You spend a moment wondering what kind of English man or woman, strong in faith, decided to put that text before statesmen that today seek the "face" of Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, but forget the greater power of the Creator of those gentlemen.

After that, you read in the same Times this advertisement:

"Furs humanely obtained that can be worn with a clean conscience-full particulars from Maj .. C. Van Der Byl, Wappenham, Towcester."

This being an ingenious and doubtless quite sincere appeal to the tender-hearted Englishwoman who does not like to think that the fur around her neck mice belonged to an animal that suffered for days and perhaps weeks tortured in a trap.

Possibly the best way to "obtain furs humanely obtained that can be

C.O. Harris Gets GOP Nomination For Governor

Last Tuesday at the State Republican Convention at San Antonio my good friend Judge C. O. Harris of San Angelo, was nominated for governor of Texas against the democratic nominee, Jimmy Allred.

Of course, friend Harris does not expect to get anywhere with his campaign against Jimmy Allred. As for that matter, no one does. Most everyone in Texas understands that Judge Harris' nomination is a mere gesture-just whistling to keep the G. O. P. in Texas from getting lonesome.

The only time Texas ever had a Republican for governor was when the white men in Texas were not allowed to vote and the white and black negroes made the mistake of electing E. J. Davis, whose infamous tyranny made Republicanism in l'exas a thing of which to make the white man cuss. The only other time that Texas ever condoned Republicanism was when they voted for Hoover and his nightmare administration. These two experiments so nauseated the average Texan, that he is in no condition to crave another dose.

While in my opinion Judge Harris is an able, honest and just man with the best of intentions, and no doubt if he could be elected he would bend his ever effort to make Texas a good governor, but Texas is too far south of the Mason and Dixon line, and has suffered too many injuries and indignities at the hands of the Republican party to cooperate with Judge Harris in giving Texas a good administration. The average old time Texan feels that if he were stuck in a mudhole, and a Republican were to pull him out, he would crawl back into it. This may not be a good and wise policy, but it is a memory and therefore a condition. Judge Harris, with all his admirable personal attributes, mental qualifications and good intentions. made the mistake of his life when he left his native state of Illinois and brought his Republican politics along with him to Texas and tried to plant it in the Democratic soil of the Lone Star State, where common sense should have taught him that Republicanism would never thrive this far south. Had Judge Harris put his politics on cold storage when he left Illinois and came to Texas, fell in with us and adopted our glorious traditions when he adopted the state as his domicil: if he could have forgotten that while Texans were rebellious against Mexico as well as the United States, yet, they were not traitors at heart, we could, and maybe we would have made him governor at the proper time, but since he insists on consorting with the tribe of Es au, he has no more show to be governor of Texas than a snowball has of get. ting through that place of which the pastor so often speaks. Personally, I love Judge Harris. He is good, but damn his politics. -Uncle Bill worn with a clear conscience" is to buy and wear some of the innumerable furs, from rugged bears to silky chinchilla, made from the skins of rabbits that are nourished in little hutches in the suburbs of Los Angeles, and fed with "rabbit hay." tender young alfalfa, grown on the Mojave desert, a good deal of it on a ranch owned and operated by this writer.

When you buy furs, no matter what kind, with a rabbit skin foundation, you may be sure that the animal suffered very little, if at all, and when you buy that fur you also buy honest American alfalfa, which is a vegetarian product.

F. C. Cobb wrote from the Boy Scout reservation at Allaire, N. J .: "The last four week-ends have been spent by our scouts collecting tent caterpillar egg clusters from wild cherry and apple trees along the highways of Monmouth and Ocean counties. Many thousands of egg clusters, each containing on the average 250 eggs, have been destroyed."

No better work could be done by scouts and other boys. It is far better exercise than perfunctory "hikes," often exhausting for smaller boys.

The fathers of the boys, also in need of exercise, can be useful mowing weeds along highways, excellent work for the lungs and for reducing the waist.

Edward S. Harkness, generous young New York financier, gave to Lawrenceville School for Boys a sum that will make possible important new building, plus rebuilding and a more extensive system of small-group instruction, with more teachers.

Mr. Harkness, who does not like publicity, refused to make public the amount of his gift to Lawrenceville, but he gave $7,000,000 to Exster academy, $13,000,000 each to Yale and Harvard, to finance their housing systems. That gives some Idea of the size of his gifts.

Some Americans will agree that It is a good thing to have men of unusual ability accumulate wealth and use it thus generously and wisely.

Old-fashioned Americans would rather encourage such gifts and praise the givers than inculcate the shown, that it would take considerable money to repair the old truck and put in first class condition. Then someone stated that the old truck was rapidly becoming out of date, and why not buy a new, upto date fire truck.

The idea of a new fire fighting machine met with the hearty approval of all. It was suggested that the fairest way to raise the money for this necessary aparatus would be to have the taxpayers of the County to meet the expense. It was argued that in this way every property owner would bear his share of the expense of protecting his property instead of depending on voluntary contributions where some would pay and others would not.

A committee was appointed to draft and circulate a petition asking the Lone Star State of Texas and our Commissioner's Court incorporate the probable cost of a new truck in its budget for the coming the many activities and accomplishyear.

His second observation was that the Rotarians looked like Lions; they had the same objective that the Lions Club had; they eat like Lions and he believed that they were just a bunch of Lions going under assumed name. Betty's Beau Is Calling

The Double Tragedy

A FEW years ago a group of for-ty Chicago and Milwaukee newspaper men were guests of the Milwaukee railroad and Rocky Wolfe, now a widely known radio sport commentator, on a week-end outing in Manitowish, Wis.

Among the extraordinary sights of the resort town were live porcupines strolling about a nine-hole golf course played by the scribes and a mother hawk, whose broad back and spread wings were used by three baby hawks as a landing stage, high above ground.

A dormant appreciation of Nature having been awakened in the minds of the visiting city folks. they were treated by Wolfe to the prize story of the vicinity.

A Manitowish hunter, according to Rocky, reported that he had shot a for which had a dead porcupine in its mouth. The fox was already dead when shot, for the spines of the porcupine had killed it.

It was learned later, Rocky averred, that the porcupine had been a pet which earned a living by carrying fruit on its back from its owner's orchard to the cider mill. "And I am ashamed to report, gentlemen," Wolfe concluded, "that both animals were intoxicated when the double tragedy occurred."

How Screw Worm Flies Develop

The screw worm maggot is the young of a certain kind of fly. It is called the true screw worm because it is the harmful parasitic species. It is usually the first one to lay its eggs upon broken skin of an animal. This injury may be a cut, scratch, tick bite, or a wound of any kind. The true screw worm does not develope in decaying carcasses, but many people think so because large numbers of flies which look like the true screw worm fly can be found feeding and laying eggs on dead animals. The true screw worm fly breeds only in living animals. From 10 to 400 eggs are laid on the wound and young maggots begin to appear in 11 to 21 hours. They immediately bore their way into the flesh and feed in clusters so as to form pockets in the wounds. More and more flies come to lay their eggs until finally there are large numbers of worms eating into the flesh. Unless the animal is found and the destructive maggots are killed, it may die in a very short time. If the mag gots are not killed, they become fully grown in 4 to 10 days and drop out of the wound to the ground where they change into flies about 10 to 14 days later. The flies then mate and the females are ready to lay eggs in 6 to 10 days. The total cycle requires from 18 to 37 days, and usually averages about 24 days.
