GTE Survey Is Mailed To All City Residents

Survey Completion, Return Is Asked

Sand, Wind Leave Damage Monday

An early morning thunderstorm Wednesday all but erased the vestiges of Monday's sandstorm, which older residents termed 'much like the Dust Bowl Days.' One-quarter inch of moisture was recorded by 8:30 a.m.

Around 7:30 a.m. Wednesday, the ground was fast turning white, but it was not from snow. Small, peaseize hail peppered down for several minutes, leaving a white cover over everything. Shortly after 8 a.m., most of the hail had melted, and sprinkles continued to fall.

No damage was expected to young growth from the peaseize hail, and the light moisture received was termed a 'boon' to the farmers attempting to prepare land for planting.

At presstime, cloudy skies held the promise of more moisture, although only light, intermittent showers had been promised by National Weather Service.

'Dust Bowl Re-Visited' could be the theme of Monday's weather throughout the area as high winds, estimated to be at times above 65 miles per hour levelled a blast at the countryside.

Anything loose went sailing off into the air as the sky turned red from sand whipped into a frenzy by the high wind.

More roofs lost shingles, and residents were 'battering down the Hatches' to wait out the sandstorm.

Most of the damage is the storm was around the T. J. Power Vegetable Company where huge steel beams collapsed as the storm hit before they could be properly braced.

By Tuesday morning, workmen were at the site removing the twisted debris, and preparing to put up new braces for the construction. The company was devastated by fire last summer, and the vegetable company is enlarging the facility as they reconstruct.

Lesser damage was recorded to tressises, roofs, fences, and other objects as they were slammed around by the high wind.

General Telephone is back in the news again, with a survey regarding the telephone service included in the water bills mailed out by the City of Muleshoe.

City officials are asking that all persons please complete the survey form and mail it back to the city hall, or take it in to the city hall when paying their water bill. A sampling of the surveys will be taken to Austin on April 9, when city council members will be testifying before the Public Utility Commission regarding the proposed rate increase asked by GTE.

During a discussion at the Muleshoe City Council meeting Tuesday morning, the survey was discussed at length. City council members determined that they considered the survey 'most important' to deny the rate increase until GTE's service is upgraded.

Also discussed was the proposed rate increase by Southwestern Public Service Company. It was determined that SPS will be willing to settle for an 11 percent overall increase, which will include a 14 percent increase for residential use.

The proposed settlement, which has not been approved, would drop the overall increase from an expected $40 million to $31 million.

Bill McMorries will be at the April 15 meeting of the Muleshoe City Council to explain the proposed increases and the recommendations for the increase, if it should be approved by the local officials.

Meeting with the city council was Merlyn Neel of Muleshoe Antenna. He was questioned about the possible payment of fees from the new 'Show time' which has been in operation in Muleshoe for the past year.

Entry Forms Ready For Miss Tri-County

Entry forms are being sent out to prospective contestants in the annual Muleshoe Jaycee Miss Tri-County Pageant, which will be staged in Muleshoe on Saturday, April 26.

Four categories will be competing for scholarships and savings bonds.

A total of $500 in scholarships and savings bonds will be given the winners in the four divisions of the annual pageant.

Miss La Petite is for ages four-six; Little Miss, seven-nine; Junior Miss, 10-13 and Miss TriCounty, 14-18.

Eligible for the pageant will be girls from Bailey, Lamb and Parmer counties. Last year's winner was Laura Ellis of Friona, in Parmer County.

Galen Bock, who is serving as Jaycee chairman of the event this year said the Jaycees are encouraging entrants from Lamb and Parmer counties to get their entries in.

He said perhaps the fact that Laura Ellis of Friona won the pageant last year and Candy Moore of Lazbuddie is a former winner, will encourage more participation from the other counties.

Contestants will be judged on beauty, charm and personal poise. Winners will represent the Tri-County area at various functions during the year. All girls wishing to enter the pageant will be required to have a sponsor at the time they enter. Sponsorships are $30 for each girl.

Prizes will include a $300 scholarship to the college of the choice of Miss Tri-County; a $100 savings bond for Junior Miss; a $50 savings bond each to Miss La Petite and Little Miss Tri-County.

Six judges from outside the area will serve during the contest and Cindy Purdy of Cindy Purdy's School of Dance will be production director.

Texas Food and Fiber

THERE IS NOTHING WRONG with the bald eagle, but considering the tremendous contributions agriculture makes to America's economy, a more fitting national symbol might be the cow, the sow or the hen, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has suggested.

"Agriculture has always been the basic foundation upon which our growth and prosperity have been built," said Brown. "As world demand for U. S. farm goods increases, the importance of agriculture to our economic well-being becomes even more dramatic."

"The farmer might well be the next great American hero, and the national symbol should reflect the historical and economic importance of Agriculture," said Brown.

Brown noted that the American agriculture industry is one of the few industries to post consistent foreign trade surpluses. This helps offset this country's huge payments for foreign oil, and strengthens the dollar overseas. For fiscal 1979, record U. S. farm exports outstripped imports of farm goods by $16 billion. The agricultural trade surplus has not dropped below $10 billion since 1973, he added.

"U. S. farm exports provide jobs for more than 1.6 million Americans, and generate over $63 billion within our economy," said Brown.

MAY DATE SET...Mr. and Mrs. Malaquias Agundis are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lupe Agundis to Steven Madrid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cruz C. Madrid of Clovis, N.M. They are planning a May 24th wedding in Our Lady of Guadalupe Church, in Clovis, at 2 p.m. Lupe is a 1977 graduate of Muleshoe High School. Steve graduated from Clovis High School in 1976 and is attending Texas Tec University.

"Court Of Honor"

Sheriff and Mrs. Dee Clements and Mrs. Mae Provence were in Lubbock Tuesday evening, to attend the Court of Honor, for Troop #407, Boy Scouts of America.

The troop meets every Tuesday night in the dining hall of St. Pauls Episcopal Church in Lubbock.

This was a very special occasion for them, as two of their grandsons, Dennis 17 and Douglas 16, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Clements of Lubbock, received their Eagle Scout Awards.

Their father, Deputy Sheriff, Travis Clements, Scout Master, was Master of Ceremonies for the occasion. E.G. White is assistant Master.

A banquet was planned and served by all parents of the troop, at 7:30 p.m..

The meeting was then called to order and Scout Master Clements, introduced White and also Jack Keeling, who has been an Eagle Scout for 37 years, and is still interested in scouting.

Keeling made a talk to the group about what Scouting has meant to him. His Troop met in this building and he received his Eagle Scout Award here.

After this talk, White called Dennis and Douglas Clements to the front where he made the presentation of the Eagle Awards; he also gave the meaning of the Insigna and told them it would go through life with them and always help them in every day life.

Some of the younger scouts presented two original fun skits, which were "enjoyed very much" said Mrs. Provence. Douglas and another scout presented a ritual with candles telling how you could be helped, if in need, through scouts.

For the concluding part of the program, the Scout

Master presented other awards as follows; a life award to his son, Deon. This is the last step toward preparing for Eagle. He also presented 38 Merit Badges and 17 Rank advancement badges to the younger scouts.

When school is out, Damon and Darin Clements, who are now ten years of age, will leave Weeblo rank and will go into Troop #407, with their big brothers and will then be eligible to go with the troop, to Camp Tres Ritos some time this summer for a week camp out for the entire troop, which means their Scout Master will have all five of his sons, at camp with him at the same time.

The boys mother, Paula, has also been busy. She holds a full time job and has also been a den mother since her first son became a cub scout and has seen them all through, which has taken nine years.

Easter Basket Cake

A fluffy Angel Food Cake with Creamy Butter Frosting

1 cup sifted cake flour
1 1/2 cups Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar, divided
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups egg whites (10 or 12)
1 Teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 teaspoon almond extract
All ingredients must be at room temperature and all equipment must be free of grease (if in doubt, wash utensils and pan with soap). Preheat oven to 325 degrees F.

Sift flour with 3/4 cup Imperial Granulated Sugar. Add salt to egg whites and beat until foamy. Sprinkle cream of tartar on egg whites and continue beating until peaks are stiff but not dry. Carefully fold remaining 3/4 cup Imperial Granulated Sugar into egg whites, 2 tablespoons at a time; fold in vanilla and almond extracts. Sprinkle flour and sugar mixture over batter, a few tablespoons at a time, folding in gently. Transfer batter to ungreased 10" tube pan. Bake in preheated 325 degree F. oven about 50 minutes or until top springs back when touched with fingertip. Invert pan immediately and allow cake to cook one hour before removing from pan.

TO MAKE BASKET
To make a nest for candy eggs and decorations, cut a sloping slice from edge of cake to center. Cut center no deeper than 1/2 inch. Use cut-away cake to fill center hole made from tube pan. Frost top and sides of cake with Creamy Butter Frosting.

CREAMY BUTTER FROSTING

Combine 1-pound box (4 cups) Imperial 10X Powdered Sugar, 3 tablespoons soft butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/4 cut light cream or milk and a few drops of yellow food color (to make pale yellow basket color). If necessary, adjust sugar or cream for proper consistency. Frost top and sides of cake. After spreading frosting on cake, let dry about 10 minutes before making basket weave pattern. To make basket weave pattern in frosting, draw inch-long horizontal and vertical lines in frosting with tines of fork. Cover top of basket with grass (green-tinted coconut).

TO MAKE GRASS
Put coconut and a few drops of green food color in plastic bag and work with hands until coconut is uniformly tinted. Fill basket with jelly beans, decorated eggs or Easter decorations.

TO MAKE BASKET HANDLE
Make handle of pipe cleaners or coat hanger. Wrap with several strips of aluminum foil. Then wrap with pastel yellow ribbon, securing ribbon with cellophane tape. Tie pink ribbon on top. Press handle into top of basket cake.

Easter Basket Cake is one of Imperial Sugar's newest recipes. Additional copies of the recipe and information about other free recipes and free cook-books are available from Imperial Sugar Company, P.O. Box 500, Sugar Land, Texas 77478.

Grow Your Own Garden Transplants

Get your spring garden off to a good start by growing your own transplants indoors, suggests Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The key to using transplants successfully is to plant seed so the young plants will be ready to set out when your garden is ready and weather conditions are favorable.

For the best survival and quick recovery after planting in the garden, transplants should be young, sturdy and in good nutritional condition.

Usually four to six weeks is sufficient time to grow most transplants, notes Tanksley. Vine crops take two to three weeks to develop two to three true leaves while lettuce takes three to four weeks. Tomatoes need five to seven weeks to reach transplanting stage. These time requirements are at the recommended day temperature of about 75 degrees F. and a night temperature of 60 degrees F.

To determine planting time for most transplants, figure back four to six weeks from the average last spring frost date in Bailey County, which is around April 20.

Some transplants such as cabbage, broccoli, lettuce, green onions and spinach can be set in the garden four to six weeks before the last frost date.

When starting plants indoors, Tanksley suggests using a soilless or synthetic soil mix available at garden centers or nurseries.

Seed can be started in almost any type container such as flower pots, milk cartons or cake pans. Be sure the container has holes for adequate drainage. Other popular containers are seed flats, peat pots and peat cubes or pellets.

Once you've got the needed materials and planting time is at hand, fill the containers with the synthetic mix, firm it in well and then water thoroughly. Space the seed evenly, cover lightly and water again.

To improve germination,

Tanksley suggests slipping the container into a plastic bag and placing it in an area at room temperature but out of direct sunlight. Remove the bag when the seed first sprout and place the container in and place the container in sunlight.

Once the container has been removed from the plastic bag, add water to maintain good moisture. Frequent watering will be necessary but use care to avoid saturation. After plants have two to three true leaves, they may need watering daily.

When plants are of adequate size and outside conditions are suitable for plant growth, transplant them into the garden area and you've got a jump on the planting season, says Tanksley.

Growth Regulator May Help Irrigation

High Plains agriculture may be on the verge of a possible breakthrough in plant water conservation with the application of a new class of growth regulators to the old job of making plants more water use efficient. Results of initial research at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, applying a new group of plant growth regulators in cotton to study their influence on water relations and yields, indicate that the treated cotton stressed less and produced a shorter plant with a smaller amount of leaf surface with resulted in a reduced rate of evapo-transpiration. The treated cotton increased yield and made slightly better staple length and fiber than the untreated cotton.

The study began in 1979 to determine the effect of PIX, a plant growth regulator, on the water relations and yield cotton under the three moisture levels of dryland, low and high irrigation. Results were so promising that the High Plains Water District's Board of Directors has agreed to fund two additional plant growth regulator studies on cotton and grain sorghum by TAES. The Directors committed a total of 34 thousand dollars to the new research effort.

One grant of 14 thousand dollars will support work to measure the performance of PIX in cotton under field conditions on producers' farms. This on-farm study phase of the research follows a year of District supported test plot work looking at the influence of PIX on water relations and yields in cotton at the research station. This second phase field application study is an attempt to cut the lag time between basic research and product availability to the producer. PIX is not approved for growers, but has been conditionally cleared for on-farm test plots.

Directors also funded a 20 thousand dollar research proposal to examine another plant growth regulator, BAS 105 00 W, on grain sorghum in research plots at the Lubbock station under dryland, limited and full irrigation, again, in order to examine its influence on water relations and yields.

Growth regulators have been around since the 1920's as a natural or synthetic compound applies directly to a plant in small concentrations to enhance yields, improve quality or facilitate harvesting. These studies to Members of the Optimist Club of Muleshoe expressed their appreciation to the basketball fans, and interested persons who helped make their Tournament of Champions Basketball Tournament a great success.

Overall winner of the tournament was the Clovis National Bank, with Dimmitt second and Morton, third. Ralph Mason of Morton was presented the sportsmanship trophy and Jess Henderson of Clovis National Bank was awarded the Most Valuable Player plaque.

Starting out the tournament, the Fair Store bested Loomix, 83-43; followed by Morton over Dimmitt, 67-61. Clovis National Bank dropped Watson Alfalfa, 66-52 and Plainview Super Stars bested Friona, 74-46.

Loomix was blazed 105-47 by Dimmitt and Morton edged by the Fair Store, 70-69. Friona fell to Watson Alfalfa, 56-54 and Plainview was edged by Clovis National Bank, 57-54.

Dimmitt defeated Watson Alfalfa, 59-44 and Plainview stayed ahead of the Fair Store, 64-59. Morton failed to catch the Clovis National Bank's 85, losing with a score of 60 and Dimmitt slid by Plainview, 66-64.

Dimmitt then dumped Morton 65-58 and Clovis National 85-83, before falling to Clovis National 75-69, with Clovis National winning the championship.

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek talks around the subject of balancing the budget this week.

Dear editor:

I understand that the best minds on how to whip inflation claim it's a two-pronged undertaking. (1) Balance the budget. (2) Increase productivity.

I have nothing to offer on No. 2. I'm already working as much as I intend to. How many other people have the same frame of mind, I'm not prepared to say. Well, I could say, but I don't want to call any names. On the whole, though, I notice that the people who are urging more production are urging it on somebody else, not themselves.

As for balancing the budget, I can think of only one way to do it. It should be done by somebody who can't add and besides doesn't know which column to put the figures in. Lock him up in a room without an adding machine and believe whatever figure he slips under the door.

Meanwhile, I have decided to go into the public opinion polling business. It's the one business you can't go wrong in.

For example, when the polls in New York showed Carter winning and Kennedy losing, and the vote turned out just the opposite, pollsters explained without blinking that when the polls were taken they were right but voters changed their minds at the last minute.

If a poll showed that 63 percent of the people sampled think the world is flat, and then somebody left home going west, kept going and eventually found himself coming home from the east, the pollsters would say the earth was flat at the time the poll was taken but it suddenly changed shape.

Back to the budget. How can you balance a multi-billion-dollar budget when you've got only ten fingers to count on?

Yours faithfully
J.A.

George Bush, Republican presidential candidate, in Iowa regarding caucus: "I've already won in terms of coming so much farther than anyone would have thought four months ago."

COLLEGE STATION—Best food buys at Texas grocery markets within the next two weeks will include pork eggs, fresh carrots, squash and apples—along with selected salad greens.

Dr. Carol Akkerman, a consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extensions Service, The Texas A&M University System, also reports that fresh strawberries and pineapples will be more plentiful in upcoming weeks.

Toward the end of March, cantaloupes and honeydeys will be lower priced and tastier, she says.

On the other hand, citrus fruit is nearing the end of its season, so prices will increase and quality will decrease.

Mid-March price-quality trends are:

PORK--Supplies are generous, and prices are reasonable.

As a wise shopper, take advantage of the specials and freeze them for later.

Here's a freezer-storage guide: Fresh ground pork, sausage and casseroles will retain their quality in the freezer for up to three months. Fresh larger cuts, such as pork loin and roast will retain quality as long as six months. Smoked pork, such as ham, arm

Cooper Services At Hale Center

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Benedict have just returned from Plainview and Hale Center where they were caring for Mrs. Benedict's sister, Mrs. Carrin Cooper, 70, until her death on March 22, following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Cooper was well known in Muleshoe during her lifetime. Final services were conducted at the First Baptist Church in Hale Center on March 24. Burial was at a cemetery in Plainview.

Sue was preceded in death by her husband, Tom Cooper in 1972. He had retired after 30 years in government service in Corpus Christi.

Survivors include two sons; Dan Cooper of Plainview and David Cooper of Egan, Ill; one sister, Ms. Vic (Ece) Benedict, Muleshoe; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

picnics and loins should not be frozen longer than 60 days, or flavor may deteriorate.

BEEF--Prices and supplies will remain constant -- with emphasis on chuck cuts, hamburger, sirloin steak and short ribs.

For best buys, compare prices, quality and cuts in local markets.

POULTRY--Fryers continue in good supply. Either whole fryers or selected parts will give you more for the money -- depending on family needs.

As Easter approaches, watch the newspaper for best buys on turkeys--buy ahead and freeze.

EGGS -- Prices are beginning to rise. Large eggs tend to be the best buy.

VEGETABLES -- Warm weather and favorable growing conditions have produced large supplies of fresh winter vegetables.

Best buys are cabbage, carrots, potatoes, rutabagas, spinach, squash and sweet potatoes.

In some markets, good buys may appear on broccoli, cucumbers and tomatoes.

Always keep in mind the many ways vegetables can be eaten: fresh, cooked, in casseroles, in soups, as salads and as snacks.

All vegetables are low in calorie and high in nutrients.

FRUITS -- Oranges and apples are plentiful, and prices are good.

Shop around for the best buys on bananas and pears.

Strawberries, pineapples and melons will be plentiful and a good buy shortly.

CONSUMERS! Shop early in the day for the freshest, least-handled food.

When possible, compare prices among markets and select products you will use. No buy is a good buy if the food is wasted.

Children would probably behave better if adults gave them a better example.

Reagan--His Time?

In Washington and elsewhere a number of Republican political figures are currently saying it's time the party gave Ronald Reagan his chance to run for the presidency. They were saying this even before President Ford announced he would not be a candidate. They were saying this before Reagan's recent victory in Illinois.

The bar thus far to Reagan's hopes has been twofold, that he is too old and that he can't win a national election. This latter consideration may have prevented his nomination in 1976. Why do some that favored Ford in 1976 now think Reagan deserves his chance? Do they feel Reagan is more electable now than in 1976, when he was four years younger.

They believe Reagan deserves the nomination in part because he has been working toward this goal for years now, has won more delegates than anyone else, and was denied his party's nomination only by a close margin in 1976. Is Reagan's likely nomination, nevertheless, another evidence of the Republican Party nominating a conservative candidate it likes rather than a candidate who can win?

Reagan's answer is that he won handily in California, where Democrats outnumber Republicans two to one. He also believes a genuine contrast between candidates is more likely to produce a Republican victory than a contest between a moderate and Mr. Carter, also a moderate. He doesn't see his nomination as comparable to 1964.

Who is right? Certainly the 1964 race was a GOP shambles. President Johnson inundated conservative Barry Goldwater. And former President Ford recently said he fears Reagan can't win in November, because he won't receive enough of the independent and moderate vote from the Middle.

Yet there are differences between now and 1964. President Johnson had been in office only a year. Mr. Carter is finishing a full four-year term. Senator Goldwater was feared partly because of his alleged hawkish inclination during a limited war in Vietnam. There is no war today. Goldwater, also, was suspect in being half Jewish, because of already one-sided U.S. Middle East policies and growing differences with Arab, oil-producing countries. Reagan is a gentile.

Reagan is also better known across the country after years of campaigning. Finally, Reagan benefits from the more obvious conservative trend in the nation and world today, especially in the economic sphere--where liberal, overspending and inflation are now unquestionably the number-one issue.

In short, it may be that Reagan can, after all, win a national election. The majority might be ready for a fiscal conservative and a no-nonsense balance-the-budget president, plus stronger foreign and defense policies. That's why Reagan is likely to be nominated in Detroit.

The Anderson Bubble

The recent surge of interest in John Anderson, the Illinois Congressman, among Republican and crossover voters in recent primaries, shouldn't fool anyone that the inflexible liberal has a real chance at the Republican nomination.

Like the fallen John Connally, Howard Baker, etc., Anderson has almost no chance to receive the nomination. He has been turned to, as others have faded, but realistically, the mood of the nation is against a liberal.

What was refreshing about Anderson's campaign, to many, was that he expressed different sentiments from the expected, and recommended allegedly unpopular solutions, such as a 50 cents gasoline tax. That might be refreshing, but as the average citizen thinks further about the added fifty cents (and all this new flood of government money it would allow the Congress to collect and waste in true liberal fashion), the luster in its appeal will dim--long before November. With gas prices already hurtful, who needs another fifty cents added to the price by Washington? In the long run, that just won't sell.

Nor will Anderson's endorsement of so many liberal Democrats in this year's elections in various states--endorsements which are hurting Republican opponents. Nor will Anderson's attitude about some other Republican candidates, whom he would refuse to support. That sort of "me or nobody" attitude, and what many consider party disloyalty, won't sell either. It doomed Nelson Rockefeller.

One suspects, too, that a good bit of gleeful Democratic support has been extended to Anderson by Democrats, who would, of course, prefer him as a candidate. But he would again offer the voter no contrast, no real choice. The traditional liberal spending philosophy would be that of both parties in the 1980 race.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

The Administration's anti-inflation program -- its fourth -- is mis-named. Actually, it is far more likely to boost inflation, depress the economy, worsen our energy situation and hit the pocketbooks of those who can least afford to pay the price. We in Congress have an obligation to our fellow citizens to insist on a program honestly aimed at the roots of inflation, not the American people.

Let's take a brief look at some of the program's specifics:

--Proposed budget cuts, as yet unspecified for the most part, expected to amount to about $14 billion. That, I suppose, is good, but it's much like the first line in a "good news, bad news" joke. The bad news is the budget increases for this year and next will total close to $100 billion even if the cuts are enacted.

--The "balanced budget" proposal relies on more than $50 billion in increased taxes to be paid directly or indirectly by the individual consumer. The sources of those new tax dollars range from increases caused by inflation-pushed incomes moving into higher tax brackets ($25 billion) to the windfall profits tax.

--The new oil import fee, already in effect by executive order, will add about 1 percent to the inflation rate through increased gasoline costs. And even if it has the desired effect of reducing oil imports by 100,000 barrels a day, that will not offset the minimum 500,000 barrels a day of domestic production which will be lost because of the windfall profits tax. And the new fee can be used by OPEC oil pricers to justify still higher costs for imported oil.

--Withholding federal income taxes from interest and dividends will have a sharp effect on retired persons who depend on income from those sources for their livelihoods, and frequently owe little income tax. It will have the effect of discouraging savings at a time when everyone, including the President, agrees that we desperately need to encourage a higher rate of savings. And the new regulations will require more bureaucrats to enforce them, while placing a huge burden on the approximately 1,000 small banks in Texas that will be hard-pressed to develop and generate an accounting system to comply.

--Credit card "controls" actually have translated into a business tax on new credit. The Federal Reserve will require banks to put 15 percent of new credit extended in a no-interest reserve account. The restriction will hit hardest at young adults who are credit-worthy for the first time, and at middle- and lower-middle class card holders who have small limits.

Nothing in the new proposals addresses the problem of contributions to inflation from lowered productivity and the cost of government regulation. We need tax reform, not tax increases. Congress must insist on a truly balanced budget, with cuts coming from inflation-fueling consumption spending instead of capital investment -- which tends to be helpful to the economy. Further, we must find at least twice as much to cut as the Administration is proposing.

And, at the same time, we must not lose sight of our obligation to strengthen our national defense substantially.

Our task is great. It will take your full support if we are to succeed in putting our nation's economy back on the right path.

ON MORTGAGE RATES

NEW YORK -- An Associated Press survey shows that record-high mortgage rates are forcing an increasing number of Americans to drop out of the home-buying market or at least postpone their purchases.

GACY GETS DEATH

CHICAGO -- The same jury that convicted John W. Gacy Jr. of murdering 33 boys and young men has decided that he should die in the electric chair, drawing a burst of applause and cheers in the courtroom from friends and relatives of the victims.

JAPAN POSTPONES AID

TOKYO -- Japan plans to postpone indefinitely $56 million in economic aid to Vietnam because of the uncertain political situation in Indochina.

WASHINGTON NOTES

JOBLESS & BENEFITS

The Senate has voted overwhelmingly to make it harder for some jobless Americans to get long-term unemployment benefits in hard economic times. The legislation is a relatively painless way to save more than $300 million a year in federal spending.

CLERKS, TYPISTS NEEDED

General clerks and clerks are the workers most in demand, according to the latest job bank openings listed by the Department of Labor. The department survey disclosed 402,309 permanent, full-time jobs available across the country in January, the latest month for which figures are available.

VOLUNTARY EMBARGO

The Carter administration has asked U.S. companies not to export to the Soviet Union an estimated $20 million in products relating to the Summer Olympics. The action was intended to show U.S. displeasure with continuing Soviet military involvement in Afghanistan, the administration said.

DOOR STILL OPEN

Secretary of State Cyrus Vance said that the "door is still open" for a negotiated settlement for the release of the U.S. hostages through the U.N. Commission to Iran despite the suspension of its mission.

REJECTS WOMEN DRAFT

President Carter's proposal to register women for the draft was soundly rejected by a House Armed Services subcommittee. Members of the panel said the number of draft-age young men is large enough to fill the needs of all military services in a time of emergency without also calling up women.

PANEL ON GRAIN PRICES

The Senate Agriculture Committee has voted quick, unanimous support for President Carter's plan to get farmers to place more corn into reserves as a way of pushing up prices hurt by the embargo on grain sales to the Soviet Union.

Don't Get Caught in a Bad Deal When Making Lawn Purchases

AUSTIN—Texans across the state who are busy revitalizing their spring lawns and gardens need to be on the lookout for unscrupulous nursery peddlers and "tree experts," Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has advised.

"In the past, we have received reports from consumers who have paid for unnecessary or poorly done landscaping services as well as for nursery stock which failed to thrive," Brown explained.

In many such incidents, consumers who are caught in these bad "deals" have been approached at their homes by traveling "experts," who explain that they are in the neighborhood doing other work, Brown said. One such example is the purchase of trees from door-to-door salesmen who offer "bargain" prices for planting trees which they provide.

"Consumers who buy such services find out, too late, that the trees planted in their yards are actually nothing more than sawed off branches, with no root systems, which have been stuck in burlap wrappings filled with leaves and rocks," Brown noted.

Similar experiences have been reported by homeowners who have been approached by door-to-door salesmen who sell consumers on unnecessary fertilizing and pesticide work. Others may purchase "fully guaranteed" plants from street corner vendors which die soon after being brought home.

"Practically speaking, there is very little recourse for a consumer who does business with unknown door-to-door peddlers or street corner vendors of plants and trees," Brown said, "since by the time the person realizes his mistake, the dealer has long since moved on."

The consumer's best defense against being gypped in such deals is to shop around when buying such services and/or products.

"Seek out the advice of recognized nursery and lawn care experts before taking the word of anyone who offers unsolicited advice on your lawn's care," Brown said.

He also advised purchasing plants from established dealers who, by law, are inspected and licensed by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Horse management program offered at Tarleton

STEPHENVILLE — Tarleton State University has a one-of-its-kind, four-year horse management program designed to place graduates in key positions in the horse industry.

The unusual program at this 3,400-student North Central Texas campus is headed by Dr. Les Waymack, a 22-year rodeo veteran. Waymack says the project will help graduating students ride high on the rising wave of horse popularity.

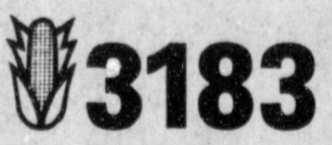

By gaining hands-on experience, Tarleton horse management graduates will have a marketable skill, he added.

This hybrid's record for consistency has made it one of the most popular hybrids on the High Plains. In 77 comparisons over the last four years against competitive hybrids, 3184 has shown an average yield of 183.7 bu./A. with a yield advantage of 14.3 bu./A. over competitors. Bred with outstanding drought tolerance, 3184 can adjust ear size and kernel depth to match growing conditions. And strong stalks keep 3184 standing straight for speedy harvest. It's just what High Plains farmers need in a dependable, high-yielding corn hybrid. And its maturity makes it a good companion for 3183.

Push this one for highest yields! In 43 comparisons on the High Plains in 1979, this hybrid averaged 192.1 bu./A. A sampling of yields from 1979 includes 216 bu./A. for Sheldon Rapp at Hooker, Oklahoma . . . 210.4 bu./A. for Larry Kemp of Muleshoe . . . and 196.7 bu./A. for Doyle Underwood at Dimmitt, Texas. 3183 has demonstrated very good standability and ear retention in this area. Excellent drought tolerance helps 3183 maintain outstanding consistency year after year. And it has been especially impressive on gray soils. Plant 3183 along with 3184. Spread genetic risks and get top performance, too.

Students and teachers alike will be able to spend a few days at home this next week, as Easter Vacation for Lazbuddie ISD begins, March 28.

Many of the students and teachers will be gone for the holidays, and it is our hope, that if they travel, they will drive with care.

While Easter Break will be over on Monday, April 7, and the classes will resume as regular, there will be a school board trustee election during the vacation period.

If any of you are planning to be gone during the vacation, it is important that you vote before you go.

Absentee voting may be accomplished in the Tax Assessor's - Collector's office of the school during the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. any school day.

Lennis Owen is serving as Absentee election clerk, and urges everyone to get out and vote absentee if you are planning to be out of town for the actual election. Don't miss out on your chance to vote.

Several junior high and elementary students from Lazbuddie participated in the UIL Literary met in Sundown on Friday, March 28, with some of the events starting a day ahead of time, on March 27.

Lazbuddie had a good showing in the Literary competition, and the students may be strong enough to once again bring home a trophy for the most points scored in the spring meet again this year. Should they do, it would be the second consecutive year for Lazbuddie to win. Good luck, all of you.

"The Lord often gets his best soldiers from the Highlands of affliction." C.H. Sturgeon.
