Around OUR PLACE
by Fred Gipson

Like the faint, far call of bugles the trail cries of the coonhounds float across the ridges these nights. And it is with shame and regret that I admit to owning not one coonhound with which I might join in the sport.

Used to, when I was a kid, before Life hurled me into the savage relentless battle to make a little place for myself in this world and to bare necessities of livelihood for my family, I owned coon hounds, good ones, the best in the country. I thought. Don't all coonhound men think the same?

In those days, I lived the abundant life through the coon hunting season, merely existing in between times. In those days, I used to hunt with Charlie Saunders. Charlie was a bachelor and had one squint eye—from squinting through the sights of a squirrel rifle. Mama used to tell me. Charlie hobbled around in old worn out shoes; but at that he could travel faster and farther than lots of men on a good horse.

Charlie always kept good coonhounds. And when we got together, our hounds made, the woodland ring with our music in the dead of night. And the coon that meant to escape our dogs had to drift far and fast and cover his trail well.

I was with Charlie the night our hounds put a big old boar coon in Little Charlie Lifeste's mud cattle tank and the coon drowned one good dog and Charlie went to the rescue of the others with an axe and had to fight the coon in swimming water and sometimes the coon was on top of Charlie and sometimes on top of a hound, riding it under again.

Kid-like, I stood on the bank with my heart in my throat and watched the fight for life. And when Charlie finally swam out, dragging a dead coon and two half drowned hounds, I hurried to build a fire and dry him out, knowing that he was the most valorous hunter that ever followed the hounds. Nor has my sense of value changed in that respect.

I was with Charlie the night one old coon whipped seven big hounds to a stand off and then made a run at me and I made a run for cover and fell over a log and the dogs tied the coon again, right on top of me, and what dogs couldn't get to the coon chewed my ankles and elbows and one hound stepped in to my mouth and I swallowed his leg up to the hock it seemed like.

000

I was with Charlie and Papa the night we hunted with a pack of hounds and one black fiest and the hounds treed a coon and the fiest went up the tree after it and Charlie shook out the fiest, thinking it was the coon, and the dogs piled on the little creature and tried to tear him apart while Charlie slid down the tree to its rescue. And Papa swung a pole in the dark, aiming to beat the hounds off the fiest and hit Charlie over the head, knocking him cold.

And the coon leaped out and escaped.

Davis-Campbell Marriage

Miss Nell Ann Davis and George Campbell were married at Ft. Worth last Wednesday evening, November 26, at 7.30 o'clock.

The bride is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom-Jeff Davis of Sterling City, where she was born and reared. She is a graduate of the high school here. The bridegroom is recognized as one of the future noted musicians and composers of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell are spending their Thanksgiving holidays here with Mrs. Campbell's parents. They are seniors at Texas Christian University, where they first met, and will resume their studies at that institution after Thanksgiving. We learn they expect to make their home in Fort Worth after their graduation from T. C. U.

Sterling Negro Stabbed to Death at San Angelo

James McClennon, 35, negro employed here by W. L. Foster for several months, was stabbed to death at a dance hall in San Angelo last Thursday night. His jugular vein was severed and he died before reaching the hospital. His body was taken to Austin for burial. Survivors include his wife and mother. Melvin McBride, negro porter of San Angelo, is jail at San Angelo charged with slaying McClennon. He waived examining trial and his bond was set at $1,500.00, which he has not yet made.

Arresting officers reported finding a blood-stained pocket knife and a .45 caliber revolver, from which one shot had been fired, at the scene of the killing.

make me ashamed to own that I don't have a coonhound.

Sometimes I wish Mama had let me grow up in the woods where I could have continued my happy life of running wild with a pack of coon hounds.

Some day I hope to be able to own some coon hounds once more.

Some day I hope to be able to live the more abundant life again.

Of Interest to The Farmers

Get your farm machinery in A-1 condition now and be ready for next year's food production pledge, Lee R. Reed, chairman of the Sterling County USDA Defense Board, said this week.

"Getting farm machinery in good condition now will be a safeguard against unnecessary delays and breakdown of machinery during the busy farming season," Mr. Reed said in pointing out that defense production will probably overload truck lines, railroads, express companies, and parcel post systems next spring. Cotton acreage allotments, strengthened by marketing quotas, which made 85 per cent of parity loans possible, is the triple reason for increase in the price of cotton this year, according to R. J. Welch, vice chairman of the Sterling County AAA committee.

To earn his full AAA payments in 1942, a Sterling County farmer must do three things.

First, he must devote at least 20 per cent of his land to soil conserving crops or land uses exclusively throughout the program year. Second, he must plant within his acreage allotments. Third, he must earn his soil building allowance.

A farmer falling below the 20 per cent minimum requirement will earn only a proportionate part of his payments.

Lions Club Sponsors Holiday Lighting

The Lions Club is sponsoring the Christmas street lights again this year. O. E. Deal, Joe Emery and S. R. Hefley compose a committee to solicit funds.

The committee reports that the sum of $63.50 has been contributed to the holiday street lighting fund to date.

The Lions Club was entertained last Wednesday by the first grade Rhythm Band. It was a fine exhibition of what tots can be trained to do. The band members were treated to ice cream after their program was executed. Everyone was thrilled with these youngsters.

Sells Temales, Only, Now

Liquor Control Board Inspector R. T. Bailey listened with interest to the spiel of a hot temale vendor on the streets of San Augustine in October.

"Hot temales!—and that ain't all!" cried the vendor.

Bailey followed the vendor and finally stopped him. Search revealed that he really did sell hot temales, but in the bottom section of a double boiler on the vendor's vehicle Bailey found what he was looking for—moonshine liquor.

As Bailey was leaving town for Jasper, after the moonshine liquor had been confiscated and destroyed and the vendor had paid a fine, he again heard the spiel on the streets: "Hot temales!—and that's all!" the vendor now cried.

THE LEWIS BOYS

The Lewis boys are front page news in our free and easy United States of America.

Joe Louis by right of physical prowess, is undisputed heavy weight champion of the world in pugilistic circles. In ordinary life he is modest, humble and patriotic. Right well does he deserve the plaudits of the public, black, white, and tinted.

John L. Lewis has had quite a sizeable following in his role of Labor organizer. He has had a wonderful opportunity for service to his country in time of National need, but he muffed it. His own crowd knows that and regrets it.

Joe Louis is a black man with a white heart, John L. Lewis is a white man with a black heart. Men like books, are judged by what's in side rather than by outside appearances.

There is only a slight difference between "Champ" and "Chump"; just one letter. They both had a chance; Joe and John L. Their trade marks are earned from the verdict of the people, two Lewis boys, one a Champ the other a Chump.

Grandma Herring, who lives with her son, Earnest Herring, and family on the Divide, underwent eye surgery at San Angelo last week.

WE SHOULD BE THANKFUL INDEED

In the time honored, expansive American manner, Thanksgiving Day is being celebrated in all Texas homes this week, and, according to Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, we can be thankful for at least one blessing which our forefathers did not enjoy.

"When the Pilgrim Fathers proclaimed the first Thanksgiving Day, health was purely a matter of chance—a gamble in every sense of the word. A sick person was faithfully dosed with herbs and tonics prescribed and compounded by his neighbors and friends. It was a toss-up, whether he lived or died. There were no hospitals, no doctors, no well stocked pharmacies, nothing to alleviate pain, and very little to promote a patient's chance of recovery. Sickness and pain in those days," Dr. Cox asserted, "was something to be borne as best one could."

Doctor Cox emphasized that the last fifty years have been the most golden years of achievement in the history of medical science. Today we can offer our heart-felt thanks for good health and the means of preserving it.

"Our Pilgrim Fathers founded for us a free nation and left us that heritage of freedom so greatly prized by every true American. Ours is the task of preserving that freedom and passing that heritage on to our children; but today we are conscious as never before that general good health is in itself a priceless legacy," he stated.

Doctor Cox pointed out that at this time fifty-two per cent of the residents of Texas have available some form of full time health service. The State Department of Health and its affiliated local health units have placed full-time health service within easy access of 3,338-788 people, and a program of expansion is even now under way.

"Thousands of dollars are being spent every year to promote and safeguard good health among our people, and for this one great contribution to the health of the nation we should indeed be thankful," said Doctor Cox.

Miss Eloise McCabe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCabe, and who is a student at the University of Texas, has been nominated by the chemical engineering society of that institution as a Bluebonnet Belle. Miss McCabe is making a high record at The University, both in academic work and in student activities.

Tune in on the Texaco Star Theatre on Wednesday night, between 8 and 9 o'clock, and hear Fred Allen's program. It will be rendered by the most talented student of the University of Texas. You should hear it.

Louise Littlefield, a student at San Angelo Business College, spent last week end at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Littlefield. She was accompanied by her cousin, Barbara Jo Coleman.

Miss Bonnie Brigendine, of Colorado City, has accepted a position in the Sterling County Clerk's office. Miss Brigendine was deputy clerk of Mitchell County for five years.

Mrs. A. S. Chapman, of Robert Lee, who has been visiting her son, Buster Chapman, and family, and friends on the Divide, returned to her home last Sunday.

ORDERS FROM HITLER

I have reason to believe and do believe that John L. Lewis, C. I. O labor leader is taking orders from Hitler.

If Hitler were on the ground himself and giving orders to those wild-eyed foreigners, he could not have done a better job in holding up the production of coal for making steel for war purposes than John L. Lewis is doing.

No doubt in my mind that John is taking orders from Hitler, or he wouldn't time his strikes to the critical moment when production is most needed and when it will do Hitler the most good.

Lewis' men are the best paid workers of any in the world. Their living conditions are the best and no people are better treated than these people. They have no cause to strike except to serve Hitler.

I wish our Congress had the guts to make laws that would show this

Survey Gives Soldier's "Rules" For Good Morale In Army Camps

HERE are the American soldier's own specifications for good army "morale":

1. Fair treatment.
2. Complete "freedom and variety" when on leave.
3. Decent, hospitable attitudes among local townspeople near camps, making him feel he's "as good as anyone else."
4. First class training and straight talk from his superiors on what the war is about, so he can feel he's getting something, tangible out of his experience in the army.

These "rules" are based on findings made in a dozen training camps and all sorts of places outside by Alden Stevens, widely experienced sociologist and writer. His report appeared in Survey Graphic.

"The building of army camp morale calls for positive action now," Stevens declares. "You have to provide the conditions that make for good morale—then you will get it. No mere words cooked up in Washington are going to be effective unless the fundamental requirements for good morale are present."

The building of army camp morale calls for positive action now," Stevens declares. "You have to provide the conditions that make for good morale—then you will get it. No mere words cooked up in Washington are going to be effective unless the fundamental requirements for good morale are present."

Miss Eloise McCabe, accompanied by her room mates, Misses Nancy Brown and Elsie Chalupnik, is here from the University of Texas to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCabe.

There are two sets of factors bearing on morale, Stevens finds: 1—camp and training; 2—recreational. A number of things enter into the latter "and one of them is simply the relative sizes of the camp and the nearest town."

"Most men want to get away from any planned recreation," Stevens says, "and anything with a welfare or social work tint is unpopular. The only group of people who have furnished the army with something else to do are the private operators of tent-shows, carnivals, roller-skating rinks and, most of all, the juke joints."

"There is no more thoroughly American institution than the juke joint, with its freedom, complete informality, and democratic camaraderie."

"Some of the juke joints need control. The United Brewers Industrial Foundation . . . the beer manufacturers' conscience . . . which is running a nationwide campaign for moderation, especially near camps, is serving to keep many of the proprietors within proper bounds, and to improve local regulation where it has been slack."

The year's rising star, in our estimation, is Walter Pidgeon whom one national writer calls the "handsomest man in pictures." Those who have seen Pidgeon in "Man Hunt" and in "Blossoms in the Dust" must surely agree that he rates hearty accolades. His studio thinks so for it rewarded him this week with a brand new long-term contract. Any day he'll begin work in "Miss Achilles" with Rosalind Russell as his romantic partner. A piece of casting which bodes another interesting film for moviegoers.

Citizens of Washington, D. C. have always adored Red Skelton. It was in this capital city that this popular comedian first merited public attention. Now that his first starring film, "Whistling In The Dark" is ready for national release, Washingtonians are circulating a petition which will officially proclaim Red as "Washington's Adopted Son." And a better choice couldn't be made is Leo's benediction.

Let's Be THANKFUL

The Pilgrims gave thanks for the American Way of Life that they created, protected, and nourished into greatness.

"Join Today"

Today we give thanks that this same American Way of Life has survived and shown progress as each year passes.

★ ★ ★ too ★ ★ ★

WE in West Texas have much to be thankful for . . . bountiful crops, great herds of cattle, sheep and goats, the world's greatest reserve of gas and oil, a plentiful supply of cheap electric light and power, good schools and good highways. Our homes are modern and we enjoy an exceptionally high standard of living.

Yes, no part of the nation has benefited more from the American way of living, or enjoyed more fully the FREEDOM and DEMOCRACY that we now are waging a war to retain.

But West Texas' future prosperity, growth and development depend on what we do today.

Let us look ahead, then, and encourage tax-producing industries with which to pay the tremendous burden of debt now accumulating in astronomical figures and as a means of providing jobs for the many thousands of men and women left jobless when defense projects are at an end. Let's not forget that somebody must "pay the piper" for the years of boondoggling when this country should have been preparing for a war that long ago appeared inevitable.

On this Thanksgiving Day let's be thankful for the taxpayer too!

STIRRING AROUND STERLING

By Gadabout

Smiles, smiles were all we saw last week and the reason for each one was different, a different person at least. Smilin' Mitzi Reason George Mills.

Freshmen at Sul Ross were home for the first Thanksgiving holiday. George seemed to be doing all right Saturday night! That blond was O.K.

George's class mate, Joe Luckett was here also. Both Joe and George it seemed are still real Sterlonites. Two other exes home last Thursday were: H. W. Hart, Hardin Simmons cowboy? and Clydean Everitt home from Abilene.

Home this Thursday and still here are Claude Broome A&M and Mary Lou Foster S. M. U.

The reason for Miss Dean's pleased expression was the visit paid her by a school day friend, Don Corey, aviation cadet from Kelly Field. There's something about a soldier? What's the rest of this Miss Dean?

Knitting seems to be the past time of the week. Knitters (well, they will be some day) are Sue, Iris June, Frances, Paula Sue, Arlene, Anna Lou, Mary Lene and Freda Mae.

WE WONDER

Who wanted to go with Dorothy Askey Saturday and Sunday night. Could it be a former S. H. S'er? Who got a letter Friday. What H. W. got mad about Saturday night.

Who Charles had a date with this weekend.

What Senior girl would like to know.

Who Ira Lee was with Thursday night.

If Ross was happy this weekend. Who the new Sir Galahad is.

Where Louis went Friday.

Where Ruth and William were on a certain night this week end.

What Winston is mad at Joedy about.

Where Lloyd was seen Friday.

Who Nan E likes to take pictures of.

Who Beatrice was with this week end.

Why Nan E. has been whistling "The Waltz You Didn't Save for Me".

Who Freda dances like.

Why Mitzi wants the game on Saturday.

Where Lena was Sunday night.

If Fred was happy Saturday night.

If Billye Sue was unhappy Saturday night.

First Grade

There is much excitement this week among the tiny tots over getting to wear their Cowboy Regala and appearing before the Lions Club Wednesday noon for a program consisting of cowboy numbers.

The First Grade room Mothers are planning new curtains for our room. They expect to have them up soon after the Thanksgiving Holidays. They will have Mexican designs and Fiesta colors will make borders for them to add colors to the room.

Sterling Wins Another Victory

The Eagles took down the Bear Cats last Friday with a victory of 58 to 14. It was a fast and furious game. The boys didn't stop until the end. They were clicking good.

Some of the ex-football players were home and they saw the game. They passed some good compliments on the boys.

It was awfully cold for the boys to play but the cold didn't stop them for they went right on through the game without a whimper.

The Eagles play a bi-district game Saturday November 29th at two o'clock. On the Eagles field. The team is from district 7. A little place called Sparenburg. Everybody come and see the Eagles win it.

The Sterling City Eagles, winner of district six, six man football will engage the Sparenburg Trojans, winner of district five, here Saturday at 2 P. M. in a bi district game.

Sterling City is undefeated and untied at present. Sterling City has won nine straight games scoring 313 points to their opponents 78.

Jokes

Mr. Burnett: A farmer took a basket of eggs to town to sell. His first customer said: "I will buy exactly half of the eggs in your basket and one half over." The second customer said: "I will buy half of the remaining eggs and one half egg over." The third customer said: "I will buy exactly the remaining eggs and one half over. The farmer carried out the transactions without breaking a single egg.

How many eggs did he have in his basket originally?

Ewing: The fellow didn't have eggs the first time, but it was door-knobs.

Some years ago, King Carol told Bruce Lockhart how he had selected 14 men in Rumania for training in the government service. Seven he sent to England, seven to America, to study the economic and political systems. "The seven who went to England were very smart," said Carol, "and they all now have important posts in Bucharest."

"What about the seven you sent to America?" asked Lockhart.

"They were even smarter," said the King. "They stayed there."

"Did you say the man was shot in the woods doctor?"

"No, I said he was shot in the lumbar region."

Sixth Grade

The Little Workers of American Club met on Nov. 24, 1941.

We had a play. The name of it was Living in Fairyland. The characters were Janie—Shirley Ann, Tim—Billy Lee, Pricilla—Elgene, Allen—James, Fleetfloat—R. T.

The best citizens were Bobby and Carlene.

Fifth Grade

The Fifth Grade wish to thank Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ritter for the lovely blanket they gave our class. We made $14.90 and wish to thank everyone that helped us. Henry H. Hendley got the blanket. A globe has been ordered.

We are sorry Perry Davis has moved. We miss him very much.
