De Shazo Readers Tops In 1980 MS Read-A-Thon

Students at DeShazo Elementary were awarded a Citation of Merit from the National Multiple Sclerosis Society for finishing as the top school in 23 counties in the 1980 Read-A-Thon.

One hundred and ninety DeShazo students read 2,700 books during the Read-A-Thon last year to finish first over 100 schools.

Nancy Hamrin, executive director of the South Plains Texas Chapter of MS said DeShazo collected over $2,700 in the effort to "read for the need of others."

"We're real proud of our kids," said Bill Taylor, principal, who hopes for a repeat in this year's Read-A-Thon scheduled for March 16-22. "Our kids are real 'go-getters' for all community activities. The "Agriculture is certainly the heartbeat of Bailey County with over $71 million in crop and livestock cash receipts added to the county each year," Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

"Bailey County can be proud of its part in helping Texas become the second biggest agricultural producer in the country," said Brown. "And Texas Agriculture Day will serve to recognize this spirited accomplishment and help us promote a better understanding and appreciation of agriculture in Texas."

Governor William P. Clements has signed a proclamation for the state, and Congress passed a resolution for the observance. The theme for this year's state observance on March 19, 1981 is "Agriculture - It's Your Heartbeat, Texas."

"Farming and ranching form one of the main economic lifebloods of the state," continued Brown, "and only because of determined farmers and ranchers like those in Bailey County, does the Texas agricultural industry continue its annual increase of crop and livestock yields, despite traditional problems of weather, insects and inflation."

"Bailey County's crop marketings in 1979 totaled just over $43 million, while

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandycreek takes a side-long glance at the jail problem this week.

Dear editor:

Federal judges, apparently having run out of places to order more school busing, are now turning their attention to jails. Their orders to improve jails, if carried out, will cost some states millions and millions of dollars.

Now it's true that a lot of jails are over-crowded and something ought to be done about it, and while I don't want to be held in contempt of court, it's possible the judges are missing some points.

For example, if a state has provided jails for say 50,000 criminals and 75,000 turn up for admittance, whose fault is it. Until criminals work out some system of letting us know what the crime rate will be, how can we tell how many jail cells we're going to need?

Criminals have got to realize the responsibility for over-crowding doesn't rest solely on the public. States and cities, accustomed to getting hand-fuls of Federal sharing money, are now aghast at Washington's threat to cut it out. Washington says it's one way to help fight inflation. Therefore, criminals ought to realize we're all in this inflation fight together and it's unfair at this time to be demanding more and better jails. They've got to either cut down on their crimes or stop getting caught. Or if caught, hire better lawyers.

Unlike a Federal judge, a lot of criminals can't tell you what a civilized jail is, because if they can, why do they keep going back to the ones they've just got out of. I don't know what the exact figures are, but an unbelievably large number of crimes are committed by criminals who've just gotten through serving a term in the penitentiary. Why would anybody arrange to go back to a place he'd found so unsatisfactory? Would you go back to a hotel where the service was atrocious?

Speaking of hotels, a while back an expert, studying the problems of the penitentiary system, found that it cost one state so much to keep criminals in the pen that it would have been cheaper to keep them in a big city hotel.

Whos to say though that some Federal judge wouldn't have found that hotels don't come up to proper jail standards?

Yours faithfully,

J.A.

CORN PRODUCTION.....Bailey County ranked second in the Southern High Plains Region in corn production with 37,800 acres planted and over 4.3 million bushels harvested, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported. The amount also ranked the county sixth in the state, Brown noted.

Agriculture is the heartbeat of our nation's economy — it's an industry of which every American can and should be proud.

The high technology and advanced distribution system we have developed over the past years, combined with the blessings of good soil and climate, have made us the greatest food-producing nation on earth.

On Agriculture Day, we salute the farmers, ranchers, growers and all those in the food and fiber chain of agribusiness for making our achievements possible.

"As we are still stressing Business Histories, Memorials, Tributes, Church, Clubs, and Organizations. We urge more participation from all areas of the county in order to have the entire county fully represented," Mrs. Otho Whitefield said.

"We are especially stressing the General History department now. If anyone has old pictures and present-day pictures that show definite progress in hobbies, social activities, remembrances, entertainment, ideas and affairs, celebrations, agricultural practices and equipment, kinds of transportation of then and now; that they will write captions for and send them to: Parmer County History Book, P.O. Box 577, Friona, Texas 79035. We would surely appreciate it. We don't want to miss anything that will contribute to the historical value of our book. If anyone has anything on any subject and would like for future generations to know about, now is the time to preserve it."

"We are urging more of our local artists and poets to contribute their talent by sending in pen and ink sketches and poems on our county."

Texas AGRICULTURE DAY MAR. 19

HAY PRODUCTION....Bailey County ranks first in the Southern High Plains Region in all hay production with 78,300 tons harvested, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported. The amount also ranks Bailey County ninth in the state, Brown noted.

Here's To The Farmer

His hard work is vital to all of us. It keeps us healthy, keeps our local economy going strong. Today his business is more sophisticated than ever. So are his financial needs. That's why more and more farmers are turning to us for advice. We help them with loans for equipment, seed and feed, with all their banking needs. We're proud of our solid relationship with the farmers in our area. We're anxious to be of service in any way we can!

Bob Barnhill holds a bachelor of science degree from Abilene Christian University and a masters of education degree in counseling from North Texas State University.

He is a well-known writer for brotherhood publications of the churches of Christ and is an active Christian educator having served in several different capacities for Christian schools and colleges.

An excellent speaker, holding meetings in a number of states and several foreign countries, he has been the featured speaker for lectureships at many colleges and universities.

Barnhill frequently teaches church leadership seminars and has helped organize visitation programs for more than fifty churches.

He brings rich experience as a minister, educator, counselor, husband and father to his presentations. This background certainly qualifies him to present this series on the home.

livestock marketings rounded off at almost $27.8 million, ranking it fourth in the Southern High Plains Region," Brown said.

The latest crop statistics show Bailey County ranked 2nd in the region and 6th statewide in corn production with 37,800 acres planted and over 4.3 million bushels harvested. The county also ranked 1st in the region in alfalfa hay production with 16,000 acres planted and $75,000 tons harvested, Brown noted.

In all hay production, Bailey County ranked 1st in the region and 9th statewide with 78,300 tons harvested in 1979.

The county also tied for 1st in the High Plains region in cucumbers with 320 acres harvested.

The only available statistics for 1980 production indicate Bailey ranked 1st in the Southern High Plains region, and 6th in the state in rye production with 3,000 acres planted and 17,400 bushels harvested, "this despite their having planted only one-fourth the acreage planted in 1979," Brown said. The county also ranked 1st in wheat production with 993,000 bushels harvested.

In livestock stats, Bailey tied for 2nd in the region with all cattle and calves at 41,000 head. Bailey also ranked 1st in total sheep and lambs standing at 18,000 head, and 1st in wool production with 273,000 pounds.

"Agriculture Day in America had its beginnings several years ago to celebrate the fact that American agriculture is the most efficient in the world, having tripled its productivity in the past two decades," Brown said. "And Texas agriculture is a part of this accomplishment as a traditional provider of food and fiber for millions throughout the world."

"Vital to the Texas economy, agriculture is the single largest multiplier of income as it accounts for roughly four out of every ten jobs in the state," said Brown. "It generates over $30 billion in the state economy annually."

"Our state leads the nation in number of Angora goats, all cattle, beef cows, calves, cattle on feed and sheep," said Brown. "We also lead in production of cabbage, eggs, mohair, other hay, spinach, Upland cotton, and wool."

"Despite losing farms annually, and dealing with the never-ending problems of pests, weeds, limited water supplies, disastrous weather, market changes, inflation, and ever-increasing world food demands, I firmly believe Texas agriculture can continue its yearly trend of higher crop and livestock yields," continued Brown.

"I have no doubt in my mind, that combining technological know-how with determined will, our farmers and ranchers will continue to help Texas agriculture remain a leader, in the nation and in the world."

Tommy Gunstream was appointed to the City of Muleshoe Municipal Airport Advisory Board by the City Council.

A discussion then arose regarding the recent purchase by the City of Lubbock of the additional 1500 acres of water rights in Bailey County. According to a report by Lubbock director of water utilities, Sam Wahl, this purchase should give Lubbock an additional 439,898,850 gallons each year for a 10 year period. All council members are greatly concerned as to the effect this will have on Muleshoe and Bailey County water, especially irrigation water.

Guests present for the meeting were Sam Wyse, Philip J. Tyler, LaVayne Williams, Rosa Lee Powell, Dee Clements, Lyndon Huckabee, AJ Reporter Marc Flake, Photographer Jim Watkins and Shirley Farmer.

Members also testified before the sub-committee on cotton in Lubbock and before a FHA hearing on establishing alcohol plant loans.

More WIFE members testified on Secretary Bergland's structure hearings than any other group and WIFE was included in the final hearings in Washington, D.C.

WIFE members also participated as panelists in the mid-south energy expo in Blytheville, Arkansas as supporters of gasohol.

Representatives from WIFE also met with Sec. Bergland in Washington D.C. and pushed for emphasis on energy, water transportation, marketing, and for WIFE members to be considered for appointments to national boards and commissions.

Other noteworthy activities of WIFE include meetings with the National Presidents of American Agri-Women and Cowbells and testimonies before several national and state committees and commissions.

Fences, roofs, TV antennas and un-anchored objects were flung far and wide. Large pieces of debris were removed from streets in several areas.

One incident reported an overturned tandem trailer 3 miles north of Needmore resulted in North bound traffic hazards. A semi truck with tandem trailers was involved, with the back trailer being overturned. Electric service was interrupted for approximately 3-4 hours Wed-

Meeks told the committee: "Last year's drought ... has brought even closer the ultimate danger that short-sighted cheap commodity prices have been heading us toward absolute shortages of grain."

He also said, "I tell you today that the purchasing power of agriculture has been destroyed. Our debt load has more than doubled in the last four years, causing our equity and our collateral to disappear. Today, most farmers are not even good financial risks for FmHA loans, the bank of last resort, and consequently thousands of farmers have been refused financing for this coming year."

Jerry Ryan figures he's saving a lot of money by doing without an extension phone. But the fact is, he's paying an even higher price for not having one. Think about it: For much less than you'd expect, you can reach rather than run for your phone. Whether you're doing laundry, watching the tube or taking a snooze. What's more, you know you've got a phone that's as reliable as the phone company. So call your General Telephone business office and ask for an extension phone. You'll sleep better.

FACTS & FIGURES

Almost 40 percent of coeds polled in a recent survey said a working woman should leave her career to raise a family if she and her husband decided to have children.

Yet, less than one-third of the men queried in the same poll—a Gallup survey commissioned by Olympia Brewing Company—said a mother should quit work to rear children. The "Oly Poll" was conducted at four major schools: Northwestern University, San Jose State University, University of Oregon and Washington State University.

County Extension Agent

Root knot nematodes are the single most important home garden disease in Bailey County. I would estimate that at least 50 percent of the gardens in this area are damaged by root knot.

One problem with controlling this pest is that it's hard to detect the problem early enough for gardeners to take protective measures. Once nematodes are found on plant roots, little can be done to save that year's crop.

So, it's important to inspect the roots of plants for galls as you remove them from the garden in the fall. These galls or knots on roots indicate the presence of root knot nematodes and this is the time to take effective steps to control the pests. Another symptom of root knot is stunted, yellow plants. Examine the roots of such plants for galls.

As soon as root nematodes are found in the garden, immediately remove all diseased plants. Get as much of the root system as possible because it is in these roots that the nematode will carry over in the egg stage to the next crop. Root tissue around the eggs will protect them from chemical treatment and drying.

Once plant roots have been removed, till or spade the area as deep as possible. This breaks up remaining roots so they will decay faster and dries the soil to reduce the number of young nematodes (larvae) in the soil. If nematodes are detected in the spring garden, continue spading at 2-3 week intervals until fall planting time. This continual tilling of the garden will reduce the nematode population even further.

In that portion of the garden not being used for winter vegetables or for those of you who do not want to plant a fall or winter garden, plant the garden to rye (cereal) in mid-September. Water the garden regularly to get maximum fall growth for the small grain.

Rye will act as a control for nematodes. Many of those entering the roots will not be able to undergo complete development and will be killed. When the rye is spaded or tilled under at the end of the season, it decays and produces an organic acid toxic to nematodes.

In addition, rye serves as a source of organic material encouraging the growth of fungi which feed on nematodes. Rye should be turned under as soon as possible after Jan. 1. This will allow some time for plant decay before spring planting.

When soil temperature reaches 50 degrees F for seven days at a depth of 6 inches, treat the area with Vapam fungicide using 1 qt. per 100 sq. ft. Water the chemical into the soil using 1 inch of water at the time of treatment. Re-water in 24 hours, using an additional 1 inch of water and repeat in 48 hours.

Vapam is water soluble and will be leached down into the soil with irrigation. It is important that the chemical be moved as deep in the soil as possible to get maximum control. There may be some of you in the county whose soil is such that 1 inch of water cannot be applied before run-off occurs. In these areas, apply water until run-off begins and then repeat at 24 and 48 hours after treatment.

This method of treatment takes care of the entire area compared to row application where only a 12 inch band is treated. After treatment, leave the area undisturbed for seven days. Then till the soil to get the chemical out. Wait an additional two weeks before planting.

Additional steps can be taken at planting to further insure nematode control. In those areas where root knot is found to be most severe in summer or fall, plant onions, garlic, or sweet corn. These crops are not susceptible to root knot, and their use will further reduce the nematode population.

Also, it should be standard practice to plant resistant varieties when available. Following is a list of nematode resistant varieties that have done well in this county.

Root knot nematode resistant corn varieties include Big Set, Better Boy, Terrific, Bonus and Small Fry (cherry type); Southern Peas include Mississippi Silver (cream); and Sweet Potatoes include Jewell and Centennial.

Gardeners who find that they are able to follow only one or two of the above-mentioned practices because of planting or economic restrictions will have less success in controlling nematodes. Once nematodes are found in a garden the control program as outlined above must be followed annually. Based on current knowledge, it is impossible to completely eliminate nematodes from a garden. But a sound control program will keep the population at a manageable level.

Planting your garden is next.

Astroworld Starts 1981 With Thrills

AstroWorld, the Houston based theme park with over 100 rides, shows and attractions, opened for its thirteenth season of operation March 14.

The newest addition to AstroWorld, "WARP 10", a space age thriller that simulates a space ship adventure, blasted off on opening day. With the force of the universe, three long arms lift "AstroWorld-Nauts" high in the sky, whirling them "round and round like a giant, hurling meteor! It's an electrifying ride that would scare the space helmet off of Buck Rogers.

THUNDER RIVER, the world's first man-made river rapids ride, premiered for the first full season of operation. The raging river was roaring to go with an all-new fleet of boats and a realistically themed river environment. The ride simulates the actual thrill of rafting down an unruly river and encountering swelling rapids and the magnetism of whitewater.

A variety of entertaining shows for all ages also premiered on opening day, including "Razzmatazz," an old-time vaudeville revue, "The Magic of AstroWorld," a spellbinding show, Marvel McFey and His Friends, a choreographed musical show for children, and "Bayou Buzzard," a quick witted feathered puppet with a joke for everyone.

"Nottingham Village," a newly themed section is scheduled to open in mid-April. It's a charming fantasy world with a touch of olde England that depicts the era of King Arthur and Robin Hood. Guests eager to have a jolly good time must enter the section through the legendary Sherwood Forest. Once inside, the world of merry olde England unfolds with rides, games, shops and restaurants such as the "JOUST-ABOUT" bumper cars, the "EXCALIBUR" roller coaster and Friar Tuck's restaurant.

AstroWorld will be open to the public on Spring weekends March 14 - May 31, and will be open daily throughout the summer (except on Mondays) starting June 2.

IRS Tax Tips On Contributions

When two different federal tax payments are made at the same time, separate checks or money orders should be used, the Internal Revenue Service says.

An error in crediting one of both payments is possible if two payments are combined, especially if different tax forms are involved.

Taxpayers should write their Social Security numbers, form number and year involved on every check or money order sent to the IRS. This simple procedure ensures the proper crediting to their account, in case the check is separated from the form, according to the IRS.

Checks should be made payable to the "Internal Revenue Service". Cash should never be mailed to the IRS, but can be used to make payments in person at an IRS office.

Agriculture Day Honors Texas - #2 in U. S.

AUSTIN--"March 19, 1981 will be Texas Agriculture Day, part of a national observance celebrating the nation's #1 industry," Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown announced recently. "It is an appropriate time for all Texans to recognize the importance of agricultural industry to the state."

"Our farmers today can feed themselves and an average of 68 other persons," said Brown. "They have always provided thousands of us at home and millions throughout the world with an abundance of high-quality food and fiber, despite traditional problems of inflation, pests and bad weather."

"Yet it's because of his courage, ingenuity, and determination that America is the world's biggest producer of food and fiber," noted Brown. "Agriculture Day will serve to celebrate this fact."

Governor William P. Clements has signed a proclamation for the state, and Congress passed a resolution for the observance. This year's theme on March 19, 1981 is "Agriculture-It's your heartbeat, Texas." "The observance will help us promote a better understanding and appreciation of agriculture in Texas," Brown said.

Agriculture Day in America goes back several years ago. It was designed to recognize American agriculture as the most efficient in the world. The industry has tripled its productivity in the past two decades and it has been so successful that other countries depend on U. S. agriculture to meet their own needs. "Certainly, no other country in the world can come close to American agriculture in terms of productivity, variety and quality," said Brown. "And we are truly blessed to live in this 'land of plenty,' where we spend less of our dollars for a greater variety of quality food than any other country in the world."

"And Texas agriculture has been and will continue to be a vital part of this spirited achievement," Brown continued. "Our state ranks as the second biggest producer in the United States, but we're aiming for #1."

"Agriculture is big in Texas. As one of the mainstays of our economy, agriculture is the single largest multiplier of income as it accounts for roughly four out of every ten jobs in the state," said Brown. "It generates over $30 billion in the state economy annually."

"Our state leads the nation in number of Angora goats, all cattle, beef cows, calves, cattle on feed, and sheep," said Brown. "We also lead in production of cabbage, mohair, other hay, spinach, Upland cotton, and wool." "We're in the top three states in agricultural exports too," Brown added. "Our exports surpassed the $2 billion mark last year. Cotton is our number 1 export item and other major commodities include feedgrains, rice, mohair, and several fruits and vegetables."

"I have no doubt in my mind, that combining technological know-how with determined will, our hard-working farmers and ranchers will continue to help Texas agriculture remain a leader, in the nation and in the world."

Inman Receives Allstate Award

Jerry D. Inman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S.W. Inman of Muleshoe, has been honored as Life Millionaire for 1980 by Allstate Insurance Company in the State of Texas. The award, presented to 107 sales agents in Texas, is the company's most prestigious award for life insurance sales.

The Life Millionaire Award is given annually to agents who demonstrate outstanding service to clients, dedication to the community, and placement of $1 million in life protection, according to Bryan L. Moore, Texas Regional Associate Vice President. Inman will be further honored at a national meeting of life sales leaders in Maui, Hawaii, this summer.

Inman graduated from Muleshoe High School and from Hardin Simmons University in Abilene.

Mexican Fruit Fly Sterile Fruit Flies May Eliminate Valley Pest

AUSTIN--A pilot program involving the release of several million sterile fruit flies in the Lower Rio Grande Valley region in hopes of eliminating the Mexican fruit fly has been started, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has reported.

The program is a joint effort by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the Texas Department of Agriculture and Mexico's Sanidad Vegetal, and if successful, could eventually replace the current fumigation treatment given citrus fruit on out-of-state shipments.

Several states have quarantines requiring all fruit shipped to them to be fumigated. Presently, ethylene-dibromide (EDB) is used with 100% effectiveness in controlling Mexican fruit fly in shipments, explained Brown.

"However, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has notified us that ethylene-dibromide will be banned in 1983 and we have no alternative treatment at this time," said Brown.

"Although the Mexican fruit fly has been in the Lower Valley region for several years, it has never been a serious problem to production since the total population has always been held in check," continued Brown. "We're hopeful that this test program, if proven effective, will satisfy the quarantine requirements set by these states."

The program began the week of January 12 with the release of 3-4 million sterile fruit flies in the Hidalgo County area west of Highway 281, and south to the Rio Grande. In addition, sterile flies were released in a band 3 to 5 miles wide adjoining the Texas border and extending approximately 50 miles along the border from the Starr-Hidalgo line east to Nuevo Progreso. Chilled flies are released by aerial drop from planes.

"Monitoring of the test area will continue for approximately a year and will be carried out by over 1500 traps

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: I placed a mail order with an out-of-state auto parts company, paying them in full by check at the time of the order. Since then the company has gone into bankruptcy. I have filed a claim in the District Court of the home state of the company but have received nothing. Is there any way in which I can get either the money or the parts which I ordered?

A: No. When a company declares bankruptcy, all its assets are put into receivership. The federal district court usually develops a plan in which each creditor will receive a certain portion of the money or assets owned by the bankrupt firm. As a customer, you are a general, unsecured creditor and you will receive whatever money remains after the secured creditors have been paid. Settlement after bankruptcy usually takes a long time, but if you have properly filed your claim, it is being considered with the others.

Q: How long after a person is divorced can she remarry? Is the law regarding this a state law or is it the same anywhere in the United States?

A: The Texas Family Code provides that neither party to a divorce may marry anyone else for thirty days. They may, however, remarry each other at any time. After the 30 days, both parties are free to marry anyone.

State law controls marital and family matters, and this 30-day provision applies only to Texas. The law in other states will vary as to remarriage following divorce.

Q: Can a person be sued for criticizing a public official without malicious intent?

A: Generally, no. Criticism of a public official which relates to his office or qualifications is pro-TECTED BY THE LAW. If supposedly factual statements about the official are false and injure his reputation, then the person making the statement could be liable. In most cases, however, in a lawsuit for damages, the official would have to prove the speaker had malicious intent.

Q: If we stopped our monthly payments on our car, and the finance company repossessed, could they make us pay them the difference between what it's worth and what we now owe? It's five years old and we still owe $6,000.

A: Yes, under the foreclosure requirements of the Uniform Commercial Code, the debtor is liable for the difference in what the car is worth and the amount owed at the time of repossession.

If 60% of the loan is paid, a commercially reasonable sale of the car is required within 90 days. If 60% of the loan has not been paid off, unless a waiver of sale is signed by the debtor, (or the finance company makes a written proposal to keep the car) a deficiency judgment is allowed automatically, and the debtor is liable for the deficiency plus the costs of repossession and sale.

Q: I am preparing to have my will drawn up. Is it possible to specify that my Executor serve without a bond?

A: Yes, you may specify that your executor serve without bond, which would probably save your estate a substantial cost. If you provide for a substitute executor, you should specify that he or she, also, shall serve without bond. In addition, a will may direct the executor to serve independent of court approval for all the certain steps of probate. Both of these provisions, available under Texas' liberal probate laws, can only be obtained in a formal will.
