ADOBE BRICK MACHINE INVENTORS... In the background is a new machine which inventor Nick Manzanares expects to help reduce some of the soaring costs of heating and cooling homes and businesses. The machine produces adobe bricks, which formerly were made by hand. Holding some of the 4x10x14 bricks produced by the machine are from left, Keith Harp, Edd Harp and Manzanares. The portable machine will make 2-4 bricks per minute, and will be available for the construction of new facilities. Manzanares said the inside temperature in an adobe building is 18-20 degrees cooler, without air conditioning, than the outside temperatures.

Visitors at Rotary Tuesday at noon included Robert Ruiz, Eddie Ruiz, Dave Mackey and Rex King. Olan Burrows was speaker for the day and he talked on past Rotary activities.

Robert K. Lewis, sophomore, animal science, has earned 'Distinguished Student' ranking at Texas A & M University.

The undergraduate honor is awarded to students who excel academically at Texas A & M, the state's land-grant and sea-grant institution. Recipients of the Distinguished Student honor must earn at least a 3.25 grade point ratio, out of a possible 4.0 during the most recent grade period.

Responding to hot, dry weather in West Texas, Pioneer Natural Gas Co. delivered more gas to customers on Tuesday, July 15, than on any other single day in the company's history.

Tuesday's deliveries exceeded 900 million cubic feet of natural gas. The

GTE Changes Dial System For Muleshoe

O.D. Hearn, Brownfield Division Manager for General Telephone Company, announced Tuesday that beginning Monday, July 28, it will be necessary for Muleshoe telephone customers to dial ALL SEVEN DIGITS when placing local calls.

Hearn explained that the addition of new equipment to further help the dialing needs of Muleshoe customers makes this necessary.

After July 28, any local call dialed with less than the full seven digits will result in the call not being completed, he concluded.

Adobe Brick Machine Offers Energy Savings

Are you tired of the soaring utility bills -- the high cost of heating and cooling your home? If you are, a local man thinks he may have the answer to a big part of the cost.

Nick Manzanares has invented an adobe machine. That's right! In the past,

Border Town Days Scheduled Saturday

"We've Come A Long Way" is the theme of the 1980 "Border Town Days", the annual celebration of Farwell, Texas and Texico, New Mexico, scheduled for Saturday, July 26.

Special guest for the celebration will be Miss New Mexico of 1979-80, Susan Spartz of Hobbs. Miss Spartz will ride in the parade and perform at the park activities during the afternoon. She will also judge the beard contest.

At 11 a.m., the Border Town Days parade will begin at the Texico Station in Texico and proceed through both towns to Fifth Street in Farwell and then south to the city park area, where barbeque will be served by the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club and the Farwell Jaycees.

Prizes will be given for the best three floats by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce. Texico Chamber of Commerce will award prizes to the best two old car entries and T & A Welding will give prizes in three categories; the best costumed rider and decorated bike; best decorated bike with six year olds and younger riders and best decorated bikes in the 7-12 year old division.

Ed and Juanita Hardage will be featured with music during the barbeque and in the afternoon. The Fiddler's Contest will begin in the park gazebo at 1:30 p.m., followed by the Border Town Days Queen Contest at 2:30 p.m. Around 3:30 p.m., the beard growing contest will be judged and there will be a performance by the Twin Cities Gymnastics Club at 4 p.m. Ice cold watermelon will be served by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce beginning about 4:30 p.m.

Manzanares has refined that process by working with Edd and Keith Harp to construct a machine that carries an appearance of a miniature hay baler.

He said he can construct enough bricks, about 32,000 for a 40 x 40 home, in just about a week.

In the near future, the inventor plans to build a model house to demonstrate his bricks, which are 4 x 10 x 14. With the process, Manzanares said the inside temperature of the home will be 18 to 20 degrees cooler than the outside temperature in the summer. Also, in the winter, with a small fire, the inside temperature maintains warmth.

The adobe brick machine will construct 2-4 bricks per minute and the approximate cost for enough brick for a 40 x 40 home for the outside walls would be around $1,600, according to Manzanares figures.

Other added pluses include the fact that the structure is fireproof, soundproof, uses no sheetrock, no nails and no insulation. The houses will have conventional roofing.

He explained that the bricks are put together with the same material used to construct the bricks. Then, once again, the material is used to cover the inside walls and smoothed. The outside can be covered with 'chicken wire' and then stuccoed and finished in any desired color.

For the inside, interior walls can be added, along with electrical outlets and plumbing.

Each of the adobe bricks weighs about 25 pounds and fence brick, which includes small pebbles instead of straw, weigh about 30 pounds each.

Manzanares explained that his machine is at least a two man operation, and up to three could operate

Lions Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Monday night was a very special night for the Muleshoe Lions Club. A number of Lions Club members, their wives and other special guests met at the Bailey County Exhibition Center and Coliseum to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Muleshoe Lions Club.

Master of Ceremonies Lion Jim Shafer introduced three members of the Red-bud Lions Club from Lubbock; and two Japanese girls who are exchange students from Whiteface Girls' Town. They had accompanied District Governor Marshall Cooper and his wife to Muleshoe for the meeting.

Lion Sam Fox, who was one of the three charter members at the dinner, gave a background on the Muleshoe Lions Club. He spoke briefly to two men, Dr. D.D. Lancaster and Julian Lenau, who worked to get the club started in 1940.

In order to get a charter, 20 members were needed. The 23 members who were charter members included, Pat R. Bobo, R.L. Brooks, Sam E. Fox, A.J. Gardner, Dr. L.T. Green, Rev. R.N. Huckabee, Dr. D.D. Lancaster, Charles L. Lenau, Julian Lenau, Jack Lenderon, Sam Logan, J.W. McDermott, M.G. Millan, Ray C. Moore, Glenn E. Rockey, J.C. Smith, Jr., K.K. Smith, L.I. St. Clair, Cecil H. Fite, Horace Taylor and Tye Young.

Joining Fox at the dinner, along with his wife, were Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bobo and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lenau.

The duo from Japan, Setuko Takeawa and Naoka Suzuki, presented Lions Club banners from their home towns in Japan to the Muleshoe Club.

Fox told the group of the effort to purchase barracks for the Boy Scout meeting hall and said that within one hour time, needing $2,000, the Lions contacted local businesses and collected $2,200.

Eight Storage Tanks Being Constructed

Despite dry, hot weather, construction is continuing in the Muleshoe area. Recently, Valley Grain Products Inc., located southeast of Muleshoe on Highway 84, announced plans for immediate construction of additional corn holding facilities at plant location.

Construction has gotten underway on eight new tanks, each 30 feet in diameter and scheduled to be 80 feet tall. When completed, they will add an additional 2,800,000 tons for each storage bin, and join the 26 large tanks located on the VGP site.

Jeff Smith, manager of the plant, said completion of the new storage tanks, or bins, is expected by the middle of September, and said they are currently four or five days ahead of schedule.

The new tanks will increase the capacity of Valley Grain Products by approximately 40 percent, Smith commented, "We have to have the increased tanks this year. Because of the large amount of food corn we are shipping, we need the storage."

"Also, we are interested in buying additional corn and are especially interested in white corn."

Constructing the new facility is Jarvis Construction of Salina, Kansas. Supervisor is Johnny Stone. Stone said he builds grain elevators and storage tanks throughout a wide area.

He explained that pouring (of concrete) is expected to start in just over a week, and around 12 yards of concrete will be poured each hour, 24-hours a day, when the actual pouring starts. With 30 men on the job right now, Stone said he will need nearly 20 more men before the pouring starts. Four of the tanks will be poured at a time and Stone expects it to take around four days to pour the concrete for each of the two stages. He said he will have at least 44 men working when the pouring is started.

Stone laughed, and added, "Once we start pouring, we can't stop then. Right now, we have the forms started and are putting the yokes on so we can start pouring. Steel reinforcing rods are being

Ag Boosters Planning Farm Sale

Plans are well underway for a farm equipment auction by the Muleshoe Ag Booster Club for Muleshoe High School. It is tentatively scheduled for the last week of July or early August, according to Don Prather.

Ag Boosters are seeking farm equipment any farmer or rancher may want to sell. The Ag Boosters are not asking for the farmer or rancher to donate the equipment, but are asking that they put it in the Ag Booster gigantic auction sale.

When plans are completed the sale will be conducted at Bill Darnell Gin at Progress.

Prather said they would like to have the merchandise listed on the sale bill that will be distributed prior to the sale. Call in your items for the auctioneers from Lubbock to sell. The auctioneers are contributing their time and CONSTRUCTION UNDERWAY... Looking down on a portion of the concrete forms set for eight new storage tanks at Valley Grain Products proves to be art in geometric design. The forms are being readied for many yards of concrete to be poured to construct eight new tanks to store grain at the facility southeast of Muleshoe. The new tanks are expected to be ready to receive the 1980 corn harvest.

Letters To The Editor

Lavayne Williams, Tax Assessor-Collector
P.O. Box 509
Muleshoe, Texas 79347

Dear Ms. Williams:

I just received in the mail today your notice of CHANGE OF RATIO for Bailey County. You gave several reasons for the necessity of a tax increase. At the top of the list you state:

"1. The increased cost of operation in every phase of County government caused by rapidly escalating inflation." (emphasis mine)

I suppose the cause of inflation is what has set me on edge. It is my opinion and is supported by the findings of Ralph Kinney Bennett in his report in the January 1979 issue of Reader's Digest the INFLATION is caused by none other than government.

"The only way to stop inflation is to literally STOP INFLATION. Stop inflation of the money supply beyond the real ability of this country to produce; stop pretending that we have more money than we really

Dear Sir:

Having been born and raised in Texas for almost twenty-five years, I have long been aware that it has the best to offer on just about everything. This past week however, some people in your good city reminded me just how good Texas people are. My family and I were on our way home from some vacation time in Central Texas when we experienced car trouble in Muleshoe.

The kindness and hospitality shown by a group of men in your town was outstanding. They were Mr. Dale Dudley, Haney Poyner, Roy Simpson, and Rev. H.D. Hunter. Mr. Dudley in particular went beyond the call of duty. It is good to know there are still people that have concern for their fellow man and aren't afraid to help him in a time of need.

My family and I thank these men and the rest of Muleshoe for your kindness.

do; stop running huge deficits that can be financed only with fiat dollars."

As I look around, I see several huge buildings and projects that have used government money and by the taking of Government money we have taken on some of their "Minimum Standards" which include the inflated buying of other items that have put the construction cost, maintenance cost, employee cost, out of sight. May I point out several projects of the U.S. Government that have spent literally Millions and Billions of Dollars of Tax Payers money around this nation that is causing inflation? HUD, SBA, HEW, FHA, and this list could go on and on. Each of these Federally funded scams are the culprits for the mess we are now in.

I could use profanity but it is time to stop cussing the government and to start talking back in terms that can do much more good. We the taxpayers of this country are FED-UP. We are DOG-TIRED of being taxed, taxed, and taxed again. We are taxed with safety inspections for our vehicles that are a laugh and a farce at the best. We are taxed for our license for that automobile again each year. We are taxed for the tires, the gasoline, and everything that is associated with it. We are taxed for the property we buy, we are taxed when we sell it or give it away. We are taxed for improvements that we put upon it. WHAT INCENTIVE IS THAT TO PURCHASE PROPERTY? TO HOLD IT? OR IMPROVE IT?

You raise your little ole taxes as high as you want. I'm not going to buy any more. I'm not going to fix up what I have. I'm just leaving the shack on what I have and let the junk pile up. I'm gonna get me a hound dog and a watermelon and sit in the shade of the tree and watch the rest of you nuts work for taxes.

Sincerely,
Charles Kenneth Harvey

Clovis Gem And Mineral Annual Show

Clovis Gem and Mineral Society will be having their annual show July 26-27, there will be a silent auction, consisting of art and crafts and finished jewelry, Sunday afternoon.

Their regular meeting is the fourth Monday of each month in the First Federal Building. Officers are Paul Riegel, president; Jim Brooks, vice president; both of Clovis and secretary-treasurer, Sonia Kube of Muleshoe.

There are three main minerals that make up the earth crust, they are mica, quartz and feldspar.

Mica is the mineral that glitters when turned in light. It is in thin sections which will bend. Quartz is a relative hard mineral which will scratch glass. Quartz crystals grow very large if space and silica oxygen are available however in a piece of agate. The crystals might be atom sized. A quartz crystal usually grows hexagonal with six sides clearly visible.

Feldspar is a bit softer than quartz and will not scratch glass easily. It is the most abundant rock former of all.

Minerals and feldspar are not always recognized by crystal shoppers, because it combines with other minerals that cause it to grow in different crystal habits. In our own area where our water bearing sands are the most rock is quartz jasper coral and various clays. A handful of sand pumped from a well using a magnifying glass, will clearly show all rocks are rounded from tumbling water of ancient seas.

Some beautiful clear quartz, up to pea size, can be found some drillers have bailed out large pieces, the size of a small plate which are agate mica and some impurities in combination.

Some wells in the area have produced some fossils which tell us of a once sea covering the sediments where we mine the water we now drink. Of course, the most abundant rock that we see near the surface is caliche which is a sediment from recent seas that covered this area.

A spokesman said, "Come by the Gem and Mineral Show Saturday and Sunday to see some of the wonders that have been found on the earth's surface."

Circus Vargas Coming To South Plains Fairgrounds

The giant is coming. CIRCUS VARGAS, "America's Big Top Giant", is on its way to the South Plains Fairgrounds in Lubbock for 4 "giant" performances August 11 and 12. Produced and presented by Clifford E. Vargas, "America's Mr. Big Top", CIRCUS VARGAS features an international cast of youthful circus super stars from 15 foreign nations whose average age is an unbelievable 25 years old.

From Poland came the incredible Knops with their breath taking exhibition of perch pole perfectionism. In their American big top bow, Holland's glamorous Osmani Sisters astound circus audiences with their awesome juggling bravado, while Mexico's Zunigas delight "children of all ages" with their own suspenseful brand of mid-air, matter magic.

The dazzling Diabolo Trio from Italy dumbfound spectators with their unique top spinning antics and terrifying trapeze thrillers--Miss Madine, Miss Cristina and the sensational Franconi Duo--climb to the tip of the tremendous tented top to fearlessly flirt with fate and fly through circus space.

Joining a classy cluster of circus equines in all four rings is horseman par excellence Henri Wagener, from Switzerland, in his American big top bow, and 40 chilling feet in the air, the Wallenda legend lives on with the Zaltanas--featuring Delilah Wallenda Troffer--recreating the astonishing human pyramid, most deadly of all aerial accomplishments, originated by the late Karl Wallenda.

"Boss clown" Dale Longmire and company besiege all senses of humor with their mirth-making madness and side-splitting sequences throughout CIRCUS VARGAS two and a half hour extravaganza as the Armon Duo from Hungary, America's Venturas and the Kneisleys create colossal, celestial circums-trations in all four rings.

Former Olympic contenders from Germany, the fabulous Million Dollar Carlos Twins, boggle the minds of "children of all ages" with a matchless marriage of muscle mastery and consummate concentration and making his CIRCUS VARGAS debut, Wayne Ragen, "Mr. Cool Cat Himself", charges into the towering steel arena to face a densely populated cage of snarling, savage, jungle-bred beasts.

Those celestial champions of the circus, Mexico's Flying Espanas, "Disco - Dynamos of the Air", and the Flying Larrays, "Idols

SOS Call Goes Out For Worm Samples

The "S.O.S." call is going out to all stockmen over the state--that's "Send, Oh Send" any worm samples found in livestock wounds.

The reason for the appeal is that worm samples are coming in slowly to the USDA Screwworm Eradication Laboratory at Mission and prime screwworm season is at hand, points out Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The only way for officials of the screwworm program to successfully attack the flesh-eating pest is to first identify worm samples as positive and to know the locations of all possible cases through ranchers' reports. Then some recently developed insecticide pellets can be air-dropped to kill adult flies followed by an air-drop of sterile screwworm flies, explains Tanksley.

The insecticide pellets, known as the Screwworm Adult Suppression System (SWASS), quickly reduce populations of wild screwworm flies in an area. This enables sterile flies which are then dropped to "do their thing." Female screwworm flies that mate with sterile males produce eggs that will not hatch -- and the females usually mate only once.

Since sterile flies are no longer air-dropped routinely in Texas, it's especially imperative for stockmen and pet owners to check their animals closely on a regular basis and to submit any worms that may be found in wounds, emphasizes Tanksley. With most of the screwworm eradication fight now being conducted 100 miles or more south of the border in Mexico, individual stockmen are now the first line of defense against this destructive pest.

Only one positive case of screwworms has been confirmed in the United States this year so far, that one being in Coleman County, Texas in April. However, unless everyone keeps their guard up and submits worm samples as soon as possible, it could be a costly summer.

Worm samples can be sent to the Mission Lab in postage-free mailing kits available from veterinarians and the county Extension office, adds Tanksley.

of the Ionosphere", present a simultaneous series of sensational space age stratagems at both ends of the "giant", midnight blue big top, including the phenomenal triple somersault.

Exquisite equestriennes -- Darlene Williams, Tina Risdon and Alysoun Seacat --demonstrate classical dressage routines in all four rings with absolute perfection and America's own Kathy Batchelor provides a rousing roster of wild and woolly "ride 'em cowgirl" trick-riding strategies from down on the circus ranch.

Frosty, white samoyeds charm "children of all ages" with their snappy and happy dog doings with an assist from Miss Jan and Miss Aly, and all eyes look to the sky as careening cloud swingers become ultimate exponents of extraterrestrial tenacity. Miss I-tene and France's La Gran Rober perform monstous, mesmerizing movements that defy mortality.

Thirty stupendous tons of eminently educated elephants, trained and presented by America's foremost pachyderm professor, Rex Williams, provide attentive spectators with a plethora of lovable antics in all four rings with a show of talent that you'll never forget. Those big top beauties, the CIRCUS VARGAS "Vargettes", are hurled and whirled, cuddled and catapulted by these mighty mastodons, and in the center ring, Eva Williams captures the spotlight and leads the giant herd down the hippodrome track for the incredible elephant long mount -- an exciting finish to an already thrilling act!

As the world's largest and classiest big top circus, CIRCUS VARGAS, in its extravagant 1980 edition, is more thrilling, chilling and amusing than ever before, and truly worthy of its coveted nickname "America's Big Top Giant."

Tickets, priced at $4.00, $5.50, $6.50 and $8.50, are on sale at the South Plains Fairgrounds and at the CIRCUS VARGAS midway box office beginning on the opening day of "America's Big Top Giant".

The Sandhills Philosopher

Editor's note: The Sandhills Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sandy Creek takes a side-long glance at political platforms this week.

Dear editor:

According to an article in the paper the other day, a special school has been established by some enterprising public relation firm to teach you how to run for Congress.

It doesn't pretend to teach you how to serve as a Congressman, that's learned by trial and error after you get elected and takes a long time. In fact, some members have served for 30 years or more without ever getting the hang of it.

What this school does is show you how to look good on television, what color suit to wear when you're handshaking your way down the street, when to smile and when to turn serious, etc.

I suppose there's a need for such a school, but there's a far greater need for a school to teach political parties how to write their platforms.

For example, take the Equal Rights Amendment. If you're for it, you lose half the women's vote. If you're against it, you lose the other half.

This clearly calls for detente. It looks like both parties' platform writers would get together and say: if you won't mention the ERA, we won't either. If the United States and Russia can get together to try to limit the number of nuclear warheads each has aimed at the other, why can't the Democrats and Republicans get together to head off the number of mad women aimed at them.

Actually, since platforms are taken seriously mainly by just the people who write them, it's possible they should be abandoned altogether, although this would create a hardship for you if you're one of those who vote for the man to lead the most powerful country in the free world on the basis of how he stands on paving the street in front of your house.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Saturday the 12th of July, at 5 p.m. in the evening, Miss Patti Lea Hall and Randy Lee Waggoner were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony at the First Baptist Church in Bledsoe. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. M.C. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waggoner of Bledsoe.

Rev. Richard Grisham performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Kathy Jahay, pianist, provided the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Rita Young as she sang "Follow Me" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chapel length gown of white sheer organza over taffeta with an empire waistline and Queen Anne neckline, accented by silk Venice lace. The sleeves were long and fitted with flounced cuffs edged with lace and covered buttons.

The dress back featured Venice lace appliques on the bodice and covered buttons, extending to the neckline to below the waist. Her finger tip veil of illusion was edged with the silk Venice lace and gathered onto a headpiece embroidered with seed pearls and Venice lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

For something new was her wedding dress and she wore a necklace borrowed from her sister. For something old she carried a handkerchief belonging to her grandmother. She wore the traditional blue garter and pennies in her shoe minted in the years of their birthdates.

Maid of honor was Miss Nancy Griffiths of Bledsoe, bridesmaids were Miss Michelle Gandy of Bledsoe, and Mrs. Brenda Langley of Arlington, sister of the bride.

They all wore identical cream colored gowns with ruffled scooped necklines and carried cascade bouquets of brown and cream silk flowers. Candlelighters were Miss LaShelle Black of Plainview, cousin of the groom and Kevin Kahlich of Arlington, nephew of the bride. Miss Robin Cornett of Lorenzo, cousin of the bride, served as the flower girl and Jason Rogers of Muleshoe, cousin of the groom, served as ring bearer. Miss Karen Bilbery of Bledsoe registered the guests.

Eddie Waggoner of Seminole served his brother as best man, groomsmen were Gene Rogers and Darrell Rasco of Muleshoe, cousins of the groom. Ushers were Rusty Trull of Bledsoe, cousin of the bride and Wesley Rasco of Muleshoe, cousin of the groom.

Serving at the bride's table at the reception held in the fellowship hall of the church were Mrs. Debra the machine. One person would operate the controls and the second would be the feeder of dirt and straw and remove finished bricks. Ideally, three people would operate the new invention, he added. Around 3,000 pounds of pressure is exerted on the bricks to compress them according to Manzanares. The inventor said he has an adobe brick house in New Mexico that is over 100 years old, and it requires a minimum of care and upkeep. In the future, the portable machine will be moved to some place to operate. At times when a building is to be constructed, onsite construction will be done. The adobe brick machine weighs 2,000 pounds and is mounted on wheels. Manzanares also said that when he gets the machine operating, he has blueprints for a corn picking machine, another innovation which he expects to aid corn producers. He and his wife moved here from northern New Mexico, where he was a law enforcement officer and a mineworker. Following an accident, where he received a broken back, they moved to Muleshoe. They are the parents of four daughters.

Hall of Plainview, sister-in-law of the bride and Mrs. Cammie Turnbow of Lubbock, sister of the groom. Serving at the groom's table were Mrs. Tena Waggoner of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the groom and Mrs. Sonia Trull of Bledsoe, cousin of the bride.

Publication Helps Reduce Calf Loss

Cattlemen can prevent some calf losses at birth if they know what steps to take to help the cow, says Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System.

Now an expanded and updated publication has been prepared by the Extension Service that will assist cattlemen in dealing with calving problems, Tanksley adds.

The publication, "Recognizing and Handling Calving Problems", is authored by John R. Beverly, Extension animal reproduction specialist. It guides cattlemen through the calving process, instructing them and showing by illustrations how and when to give assistance.

If a cow does not successfully give birth to a live calf, the total management and feed cost invested in her is lost. Research indicates that 80 percent of all calf deaths occur at or near birth and that calving difficulty accounts for two-thirds of these deaths. Furthermore, calving problems are most common in heifers giving birth to their first calves--with more than half usually having calving problems, explains Tanksley.

"Since the reproductive capability of a cow--that of conception, gestation and parturition--is by far the most important economic factor in cow-calf production, good management of the cow herd is of vital importance. If calving problems develop, cattlemen should be able to recognize these and provide assistance," the county agent says.

The new publication on calving problems should be of value to all cattle producers, Tanksley adds.

Copies of "Recognizing and Handling Calving Problems" B-1203, are available from your county Extension office or may be ordered from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Department of Agricultural Communications, College Station, Texas 77843.

He spoke on the total dedication of the Lions Club to be of service throughout the world, and said the Lions are the oldest service organization in the world.

Cooper based his brief remarks around the theme of the Lions Club for this year, "Touch a Life with Hope."

"Share what you have, never let anyone take that away from you," he admonished the local Lions Club. Also recognized was Dave Cavitt, Deputy District Governor and his wife.

Extension Service Still Helps People

The Cooperative Extension Service is different from any other educational system in the world because its mission is that of "helping people to help themselves."

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, reflects a system of education that is dedicated to working "with" people, not "for" people, points out Spencer Tanksley, county Extension agent.

Extension is the only educational system in the nation that is charged with the responsibility of interpreting, disseminating and encouraging the practical application of research information in a manner that can be used to solve problems of daily living.

It is the linkage that brings to reality the practical application of research findings. Problems discovered in the field are relayed back to the university for study and practical solutions. This two-way flow of information provides an educational service no other organization provides.

According to Tanksley, there are a number of "beliefs" that typify the philosophy of Extension education:

--Belief in the importance of the individual, not the subject matter.

--Belief in reaching out to people, not waiting for them to seek us out.

--Belief in working with people at their level of interest and understanding.

--Belief in helping people determine their own needs and solutions to their own problems and in inspiring and motivating them to action.

--Belief in helping people learn skills required to implement technical recommendations, not just giving recommendations.

--Belief in educational goals that are flexible and adaptable to the situation.

--Belief in helping people learn how to think, not what to think.

--Belief in helping people to help themselves, not doing things for people or to people.

--Belief in the informal educational approach whereby teaching methods and techniques are dictated by the audience and the learning situation.

--Belief in the use of volunteer local leaders who are trained to work with others.

Extension work in this new decade will deal with the new and challenging task of meeting the concerns of Texas citizens as identified in a recent survey. These concerns, which represent Extension's program thrusts for the '80s, relate to social conditions, economic conditions, land and water resources, leadership development, energy, and marketing and policy.

Demand is great for engineers in petroleum field COLLEGE STATION — At the time some college graduates are facing a tight job market, one department at Texas A&M University can't keep up with industry.

"Petroleum engineers are presently the most desired college graduates, judging by starting salaries, percentage hired and fierceness of competition among recruiting companies," said Dr. Douglas Von Gonten, head of the nation's largest petroleum engineering department in terms of students and faculty.

Enrollment is at an all-time high and growing at a 30-35 percent annual rate. However, there still are not enough petroleum engineers to meet the demand.

"There is an under-supply. The commodity is critical. The industry needs more petroleum engineers," Von Gonten said.

Recent graduates in the degree commanded $2,000 per month salaries, averaging $300 more than other engineering fields except chemical engineering which it surpassed by $200.

PROTEST MARCH—Last Thursday a small group of people marched toward the Bailey County Courthouse, where leader Martin Salazar said they were protesting the death of a 25-year old Mexican National, Francisco Torres in April, 1979, in the Bailey County jail. In vestigators, including the Texas Rangers and the FBI ruled that Torres had committed suicide by hanging himself. The protest march lasted some 20-30 minutes.

Control Cattle Grub With Insecticides

Each year between June and September, Texas livestock producers can effectively control costly cattle grubs by applying livestock insecticides, says Spencer Tanksley, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas

A&M University System.

Grub control can be achieved with a variety of treatments which includes sprays, dips, pour-ons, spot-ons and feed mixes.

During late fall and winter, grubs appear on the backs of livestock. It's too late to begin control measures then since most of the damage has already been done.

In addition to controlling cattle grubs, an insecticide used now will also provide contact control of horn flies for two to three weeks. Tanksley says this makes the overall cost of treatment favorable.

Insecticides suggested for grub control include coumaphos (CO-Ral), crufo-mate (Ruelene), phosmet (Prolate), trichlorfon (Neguvon), famphur (warbex), fenthion (Tiguvon), and ronnel. Read and follow directions on the insecticide label before treatment. Cattle that are sick or under stress should not be treated cautions Tanksley.

The cattle grub is the larval stage of the heel fly. The adult fly has no mouth parts, so it causes no pain to the cattle. However, it frightens cattle, making them difficult to manage. Animals often seek relief by standing in shade or shallow water.

The life cycle begins when the heel fly lays its eggs on an animal. The eggs, glued to hairs, hatch within a few days, and larvae (worms) enter the skin at hair follicles. The immature stages then migrate through the animal's body for six to eight months and reappear in the animal's back in the fall and winter, forming knot-like marbles or cysts.

Northcutt Is Awarded Scholarship

Mark Ell Northcutt, a 1980 graduate of Muleshoe High School, has been awarded a $4,000 Welch Foundation scholarship from the Texas Intercollegiate League Foundation.

The Welch Foundation provided funds for 15 of the grants, awarded by the TILF on the basis of participation in UIL literary and academic contests, achievement academics, and participation in extra curricular and community activities.

Northcutt earned eligibility for the scholarship by placing fourth in the 1979 regional number sense contest. He also competed in UIL ready writing, placing third in the 1980 district meet.

Valedictorian of his class of 121, he was a member of the student council, Future Teachers of America, National Honor Society (president), and Art Club. He was elected Mr. MHS, senior class favorite, "Best All-Around Boy" by the school faculty, and was runner-up in the Prince of Friendship award. He lettered in football and received departmental awards in math, English, and industrial arts.

"Mark is a student for success," said Dr. Rhea Williams, TILF secretary. "He compiled an impressive record of academic and extracurricular success and we're proud to have him as a Welch scholar."

Northcutt plans to attend Texas Tech University and major in engineering.

While government is designed to serve the people, it cannot support them.

Cattle grub losses are affected in a variety of ways, says Tanksley. Besides damaging meat and hides their feeding activity, they lower beef cattle gains and reduce milk production throughout the year. Profit losses are estimated to cost the Texas cattle producers $8-10 million each year.

Texas A&M team plays a part in panda parenting

COLLEGE STATION — The recent artificial insemination of Ling-Ling, the National Zoo's female giant panda, was almost entirely a Texas effort, part of an ongoing project at Texas A&M University to collect and study sperm of hundreds of rare animals.

The panda semen was collected a year ago and frozen for storage at Texas A&M by Dr. Stephen W. J. Seager, Carrol Platz and Dr. David Wildt of the Veterinary Physiology and Pharmacology Department.

The effort is part of the largest program of its kind worldwide and so far has collected and frozen the reproductive seeds of more than 120 animals from such rare creatures as snow leopards, cheetahs, rhino, gorillas and Angola pythons to standard Texas fare like hog-nosed and bull snakes.

Protestors March On Courthouse

Last Thursday, a group of persons, including a few men, several women and children, marched toward the Bailey County Courthouse where they held an impromptu rally on the east side of the government building.

According to Martin Salazar, the group represented the local chapter of the Brown Berets.

Salazar, who says he is the local leader of the Brown Berets, said the protest march was against the Justice Department in Washington and the Bailey County Sheriff.

According to Salazar's explanation, the group was protesting the hanging of a Mexican National, Francisco Torres in April, 1979, in the Bailey County jail.

Torres was being held for questioning following the death of a Clovis woman approximately 12 miles to the west of Muleshoe on FM1760.

Torres was apprehended several days after the woman's death, and apparently hanged himself six days after he was apprehended.

His body was found by Bailey County Sheriff Dee Clements and a Texas Ranger hanging from overhead bars in the women's cell area of the jail.

At the time of his death, Sheriff Clements explained that Torres had been placed in the women's cell following questioning on the day he was found dead.

The sheriff explained the man was to have been questioned further in the afternoon, so had been placed in the women's cell-block area where no female prisoners were incarcerated at the time.

Local officials were assisted by the Texas Rangers and the FBI in investigating the death of the illegal alien.

Also, according to records in the sheriff's office, Border Patrol officers had been in Muleshoe twice, and had questioned Torres concerning the apparent homicide of the woman from Clovis.
