At the end of the marning hour, on majon of Mr. Emdands, the Senate took up the bill reported by the special Committee on the Electoral vote. Both parties of the Senate concurred this morning on the electoral count bill. Neither party meeting was intended to be binding. In the Democratic caucus, nothing was said against it, but in the Republican caucus, more opposition was expressed than expected. Mr. Morton has a dispatch from the secretary of the Republican canons of the Iudiana Legislature, saying his course in withdrawing his name from the report was manimously approved.

THE Spanish ladies use the following preparation to give a polished whiteness to the neck and arms: Infuse wheat bran, well sifted, for four hours in white wine vinegar; add to it five yolks of eggs and two grains of ambergris, and distil the whole. It should be carefully corked r twelve or fifteen years, when it will be fit for use. It is an excellent preparation to give a luster to the skin. A Chiosgo man has tried it on a pimple, and what was once an unsightly object is now plished that it shines out like a headso polished that it shir light on a locomotive.

THERE are fewer drunken people seen in Boston and fewer arrests for drunkenness, and the law is more rigorously enforced by policemen, than in any American city. It is there that local option does its work, and there it is only sold as a dicine or by the gallon and kept at ome by those who must use it. People are not tempted to drink, and social drinking is at an end and drunkenness is restrict ed to those who have already become

She began her dareer, with her sister Helen, at the old National Theatre Boston, first as vocalist, then danseuse and then general sotress, but finally essayed in the highest walk of the drama and chieved great success. She married, in 1859, Mr. James H. Meade, but the alliance proved unfortunate, and she was always known by her maiden name. She was 34 years old at the time of her death.

A STRANGE IDEA.

The Austin Statesman says :

The Austin Statesmen says:

The names of the new police of the Wilson government in Houston are to be apt secret for about ten days and then lashed in brass-buttoned splender upon he startled community. They must have, we presume, stars in their hats and clubs and pistols and be uniformed a la militaire. we presume, eters in their hats and clubs and pistols and be uniformed a la militaire. People of Texas towns are growing weary of these ferms of despotism introduced after the war by despots. We are a plain, liberty-loving people, and will respect ourselves and local governments none the less if peace officers wear habiliments of peace and conform in dress to Rapphican tastes. These despotic forms belong to monarchies and not to liberty-loving States, and, least of all, to communities in Texas in which popular free dom is and must ever be absolute. The purpose of those who first gave us these lace-bedizzened guardamen was to accustom us to anolection to the forms first, and then to the facts of despotic authority, and policemen, like constables, should be plainly olad citizens. We would not distinguish them from other people by the reduces of eyes or noses or by the toggery of soldiers. A star in front and rear would serve every needful purpose.

Such talk is foolish—the editor permitted some crude impulse to run away

Such talk is foolish—the editor permitted some grade impulse to run away with him. Is electhing her police decently, neatly and with dignity, a resumption of any despotin form by Houston? Does the simple act of a man's donning a decent unit of electhes make a deepot of him? San Antonio, and all towns having a proper pride, uniform their police. Our policemen have wern uniforms for years, and we have accer observed that they were rendered haughty and despotic by doing so. Probably Austin feels had because Houston takes a step above her in Honston takes a step above her in arch of civilized ideas in Texas-we an not imagine any other reason to elicit he Stateman's hoppycock. But the lateman is noted for its phenakiem.

THE TEXAS AND PACIFIC RAILROAD

The bill is known as a compromise bill. It is the old charter somewhat altered. A few of the leading points are as follows: mortgage is to be made upon the road and all its lands. The bonds issued under this mortgage bear four and a half per ent., which is guaranteed by the United States, and they all to be deposited in the National Treasury. They will stay there until the commissioners of the United States shall officially certify to their being issued to pay for the work which has been actually done. This part of the bill is very skillfully drawn, and puts such a sheck upon the persons concerned as will prevent a repetition of the Union Pacific ernment. The object of this is stated in Vewettine the bill to be, "In case the revenue from all sources shall not be sufficient to pay the coupons as they may mature, it shall ring notoriety, is about to be pardoned. But there are other indictments against be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to sell the bonds so deposited, and with the money therefrom received, he shall pay the interest on the bonds that remove the main objection-which has heretofore been urged against the billthat it would somehow cheat the Goverament out of the interest paid for the company, as the Union Pacific has done, and is still doing

In addition to this clause the Government has these guarantees: It reserves all money due the company for transportation of any kind on governmental account; it reserves all money received from the sale of the lands, whether national or those granted by the State of Texas. All the revenue of the company, derived from any business, which is on hand after necessary expenses are paid, shall be in the custody of the United States until the interest due for the cur rent year shall be paid, and the Government may also anticipate a year's interest by retaining it out of this fund.

THE ILLINOIS SENATORSHIP.

There is general interest throughout the country in the ballotting now progregressing in the Illinois Legislature for a U. S. Senator. The two leading nominees for the position are Senator Logan and Governor Palmer. The former was nominated by the Republicans and the latter by the Prepared by H. IZ. Stevens, Bos Democrats. The great desire is to defeat Logan, which result would be of the very first importance to the Democratic party. A Republican exchange, referring to the race, says that "the defeat of Logan at the present time would be much more than the choice of a Democrat to take the place of a Republican in the Senate of the United States. It would be the defeat of the Republican party throughout the nation, through one of its leading representatives, in one of the leading Republican States of the West. In this respect, it would be a calamity to be regretted by the friends of free institutions everywhere. It would give more comfort to the friends of that cause which, once given up as lost, LUCILLE Westner, the actress, who died is by many supposed to have been found in New York on the 19th instant, was con- again, than anything that has happened since the surrender of Lee. It would cause more joy at the National Democratic headquarters than has happened there since the November elections, when the news all seemed to favor the supposition of Tildeu's success." Such is the feeling of the Republicans in this matter, and the Demograts are fully equally interested. But if the Democrate are re-enforced by the Independents in the Legislature, the common belief is that Logan will be dedeated. Up to the present, the Independente have supported Anderson, and are about fourteen in number. The race is a very close one and will be decided with probably not more than one majority either way, as the Democrats and Independente combined are but two men stronger than the Republicans. The Republicans are using every means in their power to secure Logan's re-election. As an evidence of the profound interest felt by them in the niatter, the telegraph says that a multitude of influential and promineat Republicans are gathered at Spring-field, from all parts of the State, representing every profession, business and occupation. They are there to urge upon the Legislature the importance of Logan's noticing that Trimble was carrying a pistol, said: "I have one for you also."

Trimble drew his pistol and began firing at Lee, who returned the fire, but Trimble killed Lee dead the third shot. He then turned and shot Arliana. then turned and shot Arlinger, who died from the effects of the wound a few hours after. He then fired his last shot at Mr. Wade Smith, who was trying to arrest him, but an intervening fence rail saved Smith.

In the melee Trimble got a flesh wound in the shoulder. He rode about four, miles, and stopped at a house to have his wound attended to, at which place he was arrested next day and brought to town under a large posse, which the sheriff found necessary to summon to prevent Trimble from being mobbed by the out-raged citizens. He is now safe in jail.

"BULLDOZING."

The late Presidential campaign and the squabble which followed, have brought into prominent use the word "bulldozing." The "bulldozer" has been represented as a fiend in human form invading the quiet communities of negroes and Republican suffragans ostensibly for the purpose of infimidating them to vote the Deniocratic ticket. The charges of "bulldozing" have been made almost exclusively by colored voters, and magnified from mole hills into mountains by the extreme partizan press of the North. We say, 'render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's," that is, it South en have intimidated negroes into voting the Democratic ticket, let them suffer the consequences of their folly . But we have watched carefully the proceedings of the investigating committees in Louisiana, the centre of lalleged "bulldozing," and are blind in recognizing the support of the charges. True, testirough treatment of negroos, but there has nothing transpired to prove that political feelings governed the whitee in their punishments of the blacks. It is a well-known fact that the Kellogg government friends, Kelly was the man who shot the has not been effective in suppressing outrages by colored men. The latter have been, we may say, at perfect liberty to rob and steal. The courts and juries, made up largely of or influenced by. a preponderant colored population, have in several of the parishes favored a system of outlawry. It has been a privilege of the negroes to prey upon the whites in some localities. To protect themselves, the whites organized vigilance committees, and these self protective organizations bave dealt in a summary manner with offenders. Their action, entirely outside of the pale of polities, has been brought to bear as the governing influence to contest or decide the election of the President test or decide the election of the President son who was in the United Kingdom at of the American people. Hon. S. B. Packard, State-House, New Orleans, La:

Dear Sir-Your letter, dated the 16th inst., which you had published in the newspapers and telegraphed north before it was possible for me to see it, is received. Though addressed to me, I understand very well that it is not particularly intended for me, and, but for some errors effecting me personally. I should not affecting me personally, I should not think it necessary to make any reply.
You state that orders had been issued

From a cursory review of it, it all unauthorized armed bodies should be appears to be the most complete thing of required to be, etc. You considered this the kind that we ever saw. It is flects the order of the Secretary of War as "virtually commanding a maintenance of the status quo. Consequently the State forces in charge of different positions outside the capitol, were directed to make such resistance as would compel a manifestation of force and breach of the peace on the part of their opponents. It was my understanding that neither side should be permitted to interfere with the status the other side.

In reply I would state that the time of some time after the surrender, without for local option ! resistance, of the Supreme Court room, the arsenal, and all of the police stations. and it is quite a strange thing to me that | door, has succeeded Corn, Hay and Fo you ever considered that order as "com- on the Wall-latest sign in town. manding a maintainance of the status quo.'
Yourself and officers in command immediately under you, have repeatedly stated that it was the intention to seize any favorable opportunity to recover the court-room, and you have repeatedly sent your sheriff to demand that room, and have twice since that time made written application to me for troops to assist in such recovery. This does not look as though it was your understanding that 'neither side should be permitted to interfere with the status of the other side."

TRACKED FOR THIRTY YEARS.

From the New York Sun-A week ago Redmond F. Kelly died a pauper, in the Kings county almshouse, and was buried in potter a field. Flying from Ireland at the age of twenty-one to escape arrest for the perpetration of a crime that created the greatest excite ment, he sought safety from the English detectives in this city. Tracked to his hiding place, he hastened to the mines in Pennsylvania. Here he remained a short time, the officers having again discovered his whereabouts. agent Bell in County Cayan. "We were all together," said one of them, yesteld day, an ex-Ribbonman, "preparing to draw lots to do the work. Word had come to us in Tyrone from Cavan. Kelly was one of the number, a pale, stout hardy boy, searcely twenty-one years old. As the slips of paper were about to be drawn, he steps out and says, 'I'll do the job if you people will see to getting me out of the country. I'm young and can better take the chances." Off he started, and the first thing we knew Bell was shot dead in his wagon as he was driving home from church. The whole lowed by detectives. There is not a perit is no harm. A good man, one who sacrificed his life to avenge the wrong done his country people by the tyrant Bell, has passed away with Redmond F.

The agent Bell was the most hated man that ever evicted a widow or tore the thatch from the roof of a small tenant.
