Six :- Prior to my entering upon statimed, by order of my predecessor, in the immediate vicinity of the building used as a State House, in New Orleans, Louisians, and known as the Mechanic's Institute, a detachment of United States Infantry. Finding these in that place, I have thought proper to delay a decision of the question of their removal until I could determine whether the coudition of affairs is now such as to need, require or justify continued military intervention of the state. In my opinion, there does not exist in Louisians, such domestic violence as is contemplated by the constitution as the ground upon which the military power of the national government may be stated and the state of the present of the committee of colored ladies, headed on the state of the national government may be stored. er of the national government may be

Here in San Antonio our officials go right gardless of the people or consequences, but they do it is a peaceable manner. Up about Austin, however, the officers are war-like in contact with their constituents. The

Statesmen says:

On Tneeday two gentlemen rode over the river, and after driving a mile or more beyond the bridge they met an intoxicated stranger who, although they turned out of the road to give him room to pass, dashed his horse up against their vehicle, endangering their lives as well as his own. Not content with this, he drew a weapon from his pocket and threatened to shoot, repeating this proceeding after they had driven off and left him in full possession of the toad and the country round about. Being unarmed and unable therefore to go into battle with a man holding a pistol in his hand and crasy with whisky, they drove to the city and stated what had happened and signified their intention of going before the grand jury to inform on the man who, they stated, is a county official living over the river.

Nachidoches News:—Col. Horace Cone has been in town for a few days, and brings us cheering news in regard to the great Bremond enterprise, which is destined to be of 'und vast importance to Eastern Texas. By the 29th of this month the road will be in complete running order to the San Jacinto river, and by the 10th of next October the Trinity river will have been reached, and the East and West rail road will carry to market at least 10,000 bales of cotton next fall. As con as the road is completed to this side of the Trinity it will be pushed on with vigor, and we hope that all along the line Mr. Bremond will receive such assistance that it will not be eighteen months before the whistle of the locomotive will be heard in old Nachidoches. Colonel Cone goes to Auge line county for a week or ten days, to obtain such dosations as will be given by our neighbors of that county, and will return to this city about the 22nd instant.

Some of them are substantial and of fine architectural beauty. Business is very brisk and rents high. The travel to the Black Hills from this pout will average about 100 persons per day. They go in teams, on foot and by stage, There seems to be a great scarcity of transportation, and those having teams bound for the Hills find no difficulty in securing passengers and freight. They charge from $12 to $15 for passage, carrying from fifty to 100 pounds of baggage, the passengers walking most of the distance. The most of the people going to the gold fields are sensible, and, apparently, hard-working men. Judge C. W. Winkler, of the Court of of course, the town is tilled with gamblers and thieves, and judging by the sigus on the places of business, whisky is the principal article of traffic.

Early in the morning, if you are observant, you will see coming down from the hills, out of barnyards, box cars and from every conceivable place where a man could sleep, hordes of tramps, who are entirely destitute of money or provisions, all animated by an ambition to go to the Black Hills, and it is sate. To-day is the anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, a day ever memorable in Texan history, and which should be celebrated with becoming honors by the sons of the Lone Star State as long as time shall last. The battle of San Jacinto will always rank among the decisive battles of history, battles by which the fate of nations were decided, and the current of the world's history materially changed. On that day, American and Mex'can civilization met in deadly conflict, and contended for mastery. The possession of one of the fairest provinces of earth depended upon the result; and the question was Mr. whether Anglo-Saxon ideas of liberty, law and order should prevail, with their atten-dent blessings of stability, peace, and prosperity; or whether tyranny, misrule, revolution and anarchy, should be the portion of the people, and prevent the growth and development of a State. Connting each other on the plains of San Jacinto on the 21st day of April, 1836, stood the opposing armies. On one side Mr. H. R. STEVENS: the blood of a race whose mission is to subdue wildernesses, people continents, and demonstrate to a doubting world the capability of man for self-government, and llustrate alike the triumphs and permanence of republican institutions. On the other stood 1600 men flushed with recent victories, rendered savage by the taste of blood, following a retreating foe and under the command of the ablest warrier to whom their race had ever given birth and for whom they claimed the proud title of "The Napoleon of the West." Inspired with the determination to conquer or die, the gallant few with shouts of "Remember the Alamo," "Remember Goliad," precipitated themselves upon the serried ranks of their multitudinous enemy. For once at least, the "God of battles" was not "on the least, the "God of battles" was not "on the cleaser and purifier of the blood:

Are among the largest dealers in Pianos in the United States, and will guarantee to deliver Pianos and Organs, at any point in Texas, at lower prices and better terms than any other house.

They noits advantages of a Home House and a large Eastern House. They have every advantage and facility that can be obtained and will sell at prices below competition. The attention of close-bayers is solicited.

They localize their business, making it a Home Institution everywhere. They now do business in over one hundred towns in Texas, and can refer te hundreds of persons in this State who are using their instruments.

They are sole proprietors of the DORMAN, HOLMES & CO., and "STANDARD" PIANOS. They also control for this, and several other States, the Chickering, Steinway, Bradbury, Mathushek, Lighte, and other First Class Pianos, and the Taylor & Farley, Standard, Whitney & Holmes, and other First-Class Organs.

They can deliver to their customers at any point in Texas as low as same inetrument can be bought from the factory in New York or Boston, saving the purchase, the expense, delay, and risk of long transportation.

They supply families direct, giving them every advantage usually given agents. Parties living in towns on any of the different dines of railroad in the State, wishing to test their instruments before buying, can have them pleoed in their homes for trial without extra expense, and in all cases they ship on approval, and do not require a dollar in money until the Instrument is received and found satisfactory in every reperct. The most perfect satisfaction guaranteed in every respect.
