If the fact is true, as Montesquieu asserted, that the Republican form of government is based on virtue, we have great fears that the foundations of the great republic of the New World are terribly tottering. Every one knows how matters passed at the nomination of the Presidential electors. Mr. Tilden, the Democratic candidate, had obtained 184 yotes, that is to say, one less than the majority. Mr. Hayes had only 165, The results of the returns in South Carelins, Florids, Louisians and Oregon were contested, and a necessity existed—a thing which appears of the recent in south Carelins, Florids, Louisians and Oregon were contested, and a necessity existed—a thing which appears of the recent in the contest of the present of th leader in the Journal des Debats, writ-
