Packard Preparing for War:

Nicholls Ready for the Emergency Withdrawal of U. S. Troops Postponed

Budget of Interesting News.

WASHINGTON.

The Opposing Faction Must "Simm Down" First. Washington, March 20.—The Baltimore Americas says Mr. Hayes, yesterday, announced to several parties that called upon him in reference to the subject, that the administration would take up the Southern claims at the Cabinet meeting Southern claims at the Gabinet meeting to day, but if the opposing parties in New Orleans are as hot for a fight as they are represented to be, the fulfillment of his generous and amioable intention may be delayed. At all events, there can be no withdrawal of troops as long as ferocious threats fill the atmosphere and attempts are made to drive the President to haste.

Washington, March 20, 12 M.—The President has received no visitors to day. He Washington, March 20, 12 M.—The President has received no visitors to day. He will have no time during the entire day to devote to callers, as a Cabinet Council is in seasion, having met at 10 o'clock and is likely to continue during the greater portion of the day. All the members are present and the affairs in South Carolina and Louisiana are under consideration. There are a vast number of papers bearing apon these cases that are being examined by the Cabinet. Very little discussion is involved in the consideration, as there is harmony of views between the President and the Cabinet in the matters before them. It does not seem probable, judging from what is already known, that these cases will be disposed of separately, but it is believed that upon the subject of withdrawing the troops from their present positions in New Orleans and Columbia, the same direction will be given. There is intense interest manifested to know the results of the consideration occupying that attention of the Cabinet, but up to this hour the indications are not favorable for a final determination to-day.

of the intention on the part of Packard to make an aggressive movement. The President is quoted as saying that Packard must have a poor opinion of the judgment, firmness and course of the administration to contemplate anything of the kind.

Some recruiting officers and militiamen were arrested by Nicholls's police. Apprehending an attack, the Nicholls guards everywhere have been strengthened. Fiften hundred are under arms. Aggression must end spendiy and fatally, despite Latest from the Cabinet Meeting.

Washington, March 20, 6 p. M.—After a five hours session the Cabinet adjourned till to-morrow, when a decision will be reached. The Prasident himself declines to converse on the subject. The radicals now have no hope beyond the "Compromising Commission." The Conservatives are confident that the President's policy will be immediately enforced.

THE LATEST GLEANINGS.

The established requirements of the army for the next fiscal year are nearly $32,000,000. It is claimed that contracts for subsistence and transportation can be continued without violation of law, but the officers and men can not be paid after the 13th of June next. This failure would cause discontent, especially among enlisted men, as a private soldier is forbidden by law from hypothecating his pay.
