

'80 Bank Deposits Continue To Climb

Loans Still Rise But, Slower Pace

Deposits in eight area banks, including the two in Muleshoe, have shown an increase of $14,199,284 during the past year, from figures compiled and compared on bank calls from June 30 of this year. Deposits on June 30 this year were $150,238,240, compared to the $136,038,956 on the same date last year.

At the same time, loans only increased by $3,592,608 for the same banks during the year. Loans at the close of business on June 30 this year were $83,220,427 and were $79,627,819 on June 30, 1979.

same period of time. Loans were $1,786,491 at the June 30 closing date this year, compared to $1,473,651 to end June, 1979.

From Friona, Patrick Pace reported deposits at the Friona State Bank had increased from $31,698,142 on June 30 last year to $33,190,774 on June 30 this year, for a difference in deposits of $1,492,632. Loans at the bank were reported to have increased by only $965,956 during the same period of time. Loans on June 30 this year were $18,352,100 and on the same date last year were $17,386,144.

It's Hot, It's Dry, No Relief

Despite a few fluffy white clouds seen floating on the horizon during most of this week, at presstime, the entire area was still hot, dry and no real moisture in sight.

According to figures released by the National Weather Service, current dry conditions, and extremely hot temperature will cling to a large area.

Some old-timers are beginning to compare the current conditions to the start of the 'Dust Bowl Days' of the early 1930's.

Dryland crops are showing the most effects of the searing heat, which along with no moisture, begin to cast doubt on how much grain may be harvested here this fall.

Irrigated crops, especially corn, are also beginning to feel the effects of the continuing and relentless heat.

Agriculturists are now beginning to paint a grim picture on the effects of the continued blast-furnace hot weather, and only about one-third of the moisture which usually has been received at this time of the year.

Cotton Production Hurt By Weather

Despite the dry weather, which is approaching, or is in the drought stage, the future for cotton looks bright, according to Dr. Calvin L. Brints, president of Brints Cotton Marketing Inc. of Lubbock.

Dr. Brints is also a visiting professor of Agriculture Economics and Texas Tech University and sells cotton for farmers in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma. He serves major markets in Europe, the United States and Japan.

He was guest speaker for the Muleshoe Rotary at noon Tuesday.

According to the speaker, several unusual events took place with the cotton crop just completed. He said USDA announced Monday a carryover of only 2.8 million bales, which is the lowest carryover since the early 1950's.

Also, said Dr. Brints, more cotton was exported than has been since 1926 - 27, at 9.4 million bales. For modern times, this is a record, he emphasized.

Although Russia produces just about as much cotton as the United States, the two produce just about half of the cotton in the world markets.

He said China produces just behind the U.S., but at 2 million bales exported to China per year, make China the U.S. steadiest customer for cotton.

The speaker also spoke briefly about cotton prices which have greatly increased as much as 10 cents per pound or $50 a bale very recently. This was attributed mainly to the current drought. "We are going to be in a lot of trouble if we don't have adequate moisture in the next week to 10 days," he stressed. "The drought is not only on the High Plains, but goes all the way into Mississippi. We are in a very crucial time right now. Our crop is marginal at best at this time. Irrigation is getting to be very expensive and some irrigation water for cotton is already running out. Right now, we are looking at 14.3 million acres planted in cotton this year, but the potential pro-

Area Farmer Aids Choppers With Machine

Necessity (or convenience) is the mother of invention! Lewis Scoggin, who farms in the West Camp Community, has just invented a most comfortable and convenient device to chop weeds from his crops.

Starting out with an old spray rig that fits on a tractor, Scoggin welded bases for four (padded) swivel chairs. Each chair is spaced to enable the chopper to reach his hoe into two rows.

From a solid metal plate, Scoggin bolts the chairs onto the frame. He also welded a water can onto the spray frame, and tops the framework with a canvas shade.

This device is attached to the front of a tractor, which Scoggin drives slowly through the field, which four hands wield the hoes in two rows.

Scoggin said his new device can cover in one day an area that formerly took up to four days to cover. The hoe hands like the new method, they have metal bars to rest their feet on, can cover more ground and are semi-protected from the hot sun.

Saturday afternoon, even with the intense heat, the chopping in Scoggin's peanut field was going on, even in the heat of the day, as both he and the choppers slowly rode down the rows in the new device, with canvas covers protecting them from the direct rays of the sun.

INVENTION HELPS IN HOT WEATHER... Lewis Scoggin has invented a new machine which not only cuts down on fatigue from the extreme heat, but cuts time from approximately four days to one day to clear weeds from his fields. Here, he and his chopping crew are shown as they get ready to go down a few more rows in the peanut field in the West Camp Community. His base is a spray rig, with swivel seats, canopies and foot braces.

1980 City Tax Rebate Check Figure Increases 17 Percent

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday said city sales tax payments to Texas cities for the first seven months of 1980 are running about 20 percent more than payments during the same period in 1979.

He said payments for July to 936 cities total $25 million compared to $23.5 million during July 1979 - a 6.6 percent increase.

Sales tax payments are just slightly ahead of the inflation rate for the first six months which the federal government has set at about 13 percent, Bullock added.

Muleshoe received a check from the comptroller for July in the amount of $5,979.97, approximately the same as the $5,946.28 received for the same month last year. However, a 17 percent increase for the year is noted with payments through the first six months last year at $75,760.87, up to $88,991.47 for the same time this year.

At Morton, no increase has been noted for the year, although the sales rebate checks have remained approximately level. The July payment for Morton this year was $1,654.78, compared to $1,786.09 for the same time this year. For the year to date, Morton has received rebates of $25,343.64, compared to $25,171.48 for the same time last year.

Littlefield is showing a 10 percent increase for the year, although they are up considerably over last year's monthly rebate for July. In July last year the rebate check was $6,806.75 compared to $7,627.20 for the same time this year.

For the year, Littlefield has received rebate checks in the total of $119,523.77.

Earth Rodeo Starting

All this week, Earth has been gearing up for the 36th annual Rodeo. Queen contestants have already been testing out to see which one of the five young ladies will be wearing the crown for the next year. The lucky winner will be crowned by reigning queen Lesa Templeton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Templeton.

Thursday afternoon, the parade will get underway at 5 p.m. and will begin at the Earth Park with Donald Layman as parade marshal. It will conclude at the roping arena just west of the city of Earth.

Immediately following the parade, the barbeque will be served. All first night (Thursday) rodeo spectators, who purchase the tickets at $3 for adults and $2 for children will be served the barbeque free.

Today, Thursday, the fires were lighted in the pits and the beef has been slowly cooking all day ready to serve with all the trimmings.

At 6:30 p.m., the beard judging contest will be held at the barbeque and the plaques will be given for the best looking, ugliest and longest.

Sky divers will entertain prior to the Thursday rodeo and immediately preceding the first performance of the 1980 rodeo, the 1981 Rodeo Queen will be crowned.

Contestants include Kim Spencer, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Spencer; Vonda Stephens, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gayland Stephens; Carla Taylor, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor; Cindy Clayton, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nor-

Around Muleshoe

Major and Mrs. Don Watson and daughters, Chrissie and Donna, are visiting in Muleshoe and this area with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Watson and other relatives.

The major and his family have just returned from Frankfort, Germany where he has been stationed for the last three years. His next duty station will be in Kansas.

Vic Benedict is at home following eye surgery in Lubbock. He had the bandages removed Monday, but it will be a few days before it will be known whether or not the surgery was successful.

Lois Martinec said WOTS has been chosen to be the official name of an organization for women whose husbands are employed by Tolk Station.

She said the organization is open to all women, regardless of their husband's craft or the company they work for.

At this time, the women currently meet each Thursday 11:45-1 p.m. at the XIT Restaurant in Muleshoe for lunch and a social hour.

Mrs. Martinec said newcomers and others can get acquainted and women of all ages are urged to attend. Children are welcome at the luncheons.

For additional information about WOTS, contact Lois Martinec at 272-3019 or Mildred Williams at 272-5260.

Muleshoe Church Of Christ Celebrating Anniversary

This Sunday, July 20, the Muleshoe Church of Christ will be celebrating their Golden Anniversary. Several special events and speakers are planned to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the church.

Regular morning services will begin at 9:30 a.m. for Bible Classes. Former minister, Royce Clay, will be the speaker at the 10:20 a.m. worship service.

Across the highway from the church, luncheon will be served at noon and during the afternoon an area wide singing, with area quartets is planned, along with congregational singing and talks from former and the present minister.

Jerry Roberts, a former assistant pastor, will be the evening speaker and the day will conclude with home made ice cream.

Below is a history of the church:

By W.M. Harmon

The church in Muleshoe had its beginning in March 1930. S.S. Bozeman moved to Muleshoe where no church was found. The Methodist church building was secured in the evenings and a congregation was started. Sister Nettie Lambert prepared the Lord's Supper for the first service, eight members were present. The church continued to meet in the Methodist building for a time. Then for the next three years the school house, the court house, and various homes for places to assemble. Among the homes in which the church assembled were Jess Bartley's and the J.J. Williams. At the first service those meeting were Brother and Sister Thomson, Brother and Sister Lambert, and some of their children.

Sister Nettie Lambert later wrote "the work was slow and we had a hard time having to move from place to place but we kept the work going till the first church building was built". In 1934, the first building was erected at what is presently South 1st and Ave. F. It was a small frame building that would seat about 100 people. During the early years numerous preachers visited Why does high humidity in summer make us uncomfortable?

On days when a high pressure system is above us, with its usually dry, cool air, we feel good. The drier air causes rapid evaporation of perspiration, and clothes do not become wet or sticky.

In addition, low pressure (which often accompanies high humidity) acts on our blood vessels with what is sometimes a depressing effect. Thus physically and physiologically high humidity directly affects our comfort.

MRS. DONALD JONES [nee Debra Lemons]

Ceremony Unites Miss Lemons, Jones

Miss Debra Lemons of Anton, became the bride of Donald Jones of Muleshoe in a candlelight ceremony June 30 at 8 p.m. in the Muleshoe Primitive Baptist Church. Elder K.B. Martin read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Dee Roy Lemons of Anton and Mr. and Mrs. L.W. (Doc) Jones of Muleshoe.

Vows were repeated before an archway covered in green shrubbery with yellow bows. Candles were in the background.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in the traditional white satin wedding gown. It featured a lace bodice and seed pearls with a Victorian V-neckline. The back swept to back fullness, forming a chapel length train. Her bouquet was yellow and blue carnations with baby's breath and sweet williams with blue, yellow and white streamers.

Following tradition, her earrings were something old. Something new was her wedding dress. Her necklace was borrowed and something blue was her traditional blue garter. She wore pennies minted in the years of the bride's and groom's birthdates in her shoes.

Mrs. Larry Sexton, sister of the groom of Muleshoe, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Diana Lemons, sister of the bride of Anton. They were attired in floor length, dark blue gowns featuring a V-neckline. Their corsage was light yellow and dark blue silk roses.

Dewitt Burton of Muleshoe, was best man. Andy Snell also of Muleshoe was the groomsman. Richard Donaldson and Billy Joe Jones, both nephews of the groom of Arkansas, were ring bearers. Ushers were Burl Jones, brother of the groom of Muleshoe, and Dave Lemons, brother of the bride of Anton.

Lynn, David, Mike, and Daniel Gowans sang, "We've Only Just Begun", "Twelfth of Never" and the "Traditional Wedding March". They were accompanied by Janice Snell at the piano.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the groom, chose a floor length blue gown. Her corsage was light yellow and dark blue silk roses.

The bride presented her father a long stemmed rose and a kiss. Also a long stemmed rose to the groom's mother with a kiss to his father and mother in the expression of love.

A reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church. Melodi Stephens of Anton registered the guests. Servers were: Kathy Kirkland, Kandy Jones, Tonya Jones, Lori Douglass, Mrs. Preston Cargile, Mrs. Willis Woods Lynn Gowans and Tracy Donaldson.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth with cloth bows between each scallop. A three tiered wedding cake, dark blue candles, and the bride's bouquet enhanced the table.

At the groom's table, a white cake trimmed in blue with "Debra and Donald, June 30, 1980", inscribed on it, also light yellow and dark blue roses was the main attraction.

After a wedding trip to Clovis, the couple will be at home in Muleshoe. For travelling, the bride chose blue knit dress pants and a white blouse; Debra is a 1980 graduate of Anton High School, Jones graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1980.

A rehearsal supper was held at the church.

She said, "I have been involved most recently in portraiture and find it fascinating. Probably my favorite medium is water color, however, I enjoy all phases of art." Technique and mechanical expertise can be learned; emotions must be felt to be transmitted by the artist."

A vacation is not going away from your work; it is getting your work out of your mind.

Hurricane Time

August is usually considered the beginning of the prime hurricane season, although some may occur during July along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. The Midwest, which must fight the tornado battle all summer long, is fortunately spared the hurricane threat, as is the West Coast.

Nowadays the tracking of hurricanes has attained a certain degree of accuracy and their course can be followed to a reasonable degree and one day, possibly, man might be able to partially control their destructiveness.

Being aware of the safety rules and making proper preparations for moving to safe areas is the best assurance against loss of life.

Miss Waits, Siewert Repeat Vows In Crowell

Miss Edith Elaine Waits and Kerry Arval Siewert, both of Crowell, were united in marriage July 5, at 3 p.m. in the First Baptist Church in Hale Center. Rev. Carrol R. Green of Friona, former pastor of the First Baptist Church read the double ring vows. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Waits of Hale Center, Mrs. Aileen Siewert of Muleshoe and Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Siewert of Post.

A ruffle around the bottom was also trimmed in Chantilly lace. Her sleeves were long and billowing with wide cuffs. Her chapel length veil of sheer illusion was also trimmed in Chantilly lace. She carried a bouquet of white and blue silk roses, accented with light blue and royal blue streamers. She also carried a blue handkerchief, which her mother carried in her wedding.

Vows were repeated before a twin white seven point candelabra with light blue candles, royal blue bows and greenery. A unity candle in the center sat on a wooden table with an open Bible in the middle. The unity candle was behind two blue tapers on each end. The tapers were lit by the mothers of the bride and groom, signifying their roles in the unification of the couple.

Karen Waits of Hale Center, sister of the bride was maid of honor. Bride's matrons were Mrs. Janna Gage of Lubbock and Mrs. Debra Rushing, sister of the bride of Plainview. Mess. Waits, maid of honor wore a formal length sleeveless gown of light blue sheer floral crepe, trimmed in white lace. The bridesmatrons were attired in formal length sleeveless gowns of navy. They wore a matching floral cape. They carried smaller bouquets of blue and white silk roses with blue streamers.

Flower girl was Crystal Rushing, niece of the bride of Plainview. Scott Redden, nephew of the groom of Crowell was the ring bearer.

Robert Redden of Crowell, the groom's brother-in-law, was best man. Groomsmen were Bruce Bruns, Muleshoe and Alan Sales, cousin of the groom of Ft. Worth. Ushers were John Waits, the bride's brother of Corpus Christi Jerry Siewert, Post brother of the groom, Zichary Adcock and Reggie Adcock, cousins of the groom of Ft. Worth. Jeff Waits, brother of the bride and Michael Harrell, both of Hale Center, were the candlelighters.

Miss Resa King, Lubbock, and Eddie Turner of Hale Center were the vocalists. They were accompanied by Mrs. Sue Turner, Hale Center, pianist and Mrs. Jo Lynn Maddin, organist. Resa ended the ceremony by singing "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Mrs. Maddin.

A reception was held following the ceremony. A white lace table cloth with a satin ruffle skirt covered the serving table. An arrangement of blue silk tiger lilies and white carnations enhanced the table. The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with blue roses and twin bells on the top. It was supported on columns above a flowing blue fountain.

Servers were Mrs. Sharon Redden, sister of the groom of Crowell and Susan Peters of Crowell.

Members of the house-party were Mrs. Mildred Hammit, Mrs. Jo Lynn Maddin, Mrs. Gaye King, Mrs. LaVerne Barnes, Mrs. Gay Lockett and Mrs. Jack-quet Boyd, all of Hale Center.

The couple will make their home in Crowell, where the bride is employed at Crowell I.S.D. The groom is employed at Foard County Lumber Co.

The bride is a honor graduate of Hale Center High School and West Texas University. She was a member of Alpha Chi Scribe's Senior Women's Society, W.T.S.U. track team and on the newspaper staff.

Siewert graduated from Muleshoe High School, attended Texas Tech and was engaged in farming at Post.

A rehearsal spaghetti dinner was hosted and prepared by Mrs. Aileen Siewert, the groom's mother, in the fellowship hall of the Hale Center First Baptist Church.

Doctor Talk

By Dr. Harold B. Ligon

There are many conditions of the gastro-intestinal syndrome. In the last column we mentioned stress and tension, which often cause stomach pains. Other sources of stomach pain are directly related to certain foods--such as spices, heavy, greasy fried foods, certain candies, highly seasoned foods.

Some foods are hard to digest--cabbage, cucumbers, cole slaw, turnips and certain fatty foods. Experience will often show which foods persons can tolerate. There are, however, cases where people are unaware that foods are causing their stomach pains. This often occurs when patients are unknowingly allergic to a particular food--some of which might be wheats, grains, even milk, etc.

It's vitally important to know whether or not stomach pains are due to food allergies, because the management of such a condition is different from that used to combat most other gastro-intestinal conditions. One often only prescribes an antihistamine in cases of allergy, with generally very good results.

Regarding foods which are difficult for the body to digest, the approach to treatment is to either avoid these foods or neutralize the ill effects. In succeeding columns we'll discuss other gastro-intestinal conditions.

Muleshoe for evangelistic efforts. Among them were Charlie Metcalf, Brother Vance, and Brother Lester Fisher. Later on, class rooms and a baptistry were added to the first building. By the time the building was finished there were between thirty and forty members. Before the baptistry was built the Hart Pond north of town was used to baptize in. I'm sure a lot of you here remember the Hart pond that was filled by an irrigation well. The first preachers home was a small three room house that set on the lot east of the building. I know Brother Norris, Donley and Carney lived in the house but I do not know if Brother Sanders did or not. Brother Shelby was the first located preacher for the church here followed by S.H. Biggerstaff, John L. Norris, R.E. Donley, T.M. Carney, S.A. Ribble, Ebb Randol, W.R. Tittle, Robert M. Grigg, D.L. Thompson, Royce Clay and David Cox, the minister at this present time. During the time Brother Ribble was here, a new house for the preacher was bought, moved in from near Lazbuddie, and remodeled. The greatest growth of the church was probably during the ministry of Brother Ebb Randol. In 1948 a new brick building was erected where the first little frame building stood. Then in 1953 a new auditorium was built and the first brick building was converted into class rooms. The second preachers home was sold to make room for the new auditorium. This structure filled the needs of the congregation until 1964 when the property was sold and a new and modern plant was erected on five acres of land at 21st and American Blvd. Previous to its construction a new modern three bedroom home was built at 1628 West Ave. C.

In addition to the work done locally, the Muleshoe congregation has been involved in numerous mission and benevolent works. In 1949 Juan Alvarado was supported in Francisco Modero, Old Mexico for fourteen years. Support has also been provided for E.R. Davis in Carifou, Maine and for the church in Littleton, Massachusetts. In June of 1959 Hollis Prine was sent to Aarhus, Denmark where he remained for three years. He then returned to the U.S.A. and spent a year raising funds to meet the need in Aarhus, Denmark. The Muleshoe church made the down payment on a building there. In 1960 Brother Bent Hansen was brought to the U.S.A. to study Bible so he could preach in his native country of Denmark. In 1962 work among the colored people began in Muleshoe, supplying the financial support for a preacher and a building. Brother Stevens was the first preacher for his work followed by Brother Buford Shields and Brother Winston. In January 1965, the first Sunday in January, the first service in the new building at 21st and American Blvd. was conducted. In 1970 Brother Ronald Wilson was sent to St. George, South Carolina and served as minister. He was supported by Muleshoe and Columbia, South Carolina. The church at St. George has a new building and continues to grow. In 1971 Brother Jerry Roberts was sent to Waukesha, Wisconsin, before going he lived and worked with the church in Muleshoe as Associate Minister. In January 1974 Jerry was replaced by Sam Cox. The Waukesha congregation is now self supporting and growing. Larry Bertram is their present minister. In 1972 Brother Dan Parker was sent to Sheboygan, Wisconsin as a missionary. He labored there some three or four years. He was replaced by Brother Lewis Cobb, who is their present minister. Darrell Fudge was sent in February, 1978 to help Brother Cobb with the ministry there. In August 1979 John Boor was sent to Eau Claire, Wisconsin to preach and minister for the church there. The work continues to progress there. Brother Kirk Willis served for a time with the Muleshoe church as youth minister. Later going to West Texas Bible Chair at Canyon, Texas as Associate Director for a brief period and then went to Edmond, Oklahoma where he is Campus Minister. The church at Muleshoe had been active in helping the needs of the Portales Children's Home for several years. The High Plains Children's Home located in Amarillo is now being helped. The church is also helping to support the West Texas Bible Chair at Canyon, Texas. Various individuals and families have been helped from time to time as the opportunity and need arose. The Muleshoe church has had a part in helping eight men through the Sunset School of Preaching, Lubbock, Texas, to prepare them to preach the Gospel. We pray that we may continue to grow in a way that we will be pleasing to God and that His Kingdom will spread. Men that have served as deacons for the church are Cecil McLarry, W.M. Harmon, O.Q. Holley, L.R. Hall, W.B. (Happy) Wagon, Charlie Lunsford, Harold Wilson, M.L. Boren Pete Mimms, Jess Pendergrass, Charles Bills, Doug Bales, June Wagnon, Gordon Wilson, Butch Vandiver, Curtis Smith, Kenneth Nesbitt, T.R. Smallwood and Gary Dale. All the bank presidents and cashiers called, maintained a 'very cautious' attitude about the possibility of the potential crop failures throughout this entire area, due to the drought and extremely hot conditions which have prevailed for the last six weeks.

COLLEGE STATION — The fuel crunch may change as many eating habits as driving habits, says Texas A&M University's dean of geosciences. As fuel goes up, so will food prices and Americans will substitute for meat at the market and grow their own vegetables, explained Dr. Earl Cook. He predicts more cereal-based foods and less junk food in the future.

duction is substandard." "We are looking at a substantial reduction in the crop from the drought. It's already too late for moisture in the Coastal Bend, they are beginning to harvest, and are seeing their production cut from around a bale and a half per acre to around three-fourths of a bale per acre." Even California has suffered this year, not from drought, but from exceptionally cool temperature, and too much moisture, continued the speaker. Dr. Brints also spoke of the government regulations which are hurting cotton production and harvesting, speaking most strongly against the OSHA regulations to control gin dust. The prices to control the situation are 'prohibitive' he concludes, and are causing cotton gins to have tremendous investments in trying to meet the regulations. He predicts that in the future, cotton mills may be set up in foreign countries and the finished yarn, or in many instances, cotton cloth, to be shipped back to the U.S. Dr. Brints said the dust problem is the primary problem facing the cotton industry today. High interest rates for farmers to operate are also mentioned in the discussion and he advocated that farmers to spread out their cotton, and sell the cotton as the markets open up. Vice president, Jeff Smith presided in the absence of President Dave Marr. He reported briefly on a board meeting held last week, and spoke briefly on items discussed. Included were to appoint a committee to find a club sweetheart; work on the budget; work on a new project; work on a membership drive and begin working on the calendar sales project.

EDITORIALS The Tax Cut

There seems little doubt in Washington these days that a tax cut will be enacted before voters go to the polls November 5. The political jockeying, the timing of enactment, plus the size of the reduction and who gets the most relief, are current topics of discussion.

Republicans have proposed tax cuts of from twenty to thirty billion and Democrats have said, in general, that they will write a tax cut bill that will be the appropriate one. There's an interesting concurrence in this dialogue between the two parties.

It's acknowledged by a surprising number of senior solons, of both parties, that U.S. business must be stimulated. That is, if U.S. productivity is to be improved--and it must be if the nation's economy is to become healthy again, there must be a faster tax write-off credit for investment in new productive facilities. There must be other encouragements.

There is general agreement also of the urgent need for relief of the average taxpayer. There is heavy sentiment to offset, or reduce, sharply higher social security tax rate which goes into effect January 1. Finally, there is much bipartisan sentiment in favor of tax legislation to encourage savings--perhaps by exempting some interest earned in certain forms of savings.

It seems likely that the bill Democrats enact--for they are in control of Congress and will call the shots in the end--will be a bill taking into consideration these viewpoints. There is usually strong bi-partisan support for all these steps in this election year.

On Knocking The CIA

Harry Rositzke, a brilliant CIA intelligence officer for twenty-five years has written a book, CIA's Secret Operations.

Perhaps the most significant message of the text--both highly interesting and informative--is the danger to the West today of thousands of "illegals" in this country, living under false names, but with convincing papers, history and a U.S. passport.

They, Rositzke says, and not intelligence personnel at embassies and consulates who can be checked, and shadowed, are the greatest security threat to the United States. The CIA uncovers these illegals only rarely and then usually only after help from a defecting Communist-bloc agent.

And most importantly, in the last twenty-five years of U.S.-Soviet competition, Rositzke says, scores of Soviet intelligence officers and hundreds of East European diplomats and intelligence officers have sought asylum in the West. During these years not a single CIA or American Foreign Service Officer sought asylum in the Communist world!

Nothing shows more clearly the critical need for a strong U.S. intelligence agency than this revelation about illegals and defections. And in this area of defections, certainly the CIA and U.S. Foreign Service record has been a proud and impressive one.

CAPITOL UPDATE

John Tower
U.S. SENATOR for TEXAS
142 RUSSELL OFFICE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D.C. 20510

When does a tax cut fail to lower your tax burden? When hidden increases make it necessary to "cut" taxes if people are to stay even.

That is our situation now. Inflation is pushing taxpayers into higher brackets. Social Security taxes will go up sharply in January. And the so-called "windfall profits" tax on oil will be paid by consumers of petroleum products. Without a tax "cut," Americans next year will pay about $70 billion more in taxes than this year. The effect on the individual, already beleaguered by inflation and high taxes, will be crushing. And the cumulative effect of the added burden will be to slow our economy down at a time when it already is in a severe recession.

Even with a 10 percent reduction in the personal income tax in 1981 -- a proposal currently before Congress -- most taxpayers will barely break even, and some will actually be paying more into the federal treasury. All the reduction would do is pare down the otherwise inevitable increases. That's important, but it's not enough.

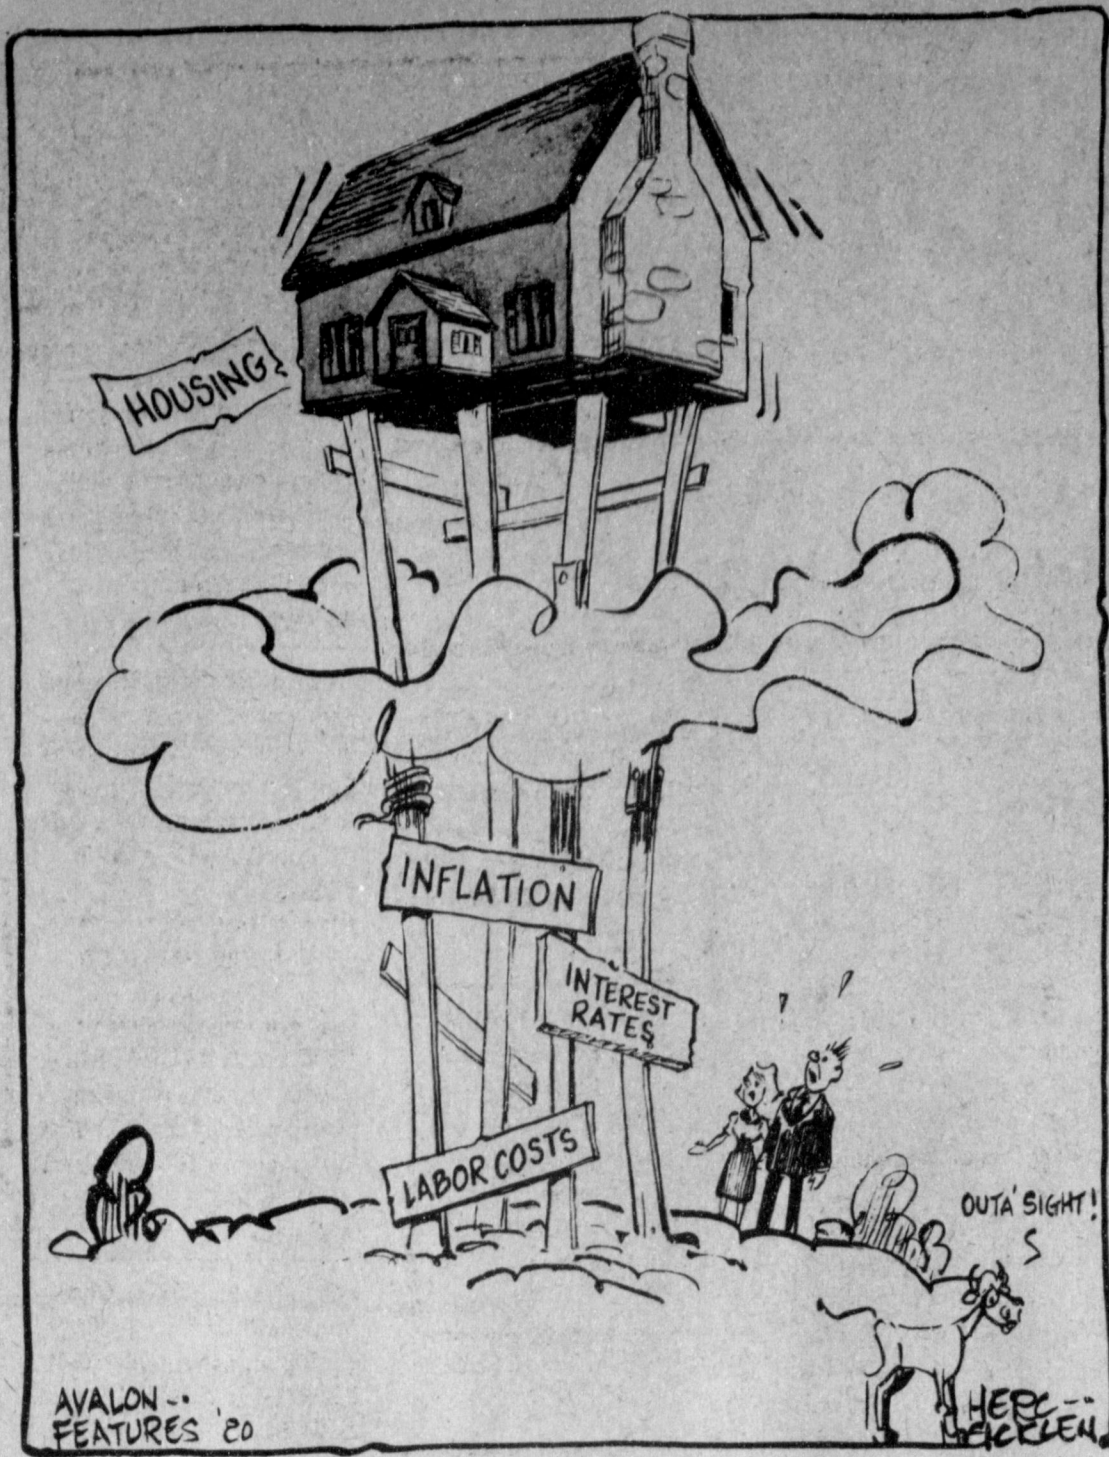

We also need to enact tax reductions designed to make it practical for businesses to increase their levels of investment. It may not sound like that would benefit the individual citizen, but it is vital if we are to solve the basic problems that have caused high inflation rates and high unemployment levels.

The recession of 1980 is in full swing. Unemployment is rising, output is falling, any hope for a balanced budget is dead, and inflation is still in double digits. The "Discomfort Index," which is the sum of the inflation and unemployment rates, stood at 24.3 percent in January of this year, compared to 12.5 percent in 1976. This combination of economic conditions is virtually unmatched by any since the Depression.

The key to solving many of these problems is increasing the capacity and productivity of our private sector. When business is growing, more people have jobs. When productivity -- the amount that a worker can produce or accomplish -- goes up, price increases abate. When more goods and services are available, competition retards rising prices.

And that's why business investment is important to you. Without it, expansion and modernization would come to a halt.

Carefully designed selective tax cuts can make it practical, even attractive, for businesses to sink money into new projects. And the jobs that come from an expansion of production contribute to the economy -- they add to the total of goods and services available to the nation. If we try to fight recession by creating makework government jobs, we don't contribute anything to the economy. Instead we simply pump more money into the system, adding to our inflation problems.

Naturally, the tax cuts I am advocating must be accompanied by reductions in government spending, because government deficits are a major cause of inflation. I am much afraid a balanced budget for next year is the impossible dream. The so-called balanced budget called for in the First Concurrent Budget Resolution depends on large increases in revenue to make the figures come out in the black.

If we can cut back significantly on domestic spending programs, we can not only balance the budget, but also take a major step toward getting government off the back of its citizens.

ON STUDENT LOANS

In a major policy change, the Senate voted to sharply curtail Federal interest subsidies for college student loans, a move that could save the Government up to $3 billion over the next five years. Under this bill, interest on student loans no longer would be excused during the years actually spent in college, but would be payable later. The current law subsidizes interest on loans during the actual years of study.

The Speaker Reports

by Bill Clayton

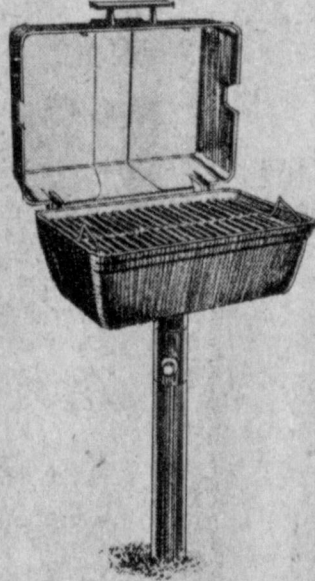

AUSTIN--The most significant issue to be faced by the 67th Legislature by all standards is redistricting. This process follows each decennial census and reflects population changes--growth or losses, shifts, ethnic makeup, etc.--so that each state's senate, house, and congressional seats can be representative of the voters.

Although the redistricting process has never been an easy job, it has become increasingly complex. Texas has experienced dramatic population shifts within the state, as well as tremendous growth from immigration. Estimates are that the Texas population has increased over 20 percent since 1970, which will give the state approximately 13.5 million people. This fact complicates the determination of district boundaries and creates the need for reliable census data. This data is expected to be ready for state use by April 1981.

In addition to these factors, Texas must observe a body of constitutional law. In 1962, the United States Supreme Court held in Baker v. Carr that federal courts could review redistricting plans to determine compliance with the U.S. Constitution. Since that landmark decision, there has been much judicial action in this regard.

taught school. After his death, I moved back to Friona, where we were married, to be close to my sister, Laverne Burrow. Shortly thereafter, I started receiving notices from the Stonewall Historical Commission urging me to write our family history and mail it so we would be included in the Stonewall County History book. I just kept putting off until it was too late. Now, the book is out and our family isn't represented in it.

I have nothing to hand down to our grandchildren and friends showing what we did for the county where we lived and worked so long. I am sorry that I did not respond to the letters sent to me. Since we were married here and I live here now, I plan to contribute to the Parmer County History book, and urge all others who live here now or have lived here in the past, to do likewise."

Anyone who desires to write about deceased parents, has several options available. The parents may be included in the 500 words of free space, or special spaces may be purchased for memorials or tributes.

Fuel Workshops To Be Held

A $10,000 grant from the U.S. Department of Energy has yielded four workshops on alcohol fuel production and economics at Texas Tech University this summer.

The three day workshops are designed to give hands on experience to individuals considering building a fuel alcohol still, operating one or investing in one, says Dr. Steven R. Beck, assistant professor of chemical engineering at Texas Tech.

The workshops are scheduled July 14 - 16, 21-23, 28 -30 and Aug. 4-6, sponsored by Texas Tech's Department of Chemical Engineering and Division of Continuing Education. Theory, practical applications, plant operations, the chemical technology, fermentation feedstocks, economics and legal requirements will be covered by the workshops. DOE funds covered the planning costs, initial salary of a workshop staffer and instructional equipment, Beck said.

A $250 registration fee for participants will cover instructors' salaries, other materials, three lunches and coffee breaks, he said. For information, call (806) 742-2354, or write Alcohol Fuels Workshops, Texas Tech, P.O. Box 4110, Lubbock, Texas 79409. Beck said goals of the workshops are to enable participants to design, construct and operate an alcohol still, understand the processing steps of fermentation and distillation, evaluate feedstocks, learn the legal steps for building a still and operate a still safely.

Grain alcohol, or ethanol, production is a feasible fuel alternative for farmers and others if they can avoid unreasonable claims by manufacturers of stills, enzymes and other distillation technologies, Beck said.

Yields, uses, costs and equipment quality must be understood before someone enters this high-risk business, he said. For example carbon steel equipment probably will not last long in the distilling process, Beck added.

Without the right enzymes a distillery's mash would be useless because the starches in a mash must be converted to sugar before the yeast action can produce the alcohol, Beck warned. The technology has been around a long time, but to make profitable, efficient and safe, still builders and operators need detailed plans and the advice of many experts, he said.

Accounting procedures for a prospective distilling firm also can make or break such an operation, a recent alternative fuels conference here was told.

Tech's workshops are part of DOE's funding of 38 workshop series, mostly at community colleges around the nation, Beck noted.

Business looks good for women graduates

COLLEGE STATION — Demand for women business graduates is higher than ever and many companies are actively recruiting females for executive positions, says Texas A&M University's dean of business administration.

One result, says Dr. William Muse, is a dramatic increase in the number of females enrolled in business courses. This new trend presents problems for university administrators trying to keep up with growing enrollments.
