THE HORNED LIZARDS

There are a great number of species of lizards in West Texas. One of the most interesting of these is the horned lizard sometimes called "horned frogs" and horned toads, but they are true lizards. In spite of the supposition that they are frogs or toads. A toad or frog hops. A lizard crawls.

The horned lizard is a good natured creature. It is harmless, and can be handled without danger to anyone. Their food consist of insects, especially the large red ant that is so persistent in bulding its home in our yards and becomes a terror to children which play near their dens.

The only thing that a red ant ever saw that he is afraid of is a horned lizard. You may swat these ants with a flat board until you have killed every one in sight, but they stand their ground and fight to the last but if you place a horned lizard among them they will run for their den like scalded dogs. Many has been the time that I have seen a horned lizard parked on an anthill, unconcerned of the danger of stings, and lap up the ants as they emerged from their den. They capture the ants with their long tongues after the manner of a boy flipping flies with a rubber band. The horned lizard does the trick so quickly that eye can scarcely follow it. He will keep this up until he is so full of ants that he looks almost like a rubber ball.

I catch and carry every horned lizard I find nearby and put him in the garden. There he goes to work eating all kinds of insects that infest garden vegetables. I believe that is one reason my garden is reasonably clear of insects. When Mr. horned lizard has grown fat at the beginning of winter he digs a hole in the ground, crawls in it and stays there until warm weather the next spring.

The striped road lizard is another interesting reptile. He likes to streak along roads and other places in quest of worms and insects. Often, he is flattened out when a car runs over him.

I often drive these creatures into the garden where they can find plenty of insects on which to feed. It is great sport to watch a hungry road lizard hunting cut worms. He hunts cut worms after the manner of dog hunting rabbits. When Mr. Road lizard locates a cut worm den he begins digging after him with his front paws. When he finds the worm, he drags him out and shakes him just as a dog shakes a rabbit when he catches him. Then he proceeds to eat the worm at his leisure.

I found two dead road lizards near the rain gauge to day, and Jim Tom and I had hard words about it. I gave Jim Tom to understand that a boy who killed horned lizards was no friend of mine.—Uncle Bill

Half-Inch Rain Here

A half inch of rain fell here last Monday night. It was the first to fall in about five weeks. It was a great relief from the hot, dry weather that has prevailed here for several weeks. On the east part of the divide 3 1/2 inches was reported. W. B. Allen had an inch and a half. Most of the west part of the county had no rain.

District Court Convened In Special Term

Judge J. F. Sutton convened a special term of our district court here last Monday, to try five criminal cases on the docket.

Everett Cross of Sonora, charged with burglary and theft in Sterling county was tried by a jury, found guilty as charged, and given two years in the penitentiary.

In the case of Ellwood et al. vs. E. Schwartz et al., suit in trespass to try title, judgment was rendered for plaintiffs.

On Tuesday, Ernest Anderson of San Angelo, charged with burglary in Sterling county, plead not guilty. The jury gave him two years in the penitentiary.

Martin Lackey of San Angelo, was given a five year suspended sentence on a plea of guilty to burglary in Sterling County.

Court adjourned on Tuesday evening.

Motion for new trial in the Everett Cross case has been filed and will be heard by Judge Sutton today.

Rain Fills Lakes On The Divide

C. J. Copeland, his brother, J. L. Copeland and his sister, Miss Fannie Copeland were in from their ranches on the Divide last Tuesday. They reported a big rain fell in that vicinity last Monday night which filled up the lakes in the vicinity of the Copeland ranches. Speaking of wheat, Jeff said he had threshed 1310 bushels which is only a part of his crop. He said there would be between three and four thousand bushels of it when harvesting was completed.

MOST POPULAR DANCING STAR

George Murphy is one of Hollywood's most popular dancing stars besides being one of filmdom's outstanding athletes. He is president of the West Side Tennis Club and comes by his athletic prowess naturally as his father was a famous trainer at the University of Pennsylvania.

Hodges-Barrett Wedding Sunday

Miss Leora Hodges became the bride of Dayton F. Barrett in a morning ceremony Sunday in the ranch home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Hodges.

She was given in marriage by her father and wore a navy suit with dusty rose accessories. The Rev. Bruce M. Cox of Sterling City Methodist minister, read the ceremony before an embankment of gladiolus and fern. Miss Anna Lee Pearce was at the piano.

Following the wedding, a reception was held with Miss Lucille Hodges sister of the bride presiding at the punch bowl. The bride cut the wedding cake, which was served by Mrs. Joe Emery. Only relatives and a few close friends were included.

After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Sonora, where Mr. Barrett is with the Sonora Tourist Courts. A son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Barrett, Mason County ranch couple, he served four years in the naval service, specializing in radio service aboard the U. S. S. Marblehead and Richmond. The bride daughter of a well

Lee R. Reed and Miss Ruth Garrett Marry June 15

Lee R. Reed and Miss Ruth Garrett were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bradley in San Angelo, Thursday, June 15, Rev. L. U. Spellman, pastor of the First Methodist Church of San Angelo, officiating.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lillian Reed and a few intimate friends of the couple witnessed the marriage.

Immediately after the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Reed left for a summer resort in the Ozark Mountains to spend a few days of their honeymoon.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Lillian Reed and the late Neal Reed. He was born and reared in this community. He graduated from the Sterling City High school, and after finishing his course in the A. & M. College, he accepted service in the Sterling City High School, as instructor in the Science and Agriculture. He is engaged with his brother, W. N. Reed in extensive ranching.

The bride is the daughter of J. W. Garrett of Mertens, near Dallas. She is a graduate of the North Texas State Teachers College. For several years, she was a member of the faculty of the Sterling City public school. She also taught in the Stephen F. Austin public school four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed will make their future home in Sterling City, where there many friends are planning a sash nelled in J. flat by the local cowbelicon band. Nick Bill and John Reed brothers of the bridegroom, are members of this band and are good performers. It is not known who will conduct the music, Nick says it has not been decided. Anyway, when Lee and Ruth come home, there will be an old time reception by their host of warm friends.

A well known ranch couple in this section studied at N. T. S. T. C. at Denton and for two years has taught home economics in Hutcheson High School.

American Legion After The Bund

A resolution which resents and condemns desecration of the United States Flag by Nazi Bund sympathizers was adopted by a thunderous vote which made the Hays county hills resound Sunday, when some 300 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and its Auxiliary were invited to express themselves during the 5th District Conference at Camp Ben McCullough, near Driftwood. The resolution was introduced by Past Commander A. D. Dodds of Dallas, who is attending all district conferences in the State at his own expense for the express purpose of obtaining unanimous protest by all Texas members of the Order. The resolution sets forth that a photograph was made of the "American Bund" and has been reproduced in the June issue of the National Tribune, showing the United States flag being used for a floor mat, with a chair and an empty bottle placed upon it. Close by, and almost touching the edge of the flag is a cupsidor, and bottle appears to be a whiskey bottle. The walls of the room are draped with a giant swastika banner and large pictures of Hitler, Faltz Kuhn, Von Robbentrop, Goebbels and others said to be big wigs of Nazidom.

Old Glory was carefully spread upon the floor and shows wrinkles that seems to have been made by the person who occupied the chair. The room was on the second floor, of the building, and it was reported that the photographer risked his neck to get his camera in position. The picture was produced at the conference and created a near riot among the members who were brought to order with difficulty when the vote upon the resolution was called for.

The same resolution will be presented for action by the State Encampment of the Organization June 18th in Amarillo and Commander Dodds promises that emphatic action will be taken at that time.

The conference voted to accept the invitation of the Boerne delegation to hold its next meeting at Boerne Fair grounds, Sunday September 3rd.—Joe Ammann, Commander Post 688, in Boerne Star.

Harold Deck Visits Here

Harold Deck an old time Sterling boy who graduated from the Sterling High School with the class of 1922, was a welcomed caller on this editor last Wednesday. Harold, who was well known here as a science student specializing in electricity, has been in the employ of the Western Electrical Company with headquarters at El Paso for the last 12 years. He recently resigned his position with this company to accept the management of Westinghouse X-ray department in El Paso. He was returning with his wife from New York where he took a post graduate course in physics. He has three children.

John and Bob Sullivan of Hamilton were last week end guests of their brother Rev. George M. Sullivan and family.

E. O. Geron, former county Judge of Coke county but now county Attorney of Ector County, attended the trial of Everett Cross here last Monday as a witness for the State,

FEDERAL OLD AGE SECURITY

While I am in favor of the principles of the Federal Old Age Security, I am prepared to say that the law in its present form is nothing short of class legislation.

One can plainly see the handwriting of John L. Lewis and other radical labor leaders in provisions of this one-sided statute.

It would seem that those who operate certain industries are punished and penalized in order that their employes who come and go at will and without responsibility, may be secure in having a neat lump sum when they get old, and at the same time the man who owns and operates an industry is left entirely out in the cold.

The whole aim of this law seems to be, is to soak the man who has the temerity to carry on his small industry, and reward the hired man who has no responsibility in seeing that industry is promoted and sustained in order that he might eat.

An example of what I am trying to say, that I am running the News-Record. Altho I am past 84, I still work at least 12 hours a day with hand and brains in trying to get the paper out on time. I have two mighty fine girls employed to "stick" type and help out in mailing the paper. Under this law, I am required to keep books and be ready at a moments notice to give their number, the amount of money paid them and any other data that the commission might want to know.

At the end of every quarter, I am required to send in 2 per cent of all money paid these girls for their old age security—they pay one per cent and I pay one per cent. I don't mind this a bit. If I could, I would make them rich when they get old, but the question is, where do I come in?

I work in this little industry which makes it possible for my helpers to have a job, day in and day out. Then where does my old age security come in? The industry does not more than pay its expenses and provide beans for its promoter, then what have I done to be punished, penalized and discriminated against?

If these same girls were to accept service on a ranch or farm and at the same time do piece work at odd times in the printshop, the printer man would have to pay the government 2 per cent of all the money he pays the girls. At the same time the farmer and rancher would be exempt from paying anything for these girls' old age security.

The theory of this law seems to be, that everyone who works for a farmer has no business with old age security. That the man who operates a store, a filling station, hotel, print shop, or other industry, has no business with old age security. In fact, it would seem that the makers of this discriminating statute was hostile toward certain classes of people. I hold that we should all be treated alike.—Uncle Bill

Swing and Classic Artist

Young Composer Rewarded

Singing, composing and playing her way to collegiate fame, Miss Lois Pinson of Forney was selected the most outstanding student in the largest graduating class in the history of Texas State College for Women. The Leman Memorial Award given each year for noteworthy achievements in some particular field was presented by Dr. L. H. Hubbard at the Commencement Exercises. Miss Pinson, in addition to being the school's leading pianist and interpreter of the classic masterpieces, has composed numerous popular songs, the most successful one being "Campus Shadows," a refrain which has been featured at all the college dances and has already found a wide sale.

"MAN IS OF FEW DAYS"

Man is of a few days and full of trouble. He laboreth all the days of his youth to pay for a gasoline chariot, and when at last the task is finished, lo, the thing is junk and he needeth another. He tilleth it diligently, and when the harvest is gathered into the barns, he oweth the landlord eight dollars and forty cents more than the crops is worth. He borroweth money of the lenders to buy pork and molasses and gaso line and the interest eateth up all he hath.

He rearerth sons and daughters and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear a white collar, and lo, they have soft hands and neither labor in the fields nor anywhere else under the sun. His children are ornery, and one of them becometh a lawyer and another sticketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance thereof.

He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city, and a jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project through his epidermis. He drinketh a drink of liquor to forget his sorrows and it burneth out the lining from his liver. All the days of his life he findeth no parking place and is tormented by traffic cops and goeth forth until he cometh back. An enemy stealeth his car; physicians remove his inner parts and his teeth and his bankroll. His arteries hardeneth in the evening of his life, and when at last he is gathered to his fathers, the neighbors sayeth, "How much did he leave?" And lo, he hath left it all. And his widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh eyes at a young sheik that slicketh his hair and playeth a nifty game of golf.

Woe is man! And from the day of his birth to the time when earth knoweth him no more, he laboreth for bread and catcheth the devil. Dust he was in the beginning, and now his name is mud.—Anonymus.

According to the State Observer Representative Pat Dwyer, who had been on the sick list was brought into the House Chamber last Thurs day on a stretcher. He was attended by a pretty nurse, so he could cast his vote. Hon. Dwyer must be pretty sick.

I don't think that Mr. Roosevelt will make a race for the third term but in my opinion one said John Nance Garner (Cactus Jack) will be in the race for president next year and the man who defeats him will certainly know he has been in a race. Garner is not only popular in Texas, but he is popular from Canada to Mexico.

Say It With Suds

Cleanliness Makes Home "Sweet"

"TWO keep-cleans are better than one make-clean" is the motto of an increasing number of thorough housekeepers. While there is still much talk—and much action—about spring housecleaning and fall housecleaning, these are occasions primarily for changing the household garb to suit the season. Actually the business of keeping the home immaculate, attractive and serviceable is a matter of daily routine supplemented with weekly attention to important, but out-of-the-ordinary details.

It is in matters of detail that the superlative housekeeper can be detected. She is the one who soaks the garbage pail with warm suds so that it is always without odor and without clinging fragments of refuse. She takes a soapy cloth to the white-painted baseboards so that they never become grey with ingrained soot and dirt. Her bric-a-brac and ash trays are washed regularly and not merely flicked over with a dry dust cloth.

Curtains, doilies, bureau runners and other bits of decorative material are freshened in the wash-tub before they limp with soil. To the meticulous homemaker thoroughness is a watchword.

For such a homemaker and for a home so kept there is never a distressing moment of embarrassment when the in-laws drop in unexpectedly or when the old school-mate who Married Money stops by without giving fair warning. The homemaker who uses system to maintain cleanliness and orderliness is not only ready to greet visitors but has time to be hospitable, because organized housework yields extra dividends in the form of greater leisure.

To the old maxim, "a place for everything and everything in its place," she has added another: "A time for every task and everything done on time." As a result she conducts her home with efficiency and merits the title of Household Engineer and Executive.

"I thought I knew all about automobiles!"

A LOT of folks have had their eyes opened wide by a ride in a 1939 Ford V-8. They just didn't realize how much more value and how many improvements we've put in this car the last few years.

Today's advanced Ford is a product of progressive engineering, fine materials and honest construction. It is backed by an experience of building far more cars than anybody else in the world.

One ride in today's Ford—with its smooth 8-cylinder engine, stabilized chassis, hydraulic brakes—will prove it's the modern car in the low-price field.

MIRACLE MAN

Come on, Lee O' with thy basket of loaves and fishes. Convert the loaves into mountains of bread and the minnows into whales of fried fish.

Give into each of us as thou hast promised, thirty pieces of the long green without raising taxes.

This can be done O, Lee O' by the same method as the loaves and fishes were made sufficient for the multitude.

Thou art a miracle man, O, Lee O' Thou saidest so in meaning during the days of thy running and flying. Come on with thy stuff and show thy power over the politicians!

Kill the law that kills the killers that they may go forth and kill those whom they might seek to rob.

Keep thy mind open as to the Hossrace law, and trouble not thyself if the sorrel wins the race and the other fellow gets the money, for they shall gnaw a stump and flee unto the biweeds where the cottontail croucheth from the hound pup that roareth after rabbit meat.

Take thy lute each Sunday morn and sing unto us songs of thy promises that we may not forget them, even if they are now in the jug where the whiskey once abided. —Uncle Bill
