assist in the solicitations.

"It is generally conceded," Mr. Hutchins said "that the Salvation Army comes nearer meeting every phase of human life than any other organization."

"The Salvation Army belongs to all of us. It is our organization. The Christ-like work of the Army appeals to all who are interested in the suffering of the poor and suffering of the State. Its institutions, whether maternity or rescue homes, boarding homes for business girls, or industrial hotels for men, etc., maintained, not for the inhabitants of the city, where for centralized convenience they may be located, but to serve those requiring such facilities, no matter what town or hamlet the case may come from.

"It is hoped that the citizens of Callahan County will co-operate with the Advisory Board in making this year's campaign very successful."

MRS. M. R. SHELBY BURIED IN ABILENE TUESDAY

Mrs. Shelby's husband, Dr. M. R. Shelby, died in Abilene July 1, 1912, and she will be buried beside him.—Abilene Reporter.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

To the officers and members of Baird Rebekah Lodge 112, I. O. O. F. We your committee, appointed to draft resolutions of sympathy and respect on the death of Sister Gladys Eastham, our Noble Grand, desire to report the following:

Our Heavenly Almighty Father, in his infinite wisdom saw fit to call from our midst, our dearly beloved Sister and Presiding Officer, to the Grand Assembly above, therefore offer the following resolutions:

That in her death our Lodge has lost a true Sister in the order, her grand-parents, parents, sisters and brother a loving and devoted daughter and sister. The intimate relations long held by our deceased Sister with the members of this Lodge render it proper that we should place on our records our appreciation of her services as a Rebekah and her merits as a woman.

That we bow in humble submission to the will of our Creator and say of her, "well done my good and faithful servant." In submitting we do not the less mourn of our beloved Sister who has been called from her labors on earth to an eternal rest in Heaven.

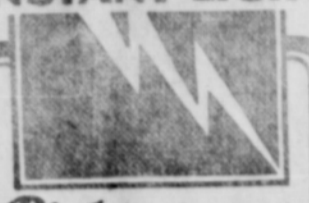

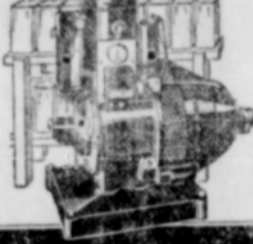

Resolved, That the Lodge tender its heartfelt sympathy to the family in their bereavement. That the Chapter of this lodge be draped for thirty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the sorrowing and bereaved family and a copy be sent to The Baird Star for publication.

Faithful, kind, all that a woman should be.
Her body only rests under the sod,
Her spirit, though we lack the power to see
Is surely with us, guarded by her God.
Should be,

Fraternally submitted,
Mrs. H. Schwartz
Mrs. Sam I. Smith
Mrs. Roy Jackson

Hugh Ross, Jr., who is attending S. M. U. at Dallas, came home to spend Thanksgiving with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ross.

DIAMETER OF COMET ONLY 0.3 MET MILES
Pons Winnecke, Recent Visitor, Not Very Large.
 Flagstaff, Ariz.—Despite the excitement it occasioned last summer when it came within 4,000,000 miles of the earth—closer than any previous comet—the Pons Winnecke comet had the distinction of possessing the smallest nucleus that has ever been observed in such a body. Probably it was not more than two or three miles in diameter, Dr. V. M. Slipher, director of the Lowell observatory here, has announced.
 Doctor Slipher took advantage of the close visit of Pons Winnecke to watch it carefully with the observatory's big refracting telescope, with a lens two feet in diameter. He said, he says, the best opportunity in years to make a measurement of the size of a comet's nucleus, the result of which is supposed to supply the rest of its material. On most occasions, he says, "the nucleus of the comet is found to be perfectly stellar, i. e., very small and sharp." At such times it is possible to distinguish the nucleus from stars only by its motion.

Compared With Stars.
 Even through the highest power telescope a star appears as a point of light. First Doctor Slipher compared the cometary nucleus with nearby stars. Then he took stars of similar brightness in another part of the heavens, in the region of the planet Jupiter and compared them with the large moons of that planet. As the size and distance of the Jovian moons are known, it was thus possible to estimate the size of the nucleus. Its distance from the earth was also known, and thus it was possible to get a rough approximation of its diameter. This, he found, was not more than two or three miles.

Other studies of the comet were made by Doctor Slipher with the aid of a spectroscopic telescope. In this way, by analyzing its light, he found several very peculiar features. It has been supposed that comets are excited to great activity as they get near the sun, but the studies of Doctor Slipher of Pons Winnecke as well as other comets seem to contradict these views.
Spectrum is Like Sun's.
 The spectrum showed very strongly the same dark bands that are revealed in the spectrum of the sun. This shows that the comet's light consisted largely of reflected sunlight. Also, in the band of spectrum there appeared rather weakly the bands that are associated with cometary light. A spray of light which projected from the nucleus toward the sun gave off more light of its own than any other part of the comet.

Besides having its activity reduced by approach to the sun, Doctor Slipher believes that its close approach to the earth may have also reduced the comet's light. In 1910, he said, it was found that the light emissions from Halley's comet were reduced as it approached the earth, and then became more intense as it drew away. Previously it has been supposed that the earth has little influence on the activity of comets coming near it. In this is the case, it would account for the fact that Pons Winnecke, despite its close approach to the earth, was much fainter than some astronomer had anticipated.

German Stage Schools Swamped by Students
 Berlin.—Though the theatrical profession in Germany is overcrowded, the various actors' schools constantly receive more applications, especially from young women, than they can handle. The distressing part about these applications, in the opinion of the directors of the schools, is the fact that the stage-struck girl of today has so little education.
 Aside from what they learned in grammar school the applicants seem to know about nothing. They do not even bother to read up about the theater. Such a term as the "classical theater" is apparently completely new to them. Most girls seem to think that the mere fact of this enjoying theatrical performances qualifies them for a stage star's career.
 This is held even by mature matrons. The schools often receive applications from women above forty who have suddenly discovered their calling for the stage.

Stockholm Rich Have More Babies Than Poor
 Stockholm, Sweden.—Stockholm has a unique claim to glory, Dr. Karl Eden has just completed a statistical study here that shows that the birth rate of the laboring classes is about 35 per cent below that of the more affluent strata of society.
 Stockholm laborers are apparently willing to let their earnings determine the number of their progeny, a state of affairs in marked contrast to that which obtains in almost every country in which statistical surveys have been made. The so-called upper classes are usually the ones that limit the size of their families.

WAR WORK NOT AT END FOR RED CROSS
 Demands for Service to Disabled Veterans Last Year Cost Nearly $3,000,000.

Expenditures of $2,930,223.86 for services to disabled veterans, and $507,532.30 for service to men of the Regular Army and Navy, were cut standing detached from the Red Cross appropriations of the past year's activities, reported by Chairman John Barton Payson at the annual meeting of the organization's representatives here last night.
 Of the total amount expended for disabled veterans, $1,223,366, and the local chapters $1,706,857. The Red Cross also received the regular income of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration of $307,832.50, and $200,000.

During the year the Red Cross as a whole contributed materially to the success of the Government efforts to have every veteran re-instate or convert his war-time insurance before the final time limit expired. Chapters worked in cooperation with local veterans' bodies to assist former service men with their insurance papers, and the application routine, many chapters keeping open headquarters up to the expiration of the final moment at midnight.

Under local chapters of the Red Cross, assistance to ex-service men in filing claims for disability and adjusted compensation, securing hospital care for disabled veterans, preparation of social histories for use in treatment of men in government hospitals, assistance in securing proper guardians for veterans' adjudged incompetent to administer their affairs, rendering reports on some conditions of service men applying for discharge because of dependency, and many other forms of aid are a part of the Red Cross duty to these men.

An interesting detail reveals the fact that prosecution of ex-service men's claims is becoming increasingly difficult as they grow more involved with each year that passes since the war. The number of death claims is growing constantly, in addition to the fact that there is a steady increase in the number of claims referred to various branches of the Red Cross concerning assistance to veterans, for aid in bringing them to a close.

During the past year, National Headquarters estimated that the Red Cross assisted veterans and service men with cases involving total awards of $558,681, for disability and death compensation, revival of insurance, adjusted compensation, pensions, medical and burial reimbursements, etc.

Red Cross representatives are on duty with the Army and Navy both in home and foreign garrisons, and contact is maintained in the hospitals and other centers where assistance to these men and women may be needed. Such Red Cross service, it is emphasized, covers only the fields where regular governmental provisions do not apply, and is designed to supplement these benefits of the Government.

It was emphasized that this particular activity of the Red Cross is one of the strongest appeals for the increased membership, which will be asked of the country during the annual enrollment from November 11 to 24.

Capital's Police Women Stand High in First Aid
 Members of the Women's Bureau of the District of Columbia police department recently completed the Red Cross first aid course. This is perhaps the first women's group of the kind to be awarded the special first aid insignia by the American Red Cross in token of completion of the training.
 The Red Cross in the past year qualified 24,832 persons in first aid and awarded certificates to members of police and fire departments, industrial groups and utilities employees all over the United States.

The Eleventh Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross, during which new membership is invited, will be held this year from November 11 to 24.

Washing... province of Friesland, in the Netherlands, which recently held an annual fair at the provincial... Leuwarden, is one of the most important dairying regions of Europe. Says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic Society, "Black and white Friesian cattle, a breed known in America as Holstein-Friesian, have found their way into most of the milk and butter countries of the world."
 "Friesian cattle were mentioned by the Roman historian Tacitus as being of importance as early as the year 23 A. D. Perhaps because of this early start, or by reason of the favorable location of the province in regard to industrial cities of northern Europe, Friesian farmers have grown prosperous through many years of furnishing their neighbors with butter and cheese.

Grazing Land Below Sea Level.
 "This northern province of the Netherlands lies between that arm of the ocean known as the Zuider Zee and the North sea. It is bordered by a rim of dikes and high sand dunes behind which the country is so low that were these dikes to break the entire province would be submerged. During the summer months the climate of this low, flat plain is mild and pleasant. Canal-bordered fields are filled with black and white grazing cattle.

"In winter, however, weather conditions are often severe. Storms of wind and rain may lash over the land for days. The necessity for feeding and warming milk cows during such periods has developed a style of domestic farm architecture peculiar to Friesland. Barn and dwelling are under one roof, which rises high into the sky in order to provide loft space for the immense amount of hay needed as cattle feed during the long winter. The whole gives the appearance of a one-story cottage pushed low into the earth by weight of an immense pointed roof, which reaches above the tops of the tall trees lining the roadway.

"A hall separates the living quarters of the farmer's family from space set aside for cows, which, as a rule, is the larger portion of the house. Visitors testify that these barns are spotless and odorless. Each stall is sanded and has a window of its own, inevitably decorated with a fresh white window curtain. Every cow has a bath daily and many of their tails are tied up with ribbon.

"There is always a milk room or dairy, equally spotless, with scrubbed tables and benches and shining brass utensils. Such immaculate cleanliness is obtained by much wielding of the scrub brush on the part of female members of the household.

"Friesian women are noted for robustness of stature and freshness of complexion. The provincial costume is still almost universally worn in the country. This dress of many petticoats and tight bodice is surmounted by a head covering of unique splendor. A gold casque with spiral ornaments over either temple is covered with a cap of finest lace, bordered with a fringe across the back of the neck. The gold portion of this head-dress is one of the most valued treasures of every provincial maiden, being often a present of father or fiancé, or else a result of the savings of years. Less fortunate maidens have to content themselves with casques of gold plate or of silver. Even the threat of baldness from so tight a head covering has not sufficed to deter Friesian belles from wearing their native millinery. It is said that some go so far as to cut off their tresses in order to produce the fashionable round shape to the head.

Bright Colors Prevail.
 "Like the rest of Holland, woodwork in Friesland is painted in the brightest of reds, yellows, blues and greens, perhaps to compensate for the general grayness of the atmosphere. Walls and floors are tiled in bright colors whenever possible. Heat is obtained by open fires of coal or peat, or, of late, by the more modern gigantic Dutch stove. Before this center of household life the Friesian farmer smokes on long winter evenings and plans for the butter and cheese of another year.

"Friesland cattle raisers are noted for their hospitality, which is especially enjoyed by English or American visitors because of the fact that many words of the two languages are the same. 'Good butter and good cheese, is good English and good Friesie' is an ancient proverb that can be understood by both peoples.

"Friesian dialect is said to have many expressions similar to the highland Scotch. Perhaps this accounts for the fact that there are always Scotch buyers at the Friesian cattle fairs which for many years have furnished blooded dairy stock to the markets of the world."

CHURCH OF CHRIST
Albert S. Ham, Minister

All our services the past week were fine. The interest on the part of those who are attending is all that we can ask or desire. However there are a goodly number of our members, I have learned, right here in town too, that are not attending church services anywhere. I am sure such are making a sad mistake that they will regret sooner or later. Use common sense and see what we are trying to do. If you come once, we believe you will come again.

Sunday School beginning 10 A. M. Competent teachers, and classes suitable for all ages.

Preaching at 11:00 A. M.

Sunday Evening at 7 o'clock, Peter Plotkin, of Abilene, a Russian artist Scholar and Lecturer of International Fame will deliver one of his Lectures at the above named church. It is free. There will be no collection.

Read the extract elsewhere in this issue of the paper copied from the Abilene Morning News. This is a treat for the people of Baird and community. You just simply cannot afford to miss it. Brother Plotkin is a Russian Jew, recently converted to Christianity. With many other things he will give a thrilling account of his personal experience that will without doubt hold his hearers spellbound throughout his entire lecture. You are cordially invited. Be sure and come.

Brother Plotkin will very likely speak at the 11 o'clock hour also, as he has promised to be with us at that time. Yours for greater service in His Name.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Come—To—Church—Sunday

The Pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. U. C. Howard, came in Friday evening, just at dusk. Their car lights failed them as they observed on leaving Cisco about half an hour before sundown. They came from there to Baird under "forced marches" as the old Romans would say.

Finding it possible to make a place to sleep in the manse, they went off into dream land and it was not known they were here till far into the day Saturday.

Tired and a little indisposed they slept later than they intended to Sunday morning; but both showed up in good time for Sunday School and Church, and the day was well spent by all worshippers in the services "Four Christian Virtues" was Mr. Howard's theme in the morning and "The Prosperity of the Righteous" was that by which the audience were interested in the evening.

The week has been spent mostly in unpacking and putting things into place at the manse.

The public is cordially invited to all services. They say; "We are here to do good and with a heart and a hand for every human soul."

THE BAPTIST CHURCH

Good reports came from services last Sunday, and we are indeed glad to hear it.

Next Sunday the pastor will preach both hours; at the morning hour he will discuss a bible subject that is of all the most thrilling. Come and hear what it is. At night he will preach on "The Sin in the Garden". In this connection he will explain what the forbidden fruit was; why not come and find out what that sin is?

The Sunday School and Unions will meet at their regular hours.

Everyone is urged to attend services all of them. We are anxious for you to worship with us.

SNAIL NO DELICACY IN OLD STONE AGE

Beloit Scientists Make New Discoveries in Africa.

Beloit, Wis.—The nice people of Mechtla, Africa, in the days before history began, were shamefully backward about their diet. They had snails for breakfast, snails for lunch, snails for dinner. But when it came to the matter of personal appearance the women, at least, were not so slow. They used rouge and powder in plentiful quantities—and presumably for the same general purpose of charm that prompts the charmers of Chicago to use them in 1927.

Such are the deductions of Alonzo W. Pond of the Logan museum staff of Beloit college, Beloit, Wis., from discoveries made by himself and others on the recent Logan museum expedition to Africa.

Ground Ochre for Rouge.

"The art of enhancing human beauty by the use of color seems to be as old as man," he said. "The deposit of Mechtla yielded primitive rouge or face powder in the form of red and yellow ochre. Flat stones were found on which the colored earth had been crushed to powder.

"The excavations gave us no direct evidence that the fair ones of Aurling naclan times painted their faces red or yellow, but almost every modern woman uses the material so frequently that its mere presence in archeological deposits causes the investigator to assume that the people either painted their faces or tattooed them with these brilliant colors."

Regarding the diet, Mr. Pond said: "They ate snails—big snails, little snails, medium-sized snails, long snails, short snails, broad snails, narrow snails. They must have eaten snails for breakfast, snails for lunch, snails for dinner. Probably they had snail soup, snail hors d'oeuvres, snail for the fish course, even snail-for dessert.

"But just when one becomes convinced," he added, "that snails were their sole food, a pick uncovers the leg bone of a huge ox or the jaw bone of some ruminant. Bone marrow must have been a delicacy, for all the bones were broken so that it could easily be extracted."

Old Stone-Age Folk.

Mechta el Arbi, said Mr. Pond, is a great mound of small shells, ashes, broken bones and hearthstones, 150 yards long and 100 yards wide, located on a high plateau about thirty miles west of Constantine, Algeria. There the Logan museum conducted excavations last winter, which indicated, in Professor Pond's opinion, that the mound was the camp site of a paleolithic people, probably of the Aurlingnaclan race, which also lived in Europe some 30,000 or 25,000 years ago.

The material collected consisted of worked flint and bone implements and animal remains left from feasts.

Paris Has Its Harlem;

Montmartre Now Black

Paris.—Paris has a "Harlem" of its own. Gradually the large negro population that has poured in upon the French capital since the war has gravitated toward Montmartre.

The "colored boys" who call Paris home have come to France from many places. Some are from America, others from Africa, and many from Martinique, and the French West Indies.

"Charleston City" is the name Paris Caucasians have given to the section of Montmartre where the negroes live. Many of the members of the colony are dancers, jazz band musicians, door openers and messengers in establishments that go in for red and gold uniforms.

WOMAN MAKES FORTUNE IN OIL

Began as Real Estate Operator
Then Started Drilling.

Wichita, Falls, Texas.—One of the few women oil operators in the country, Mrs. Mabel Rowan of Wichita Falls, also is a successful real estate operator.

Beginning as a real estate broker in Fort Worth, Texas, several years ago, Mrs. Rowan entered the oil business in the natural course of affairs. Among the properties listed with her for sale was a large block of acreage in Reeves county. That was in the days before that section of Texas became oil-producing land.

Drills Own Wells.

She acquired a large block of the Reeves county land for herself, subdivided and sold it for farming land. About the time she was ready to place the land on the market, the first oil well in that section "came in." As a result oil leases on Mrs. Rowan's land were sought by large oil companies. It was not long before she formed her own company and started drilling wells.

She went out in the oil fields, dealt with hard-boiled drilling crews, pipeliners and others, and directed her work personally. Donning overalls, she climbed derricks and sometimes assisted in pulling casing.

Not long ago she made a "location" for an oil well in Texas. The territory was "condemned" by geologists, but Mrs. Rowan's well proved to be a producer.

Real Estate Investor.

Recently she invested a large part of her money in Fort Worth real estate. One lot for which she paid $90,000 brought her an offer of $110,000 a few weeks later.

Despite her achievements, Mrs. Rowan is still unsatisfied.

"I am working every day and sometimes nights," she says, "and expect to be doing the same thing for several years before I call myself a success."

Norway Now Grants

Divorce for 25 Cents

Oslo, Norway.—Oslo has a claim to fame not very widely known. It is the greatest unexploited divorce mill in the world.

The Norwegian divorce law is simple, conclusive and profound. If a man and wife don't get along and agree to separate, that's all there is to it. Divorce in Oslo, if you go about it right, needs no lawyers, no red tape and no fuss—and costs 25 cents.

A man and his wife appear before the "stiftsamman"—that is to say, the civil representatives of the crew.

They pay their kronen—a quarter—and explain that it is difficult, or impossible, or unwise, as the case may be, to continue marriage. The stiftsamman smiles paternally, tells them to think it over for a fortnight, and then return. They wait the two weeks and come back. They are then granted a separation decree which may be operative, according to circumstances, for either one or two years. At the end of this period—during which wife and husband must live apart—divorce becomes absolute.

One-Hand Clock Been

That Way 376 Years

Castletown, Isle of Man.—A one-handed clock in the tower of Rushden castle has been that way for 376 years and does not seem to notice it.

For some reason the castle, which was once the ancient seat of kings and has written references dating to 1267, never bothered to equip the clock.

The clock is driven by a rope wound many times around a wooden cylinder with a stone at the end of the rope. The weight on the pendulum is another large stone.

French Claim Many of "Biggest" Things

Paris.—France really leads in many things, says a newspaper writer, who, like many Frenchmen, rather smart under the endless list of things—"the biggest in the world"—that are from time to time reported as existing in the United States.

Here are some of the things claimed for France as being the "biggest" in the world:

- Tour Eiffel, the highest structure.
- The Caraby viaduct, the biggest metal viaduct.
- L'ile de France, 42,000 tons, the biggest steamer built since the war.
- The Saint Pierre de Vauvray bridge, the biggest reinforced concrete bridge.
- The fastest electric train, running from Paris to Vierzon.
- Le Bourget, the biggest airfield.
- The biggest aviation hangars, at Orly.
- The Canal de Rove, the biggest underground canal.
- The 1,000,000,000 candle-power searchlight at Mount Valerien.
- The 50,000-kilowatt alternating current generators, at Gennevilliers.

FROM native sources comes the story of the heroic fight and tragic death of Lieut. E. A. Thomas and Sergt. Frank Dowdell, American marine aviators who were killed by Nicraguan rebels several weeks ago.
When their plane crashed they escaped unhurt and made their way toward Jlearo, capturing two prisoners whom they met. One of these men suddenly attacked one of the marines with a machete, severely wounding him. The other marine shot the rebel dead, but the other prisoner fled and carried word of the happening to Sandino. The outlaw leader sent a force that trapped the marines in a cave. In the desperate fight that followed the Americans killed a number of the guerrillas before they were themselves shot to death.

acting for the defense, sought to justify the actions of his men, asserting that the defense had the same right to shadow and observe juries as the prosecution has. An apparent attempt to start a back-fire was the charge made by Burns' men that a young assistant attorney general had had improper contact with one of the jurors, but this fell through. A. Mason Day and Sheldon Clark, Sinclair company officials who were charged with directing the operations of the detectives and receiving their reports, refused to testify before the grand jury as to who actually hired and paid the investigators and what relationship existed between them and Harry Sinclair. Both Day and Clark were arrested and held under bonds. Every Burns operative who was sent to Washington for the Teapot Dome job was quizzed by the government prosecutors in the effort to establish the identity of two strangers who approached Jurors J. J. Costinette and G. P. Grenfall, as related by those two men to the grand jury.

SEVERAL thousand residents of the Mississippi valley, with Mayor Thompson of Chicago and a big delegation of his admirers at their head, went to Washington and presented to the house committee their demands for comprehensive flood control legislation. Mr. Thompson, Governor Small of Illinois, Mayor O'Keefe of New Orleans and a number of others addressed the committee, and while no specific legislative program was proposed there was agreement among the speakers that the federal government must assume complete responsibility for the adoption of a program to avert future flood disasters on the Mississippi. Willingness was expressed for the most part to support whatever program might be recommended by the army engineers. There was insistence that other legislative projects, which might be attached to a Mississippi flood control bill, be kept separate.

While in the national capital Mayor Thompson reached an agreement with General Jadrin, army chief of engineers, in Chicago's water meter dispute with the government.

NEW ENGLAND'S floods, which spread death and disaster throughout several states, are subsiding, but the conditions in the stricken regions are so serious that President Coolidge and the Red Cross were asked to go to the rescue. Bitterly cold weather, impassable roads, shortage of food supplies and threatened outbreaks of pestilence combined to render the situation of the people desperate. About 150 lives were lost in the floods, and the damage to property probably will run far into the millions. Farmers lost great quantities of live stock and in many cases all their buildings were swept away. In cities and towns along the rivers the losses of both lives and property were heavy.

CONTRACTS calling for the construction of eight Atlantic cargo airplanes, similar to the one piloted across the Pacific to Hawaii by Lieutenants Maitland and Hegenberger, have been let by the War department. The planes will cost approximately $35,000 apiece. They are tri-motored monoplanes, with a capacity of ten persons to each plane.

SOVIET RUSSIA celebrated the tenth anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution with great demonstrations in Moscow and other cities. In the capital a wild, cheering throng of a million men, women and children marched through the streets, passing before the tomb of Lenin, on which stood President Kallinin of the soviet union. Thirty thousand troops under General Voroshiloff took part in the parade. In Shanghai, China, and Harbin, Manchuria, the White Russians staged counter demonstrations and there were bloody encounters between the two factions, which were finally ended by the consular guards.

SEYMOUR PARKER GILBERT, the American agent general for reparations payments, scolded the German federal states recently for their lax administration of finances, and part of the German press and public was greatly offended by what was considered dictatorial interference. Especially was Bavaria angered, and that state and Wurttemberg threatened to separate from the German republic and join Austria. It developed later that Mr. Gilbert issued his warning at the instigation of the government in Berlin to open the way to administrative reform and financial economies. Chancellor Marx planned a trip to Munich to calm down the Bavarians.

FRANCE has arranged for the disposal of $75,000,000 in government 5 per cent bonds to the Swedish Match company and thus will be enabled to retire the balance of the 8 per cent Morgan loan of 1920. Financiers in Paris believe the Swedish concern expects sooner or later to get the very lucrative "French match" monopoly. From the start the Swedes will win important commercial advantages by the deal. The French agree to buy millions of francs worth of match-making machinery, which the Swedes alone manufacture, in the hope of trying to make a good thing out of the monopoly, the potential value of which is evident from the fact that everybody in the world wants to exploit it.

GEN. ARNULFO GOMEZ, Presidential candidate in Mexico, and chief of the late insurrection, was captured with a number of his supporters in the mountain region of the state of Vera Cruz by Gen. Gonzalo Escobar. Gomez and his nephew, Francisco Vizcarra, were summarily tried by court-martial and executed. Later several of the military officers who had followed his fortunes were condemned and shot.

Generals Matus and Espinosa, leaders of the Yaqui Indians lately in rebellion against the Mexican government, have surrendered and with 600 of the Indians were taken to Mexico City. The Yaquis were lodged in barracks to await forced enlistment in various sections of the army. The entire tribe will be dispersed in accordance with the plans laid by General Obregon some time ago.

COLORADO'S coal-mine strike seems to be fizzling out, for the men have lost nearly all their leaders. Thirty of them were arrested by the state police in a concerted drive designed to put an end to illegal picketing, and though new leaders sprang up, the men appeared to have lost heart and were reported returning to work in considerable numbers. On the other hand there were stories of plots to storm the jails at Walsenburg and Pueblo and release the imprisoned agitators, and at the former place a mob of 400 strikers attacked a squad of state policemen and severely beat six National Guard officers.

MILLICENT ROGERS, daughter of Henry H. Rogers of New York, who recently divorced Count Salm von Hoogstraten, was married last week to Arturo Peralta Ramos of Argentina. It was reported the bride received $500,000 from her father as a wedding gift. The couple sailed for the groom's home in South America.

ANOTHER wedding, of more interest in Europe, was that of Princess Anne of France, daughter of the duke of Guise, pretender to the throne of France, and Prince Amadeo Umberto, duke of Apulia and cousin of the king of Italy. The ceremony was performed in Naples and was witnessed by a brilliant gathering that included the kings of Italy and Spain and many members of the nobility.

Albert S. Hall, Minister
 Last Sunday was a splendid day for the Church of Christ in Baird. In fact "in every way, from day to day, our services are growing better and better." Our morning attendance last Sunday was the largest it has been since we began our labors with this splendid church, several weeks ago. We also had a record-breaking audience at our Mid-week Meeting last week. We shall be glad to have you join our number and become a regular attendant with us.

Subject for Sunday will be: "The Farewell Message of our Lord." Sunday night: "The Two Laws of Pardon; and God's Willingness to Save. Don't fail to hear the discussion of these two great subjects. We believe all present will be profitably entertained. All teachers and pupils in our Bible School are doing fine work. Remember, if you get on the record you must be ON TIME. We begin promptly at 10 o'clock.

I wish every woman in this town would attend the Ladies Bible Class every Tuesday afternoon at 3:15. I assure you I am using mild terms when I say IT IS GREAT.

Man Sealed in Glass
 Facts for Fifty Days

Southend-on-Sea, England.—Ricardo Sacco is claimed to have completed a fast of 50 days' duration. Sacco, who has something of a reputation as a faster in Great Britain, was sealed in a cabinet of wood and glass at the Casino here. It is asserted that he subsisted on six bottles of lemonade daily. He lost 30 pounds in weight and is almost too weak to move. His first meal consisted of chicken broth.

Linked Football With Crime in Old Days

London.—The official opening of the football season was held without fear of the law such as prevailed in years gone by.

In the year 1314, Edward II forbade the game and in 1389 Richard II passed a new act for its suppression, while Henry IV, Henry VIII and Elizabeth all tried to stem its increasing popularity by increasing penalties.

These laws were frequently enforced against delinquents and it is recorded that at Dublin in 1579, one Denis Wogan was fined £10 and jailed for a week because he kicked off at a local football game.

Despite the laws, however, many games were played every year and an old record says that "thanks to the sturdy apprentices the streets of London were full of footballs."

Youth, Alone, Keeps 8, With Father in Prison

Frankfort, Ky.—Written between the lines of a petition for executive clemency for Enoch Polly, serving a life sentence in state reformatory here, is the story of a five-year struggle by a youth, now twenty-three years old, to support the family of a father convicted of murder.

In 1922 Enoch Polly was found guilty of slaying Mandy Caudill. When Polly was sent to prison his oldest son, Richard, eighteen, was forced to quit school and go to work in the coal mines of Cornettsville to support his mother, ten brothers and sisters. Richard, neighbors say, has kept the family well fed and clothed and the children in school. Two years ago the mother died, and since two of the older girls have married.

Still, Richard has quite a little family to take care of—eight children, the oldest thirteen, the youngest six. Spring floods swept away most of his possessions, but he is "carrying on."

Weapons ON
FOR WAR
 Important Advances Made Over Arms of 1917.

Washington.—New weapons far superior to those used by the American army during the World war have been developed by the ordnance branch of the War department. Predominant characteristics of the new weapons over the old are increased ranges, heavier projectiles and greater mobility.

While the United States has not progressed so far as European armies, especially England, in the mechanization of its fighting equipment, inquiry reveals unusually important advances in the development of new artillery weapons. Examination of the new weapons discloses that in case of an emergency, the American army will at least have weapons perfected which can be rushed into production with full confidence that they will function efficiently on the battle field.

Two outstanding examples in the artillery weapons are the 75-millimeter gun and the 75-millimeter pack howitzer. Other improved weapons include a new 155-millimeter or 6-inch field gun and the 75-millimeter pack howitzer, an improved 37-millimeter anti-aircraft gun, a new trench mortar, a new 3-inch anti-aircraft gun and a 14-inch howitzer.

Artillerymen are confident that the new 75-millimeter gun developed in this country since the war is destined to be the smaller caliber field gun more efficient weapon. The American 75, while weighing slightly more than the famous French 75-millimeter field gun, used so widely during the war, has a much greater range and wider field of fire. Where the old weapon had a maximum range of 7000 yards, the new American rifle fires a 15-pound projectile a distance of 15,000. Its elevation, thanks to a split trail, is 45 degrees, while the old weapon had an elevation of only 19 degrees.

The new American 75 will be horse-drawn and tests have shown it can be taken anywhere the old 75 could not. This gun has been adopted for army use. Companion pieces for this weapon are the new 75-millimeter pack howitzer and the recently developed 75-millimeter rifle.

The advantages of the new howitzer are that it boasts a range as great as the French 75 and is so light in weight that it can be easily transported through mountains or hilly country.

Excuses All Good

New Rochelle, N. Y.—Ignatius Collins was in court for running his car past a stop signal. "I have three good excuses," he told the judge. The excuses were triplets. Sentence was suspended.

WHERE FLYERS ALIGHT AND CABLES RADATE

The Azores Important Communication Center.

Washington.—When Miguel B. Mader tried to fly across the Atlantic and dropped into the Azores, the Azores she fell in became a communication center, says a bulletin from the Washington (D. C.) headquarters of the National Geographic Society.

"And within the Azores group is the most important so far in contact with the outside world is concerned. Sao Miguel, Faial, and Azora, the capital on Terceira, is a better port than Horta, on Fayal.

"But Fayal is the communication hub of the Atlantic, with spokes reaching out to Europe, the two Americas, and Africa. On Fayal island there are four cable companies, two American, one English and one German. There are more than 150 young 'news pushers,' as the dispatching operators are called, and each group has its own mess.

"Arriving at Fayal in the daytime one sees a ribbon of road around the island, and the whitewashed villages with a church for a pendant among the ivory bits that are strung along this 35-mile circular tour. Out near some detached rocks near the west end there is a lighthouse which appears at first to be a minaret. From there to Horta, the town, is a steep declivity several hundred feet high so that the road has to sweep up to avoid washing itself to death in the glistening surf.

"Amid smiling seas the Azores, from November to March, usually wear a cloud blanket so that the fine cone of Pico, which sounds like Orange Pekoe but simply means 'peak,' is hidden as an approaching ship swings to the north. Pico has a separate island to itself and since Pico is an active volcano, this is as it should be.

The "Fairy Town of Horta." Twilight had fallen when the writer's vessel finally came alongside the fairy town of Horta, now made up of white blotches against a dark hillside with electric lights, hiding the details like the nun's candles during the change of scene in 'The Miracle.' Horta is not really a port, since it lacks a green light to complement the red one on the end of the single breakwater. So passengers land in a launch which tosses up and down in the swell and gives the folks a thrill for their money.

"A Portuguese, with wide-brimmed fuzzy hat, V-neck white sweater and sideburns, ran the launch. He took a liking to us and showed us around the town which, like a certain flower, had folded itself up with the setting of the sun.

"Horta's chief claim to fame seems to be that Mark Twain and the cable companies have honored it with their attention. Mark said something about a tiny fort here which would have to be taken back up the volcanic slopes in case of war. That was the days before the Azores were the alighting spot for transoceanic flights.

"Horta greets one with a mosaic sidewalk in the Portuguese style, and many of its buildings are faced with glistening tile so that as one walks down the street at night he seems to be threading his way along some peculiar bathroom in an old Mogul palace or a Chicago boarding house.

"The street, as we walked down it, and passed so many churches that Horta seemed to be the Bokhara of the Catholic world, was being used for sentimental purposes, for Horta has its nightly rehearsals of the balcony scene from Romeo and Juliet. The balconies are narrow and long, looking like sample bits of steel fence hung up on display.

In a Horta "Movie." "Our side-burned mentor took us to a movie theater fronted with salmon tiles. We secured a box in the lower of three horseshoes around which the town was arranged. If the social strata maintained their same relative positions at home that they do in the theater, then the Horta palaces would be down near the sea and the lowlier and more grimy members of society up near the lava line above the main part of the town.

"From June to September the whole island of Fayal is marked out with blue-and-white hydrangea hedges and is one of the loveliest spots on earth, with sometimes smoking Pico 'Fujiyama' in the background.

"The Azores are certainly the result of tremendous volcanic eruptions that have continued to change their physical aspect ever since their discovery in the fifteenth century. On every hand are evidences of former upheavals, from the gray lava stones that are used in the construction of houses and the building of roads to the underlying streaks of ashes that are visible in places where the surface soil has washed away, and the many cup-shaped craters and beautiful lakes on the tops of the mountains.

"Violent earthquakes have disturbed the Azores during the centuries since their discovery. The annals of the island vie with those of Italy in graphic accounts of the ever-interesting and terrible volcanic phenomena. Cities were buried, mountains disappeared and sent their ashes to unbelievable distances; islands hundreds of feet high suddenly appeared and as suddenly disappeared, and flames of fire illuminated whole islands and their intervening waters."

RED CROSS VOLUNTEER WORKERS BIG FACTOR

Broader Industry in Home Chapter and in Field Development of Disaster Service.

Volunteer industry in the American Red Cross is on an upward trend, due to the broader demand for assistance in meeting disaster relief requirements. Men and women from Red Cross chapters in the last year exemplified by their work for disaster victims a greater activity than in any year since the end of the World War.

This service was given without stint and with the finest of spirit, according to Red Cross officials. Volunteer Red Cross workers have served by the thousands with the local Chapters in garment production, printing raised type reading matter for the blind, in hospital service, as canteen workers and motor corps aids. Nearly all active Chapter workers are volunteers.

More than 80 per cent of the available reading material for the blind is produced by volunteer Red Cross workers. Volunteers produced 175,483 garments, 2,657,912 surgical dressings for hospital use, and 6,335 articles for emergency closets maintained by Red Cross Chapters in various communities for disaster and other emergencies. The garment production, large as it was, did not include the thousands of garments made for the Mississippi flood sufferers by volunteers. Another important volunteer service is the preparation and sending of 30,000 Christmas bags to soldiers and bluejackets on duty in foreign stations.

Approximately 250 Chapters participate in Motor Corps service, while the growing interest of volunteers in health work constitutes an additional community safeguard in emergencies when the services of regular nurses might be overtaxed.

Volunteer service will be an important factor in the forthcoming eleventh Annual Roll Call, from November 11 to 24, in enrolling the 5,000,000 membership to be sought.

Industrious Beavers

Dam Brook, Block Road

Stony Point, N. Y.—Town authorities of Stony Point, alleging a family of industrious beavers are delaying traffic on a county highway in the St. John's section of this town, complained to Maj. W. A. Welch, chief engineer of the Palisades Interstate park system. They asserted that the beavers built and rebuilt a dam.

Five times now the road gang of workmen under Street Commissioner James Rose of Stony Point have razed the dam made by the beavers in the last two weeks, but each time the beavers rebuild the dam.

They construct it about twenty feet wide and to a height of five feet under a bridge which crosses a brook. The result is the water, dammed by the industrious animals, floods the highway.

Kin to a Mysterious Race

So long ago that it is impossible to say when, there dwelt in Europe or Asia a most remarkable tribe of mankind. These people are not mentioned in any ancient history and no legend gives a hint of their existence. They were the so-called fathers of the Aryans who now people the earth, and the knowledge we have learned about them has been learned through the study of words. Word by word the language of the original Aryans has been exhumed from the descendent modern languages until, pieced together, they tell the story of a vanished people. Historians tell us that words and customs are a great index to the life of any race.—Capper's Weekly.

ANCIENT TEMPLES BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Excavators in Palestine Make Rich Find.

Alexandria, Egypt.—Further important discoveries have been made by the Palestine expedition of the University museum of Philadelphia under Alan Rowe which is excavating at Belsan, the Bethshan of the Bible. Two new Canaanite temples of 1500 B. C. have been unearthed.

In one of them among the other objects of value and interest there have been found a bronze figurine, covered with goldfoil, representing a god seated, with his right arm raised and a beautiful lapislazuli scarab with a cartouche of sesostris.

On a level previously identified with Ramesses II, a door jamb has been discovered showing for the first time the actual figure of the builder of the Temple of Dagon, mentioned in the first book of Chronicles, together with an inscription supplying missing titles.

Here also have been found several of Ramesses II, and Thothmes IV, and a curious stone, having at the top the head of a deity with a figure holding a captive whose legs are kicking the air and below a stand with four human-shaped legs. The identity of this deity and the significance of the stone are unknown.

Other discoveries include a fine Egyptian falcon finger ring, bearing the sacred eye.

Further proof of Cretan and Cypriot influences in this area 3,000 years ago is revealed in the shape of the handle of a pottery vessel with two groups of linear signs, similar in part to Cretan linear writing and in part to the Cypriot Archaic alphabet.

There also have been unearthed a finely made figure of a bull, a child's rattle of pottery with a couple of small stones inside it, a very unusual pot with a strainer spout and a movable disk-like strainer fitting its mouth, a beautifully made bronze axhead and two buckles of Isis.

The expedition has been working at Tell-El-Hesi, which means mounds of fortresses—where eight levels have been identified as existing from before the time of Amenophis III to that of the crusades, covering 23 centuries. Most of the treasures, whereof those mentioned are only a part were, except where otherwise stated, made at the earliest levels. The expedition is now engaged on the lowest level which promises to yield rich deposits.

British Grant Beloit

Permit for Research

Beloit, Wis.—Permission to do research work in British East Africa has been gained by Logan museum of Beloit college, according to an announcement by Dr. George L. Collie, curator, and the next few years may see the museum doing work there.

The territory is rich in remains of Aurignacian man which, Doctor Collie says, was the first real man. He existed 25,000 years ago and rapidly spread all over the world, he says. Aurignacian remains have been found in France, Czechoslovakia, Algeria and in southern Africa. In British East Africa 60 skeletons have been uncovered in two years, while Europe has spent 100 years in uncovering 40 such skeletons.

The college museum already has two skeletons, both from Algeria. One, the skeleton of a child, was found a year ago, while the other, of a mature man, was uncovered only a month ago and will soon be brought to the museum for permanent housing.

Sacred Cat Keeps Eye

Open for Four Months

Boston.—Dr. John A. O'Connell, Dorchester veterinarian, has a raja sacred cat which none of the doctor's family has seen lie down, close an eye in the four months the animal has been domiciled with the doctor. It is called Meesick, and a naval officer brought it from the interior of Siam.

The cat is friendly, and Dr. O'Connell says its constant restlessness and apparent watchfulness are due to its desire to communicate with persons. The cat's fame has been constantly growing and one offer of $300 was made and was promptly refused.

Meesick has a yeow! which is canny and his purr is like that of a tiger.

National Monuments

Sought for Saratoga

Troy, N. Y.—Congress will be asked to appropriate more than $1,000,000 to establish two national memorials on the Saratoga battlefield, leaders in observance of the battle's centennial assert.

Burton D. Esmond, assessor from Saratoga county, asks the state legislature at its next session to authorize purchase of the remaining 100 acres of the battlefield and of additional land at Waterhouse, where the Battle of Bennington was fought, and at Oriskany. George O. Singmaster, mayor of Mechanicville, has announced a movement to establish a museum of the Revolution in a great tower visible from Massachusetts and Vermont.
