FROM EUROPE. London, June 25. A dispatch to the modard from Constantinople says: The Chamber of Deputies in secret session have voted for a continuance of the war, even if all Europe combines against Turkey.

A telegram to the Standard from Con says it is stated that notes have been ex-changed between Anatria and England as-to-the character and significance of the measures of preparation decided upon by these two states.

The Times' Atheus dispatch says news of the passage of the Danube has atrength-ened the war party. A battery of mean-tain artillery has already left for Cubs, on, to be foreign and another will leave immesays: The Montenegrins are said to have lost almost one seventh of their force, est pecially the insurgent band appear to have suffered very severely. Numbers of Montenegrins are beginning to cross over to Colaro and Budnals, so that it has been thought advisable to strengthen the Cordan along the frontier.

The Daily News Ibrail correspondent telegraphing Friday, sends long details explaining how the crossing was effected.

The Russians at Ibrail completed their bridge andisturbed by the turks. Every one understood, Thursday, the crossing was postponed, both on account in the delays of the Czars arrival and because a large force of Turkish troops had been discovered in ambush not far from the bridge. However, Gen. Zimmermann suddenly disappeared from Ibrail during the night, and in the morning, a little after deybreak, the people of Ibrail were swakened by the sound of arrillery and musketry on the other side of the river, showing that the Danube must have been crossed. Gen. Zimmerman had gone to Galatz and crossed the Danube with two regiments of infantry and a proportionate amount of arrillery and cavalcy in a number of boats, towed over by steam landens. The distance traversed in boats seems to have been over three miles. The Turks seem to Liverpool, June 25.—The London correspondent of the Post telegraphs: I hear that no twithstanding the $20,000,000 in the budget, the government really did intend to ask parliament for tweaty-five millions of doliars to meet war contingencies. However, whether owing to antagonism said to exist betewen Earl Beacousfield and the Marquis of Salisbury or to the probability of determined opposition from the liberals application is to be made for the Mr. Gladatone during the France German war- but that the request will be in similar language. The disagreement between Earl Beaconsfield and the Marquis of Salisbury is expected to result in a resignation of the latter.

As far as ascertained, the attack on Long was entirely unprovoked he being in the saloon while. Reynolds was engaged in a dispute with Mr. Honseman, the proprietor. Without warning Reynolds drew a six-shooter and shot Mr. Long, the ball penetrating near and in front of the, right shoulder, and ranging toward the lung. Mr. Long walked to his residence two blocks distant and died in a few minutes after reaching it. After shooting Mr. Long. Reynolds fired at Honseman. Wounding him in the arm

After shooting Mr. Long. Reynolds fired at Houseman, wounding him in the arm, and then fled. He was pursued by a man named Charles Overton, who brought him to bay behind a tree, where after exchanging several shots, two of which slightly grazed Overton's head, Reynolds dropped, shot in the breast. He was conveyed to the City Hospital, where he now hies in a precarious condition.

TEXAS IMMIGRATION.

This inviting theme we propose to allude too briefly upon one branch only, and that the local crisp air is a refreshing luxury to one coming from the heat and dest of the lower country, and during the several others, not more than the boy succeeded in making his ascape to his friends. At John Davis ranch, on the Alamita, sixty-five miles south of Fort Davis, I was informed that the Indians had just taken all the aminals from a party of men who were in camp a few miles from the ranch; and on the day of my arrival at Fort Davis a young man was buried who had been shot by Indians the day previous, while engaged in cutting wood in comparison or or state and her cities and towns.
