What a Troubled World?
What Will TVA Do?
Schwab Still Smiles
Steam Turbine Planes

Will this troubled world ever calm down, supply work to those willing to work and live happily, and enable superior ability to show what it can do?

Spain, waking from long lethargy, is swept by riots, jails stormed and set afire. Rioting and rebellion in South America; will our friendly feeling compel us to attempt straightening that out? Rioting in Paris and sabotage on English men-o-war.

Nations fight, classes fight, labor unions fight, and even men of the same religion fight.

Washington wonders what TVA will do with the Supreme court letting government enter the business of producing and selling power.

Some suggest putting power on every farm, regardless of distance or cost, as rural mail delivery is put on every farm.

If every home is entitled to government mail delivery, every farm should be entitled to government power delivery on the same basis. That would mean business for copper companies, more running water in cow barns, more irrigated garden patches, more electric light after sundown in chicken coops.

Charles M. Schwab, seventy-four, still specializes in optimism, like the man who went to the race track, lost every cent, but escaped death in the railroad wreck. Mr. Schwab says labor conditions are the best in 56 years. He should know; he began as a laborer and did not get $5, or $3, or $2 a day. Industry he calls a "three-legged stool." Capital, labor, management are the three legs.

Put Charles M. Schwab back where he was 56 years ago, the same as then, in age and energy, and he would soon be at the head of a great industry. Who does not believe it does not know Schwab.

Russia, trying everything, experiments with a steam-propelled turbine plane for stratosphere flights. At such heights water boils at half the temperature necessary at sea level. The exhaust steam after heating the plane would be recovered 90 per cent. Two years ago William and George Bessler, in Los Angeles, built and flew a plane with a steam engine. There is still much to learn about flying.

Uncle Sam, convinced that he is his brother's keeper, after all, wants a peace agreement among all American republics.

Beautiful. But if any republic decides to fight, anyhow, it is to be hoped this country will not become an arbitrator.

"Judge not that ye be not judged," is sound advice.

We can no more decide the right and wrong of a row between Mussolini and England, or Chile and the Argentine, than we could between the two Kilkenny cats.

It is pleasing to learn from George Washington university of a new and "refreshing" preparation that makes possible childbirth "during sound sleep" without pain.

More and better children, bigger population, is what the world needs with gradual elimination of the hopelessly inferior race by absorption, or voluntary extermination.

Poor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, waiting for the rainy season to expel the Italians, suddenly found his army of 80,000 driven hither and thither, and two other armies, under two of his ablest "races," sent scattering into the jungle.

Seventy thousand Italians seizing a mountain fort that Ethiopia thought impregnable started the Mussolini kind of "rainy season"

WHO STARTED THE WAR?

Uncle Bill, who caused the United States to enter the World War against Germany? I have been reading about how congress has been inquiring into the cause of this country going into that war.

My pastor is of the opinion that the munition makers were the ones who got us into the war. He says these munition makers had guns and ammunition to sell and they wanted a war so they could sell their products and make a lot of money out of it.

Now, do you think that a few men like the Du Ponts and other manufacturers of war supplies could have pulled the wool over our eyes and plunged us into that war without having guns and ammunition enough to fight a single major battle?—History Student

Now since you ask me, I am going to give you the plain facts and my conclusions from personal observation.

In the first place, there is no single group of persons who caused us to go into that war. If any one group is guilty, we are all guilty. Every mother's son of us, except the yellow slackers, helped to bring about that which was inevitable. But for the honor of my country and the noble men and women who made sacrifices, I plead not guilty of any evil motive or intent.

Since the Franco-Prussian war of 1870, I have watched the doings of the German empire and its people. I have noticed that the peace loving and wise Germans left that country as soon as they could get away and come to America, or some other country where they could get an even break in life instead of employing their time in hollering, "hock dar Kaiser," goose stepping and rattling their sabers.

The victory over France in 1870, turned those industrious, peace-loving, kraut-eating, beer-drinking people into a nation of big windys. Since that time, Germany has been going around with a chip on its shoulder daring anyone to knock it off.

While these people are great to brag and wear war togs and all that goes with it, these people were never able to whip anyone since their war with France except some Israelites who happened to live in that country. It was a notorious fact during the World War, that whenever their enemy got too much for them, they would either lie down like a sheep or run like a scalded dog.

The Scappa Flow incident illustrates this. They gave up a magnificent fleet, without firing a shot, when if it had been a British, French or American fleet, they would have fought until their flags had been torn by inches from their masts, and not until the sea closed over them would they have ceased firing.

The Germans well know that they are alone responsible for starting the war. The whole world knows this to be a fact. They bragged, paraded and threatened until somebody called their hand. When they got the hound beaten out of them, they felt bad about having started a fight and getting themselves whipped.

Like all other bullies who raise a row and then gets licked, they ache for an alibi. Since the war, and everything is settled, these people have and are spending their money and time in promulgating their alibi and lots of fool Americans are fall-

Sterling Future Ranchers Exhibited Some of the Best Livestock Found in West Texas

Sterling City Future Ranchers displayed their fat lambs and baby beeves last Saturday in a show sponsored by the Sterling City Lions Club.

The forenoon was spent by the boys getting their livestock on the show grounds and giving them the final touches, and by the spectators picking the probable champions. At 1:30 o'clock the judging began with R. M. Millhollen, former A. & M. livestock judging coach, doing the judging. E. E. Young, Voc. Agriculture teacher of San Angelo, and H. F. Smith, Coke County Agent, judged the boys on showmanship.

The five baby beeves were judged first. The awards were: Bubba Foster, first; Roy Thomas Foster, second; Woodrow Mills, third; J. S. Cole, fourth and fifth. All the boys exhibited calves of their fathers breeding, but Woodrow Mills, who had a Foster Conger calf. Roy Thomas was awarded the prize for showmanship of the calf division, and Bubba Foster was second.

Seventy-one fat lambs were judged next with Bubba Foster showing the champion lamb; J. S. Cole, Jr., second; Don Bowen, third; Roy Tom Foster, fourth; T. A. Medart, fifth and sixth; Roy Thomas Foster, seventh; Bubba Foster, eighth and ninth; T. L. Whitley, tenth. The breeders of these first ten lambs are Lester Foster of Bubba's lambs; J. S. Cole, Sr. of J. S.'s lambs; Clyde Bowen of Don's lamb; Roy Foster of Roy Thomas' lambs; and Foster Conger of lambs shown by T. A. and T. L. Bramlette Allen was awarded first in showmanship of the lamb division and J. S. Cole was second.

Seven pens of fine lambs were judged with Bubba Foster again getting the blue ribbon. Roy Thomas Foster, second; J. S. Cole, third; T. L. Whitley, fourth; Woodrow Mills, fifth

In the men's breeding show, Bade Brothers won first and second in the Rambouillet ram lamb class with Fred Hodges taking third. In the ewe lambs, Bade Brothers took first and third, with Woodrow Mills taking second.

Other boys that exhibited lambs that did not get the premium money were: Reynolds Foster, Finis Westbrook, Bob Gill, Jean Durham, Ralph Weaver, John Randle, J. S. King, Colbert Littlefield, J. C. Evans, G. W. Augustine and Charles Churchill.

Lion's Club Entertains Visitors

G. C. Dunham, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Joe Pickle president of the Lion's Club, W. T. Strange manager of the Chamber of Commerce and Nat Shick, postmaster at Big Spring were guest of the Lion's Club at its weekly luncheon last Wednesday.

These gentlemen are among the lives wires of Big Spring. They reported that the gap on highway No. 9 in Glasscock County which has been held up so long would be completed by next July. When this is paved they said there would be a big increase of traffic on this highway. A big time and lot of fun was had at the club.

Better Homes Club

At the regular meeting of the Better Homes in America Club Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Everette Cope, presented, briefly, rock gardens, concrete pools, cactus beds, perennials and window boxes. Mrs. Frankie Howard read a paper on planting dates for vegetables.

The next meeting is planned for March 3, at Mrs. Everette Cope's apartment. The lesson is to be Late Planting of Shrubs, by Mrs. Cope, and Construction of Flower-boxes for Windows and Porches, by Mrs. Frankie Howard.

Attends Father's Funeral

Miss Ann Cotton attended the funeral of her father, James Cotton, 79, who died last Monday and was buried in Fairmount Cemetery at San Angelo last Tuesday.

Lions Club Sponsor For Amateur Night

Prizes will Be Given For Best Numbers—Proceeds for Community

MARCH 5 IS DATE

Final arrangements are being made by the Lion's Club this week end for a gala night on March 5, when an array of the most talented tap dancers, singers, musicians, dramatic players, etc., among the county's younger set, will vie for first prize in a well planned Amateur program; advertised as the Lions Club Amateur Night.

Lion Gus Barr is in charge of the show and will act as Master of Ceremonies.

As an added attraction for the performance the Forsan High School Band has been booked for a pre-curtain concert starting at 7:45 p.m. Place is the High School Auditorium.

Any one wishing to enter the Lion's Club Amateur Show may do so at any time, but for convenience sake, all applications should be filed with Mr. Barr immediately. Cash prizes will be awarded winners of first, second and third places.

Any individual or groups of individuals may enter more than one act, and the quality of the act—how well it was put over, and how well it was prepared and done will be judged. The best liked act, whether song, dance, music, or drama, will be ranked as number one, and the members of the act will all share in the prize money.

Net proceeds from the Lions' Amateur Night will be used for community improvement and in the interest of community welfare.

Admission is to be ten cents for grade school age children, 25c for high school students and 35c for adults. Tickets may be purchased from special agents or at the Butler Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fullick came down from Odessa the first of this week to visit their daughter and son-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Pless Glass. Mr. Fullick reports big play in the oil fields in the vicinity of Odessa.

Those who are against the New Deal evidently are honing to get back to the Old Deal. The Old Deal if I correctly recall, was a raw deal. If they are craving to get back to the Old Deal, why don't they say so?

Governor Hoffman of New Jersey thinks somebody lied at the trial of Hauptman. But the fact still remains that Hauptman had some money that was paid to somebody for the return of the Lindbergh baby

The joke about making a goat of the munition makers for bringing on the World War, lies in the fact that they had only a small lot of war supplies for sale and couldn't possibly make a supply in time to use it. Everybody knows very well that we had to borrow these things from England and France. It was another case of voting a bonus for Mr. Eveal O. W. Tnesba—Absent Without Leave. Friz is picking big loads into some of our people.

You never hear a banker kicking because Roosevelt kept the banks from going to the junk heap. You never heard a ranchman kicking about Roosevelt giving him a big lot of wheat and corn and then buying his old culls which he could not sell at any price. You never heard a farmer beefing about getting a big price for a lot of cotton he did not raise. You never hear a jobless man roaring about not getting a job—that is, if he really wants to work. No hungry man ever had cause to grumble because he couldn't get the makings for his eats, yet, some of them are bellyaching a whole lot just because it is their nature. They remind me of a cow I once found stuck in a bog. I pulled her out and then she tried to kill me for it. Lots of folks are like that cow.—Uncle Bill

They sent Dr. Fredric Cook to the pen for using the mails to sell oil leases on lands which was proven in court to not be oil bearing lands. While the Doctor was serving his time in prison, holes were drilled in that land and oil spouted over the crown blocks, and now is the greatest oil field in the world. But there was no oil there. Witnesses in court swore there wasn't, and the courts so decreed. Well, Dr. Cook went on an expedition in search of the North Pole. He came back and reported that he had found it. A year later, Lieutenant Peary came back from up there and said Cook was a liar, he had found it himself. He proved that Cook was a liar by a nigger who went with him.

Later: Since then some of the boys have found that Cook had been there and greased the pole so Peary couldn't climb it, ing for it. They are blaming it all off on the munition makers and trying to make a goat of them, when as a matter of fact, they did not have enough guns and ammunition to sell to last the American forces for a single day's major fight.

This congressional investigation should be branded: "Made in Germany."

It is true that the munition makers had guns and ammunition to sell in small lots, but you can't carry on a war with these things alone. An army must eat and wear clothes and have the numerous things that makes a go of it.

An army must have wool, cotton, leather, wheat, corn, beef, pork, horses and lots of other things that the farmer raises and had to sell and did sell at a big profit.

The army had to have lumber and lots of it, and the lumbermen had it to sell and profited by it.

The army had to have copper, lead, zinc, iron, aluminum, as well as all other metals, so the miners had these for sale, and did sell at a big profit.

All other industries had other products for sale and did sell at a profit.

The railroads and ships had transportation service for sale and did sell at a great profit.

When the Germans got to blowing up ships and murdering our women and babies on the highseas, we got mad about it. Everybody whose veins didn't carry icewater, wanted the Germans to quit it. When we asked them to do it, they asked us, "What are you going to do about it?" That made us still madder.

They knew we didn't have any guns and ammunition to do something about it, but they failed to do something about it, but they failed to realize that we could borrow these things. So we borrowed some guns and cartridges and shot them until they "threw up their tails and hollered Kamarad."

After we all got mad about the way Germany had treated our women and babies, all hell couldn't stop us from going on the warpath even without guns. If Wilson had tried to hold us back any longer, we would have taken the bits in our teeth and went away as did thousands of our boys who joined the Canadian, British and French armies.

Now, if we are to make apologies to the Germans for getting mad at them because they amused themselves by murdering our women and babies and insulting us, let us not make a goat of the munition makers and make the farmer, ranchmen, lumbermen, miner and those of all other industries a party to the guilt, for they all profited during that war.

Let us take off our hats and say: "Sorry, Heiny, but it had to be done. We, except the yaller ones, are all guilty. We did our bit. You asked for it, and got it in the neck. Really Heiny, if you are the man you and your friends over here try to make us think you are, you would be paying the honest dollars you borrowed from us instead of buying the shiny doodads you wear on your uniforms to try to make us think you a bully bad boy mit von eye."

"Heiny, I insinuated that you were a big blowhard and wouldn't fight but I take it back, for it is a well known fact that when a squad of your brave boys meet up with a lone Sheeny, they are quite brave. It takes a brave squad to put the fixings on a harmless preacher or a lone Jew.—Uncle Bill

The Extended Palm

A GREATER number of extended palms can be found in the state of Florida than in all of France.

One of them, a royal palm, grows in front of the ninth green of the De Leon Springs golf course, its foliage frequently catching balls pitched toward the green.

That happened to John H. Fisher of Chicago the first time he stepped on the De Leon Springs links to try for his usual 70. The ball lodged in the tree and only the gift of a 50-cent dollar persuaded his colored caddy to retrieve it.

Climbing to the top of the tree the caddy gave one vigorous shake and Fisher's ball and 376 other golf balls dropped. It was the first time the royal palm had been shaken.

The golfer was astonished to discover that thirteen of the balls had his name, printed on them.

"It was my initial visit to Florida, all right, but that was no reason my entire name should have been printed on the balls," Fisher said later. "I didn't discover why until four months afterwards."

"I play the Tam o'Shanter course at Chicago. On the fifth tee I invariably slice my drive, frequently losing the ball. Well, I began to analyze my shots off that tee, employing a compass and other research equipment.

"And I discovered a most interesting thing—every one of my sliced shots off that fifth tee moved in a curving line directly toward De Leon Springs from Chicago."

COMMAS

"Tell me Friday Knight,
How are commas used?"
Friday did not hesitate,
He really looked amused.

"That is awful simple,
Just a little rule,

While going to school.

"My Pa's awful smart,

Your question sounds absurd,
Pa puts a comma,
After every fourth word."

The legislature of Rhode Island voted a big bonus to Mr Eveal O. W. Tnesba for distinguished services in the World War. As a hero, those boys landed him in the skies. It being a foreign name, these wise Solons thought it was all right. After the bill went through with a whoop, it soaked into their heads that Mr. Eveal O. W. Tnesba was a person known to all the Doughboys as A. W. O. L.—Absent Without Leave and they all got mad and cussed a whole lot.

Gus L. Ford, Dept of History and Anthropology, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Texas, is now on leave of absence from the college to serve as Historical Supervisor of the Cattle Brand Exhibit at the Texas Centennial Central Exposition. Mr. Ford desires that citizens write him with suggestions of brand designs for the display; also needs a limited number of branding irons for the exhibit.

Don't fail to buy a ticket to the Lion's Club amateur entertainment. If you have a crippled rib, don't go because you might hurt it laughing. Otherwise, a good laugh is worth 35 cents of any man's money, besides the 35 cents is to help out somebody in distress. March 5, at 8:00 p. m.

Chancellor Hitler announces: "We have solved the problem of producing synthetic gasoline and rubber." How good are the synthetic fuel and rubber; how cheap? These things will come, for science in the material world can do everything better than nature can do it.

Fuel will be created, and flying machines, too, as far above today's product as electric light is above whale oil, and the airplane above the ox-cart.

Sauerkraut Steps Out!

BUILD a better mouse trap, or produce a better sauerkraut and the world will find a path to your cellar. Even in the days when kraut hid its light in a barrel in the cellar, epicures found it. Today, when it can be bought, crisp and savory in nice clean cans, the fashionable world has found it on the grocery shelves. They have found, also, a variety of smart ways of serving this healthful and long-favored food. Your family will like them—so will your guests.

In Fashionable Frocks

Calf's Liver with Fried Sauerkraut: Cut one and one-half pounds of calf's liver in pieces for serving. Dip in boiling water for a few moments, drain and remove the skin along the edges and veins. Season well with salt and pepper, and dip in flour. Fry in hot fat in a skillet until done and a nice brown. Remove, and use the drippings for making a brown milk gravy. Meanwhile drain three cups of canned sauerkraut and fry in a skillet with three tablespoons of fat until slightly brown. Serve with the liver and gravy. This serves six persons.

Creamed Sauerkraut: Sauté three tablespoons of sliced onion and four tablespoons of shredded green pepper in three tablespoons of fat until the onions become pale yellow. Add three tablespoons of flour and stir until smooth. Add two cups of milk slowly, stirring until thick and creamy. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add two cups of canned sauerkraut and heat thoroughly. This serves six persons.*

SALMON CRASHES BEST PARTIES!

A salmon's life is NOT a happy one! Not generally speaking. For, in the course of a typical salmon-life, he travels from river-bed to ocean and back again to the home river, battling his way upstream only to die! But a happier fate awaits those thousands and thousands of salmon each year who, in the prime of their ocean existence, in the icy waters of Alaska, are caught and canned for American table delicacies. They are endowed with a pleasant immortality—and are destined to be featured in the leading role of many a memorable salmon dish. Canned salmon has long been a great American favorite—a food packed with high protein value, rich in vitamin D, iodine, calcium, and other minerals. Economical and nutritious, it deserves an even greater use on daily menus. In fancy dress, for party salad service, canned salmon is a happy suggestion. Nothing so festive was ever more economical, or easier to prepare than a salmon mold. Made in a fish mold, the finished salad is humorously lifelike, colorful and delicately flavored as the most particular hostess could desire.

SALMON MOLD
Soak 2 tablespoons gelatin in 1/2 cup cold water. Then dissolve in 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Cool. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice, the contents of one 1-pound can salmon, skinned, boned and flaked. Chill until beginning to set, then fold in 1 cup mayonnaise and heap in a damp fish mold. Chill until set, unmold on chicken and garnish with quartered tomatoes. Other equally attractive party dishes with salmon are easily made as follows:

SALMON CLUB SANDWICHES
Slice 12 pieces bread, 1/2 inch thick, to make 4 sandwiches, three tiers high. Toast bread as needed, making the 4 sandwiches at once. On first slice spread melted butter. Next a crisp lettuce leaf wiped dry. Next, slices of bacon crisply broiled. Next, dry portions of canned salmon. Next, place a slice of previously peeled, red ripe tomato. Sprinkle with salt, paprika and mayonnaise. Place another slice of toast on this filling and proceed as with first filling. On top of filling No. 2 place a third slice of warm toast. Cut off crusts and protruding filling with sharp knife. Cut each sandwich in two diagonally, and serve on individual plates garnished with lettuce leaf.

SALMON A LA KING
Simmer 1 can mushrooms, drained and 1 small onion, chopped, in butter. Stir in 2 tablespoons flour. Add 1 1/2 pints milk and 2 egg yolks. Cook slowly until thick. Add one 1-pound can of salmon, shredded. Add 1 pinch, dash of lemon juice and paprika. Serve in patty shells or on buttered toast.

SALMON AND RICE CASSEROLE
Mix 3 cups cooked rice with 1 minced green pepper, 2 tablespoons salt and one pound canned salmon, boned, skinned and broken into small pieces. Mix with 2 cups thin white sauce and pour into casserole. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) until brown and bubbling—about 25 minutes.

SALMON AND CORN SOUFFLE
Mix one pound canned salmon, flaked, with 2 cups thick white sauce. Add lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce and season. Fold in 2 stiffly beaten egg whites, and pour half of the mixture into a buttered baking dish. Pour in 1 cup canned corn, sautéed slightly, then the rest of the mixture. Cover with buttered bread crumbs and bake in a hot oven for 15 minutes. Serve with a pickle relish.

STUFFED SALMON
Place 3 slices salt pork on bottom of fat baking pan, arrange one-half pound canned salmon on it, shaped like a steak. Cover with dressing, and then another layer of the salmon. Put three more slices of pork on top and bake 1/2 of an hour. How to make dressing: 1 cup breadcrumbs, 1/2 cup cracker crumbs, 1 small onion, sliced, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 cup hot water, 1/4 cup melted butter, 1 beaten egg, pinch of sage. Lightly brown the onion in the butter, add hot water, and pour this over the bread and cracker crumbs. Season, and stir in the egg. This will serve 6 persons.

ONIONS STUFFED WITH SALMON A LA MEXICANA
10 medium sized onions; 1 tablespoon finely chopped green pepper; salt and pepper; one pound canned salmon; 1 tablespoon melted butter; 2 eggs. Boil onions for half an hour or until tender, drain, remove centers and fill with salmon, sweet pepper, butter and seasonings. Dredge each onion slightly with flour, dip into well-beaten eggs and fry in deep fat until a golden brown. Serve with tomato sauce.

BAKED SALMON AND SWEET POTATOES
Bake 6 medium sized sweet potatoes. Mash, season with salt, pepper and butter. Add 1/4 pound of finely flaked canned salmon. Mix all together. Place in buttered baking dish, spread top with melted butter, garnish with 1/4 pound canned salmon. Heat 5 or 6 minutes and serve.

SALMON PIE
Chop 1 cup canned salmon fine, add 2 cups rice potatoes and 1/2 cup milk. Put in greased baking dish. Spread with 1 egg beaten lightly. Cover with 1/2 cup cracker crumbs into which 2 tablespoons butter have been melted and sprinkle with 1/4 cup grated cheese. Bake until brown.

R. C. CAMPAIGNS TO PREVENT ACCIDENTS

Program Inaugurated in Local Chapters to Cut Down Farm and Home Accidents

The American Red Cross has launched a nation-wide campaign to eliminate hazards in the home and on the farm that now take an annual toll of nearly 35,000 lives, according to a recent statement by James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic operations.

"Every Red Cross chapter is being asked to play a part in this campaign," Mr. Fieser said. "Hazards in the various communities will be pointed out. The children in our schools throughout the country will be given a list of the home hazards and asked to enroll parents or relatives in the fight against them."

Nearly five million men, women, and children were temporarily disabled in the homes of America last year by accidents, officials of the National Safety Council have revealed. Most of the accidents in which persons were killed and injured could have been prevented, according to this safety agency, this fact alone largely motivating the Red Cross drive for accident elimination.

Active cooperation of social, civic, educational, veterans', and other groups has been secured. Red Cross inspection forms or home check lists will be distributed to homes where there are no children with the help of these organizations.

Due to inaccessibility and lack of compensation coverage, little or no pioneering has been done in the field of farm safety, the Red Cross states. However, more people were accidentally killed in agricultural pursuits last year than in any other occupation, making the need for safety education and farm home inspection apparent.

Other agencies now active in the accident-prevention field point to the fact that, because of its nearly 13,000 chapters and branches, the Red Cross has a unique opportunity to successfully promote a project of this nature.

Home accidents injure many more than do automobile accidents; they kill nearly as many, claiming an average of about 80 lives daily. In terms of dollars and cents, for the practical minded, home accidents cost more than $1,000 per minute.

Accidents of all types are Public Enemy No. 4. Only three diseases cause as many deaths each year, heart disease, cancer, and cerebral hemorrhage.

"The home is not the place of safety it is commonly supposed to be," said Mr. Fieser in commenting on the new Red Cross service to the community. "The Red Cross, as a part of its chartered obligation to prevent death and alleviate suffering, is conducting this humanitarian program to cut down the mounting toll of avoidable personal injury and death in the homes of the country."

 Day" was celebrated in December, 1935 when several trees were set out on the school grounds.

AN UNCONSCIOUS EXPRESSION OF CHARACTER

"Manner is the unconscious expression of character." This statement is made by Julia Dewey in a little book called "Lessons on Manners". Manner is important because it is an everyday thing.

At times students are unaware that they are being judged by their manners. Good manners are not an external finish, but they show what a person really is. Proper manners smooth the way to better things.
 Conventions are not meaningless, but are based on common sense.

The way to cultivate fine manners is to know what is right and to practice constantly. The observing of people with good manners is helpful.

Fine manners cannot be bought or learned from a book. They come from within—Louester Higgins

- June Gerber quite for five minutes?
- Cack and Marie failing in corridor courses?
- Don in love?
- What if!
- Gene and Idelle could not eat lunch in ten minutes?
- Roy Thomas became too interested in tennis?
- Louise and Cecile did not get a letter every other day?
- J. S. Augustine continues to study hard.

JUNIOR NEWS

We are all very proud of the showing our junior boys made in the Sterling County Livestock Show.
 All of the prizes for baby beef were taken by junior boys, and the first two for fat lambs were won by the junior boys. They also took the first two prizes for a lot of five lambs. Bubba Foster took all the first places. This is a pretty good proof that the juniors know their agriculture.

After the program several games of bridge were enjoyed by the following members: L'Jean McEntire,
 Cecile Irene Reed, Louise Atkinson,
 Bell Abernathy, Rulene Foster, Anna
 Lee Pearce, Marie Atkinson, Mary
 Helen Reed, Georgina Demere, Willie
 Mae Foster, Johnnie Lobban, Willie
 Mae Meyer. The guests were Babe
 Cole, Gloridel Bowen, Olga Key and Annie Bade.

The floating prize and high-score prize were awarded to Willie Mae Foster and L'Jean McEntire.

After the social hour a short business session was held. Three new members were voted into the club, who were Orilla Hodges, Gloridel
 Bowen, and Mary Louise Thomas.
 They will be initiated into the club
 Friday night at the home of Cecile
 Irene Reed.

Plans were also made for a St.
 Patrick's Tea which will be given March 4. The following committees were appointed to serve for the tea:
 Decoration committee, Mary Helen
 Reed, Willie Mae Foster, L'Jean
 McEntire, Marie Atkinson, Georgina
 Demere, Johnnie Lobban.

Refreshment committee, Cecile
