Gone With Their Billions
Paris Hotels Empty
England Learns Also

Europe learns that political experiments cost money. England decided to prevent Mussolini taking Ethiopia, camping along the imperial British highway, and controlling Lake Tana, source of Nile water. The attempt failed. England backed out of that situation, hastily, after her war department had assured our so-called war department in Washington that Mussolini could not possibly conquer Ethiopia in less than three years, probably not at all.

Arthur Brisbane

When the dust had settled and England, with her chicken-feed assortment of 51 league nations, had apologized to Mussolini and tossed Haile Selassie into the waste-basket, England found her foreign commerce much damaged. She had missed Mussolini, and shot herself in the pocketbook.

For a little while she will copy Job: "I will lay mine hand upon my mouth. Once I have spoken... yea twice, but I will proceed no further."

Paris, which is France, decided to sing and dance a new carnagole with Russian dressing; clenched fists raised in air a la Russe; red flag waving; the doleful strains of the Communist hymn, l'Internationale, and its Communist injunction, "Arise, ye prisoners of starvation," excellently sung from the Arc de Triomphe to the Place de la Bastille.

You can hardly imagine what fire, fury and enthusiasm thousands of young and old French gentlemen put into that hymn, although many of them showed few outward signs of starvation.

There were, and are, manifestations everywhere. Now in the chamber of deputies, Monsieur Gaston Gerard, practical French statesman, asks, "What has become of our foreign tourists and their spending money?"

M. Gerard tells the deputies something must be done. In 1927, 2,125,000 foreigners from all over the world visited France, spending much money. Visitors now number only 700,000; as a rule with little money to spend—oysters containing no pearl; many that come to help sing l'Internationale bring no money.

Foreign visitors, says M. Gerard, used to give highly paid employment to half a million French men and women; spent 500,000,000 francs for French railroad and steamship tickets; scattered throughout France from 12 to 15 thousand millions of francs.

Fifteen billions, even in francs, are "real money" here. M. Gerard tells the chamber French prices are too high. There is something in that, with the four-cent franc costing six to seven cents in the United States—a compro-opera situation, consider the relative wealth of the two nations.

M. Gerard thinks there should be some cabinet official to look after foreigners, with better propaganda and fewer vexatious taxes on foreigners; there is nothing in that.

Foreigners do not voluntarily travel and spend money where they feel they are not wanted. The cosmopolitan, educated Frenchman is as polite and hospitable as ever, but ask him what sort of reception the crowd gives to the foreigner, British especially. It offends the British ear to hear a bas les Angliss—"Down with the British!"

An innocent American, in an innocent average American automobile, sallied forth on July 14 to help France celebrate the destruction of the Bastille, and perhaps give a few feeble cheers for Lafayette, or Woodrow Wilson, or somebody.

Great crowd in the Champs Elysees, especially around the innocent American car, with new

HE WHO SPARETH THE CALFROPE SPOILETH THE KID

He who spareth the calfrope, spoileth the kid. In other words, when a boy is born, if he has enough sap and vinegar in him to ever get anywhere in the world, for a certain period of his young life, he is a veritable young savage. If his savage instincts are not directed and controlled into the proper channels, he is likely to grow up and become an outlaw.

All I know about it is what I read in the papers. Last June, the city of San Angelo was host to a meeting and a parade of World War Veterans. The good people of that exemplary city expected every citizen to be on his good behavior, because they were expecting guests from all over the state to be there and enjoy the hospitality for which that city is noted.

A talented 16-year old son of one of the San Angelo citizens entertained a different viewpoint to that of the hosts of the entertainment. Armed with a driver's license which no doubt his dad procured for him, he sallied forth in company with another youth in a stripped down car to the place of the parade, and where he proceeded to show the paraders that he was something on the end of a splinter himself. There were hundreds of youths of his age there but none had the ambition to immortalize himself by driving in and interfering with the parade. When these in authority remonstrated against his outrageous conduct, he proceeded to put on a roughneck stunt and got into an argument with a director of the parade.

The argument attracted the attention of W. B. Wilson, Chief of Police of San Angelo. Chief Wilson's inquiries were met with impudent and disrespectful answers. He refused to give his name or make an effort to amend his conduct. The parade was being held up. Something had to be done, and that big crowd expected Chief Wilson to do it, and do it pronto! Chief Wilson reached out and took the young Smart Alex to the police station.

Some said Chief Wilson slapped the youth on the jaw as a means of reducing him to submission. Chief Wilson and others said he did not slap the boy, but what difference does that make whether he cuffed the obstreperous boy or not, he asked for it and it is to be hoped that he got what he asked for. The kid was there raising a disturbance, if we are to believe what the papers said about it, and Chief Wilson was only performing an official, as well as a christian duty by handling him without gloves. The boy was too old to be a baby and too young to be a man, so the kid had to appeal to the law laid down by King Solomon to bring the youngster under control. The people expected him to do it and he did.

Lots of people blame this boy for his conduct, I don't. The poor kid thought it was smart and did not know any better. Perhaps he had never been taught to render cheerful obedience to constituted authority, and that the cops were his best friends. That a cop would lay down his life to protect him and his lawful rights. The kid was not to blame. It were those who were responsible for his training for the obligations and responsibilities of life that are to blame.

When this young man sprout was slapped in the face as he claimed

J. J. Langford Is Badly Injured In Truck Accident

J. J. Langford suffered serious injuries to both feet and ankles when he fell from a loaded truck near C. C. Ainsworth's filling station last Wednesday afternoon.

He was returning from San Angelo with a load of ice for C. C. Ainsworth and had stepped out on the running board of the truck to inspect a tire when in some way he lost his footing and fell to the pavement and a wheel passed over both feet and ankles—badly crushing them.

Dr. Swann gave first aid treatment to the injured man and then accompanied him to a hospital in San Angelo, where it was ascertained that the bones in one ankle was fractured and the small bones in one of his feet were crushed.

Will Edwards' Ranch Destroyed By Fire

The ranch house and windmill of Will Edwards in the southwest part of Sterling County was destroyed by fire last Friday night.

As the family resided in Sterling City, we learn that only ranch house camp equipment was destroyed. No one being at home, it is not known how the fire started. Sparkman and Stone replaced the windmill with a new one in time to replenish the supply of water for the stock.

John F. Allard Is Dead

The friends of John F. Allard will be grieved to learn that he died at Estancia, New Mexico, on July 31.

Deceased spent his boyhood days in this vicinity where he had many warm friends who are grieved at the news of his death.

Morgan-Davis

Mr. James W. Morgan of Big Spring and Mrs. Dorothy Davis of San Angelo were married here at the court house Wednesday morning. Dr. W. B. Everitt officiating.

Reggie Pearce Ranks Distinguished Student

The following letter from F. C. Bolton, dean of A. & M. College, to H. L. Hearce is self-explanatory: Dear Mr. Pearce:

Our College Regulations provide that at the end of each session students who have no grade below a "C" and who have accumulated not less than 81 grade points during the session shall be designated as distinguished students.

The Registrar has just completed checking the grades for the session 1935-1936 and has advised me that your son R. B. Pearce has met these conditions and has been designated as a "distinguished student" for the session. A consistent effort and a diligent application to studies are required to make one eligible for the distinguished student list, as is shown by the fact that only about five per cent of the student body met the conditions to be so designated.

I wish to congratulate you and your son upon the splendid work which he has done in earning this distinction.

W. M. S. Meeting

The W. M. S. had a very delightful combination meeting, a program and a no hostess picnic, given at the City Park, Monday afternoon, August 17.

The subject under discussion and which was led by Mrs. McDonald, was "Co operative Healing" taken from the "Outlook."

There were several visitors whom we were so happy to have had with us for the occasion. They were: Mesdames Dick Knight, Copeland, Ralph Bynum, Earl Welch and Nelson McClellan from the Divide and Mesdames W. S. Nelson and Rodgers Hefley from the city. The members present were: Mesdames Butler, Stone, McDonald, Lipps, Roy Foster, Templeton Foster, Rufus Foster, Lester Foster, D. P. Glass, Sterling Foster, Marvin Churchill and Jim Atkinson.

Mrs. Press Barrett and daughter of Malone, Texas, are visiting friends and relatives here.

With The H. D. Clubs

Sixty foundation skirt patterns have been started in the home demonstration clubs. These will be finished by the clothing demonstrators at the next meeting of the clubs in August. In September another pattern school for waists and sleeves will be held for the clothing demonstrators. In October these will be made in the clubs. Several foundation patterns are being made outside of regular club meetings in the homes. This is to be encouraged. An entire foundation pattern can be had for a cost less than 50 cents. The advantages of having this pattern are; a perfect fit is guaranteed, cuts the cost of patterns, opportunity for flat designing for individual garments, may be used when measuring the fit of commercial patterns and to re-model old garments by.

The Sterling City Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. Homer Pearce August 12. The meeting was opened and prayer was offered.

Mrs. Everett Cope gave a report of the last council meeting, at which plans were made to present a petition to the Commissioner's Court asking for our county agent for another year. Miss Reid gave a talk on her attendance to the A. & M. short course. "An Announcement" and "Our Texas" were poems read by Mrs. Everett Cope. Mrs. Taylor Garrett read an article on "Bundle Sewing." Miss Reid gave a demonstration on foundation skirt patterns, assisted by Mrs. Fred Hodges, wardrobe demonstrator for the club.

The next meeting is to be held in the home of Mrs. Minta Phillips August 26.

The Divide Demonstration Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Robert Lee. The foundation skirt patterns were cut and fitted.

Delicious punch and cake were served to the members and the following guests: Mesdames J. C. Littlefield, John Copeland, Sam Cunniff and Misses Thelma and Margaret Lee.

to be, if his dad had escorted him to the woodshed and there slapped him in another place so vigorously that he would have had to stand up to take his meals for a week, his brain would have absorbed enough sense from the pain in his posterior to keep out of such scrapes in the future. But he disregarded this Christian, fatherly duty by having Chief Wilson arrested and tried in the County Court in Tom Green County on charge of making an aggravated assault in and upon the corporeal person of this precious youth. It took the jury at least four minutes to decide that Chief Wilson was performing his official duty when this young Smarty came to grief, and that he was innocent of the crime charged.

My good old friend, Judge W. A. Wright was one of the lawyers who defended Chief Wilson in the trial. I imagine that the lecture this old dean of the law read that jury on parental obligations was something long to be remembered. I'll warrant that he gave those who heard him something to think about. The old man believes in the doctrine that if you spare the caltrop you spoil the kid.

It all turned out for the good of this boy as well as others. Had Chief Wilson been convicted and punished, this boy as well as others would have become so rotten that when he got older, his dad would be complaining of the heartlessness of officers and the cheerless accommodation of jails. As it is, this poor deluded kid finding that his smart stuff is not protected or condoned by law, will try to behave himself in the future.

If I had my way, I would arm every cop with authority and a good leather strap to be carried along with his billy, and whenever a youth who was too old to be classed as a baby and too young to be classed as a man, got to the point where friendly gestures and kind words failed to make him be decent, I would require the cop to use that strap on his back—low down until even a cushioned chair would no longer conduce to his comfort, and if his mother and dad raised a howl about it, I would have them run in on a charge of disturbing peace and neglecting their offspring. You have to use common sense to bring up kids.—Uncle Bill

Flood water from draws will be spread over pasture land on the D. T. Jones and C. S. McMillan farms. Special spreading devices are being constructed by the Soil Conservation Service to make use of the flood water coming from comparatively large drainage areas and passing through these pastures. Sufficient water will be available during periods of heavy rains and several day rainy seasons to cover suitable areas of grass land. Before planning these designs, surveys were made of the area draining into the draws. The probable amount of water that would be concentrated in the draws during maximum rains was used as a basis for working out the plans.

Who ever heard of a Republican before now, hollering for State's Rights? The G. O. P. was organized and had for its sole purpose the elimination of State's Rights. As long as that party exercised its will over the people of the U. S. no State had a right that was respected when it stood in the way. As for the constitution, they violated it whenever it disputed the power of the party. Supreme court records show that they violated the constitution 42 times. Those Republican boys are great joshers.

The Anti-New Dealers are honing for those good old days when Hoover was at the bat. They are bending every effort to bring about the days of 5 cent cotton, 8 cent wool, 30 cent wheat, busted banks and every man out of a job.

The Republican party in Texas is fixing to carry the State some more for Landon. If every Republican in Texas could divide himself into thirty parts, and each part a Republican, he would not have to whistle so loudly to keep from being so lonesome.

As in ages past, the quality of mercy is still a minus quantity in the Spanish soul. In the present war among themselves, when a prisoner falls into their hands, no matter whether he is a man, woman or child, they promptly kill him. This lack of mercy on the part of the Spaniards has cost them most all their colonial possessions, and may cost them their very existence as a nation if they keep it up.

Congressman Joe Bailey has given it out that he will neither support Landon or Roosevelt for president. Joe has deliberately straddled the political barbed wire fence. In riding this political fence the seat of his political britches stands a good, fine chance of being teetotally expunctified. Joe has already grown too big for his britches. Joe's egotistic memory fails to recall that the people who elected him to congress were Roosevelt supporters, and fondly hoped that he would heartily co-operate with the president.

Only a very few of Sterling County taxpayers have refused to sign the petition to the Commissioner's Court asking that an appropriation of not more than $1,500 be included in the county budget for the purpose of buying a new fire truck. This is one of the most popular moves that has been proposed in a long time, because the fairness of the proposition appeals to most everybody who owns property. Each person will be required to pay for the protection according to the amount of his property.

Mr. Beefer Bellypain says that the relief agency didn't give him but two pairs of britches last year. He says one pair was too short and the other pair was too long. Beefer says that the women who make clothes for the government do not seem to care whether they make clothes to fit a fellow or not. Mr. Bellypain says he is agin Roosevelt and old Wall Street. If he could catch old Wall out, and had a gun he would shoot him. If he had a poll tax receipt, he would vote agin Roosevelt this fall. Beefer relates that he read outen a republican paper the other day where old Wall and Roosevelt stood in together. He says they ought to be run outen the state, "dogone 'em for giving a feller britches what won't fit."

PERFORMANCE!

A Good Refrigerator Must . .

- Keep Foods Safely!
- Freeze Ice Quickly!
- Operate at Low Cost!

FOR TRUE VALUE . . . BUY AN ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR!

• All refrigerators are not alike. All do not offer the same value or provide the same performance. Neither price nor appearance determine true refrigerator worth. The basic test of any refrigerator is its ability to provide satisfactory trouble-free performance all the time. Many buyers overlook this fact.

Buy your refrigerator this way!

First, and most important, demand that it maintain temperatures below 50 degrees. Many refrigerators cannot. Yet, in temperatures over 50 degrees, food spoils quickly and endangers health.

Second, demand that your refrigerator freeze ice quickly. If it cannot, you are not receiving true refrigerator value. You must have fast freezing ability in summer when ice needs are many and when frozen desserts are an important part of menus.

Third, look for low operating cost. But remember, low operating cost is worthwhile only when the above performance is maintained.

Demand evidence of such performance when you buy. If you do, you will choose a modern electric refrigerator and receive the utmost for your money!

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Ralph Bynum with a demonstration on the canning of tomato juice.

The Kiowa Home Demonstration Club met August 10, with Mrs. R. D. Johnston. After a short business session, foundation paper patterns were cut and one domestic skirt pattern was cut and fitted. The thread and pattern for the crochet bed-spread that is being made circulated among the members.

Delicious ice cream and cake were served to the following members: Mesdames Victor Probandt and children, Julia Fritz, Charles Speck and daughter, Virginia, Claud Currie, Woolle, C. A. Bowen, Miss Delene Reed, and the hostess.

The club adjourned to meet Aug. 24, with Mrs. Victor Probandt.

Sponsored by the County Home Demonstration Council, the home demonstration clubs in Sterling County are making a crocheted bed-spread. This spread will be placed on exhibit as soon as it is finished. In the late Fall chances are to be sold at a small sum. Then about Christmas time the spread will be given away. If you are lucky it might be yours!

paint, shiny aluminum and several cylinders. A polite policeman says monsieur should know better than to appear in a car of "grand luxury" on such a day. Such luxury cars you may see by the thousands and millions on American roads.

Nothing happens to the car of grand luxury; it crosses the Avenue of the Champs Elysees, about 300 feet, in less than twenty minutes. The French, newly self-identified as "prisoners of starvation," are interested in the auto America, which is careful not to bump anybody.

The bourgeois, the "rich," an extinct species, although it does not yet know it, are nervous. In a vague way they feel that they are held responsible for all those "prisoners of starvation," with their strong voices, deep chests, powerful fists and pink complexions.
