THURSDAY MORNING, April 19, 1877.

Eight thousand head of cattle will be driven from Mason county this year. So says that neat and sprightly paper, the Mason News-Item.

Rev. ROBERT M. FLOURNOY, a brother of Col. George Flournoy, of Galveston, and Col. Wm. M. Flournoy, of Waco, died at the latter's residence a few days since.

THE St. Louis Price Current and Trade Journal of last week says: "Corn-fed Texans were in light receipt until yesterday, when a few car loads of fair quality were shown. The regular market for this market is now to the extent of an average of 100 car loads per day, and to this extent quality that are at all desirable make a ready demand."

CAPTAIN AUGUSTUS H. JONES, one of the patriot veterans of Texas Independence, died a few days ago in Gonzales county, where he had resided for thirty-seven years.

Ten prospects of Southern industry are improving. The rolling mills of Tennessee and Georgia are all running double turn, with orders ahead.

We acknowledge the receipt, from James F. Dumble, Esq., secretary of the State Fair association, of a handsomely printed pamphlet, copy of the program, list and rules and regulations of the Eighth Texas State Fair, to be held at Houston next month.

We publish in today's issue a communication from the P. O. Department to Hon. Gustav Schleicher notifying him that there would be a daily mail between San Antonio and Fredericksburg commencing on the 1st of May.

FARMING IN THE CATTLE REGION. From all parts of Western Texas we receive the most cheering accounts of the present prospect for crops of every kind.

LETTER FROM COL. JNO. B. JONES. Col. J. B. Jones, San Antonio, Texas. Dear Sir:—Remembering our conversation in your city a few days ago in regard to affairs out here, I had you a copy of petition of citizens of Frio county to the Governor, signed by Capt. Caldwell, and company be kept in this vicinity.

CLIMATIC ADVANTAGES OF WESTERN TEXAS. It is obvious to all intelligent and reflecting minds that both the physical and intellectual capacities of man depend in some measure upon the climate in which he lives.

With the possession of both, all things necessary to human happiness are easily attainable; with the deprivation of either, life is little better than a curse. Man with all his intellectual attainments is an animal, and the doctrine of "the survival of the fittest" applies equally to him as to the inferior orders.
